Chapter 71

Jasmine was so angry at Daisy that she felt that her heart was going to explode. Fortunately, Damian was there to remind her. Otherwise, she might have said something nasty!

Hopefully, Norman would not blame her.

She really didn't want to make him angry anymore...

Norman still rolled his eyes at Jasmine. Since Damian had already reprimanded her, Norman did not say anything else. He only said coldly to Jasmine, “Roger told me about this yesterday afternoon. I've already agreed. Why are you shouting here so early in the morning? As long as I'm not dead yet, you have no say in this family!”

Norman's words were so harsh that they made Jasmine and Damian very tense.

Damian was furious. He could not help but glare at Jasmine.

Previously, because Damian was in charge of managing the company, Jasmine acted as though she was the boss at home. She wanted to have a hand in everything that happened at home. Everyone silently agreed to her having a butler and tolerated her temper.

However, ever since Sophie came, the situation at home changed. Jasmine still spoke so recklessly and made Norman unhappy. She caused trouble for Norman all day long!

Jasmine sensed her husband's resentment and quickly said to Norman, “Norman, I didn't mean that! I'm just stating the facts. They have already received their marriage certificate but the wedding ceremony has yet to be held. Now, Sophie is staying at her parents' house just like that. If outsiders find out, they'll think that the Nicholls family bullied her! Won't our family's reputation be at stake when people start talking about it?”

Seeing that Jasmine was still ranting non-stop, Roger said gloomily, "There's no need for you to worry about this matter. I discussed it with Grandpa last night and have already spread the word that Sophie is the Dawson family's long-lost daughter. Now that she has returned home, in everyone's eyes, she is reuniting with her biological parents for a few days."

Jasmine was taken aback when she heard this. She did not expect Roger to reveal Sophie's identity so quickly! He could not wait for everyone to know that he had married the daughter of the Dawson family.

Jasmine had long felt that Roger was a dark and gloomy person. Now, she felt that he had indeed been putting on an act.

Damian glanced at Jasmine.

At this moment, no matter how unwilling Jasmine was, she could only keep quiet.

Norman retracted his gaze and said to Jasmine and Rebecca, "Instead of worrying about these ridiculous things, why don't you hurry up and help in the preparation of Roger's wedding celebrations?"

Chapter 71

"Wedding celebrations?" Rebecca was also a little surprised. "Didn't Roger say that he didn't want to hold a wedding?"

After all, Roger had an eye illness and it was inconvenient for him to attend the wedding celebration. Hence, when Roger decided not to have a wedding celebration, everyone agreed.

However, nobody expected Roger to change his mind in just a few days.

Norman scoffed. “He doesn’t want to have it, but Sophie is the Dawson family’s daughter! Roger’s marriage to her must be grand and made known to everyone!”

Previously, the Bourn family members did not bother about Sophie at all. Hence, the Nicholls family was fine with not having a wedding celebration.

However, things were different now! This was the Nicholls family and the Dawson family’s marriage alliance! This was a huge piece of news for Habourland!

Naturally, the wedding celebration must be a grand and magnificent one.

“The two of you will plan this together. In half a month, you must prepare a grand and luxurious wedding for Roger and Sophie!”

Norman was prepared to spend a lot of money!

For a moment, Jasmine and Rebecca were extremely jealous. However, after looking at each other, the two of them could only agree. “Yes...”

Only then did Norman stop talking. He turned around coldly and sat down at the main seat of the dining table.

The others could only follow.

During this meal, Norman kept a cold face and seemed to be in a bad mood. No one dared to say anything.

Wesley brought Sophie to familiarize herself with the family's environment for the entire morning.

Only then did Sophie realize that the Dawson family residence was extremely interesting. There were an underground gym, a swimming pool on the rooftop, and hidden arcade rooms.

The Dawson family had many sons and hence, they had many entertainment rooms.

The Nicholls family had a strict upbringing. However, the Dawson family's upbringing was more lenient.

Whon Warlow brought Sanhin around Lucas also joined in. They played in the arcade room for a long time.

Chapter 71

After having enough fun, the three of them chatted and laughed as they went downstairs.

Unexpectedly, they bumped into Evelyn who had not gotten up to eat in the morning.

Upon seeing her, Wesley and Lucas immediately stopped laughing.

Evelyn used to be very pretentious. Every time they saw her, they could only coax her. They had never been so happy.

However, they had no obligation to coax her now. They asked the servants to pour a glass of water, and they sat on the sofa in the main hall.

Through the glass of the dining room, Evelyn watched as Sophie chatted and laughed with her brothers. She had never seen the cheerful expressions of her two brothers before...

“What magical power does she have to make my brothers so happy?”

Evelyn’s mind was filled with the thought that Sophie was scheming. Evelyn had forgotten that every time she saw her brothers, she would ask for gifts. This gave all of them headaches...

However, Sophie was different. She played with them, laughed with them, and had fun with them.

Just as the three of them were having fun, the butler suddenly entered and reported, “Miss Sophie, Mr. Roger has arrived. He says he has something for you.”

Hearing that Roger was here, Sophie’s heart skipped a beat.

Sophie thought, ‘This guy actually has something for me?’

For some reason, the corners of Sophie’s lips curled up.

She felt as if a part of her heart had been filled up again.

Sophie was actually looking forward to seeing Roger immediately. “He can’t see clearly. I’ll pick him up.”

Lucas and Wesley couldn’t help but look at each other. Then they snickered when they saw their sister taking the initiative to pick Roger up.

They felt that Sophie and Roger's relationship seemed to be good.

Sophie hurried to the entrance. Dillon had already helped Roger into the house.

Sophie could not help but feel touched. She asked, "Why are you here personally?"

Roger smiled and whispered into her ear, "I miss you..."

Sophie's heart started to beat fast.

It suddenly skipped a beat, and her face turned red. "What nonsense are you talking about..."

It had only been a day since they last met, but this guy seemed to have changed into a different person. He actually was capable of teasing her.

"I mean it." His expression was suddenly serious.

Sophie was speechless. She did not know how to answer...

However, she recalled the dream from last night...

Roger transformed into Night and hugged and kissed her...

Instantly, her face turned even redder!

It was broad daylight. Sophie could not believe what she was thinking about!

Roger was not even Night. Last night's dream was too unbelievable.

"I'm not listening to your nonsense. Hurry up and come in." As Sophie spoke, she reached out to help Roger.

Roger smiled and let her help him through the door.

As soon as the two of them entered, they were surrounded by Wesley and Lucas.

"Sophie, do you miss Roger that much? You've only been apart for a day, and you can't wait to pick him up personally?"

Chapter 72

Lucas teased Sophie playfully, making her blush instantly...

"I didn't..."

Although she denied it, Sophie realized in her heart that she rushed to greet Roger without thinking...

However, she felt that it must be because he couldn't see. It wasn't because she missed Roger.

Roger, on the other hand, was happy to hear Lucas' words. He actually admitted to Lucas, "Although Sophie and I haven't known each other for long, we've been inseparable at home. Last night was the first time we were separated."

His words had ambiguous meaning. Immediately Lucas and Wesley became more surprised.

They looked at Sophie with a different expression. They thought, ‘So, Roger has such a good relationship with Sophie?’

Sophie felt so shy that she wished she could dig a hole and hide in it. She wondered what was wrong with Roger.

Why did he keep saying things that made her feel awkward today?

“Don’t talk nonsense...” Sophie reminded him in a low voice, feeling exasperated.

Roger immediately laughed secretly.

However, Wesley and Lucas seemed to understand what Roger and Sophie were up to.

Sophie felt that everyone did not believe that she was not as close to Roger as he claimed. Hence, she could only let their imagination run wild.

“Please take a seat, Roger. I’ll go upstairs and inform Mom and Dad.”

Kenneth, Benjamin, and Timothy had all gone to work today. Fortunately, Marcus and Bianca were in.

Wesley went upstairs while Lucas stayed behind to entertain Roger.

“Roger, you’re actually quite handsome. If you can enter the entertainment industry, there will definitely be many companies fighting for you...”

It was obvious that Lucas wanted to improve his relationship with Roger. After all, he had asked Roger to break off the engagement at the dining table last time. However, now that Lucas was trying to boot-lick Roger, he did not consider Roger’s blindness.

Sophie looked back at Roger helplessly, but she realized that Roger did not seem to mind. He even smiled and Lucas chuckled. The two of them did not harbor any grudges against each other and drank coffee together.

At this moment, a voice came from upstairs. It sounded sarcastic. “Lucas is right. Roger is indeed quite handsome. It’s a pity that he can’t see. Otherwise, it is a good idea for him to join the entertainment industry.”

Only Evelyn could say such tactless words.

The moment Sophie looked up angrily at Evelyn.

This girl didn’t get any benefits yesterday and now, she was here to find trouble with Sophie early in the morning.

Evelyn was really a pain in the ass.

Evelyn lifted her chin and walked down the stairs with an arrogant look on her face.

So what if she wasn’t the biological daughter of the Dawson family?

Sophie was already married, and her husband was a blind man! She would only become the laughingstock of everyone in her life.

Sophie’s eyes were cold as she said, “Evelyn, don’t you think your words are a little too hurtful?”

Seeing that Sophie was helping him, Roger felt happy in his heart. However, he looked calm and composed. “It’s fine. Your sister is still young and insensitive. I understand. After all, not many people are as gentle and kind as you.”

Roger’s words were like a knife that stabbed into Evelyn’s heart.

She was so angry that she almost vomited blood!

Ever since Sophie returned home, Evelyn hated it the most when others compared her to Sophie.

However, this blind man actually said that she was insensible and not as kind as Sophie!

Evelyn could not tolerate that!

Evelyn scoffed and said, "I'm indeed not as kind as my sister. After all, I'm not as compassionate as her to be willing to marry a disabled person."

Evelyn's cruel words were indeed very insulting.

Lucas could not stand it anymore. "Evelyn! What nonsense are you spouting now? Apologize to Mr. Roger now!"

Everyone felt that Evelyn was getting more outrageous and disrespectful in her choice of words.

She had the cheek to insult Roger.

However, Evelyn ignored Lucas and did not say anything. She still had an arrogant look as she felt that nobody could do anything to her.

At this moment, Marcus, Bianca, and Wesley came downstairs together.

Marcus seemed to have heard Lucas' voice and immediately said, "Lucas, what's wrong? Why are you shouting?"

When Evelyn saw Lucas being reprimanded, she looked aggrieved. She said to Marcus and Bianca, "Dad, Mom... You're finally here. Lucas talked to me fiercely."

This was her usual trick in the past. Her parents doted on her. As long as she complained, her brothers would be the ones being reprimanded.

For a moment, Lucas did not dare to speak. After all, he had always given in to Evelyn since he was young. He could only try his best to tolerate her behavior.

As expected, Bianca sighed and said to Lucas, "Lucas, it's not often that you get to rest for a few days. Why are you arguing with Evelyn?"

Lucas was usually the most mischievous of all the boys and liked to bicker with Evelyn. They were all used to it.

"I..." For a moment, Lucas was exasperated. He wanted to explain, but every time he tried, his parents always said that he was a boy and should give in to his sister. For a moment, he had no desire to explain.

Sophie had an upset expression on her face. She said, "Mom, it was Evelyn who spoke without thinking. She said that Roger is disabled."

Sophie did not give in to Evelyn and explained the situation clearly to her parents.

Marcus and Bianca's expressions changed.

"Evelyn, did you really say that?" Marcus' brows were tightly knitted together and he looked disappointed.

In the past, Evelyn had always spoken without thinking, but at that time, her family spoiled her and did not mind much about her behavior.

But now, she had become so arrogant and rude to the Nicholls family. It was simply too much!

Seeing

the sudden change in her father's expression, Evelyn realized that her parents' love for her was gone. She could only look away guiltily and mutter, "I'm telling the truth..."

Bianca looked at her helplessly and said, "You're still twisting your words. No wonder Lucas asked you to apologize to Mr. Roger. He is right. You have to apologize sincerely to Mr. Roger for saying such things."

She had never apologized to an outsider in her life!

But now, they actually wanted her to apologize to a blind person?

However, Roger beat her to it. "Marcus, Bianca, let's forget about this matter. What she said is indeed the truth."

As soon as these words were spoken, Sophie's pupils constricted.

She thought, 'Roger, even if she is telling the truth, she shouldn't hurt you by saying out loud!'

Evelyn had gone too far!

“Mr. Roger...” Bianca was a little surprised that Roger was so reasonable.

Evelyn did not expect the blind man to be so cowardly. She became even more aggressive. “See, I told you I was telling the truth. He agreed to it himself.”

A blind man was a blind man! He couldn’t see anything!

Naturally, he did not dare to go against her!

Sophie bit her lower lip. She wished she could give Evelyn a tight slap.

For some reason, Evelyn’s words made her inexplicably angry. If her parents weren’t here, she would have slapped her!

At this moment, Roger continued to speak calmly. “However, I have something to tell you, so I’ll be frank.”

Seeing that Roger had something to say, Marcus immediately sat down with Bianca and said, “Please speak freely, Roger.”

Sophie frowned as she looked at Roger. Her intuition told her that what he was going to say was not simple.

Evelyn was also curious about what he wanted to say.

Roger calmly held the coffee cup and smiled. “Sophie is my wife. I’m not afraid of being insulted, but I can’t bear to see her suffer.”

As soon as these words were spoken, Marcus and Bianca looked at each other.

Ever since Sophie returned home, they had been doting on her. When had they ever let her suffer?

Wesley could not help but explain, “Roger, when Sophie came back yesterday , you should have seen how our parents and us brothers treated Sophie. She has suffered so much outside. We can’t wait to dote on her. How can we let her suffer?”

Evelyn could not help but sneer at the side.

In terms of grievances, it was more like Evelyn had been wronged. Sophie had already taken away all the attention. What was there to be wronged about?

Roger said unhurriedly, “I did see how well you guys treated Sophie, but she was indeed aggrieved. There’s no doubt about that.”

Sophie frowned slightly as she looked at Roger. When did she feel aggrieved?

How come she did not know?

At this moment, Bianca was also extremely curious. She took a deep breath and said, “Roger, if you have something to say, just say it. When did we make Sophie feel aggrieved? If you say it, we can change.”.

Seeing that Bianca and Marcus really cared about Sophie, Roger decided not to hide it anymore.

“When Sophie was in the Nicholls family, she saw someone taking over her life and enjoying her parents’ love on her behalf. At that time, she was kind enough to doubt herself and ponder whether she should appear in front of you. After all, your lives have always been very happy, but she was like that unnecessary person.”

Roger's words immediately made Bianca's heart ache. She quickly looked at Sophie. "Sophie, why would you think that? You're my biological daughter. How can you be unnecessary?"

Sophie's heart trembled.

It turned out that Roger was talking about this.

At that time, Sophie did feel aggrieved w

However, she did not know how to express herself.

Sophie could only let Roger continue saying, "She has been paralyzed in the Bourn family for many years. In order to return to your side, she has been doing her best to rehabilitate. When you s stand firm for a few days."

"Stop talking." Sophie could not help but feel bitter when Roger mentioned this.

It turned out that so many things had happened before Sophie returned home.

Seeing

this, Roger did not stop. "Although she has returned to your side now, she should have been happy in front of her parents for the past 20 years. However, this most ordinary time between parents and children was stolen by someone for 20 years. Her grievances should not be kept hidden."

Roger's tone became a little serious.

He looked like he wanted to seek justice for his wife.

Evelyn immediately sensed something and quickly said, “What do you mean? What do you mean by 20 years have been stolen? Who stole her time? Tell me clearly!”

At this moment, Roger’s expression suddenly became cold. His unfocused eyes also became especially gloomy and terrifying, like an abyss.

“Haven’t I made myself clear? You’re the thief who stole Sophie’s father’s love and her brother’s love.”

Roger’s voice was sonorous and powerful. In an instant, Evelyn was nailed to the pillar of shame!

When she regained her senses, Evelyn was instantly enraged. “Who are you calling a thief? She’s the thief who stole my peaceful life! If she hadn’t suddenly found the Dawson family, I would now!”

Evelyn suddenly realized that she had said the wrong thing and quickly stopped herself.

Roger did not give her a chance to go back on her word. He sneered and continued.

“You would now be able to continue impersonating Sophie and living a luxurious life in this family?”

Evelyn panicked and immediately said, “That’s not what I meant!”

But now, the way Marcus, Bianca, Wesley, and Lucas looked at her had changed.

Yes. How could they have been blinded by 20 years of feelings before?

Did they forget that she was a thief who stole Sophie’s life?

After Marcus had calmed down, he said helplessly, “What you said is indeed the truth. But Evelyn was raised by Bianca and I, and we still have not found her biological parents. We can’t just leave her behind.”

Seeing that her parents were in a difficult position, Sophie felt a little depressed.

She did not want to see Evelyn anymore, but her parents could not bear to part with her.

Roger smiled playfully and put down the coffee cup. "Of course I understand you. Humans are not plants. How can they be heartless? Are you planning to find her biological parents and let her return to her original life, or are you really planning to accept her as your adopted daughter? These are your freedoms, but what right does such a thief have to continue calling you father and mother? Only Sophie has the right to call you that."

Chapter 73

Roger crossed his legs proudly with a calm expression on his face. However, every word he said hit the sore spot. It made Evelyn feel as if she had fallen from heaven to hell!

"Stupid blind man! This is the Dawson family! What right do you have to interfere in my business?"

Upon hearing Evelyn scold Roger, Sophie could not take it anymore. She stood up abruptly and raised her hand to slap Evelyn!

Slap!

Evelyn's head was slapped to the side, and she felt a burning pain on her face.

She came back to her senses and immediately covered her face. She turned around and glared at Sophie in shock. "You actually dared to hit me?"

She had lived in the Dawson family for 20 years, but she had never been slapped or reprimanded!

But now, this wild girl who had just returned from outside actually dared to hit her?

Evelyn subconsciously wanted to give Sophie another slap!

However, Sophie did not give her a chance at all. She grabbed her hand and flung it backward. The strong force immediately made Evelyn fall back onto the sofa!

Sophie stared at her coldly and said angrily, "Hitting you is a light punishment! He's my husband. Only I can talk about him. You don't have the right!"

Sophie's thin and weak figure stood in front of Roger, protecting him.

A strange emotion flashed across Roger's eyes.

Sophie could tolerate it when she herself was aggrieved.

However, every time someone bullied Roger, Sophie would explode.

This really made Roger unable to stop developing feelings.

The corners of his lips curled up slightly. He said to Sophie gently, "Don't be angry. She's not worthy of making you angry."

The two of them echoed each other and said that Evelyn was not worthy. Evelyn was about to explode from anger!

Sophie even hit Evelyn!

However, Marcus could not care less at this moment. When he heard her continue to call him father, he turned his head away and said, “From today onwards, don’t call me father anymore. Before you find your family, call me uncle.”

Originally, he was still hesitating about Norman’s suggestion to send Evelyn away.

However, Roger was right.

Keeping Evelyn here was too cruel for Sophie.

Sophie had to face a person who stole her life every day and even had the same parents.

Every time Marcus and Bianca showed concern for Evelyn, it was like stabbing a knife into Sophie's heart!

Evelyn never expected that Marcus would really stop her from addressing him as her father.

In an instant, her heart felt as if it had been ripped open. She could only look at Bianca with reddened eyes.

"Bianca."

When Bianca saw the look in Evelyn's eyes, she felt indescribably upset.

But when she saw the look in Sophie's eyes, Bianca felt guilty and could only look away and say, "Evelyn, from today onwards, I'm not your mother anymore."

These words were difficult to say.

However, Bianca knew that she had to give Sophie an explanation today.

Sophie had been wandering outside for the past 20 years, and the Dawson family had not noticed it. It was indeed because Evelyn was at home.

If not for Evelyn, they would definitely try their best to find Sophie. Perhaps Sophie would have returned home long ago.

Evelyn had already received a lot of attention and love.

How could Bianca disregard her biological daughter's feelings and care about an adopted daughter now?

But at this moment, Evelyn's face turned pale.

Evelyn smiled mockingly and stared at them with red eyes. "Good, very good. You said that you wouldn't abandon me and wouldn't disregard 20 years of relationship! You're all lying to me! Now that Sophie is back, you don't want Tears blurred her eyes. Evelyn shouted, but it was already a foregone conclusion.

Evelyn could only grit her teeth in hatred and turn around to escape!

"Evelyn!" Wesley could not help but feel a little worried as he watched Evelyn bolt out of the door.

However, Lucas said, "Don't worry, Evelyn has always loved herself. She'll be fine. She'll be back after she's gone out for a walk."

Lucas was the victim of her tricks. When she was young, she would rush out whenever she was in a bad mood. In fact, it was just to scare people. She would never let anything happen to herself.

After receiving her parents' love, the anger in Sophie's heart dissipated.

At this moment, she could not help but look at Roger gratefully.

Although he was still looking straight ahead and could not see her, her eyes were still filled with gratitude.

Chapter 74

No wonder he did not mind the harsh words Evelyn said to him just now. He was waiting for an opportunity to fight for Sophie and take revenge on Evelyn,

Roger might not have good eyesight, but his schemes were unparalleled.

No one paid any more attention to Evelyn. It was almost noon, so Marcus asked Roger to stay for lunch.

Roger also wanted to stay with Sophie for a while longer, so he agreed.

During the meal, Roger suddenly mentioned to Marcus and Bianca, "Sophie dropped out of school midway. During the few days she came to the Nicholls family, I've already sent someone to transfer her school register and let her complete her studies at Habourland University. Three days later, she will report to school. If she has been staying in the Dawson family during this period of time, you might need to arrange for her to go to school."

"School?" Sophie could not help but be shocked.

When did she say she was going to school?

However, Marcus was very happy.

"Oh? You've already settled this matter? I've been thinking about this for the past few days. Sophie dropped out of school halfway because of her leg injury. Now that she's recovered, she should indeed go back to school."

"Marcus." Unexpectedly, even Marcus thought so.

Sophie was touched.

After she dropped out of school, although she finished her university course, she never took the final exam. Previously, she wanted to escape from the Dawson family before thinking of a way. However, she did not expect that after leaving the Bourn family, she would marry into the Nicholls family.

She was already married, so she did not think about returning to university recently.

However, she did not expect Roger and Marcus to want to help her return to school. Roger even made her study at Habourland University.

That was the best school in Habourland. Unless one had very good results, even the children of wealthy families would find it difficult to enter.

Marcus had obviously thought of this as well. “Roger. After all, Sophie has only participated in the middle school examination, but she didn’t even attend high school. With her results, it’s very difficult for her to enter Habourland University, right?”

How did Roger already transfer Sophie’s school status over?

Roger said calmly, “I’ve learned that Sophie’s previous results were very good. Back then, she also won first place in the middle school examination. If not for that accident, with her results, she would have successfully completed high school. It would have been easy for her to enter Habourland University after the college entrance examination.

Chapter 74

I personally went to look for the principal. After the principal saw her previous results, he agreed to let her enter.”

He said it so casually, but little did he know that he had used his identity as the school board member to let her enter the school smoothly.

Marcus could not help but sigh. “I see. Roger is thoughtful.”

If it were him, he would not have dared to think about Habourland University. Roger actually went to look for the principal personally for Sophie. It could be seen that he really doted on Sophie.

“Sophie, not everyone can enter Habourland University. For Roger to personally look for the principal for you, it can be seen that he really dotes on you.” Marcus finally understood what Norman meant.

Roger was indeed a capable and loyal person.

Seeing that her father had changed his opinion of Roger, Sophie could not help but smile. "I know."

Roger treated her very well. He was gentle and considerate.

That was why she felt that even if she was with him all the time, it did not seem to matter.

When Roger heard her words, he immediately looked pleased.

Sophie even knew that Roger was good to her. Not bad.

Roger smiled and said, "The freshmen will report in three days. You can report directly to the admissions office of Habourland University."

"Freshman?" Sophie's expression changed slightly, and she felt a little awkward.

"Is there a problem?" Roger asked when he heard her tone.

"Actually, I've already finished my university courses on my own. If it's possible, I'd like to go straight to my senior year. Is that okay?"

To be honest, she was already at the level of a postgraduate student. It was just that she did not have any exams. She wanted to finish her fourth year as soon as possible, then take the postgraduate examination and study for a doctorate to complete her studies as soon as possible.

Roger was a little surprised. Although he knew that she had taught herself the high school curriculum, he did not know that she had finished the four-year course of her degree.

“Sophie, you’re amazing. You actually learned all the university courses yourself?” Lucas looked at Sophie in surprise.

Sophie smiled helplessly. “I had nothing to do every day at the Bourn family. I finished all the high school and university courses. Actually, I’ve taught myself all the major subjects in the fourth year. I’ve also learned some minor subjects.”

Upon hearing that Sophie was still a polymath, dabbling in various subjects, Wesley could not help but be astonished. He remarked, “I’m known as the bookworm in our family, but even at 20 years old, I didn’t study every subject You’re really impressive, Sophie.”

Sophie looked embarrassed. “I’m bored. I don’t have any other hobbies other than studying every day.”

She spoke calmly, but little did she know that she could only grab onto these life-saving straws in that dark room to leave the Bourn family through various channels.

Roger knew that she would not lie. He pondered for a moment and agreed. “In that case, I’ll talk to the principal again. It’s not a big problem. You can report as usual in three days.”

Seeing that he could do it, Sophie could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

The feeling of her husband applying for her school registration was really a little mysterious.

The meal was finally over.

Chapter 75

After dinner, Roger did not stay any longer. He got up and was about to leave.

Seeing that he was about to leave again, Sophie felt a little lonely.

But it was better than yesterday.

After changing his shoes, Roger smiled at her and said, "Remember to call me if you miss me."

Sophie instantly blushed.

Her parents were still around. What nonsense was Roger spouting?

However, Sophie was not as resistant as yesterday. She only said calmly, "O K."

Then, she obediently sent Roger out.

Watching the two of them walk out, Bianca could not help but whisper, "Although Roger's eyes aren't good, it's really rare for him to be so attentive and considerate to Sophie."

"Yes, you're right. He's indeed a good son-in-law."

"That's right. I almost asked Sophie to break off the engagement yesterday. Look at how compatible Roger is with Sophie." Lucas's impression of Roger had changed a lot.

Wesley said helplessly, "That's right. Can't you see how much Roger cares about Sophie? You almost broke them up."

Lucas chuckled. "I've sinned, I've sinned."

Outside the door.

Dillon had already driven the car over. Sophie gently helped Roger into the car.

Before closing the car door, she mustered her courage and whispered, "Um, thank you for today."

Whether it was fighting for her parents' love or arranging school for her, he was really super considerate.

Roger suddenly turned his head to look at her and smiled. "I'm your husband. It's my duty to protect you."

He had said this before, but Sophie only felt that this little blind man was bragging. But now, she did not feel that way at all.

Although Roger had poor eyesight, it was indeed as her grandfather had said. Roger was indeed a capable person.

Roger was stronger than the two people in the Nicholls family.

Without saying anything else, Sophie closed the car door with a red face.

Chapter 75

Dillon drove away with Roger.

Sophie looked at the departing car and covered her face awkwardly.

Fortunately, he could not see. Otherwise, he would have seen her blush.

For the next three days, Sophie did not see Evelyn.

Sophie heard that Evelyn came back very late that night. It seemed that Evelyn had gone to a nightclub to drink too much and was brought back by her brother.

After that, Evelyn was completely grounded by Marcus. For three whole days, her meals were sent up by the servants. At first, Evelyn did not eat much, but later on, she ate when she was extremely hungry.

The next time they met was three days later.

Roger had already completed all her procedures in the past three days. He even got Dillon to send her acceptance letter over. Today was the day Sophie was going to report to Habourland University.

Sophie tied her hair in a simple ponytail and went downstairs in a fresh student blouse and skirt.

Although she was dressed simply, she exuded the feeling of the first female lead in a movie.

As soon as she went downstairs, she stunned her brothers.

“Sophie, you look so good with your ponytail.” Benjamin was the first to praise her.

Lucas chimed in, “Yeah, you look so energetic and beautiful.”

Sophie smiled. “Benjamin, Lucas, stop praising me. I’ll feel embarrassed.”

Ever since she returned to the Dawson family, her brothers had been praising her so much over the past few days that she could write a book. She really could not take it anymore.

“It’s not just Benjamin and Lucas flattering you. I also think you’re very good-looking.” Wesley also joined in. Sophie was completely speechless.

Her brothers’ love was really overwhelming. At first, Sophie felt that her brothers loved her very much and treated her very well, but after only three days, she felt a little sick of it.

As if he could tell that Sophie was uncomfortable, Kenneth slowly said, “Sophie, I’ll send you to Habourland University today.”

As expected, at the critical moment, her big brother was still the most reliable. Sophie could not help but smile brightly. “Thank you, Kenneth!”

Seeing Sophie smile so sweetly to Kenneth, the other brothers immediately felt a little jealous. Benjamin immediately tried to intercept. “Kenneth, aren’t you usually a workaholic? There’s still the morning meeting. Let me do this kind of thing.”

Chapter 75

“Kenneth, Benjamin, you’re all busy. I don’t have any surgeries recently, so I’m very free. It’s better for me to send my sister off.” Wesley had been so focused on Sophie that he had forgotten about the important matter.

Seeing that his brothers were all fighting over it, Lucas immediately joined in the fun. “Let me go!”

Unexpectedly, as soon as he finished speaking, the other four brothers immediately looked at him and unanimously rejected him.

“You? If you send your sister to school, won’t the school gate be surrounded by fans? You’d better stay at home.” Benjamin looked at Lucas with disdain.

Wesley also frowned and said, “That’s right. Evelyn insisted on you bringing her to Habourland University. After you were discovered, did you forget how her classmates chased after you?”

A shadow loomed over Lucas, and he immediately shivered. “Then I won’t go!”

Sophie suddenly realized something and asked, “Evelyn is also studying at Habourland University?”

Chapter 76

In an instant, the brothers fell silent. Wesley wanted to bite his tongue. What was wrong with him? He really touched a sore spot!

Anyway, there was no way to hide the truth. Timothy said calmly, “Evelyn is indeed studying at Habourland University. Ever since I started school, she has been causing a ruckus at home. My parents had no choice but to let her study two years in adva nce, so she's in her fourth year of university this year. She'll be reporting to school today."

Sophie was speechless.

She had no choice but to enroll in her fourth year of university just for her graduation certificate. She did not expect that Evelyn would also enroll in her fourth year of university just because she studied two years in advance.

"I see," Sophie replied, pretending to be calm.

However, at this moment, Evelyn suddenly entered the dining room and said in shock, "What do you mean by I'll report to school too? Other than me, who else wants to go to Habourland University?"

Her brothers had already graduated! She should be the only one still studying at Habourland University. Why did her brothers say that just now?

Upon seeing Evelyn, the brothers felt a headache coming on.

Wesley patiently explained, "I forgot that you were grounded the day you came back. I didn't tell you that Sophie is going to Habourland University to study too."

"She's also going to Habourland University to study?" Evelyn was filled with resentment after being locked up for three days. She was happy that she had come out of seclusion early because she was going to report to school. She did not expect to hear such bad news when she went downstairs!

Unable to suppress the anger in her heart, Evelyn asked directly, "Why? She didn't even go to high school. How is she qualified to attend Habourland University? Moreover, the university has never recruited transfer students, okay?"

Sophie wanted to go to Habourland University? Dream on!

Evelyn's attitude was very overboard, causing Kenneth's expression to be a little ugly. "On what basis? Just because Sophie's results in the college entrance examination n back then were good, and she was the top scorer in the middle school examination. After the principal of Habourland University saw her results, he agreed to let her enter.”

“What? The principal has already agreed?”

How was this possible?

Chapter 76

Even if Sophie was the top scorer in the middle school examination, she had not even taken the college entrance examination. How could they make an exception and enroll her in Habourland University?

Looking at Evelyn’s incredulous expression, Timothy said in a low voice, “Of course, if the principal doesn’t agree, we won’t fight to send our little sister off”

Evelyn gritted her teeth.

As soon as she went downstairs, she vaguely heard her brothers fighting to send Sophie out.

So it was to send Sophie to school!

Every time Evelyn wanted her brothers to send her to school to show off, they would always make excuses!

Now, they were so attentive to Sophie!

These people were indeed fence-sitters!

Just like Marcus and Bianca, they were liars who were full of lies!

They said that no matter what, they would treat Evelyn as family!

Actually, in their hearts, Evelyn was not even worth a strand of Sophie’s hair!

Evelyn had never hated anyone so much, but at this moment, she really wanted Sophie to die!

Benjamin's face turned cold as if he had noticed the terrifying gaze that Evelyn was giving him. "Evelyn, you've been locked up for three days. Haven't you reflected on yourself? You're still so indignant. You're so unrepentant."

At the mention of confinement, Evelyn's eyes flashed with hatred and fear.

After three days of confinement, she clearly realized that she was no longer the daughter of the Dawson family.

In fact, she had even lost the right to call Marcus and Bianca her parents.

They were no longer her mother and father.

This was even worse than an adopted daughter!

Therefore, Evelyn could no longer openly hate Sophie.

Because they were a family, hating Sophie would only make the Dawson family people want to chase Evelyn, this fake daughter, away.

Gritting her teeth, Evelyn could only endure it. She pinched her thigh and forced her eyes to turn red.

"I, of course, I know I was wrong. I just couldn't accept it that day. I called them 'Dad' and 'Mom' for 20 years, but they're no longer my parents. That's why I rushed out so impulsively. I'm sorry, Kenneth and Benjamin. I won't mess around anymore."

Unexpectedly, Evelyn suddenly changed the topic and admitted her mistake.

This made Benjamin a little uncomfortable. He quickly glanced at Kenneth.

Kenneth was very calm. "It's good that you know your mistake. Sit down and eat."

Evelyn saw that she had succeeded and immediately sat down.

Sophie looked at Evelyn's expression and her eyes darkened. She felt that it was a little unreal that Evelyn had suddenly admitted her mistake.

At that moment, Marcus and Blanca had also walked into the dining room. As if they had heard Evelyn's words, Marcus said, "It's great that you know your mistake. Evelyn, it's indeed time for you to change your temper."

Evelyn's eyes flashed with unwillingness. Ever since Sophie returned, Evelyn had been scolded and lectured. It was rare for Evelyn to get her father's approval, so she immediately lowered her head.

"I know I was wrong. I've thought about it a lot in the past three days. Indeed, if I hadn't taken over my sister's identity, she wouldn't have been wandering outside for so many years and suffering so much. It's all because of me that she couldn't reunite with you guys. It's all my fault. I won't argue with Sophie anymore in the future. I won't let my father worry anymore." After saying these pitiful words, Evelyn suddenly raised her head and addressed Marcus as her father.

However, Evelyn instantly changed her words in disappointment. "I forgot that I'm no longer qualified to call you my father. If you're willing to adopt me, I'm just an adopted daughter of the Dawson family. You're right. From today onwards, I'll stop calling you my parents."

Evelyn's eyes were filled with desolation, and her small face had changed from being arrogant to miserable.

She was once the Dawson family's arrogant and spoiled little princess.

At this moment, she looked like a little girl who had been picked up.

Bianca's heart felt like it was being torn apart.

After all, she had raised Evelyn for 20 years.

Bianca subconsciously looked at Sophie. "Sophie, your sister already knows her mistake. She hasn't found her family yet. We're considered her adoptive parents. It's indeed a little strange for Evelyn to stop calling us her parents. We're not used to it either. Why don't we become her godparents?"

Sophie knew that Bianca was soft-hearted.

Evelyn's words were tear-stained. If Sophie refused again, it would seem like she was being insensible.

Forget it. If Evelyn sincerely repented, Sophie would try to get along well with her.

"Evelyn, you can decide on this. I don't object."

Seeing that Sophie had agreed, Bianca's heart could not help but relax, and her eyes were filled with guilt.

Sophie was really too sensible. She was so sensible that her heart ached.

Evelyn watched the mother-daughter relationship from the side, but she was very jealous.

It was hard to accept that Sophie was the one to decide what Evelyn called Marcus and Bianca!

When had she ever been so lowly?

'Sophie, just wait and see! Sooner or later, I'll return these feelings to you, or even worse!' Evelyn thought to herself.

However, on the surface, Evelyn pretended to be generous and said, "Thank you, Sophie."

Seeing that Evelyn's attitude was still alright, Sophie did not argue with her and ate in peace.

Sophie did not eat much to begin with. After drinking some milk and eating an omelette, she put down her bowl and chopsticks and waited for the others to finish eating.

At this moment, Kenneth suddenly said, "Sophie, are you done eating?"

Sophie did not understand what her brother meant and nodded suspiciously. "Yes, I'm done eating."

Kenneth stood up immediately before the others finished eating. "I'm done eating too. Let's go. I'll send you to school."

As soon as these words were spoken, the brothers finally reacted. They had not finished eating yet, but their big brother had already snatched Sophie away!

Chapter 77

"Wait. Wait for me. I'll go!" Benjamin hurriedly swallowed the fried egg in his mouth and stood up.

But at this moment, Kenneth gave him a terrifying glare. “Sit down and eat your food.”

Then, Kenneth went straight to Sophie. His eyes regained their gentleness. “Let’s go.”

“Oh, okay!” Sophie reacted and immediately stood up to follow her brother.

The other brothers widened their eyes. Wesley was the first to swallow the food in his mouth. He gritted his teeth and said, “Kenneth is really unscrupulous to send Sophie off. He didn’t even eat!”

Indeed, they were too young!

Lucas could not help but mock, “Tsk tsk, I didn’t know that Kenneth, who’s usually quiet, would be so enthusiastic about sending his sister off.”

The brothers’ words left Marcus and Bianca unable to hold back their laughter.

It turned out that these brothers were fighting to send Sophie to school just now.

No wonder Kenneth did not even eat.

However, this was not the case when they were sending Evelyn off previously. They were all pushing each other around. In the end, they did not send her off at all.

At this moment, Evelyn was also a little jealous and said, “Brothers, you’re so proactive in sending Sophie to school. Back then, when I asked you to send me off, you all kept rejecting me.”

Lucas could not help but roll his eyes at Evelyn

In the past, this girl loved to pull them along to support her. She would pull them along for school celebrations, sports events, and all sorts of activities. They were all so annoyed that no one liked to go.

Even now, they did not want to send her off.

Lucas cut straight to the chase. “Evelyn, you’re different. Marcus and Bianca have arranged a chauffeur for you, and you have a car to pick you up every day. They haven’t arranged anything for Sophie yet.”

Evelyn’s face instantly turned pale, and she said gloomily, “Although they didn’t arrange a driver for her, didn’t you give her a car, Lucas?”

Lucas was speechless for a moment. He had actually forgotten about this.

Fortunately, Wesley reacted quickly and helped him.

“But Sophie hasn’t gotten her driver’s license yet, so of course we have to do it for her for a few days. Evelyn, you’re so sensible, you won’t mind, right?” Wesley turned the tables and asked Evelyn.

Evelyn bit her lip.

She subconsciously glanced at Marcus and Blanca.

If she continued to say anything, she was afraid that it would arouse disgust again. She could only say, “You’re right. I naturally won’t mind. I’m done eating, so I’ll leave first.”

Evelyn was not in the mood to eat anymore. She put on a fake smile, got up, and left the dining room.

Once she left, the Dawson family brothers inexplicably felt the atmosphere become much more relaxed.

Even Marcus and Blanca felt this way for some reason.

Indeed, if they were not family, a barrier would gradually form between them.

Marcus could not help but exhort Timothy. "Timothy, I'll leave the matter of finding Evelyn's parents to you. Do it quickly."

He did not want the person he had raised for 20 years to turn against him in the end. At the very least, Evelyn should leave with dignity.

"Okay, I will." Timothy nodded seriously.

Unbeknownst to them, Evelyn, who was not far away, heard these words clearly.

Sure enough, they were all lying to her. They had no intention of adopting her at all.

As long as she found her biological parents, she would definitely be thrown out.

It seemed that she had to find another way out. She could not leave the Dawson family like this!

The sun was shining brightly.

The entrance of Habourland University was filled with students who had come to report.

Sophie could not help but be surprised when she got out of the car. "This is Habourland University."

In fact, she had also seen Habourland University on television, but it was far from the magnificent feeling of being at the school gate in person.

"That's right. This is the best school in Habourland. It must not have been easy for Roger to arrange for you to come in."

Sophie nodded. "I know that the threshold for Habourland University is very high, and they never recruit transfer students.”

Although she did not know what method Roger used, she knew that it was definitely not easy. She had to thank him when she had the chance.

“It’s about time. Have a good lesson. I’ll pick you up after school.” Kenneth was very gentle to Sophie.

Sophie said worriedly, “Kenneth is so busy. I can go back by myself after school.”

“Don’t worry. If I’m busy, Benjamin and the others will pick you up. Someone will definitely pick you up before you. get your driver’s license.”

If they were all busy, the family could arrange for someone to pick her up.

However, at that time, they would not have the chance to spend much time with their sister.

“I understand. Thank you, Kenneth.”

“You’re welcome. Take the notice and go in quickly.” Kenneth reached out and stroked Sophie’s hair.

Sophie was not used to such a gentle touch on the head, but she did not refuse.

After Kenneth retracted his hand, Sophie waved at him. “Kenneth, I’m going in.”

“Okay.”

After receiving her brother’s response, Sophie immediately turned around and entered the school.

Seeing Sophie enter the house, James, the driver could not help but smile at Kenneth. “Mr. Dawson, you really care about Miss Sophie. You’ve never sent Miss Evelyn off before.”

The corners of Kenneth's mouth curled up slightly as he replied indifferently, 'It's only right for me to care about my biological sister.'

James nodded.

Actually, James knew that the reason why Mr. Kenneth was not close to Miss Evelyn was because she was too noisy. If this was to send her to school, she would not stop talking throughout the entire journey. She would even ask Mr. Kenneth for something. After that one time, Mr. Kenneth did not allow her to board his car again.

Miss Sophie was more dignified and generous. She was quiet the entire way and looked like a rich young lady.

"Mr. Dawson, are we leaving now?"

Kenneth shook his head. "No, I want to go in and take a look."

"Huh? You want to enter Habourland University?" James was stunned. Back then, Kenneth was a legendary figure who got out of the school as the top student. He was also the school hunk that all the girls in the school pursued back then.

Chapter 77

Ever since he left Habourland University, he had only returned once or twice for important school celebrations. He had never entered the school for no reason.

"Yes, I'll go and make sure that Sophie can successfully enter the class."

With that, Kenneth straightened his bow tie and walked into Habourland University proudly.

James had no choice but to wait at the door. However, he was even more surprised that Kenneth had taken a fancy to Sophie.

He had always had a sense of time and had never been late for work.

Today was going to be an exception.

Habourland University.

Sophie was walking towards the admissions office along with the crowd of freshmen.

Although she was a fourth-year student, she still had to go to the admissions office to fill in some information.

At this moment, there were two or three students sitting at a long table at the side filling in information.

Sophie walked towards the teacher and said, "Sir, I'm a fourth-year student who came to report today."

"Fourth-year?" The admissions teacher was stunned for a moment before he frowned and said, "Student, are you serious? The students who came to the admissions office today are all first-year students."

"There's no mistake. This is my acceptance letter." Sophie immediately handed over the acceptance letter.

The teacher took it and immediately took a look. Then, his eyes widened.

This was simply rare!

Habourland University had never recruited a transfer student!

How could a fourth-year student be recruited?

Chapter 78

Just as the teacher was in shock, a rich girl who was filling in the information looked up. "Sir, everyone knows that our school never recruits transfer students. Could this admission letter be fake?"

The rich girl's sidekick immediately chimed in, "That's right. I heard that Habourland University caught a student who forged the notice last year."

As the two of them echoed each other, the teacher immediately suspected Sophie. "Student, if it's really a forgery, you should be smarter and be a first-year student instead of a fourth-year student. This is really not smart."

As he spoke, the admissions teacher actually tore Sophie's admission notice apart!

"Sir! You didn't even confirm it? Why did you tear it up?!" Sophie's eyes widened. She did not expect this admissions teacher to be so immoral. How could he tear it up without confirming it?

"Confirm what? Habourland University is Habourland's most prestigious university. It has not recruited transfer students for decades. Your notice must be fake! Hurry up and leave. If you delay my work any longer, I'll call security! If I send you to the police station, you'll have a stain on your reputation!"

Sophie did not expect the reason given by the admissions teacher to be so unreasonable.

Sophie was so angry that she almost laughed. "As you said, if I really forged it, why didn't I forge the first-year student's notice? Why would I forge the fourth-year student's notice? Take a good look. The notice you tore off has your school's seal on it, and it also has your principal's autograph."

She was not in a hurry at all. Her arrogant aura really did seem like it.

The teacher was suspicious for a moment.

However, the rich girl beside him said, "The fake evidence is real now. You can imitate any steel seal handwriting!! advise you to leave quickly and stop embarrassing yourself here."

Sophie could not help but raise her eyebrows and look at the rich girl beside her.

For a moment, she felt that this girl looked a little familiar.

This person seemed to be one of the daughters of the rich family that she had beaten up with Laura last time, right?

Seeing this, Sophie did not care. She said coldly, "I was wondering why you looked a little familiar. So it's you. Have your injuries recovered from the last time I slapped you?"

When Sophie mentioned what had happened previously, the rich girl felt humiliated. She immediately flew into a rage out of humiliation and said, "Sophie, stop being arrogant! You didn't even go to high school. Where did you get the cheek to forge a notice to enter Habourland University? You're simply shameless!"

The admissions teacher was surprised that the girl knew her. "Lucy, do you know her?"

Lucy was the daughter of the Smith Corporation. The teacher did not expect Lucy to know this student who forged the notice.

Seeing the teacher's surprise, Lucy immediately reported, "I do know her, that's why I told you that she must have forged the notice! She's the older sister of Year Two Class B, Laura, Laura told me personally that her older sister was paralyzed after the college entrance examination. She didn't even attend high school and didn't participate in the college entrance examination at all. How could she enter Habourland University? The principal even personally signed it. If someone like her can enter Habourland University, wouldn't anyone be able to enter?"

The last time Lucy was slapped by Sophie at the banquet, her face was ruined ! Today, the heavens gave her a chance to take revenge. No matter what, she wanted Sophie to get out of Habourland University!

Sophie looked at the daughter of the Smith family coldly, as if she was looking at a clown with disdain. “You’re right. I’m just very curious now. How did a Tom, Dick, and Harry like you get in? I remember that you didn’t even pass the middle school entrance examination, right? I think it was your father who went to the Bourn family to look for Laura’s father and thought of a way to get you into the Third High School with Laura. In the end, your college entrance examination scores were at the bottom last place last year, and you repeated your third year of high school. I really didn’t expect to meet a bottom student like you in Habourland University. I’m really curious how you got in.”

Did Lucy think that nobody knew she had dropped out of school? Sophie knew very well that Lucy had failed the exam and was still stuck in the class! She still wanted to compete in this? Sophie would see who was more embarrassing!

As expected, Lucy could not help but panic at the mention of the past. “You, don’t talk nonsense! My acceptance letter was personally issued by the Director of Academic Affairs!”

“Oh? Director of Academic Affairs? Tsk tsk, looks like this Director of Academic Affairs has a moral flaw. Otherwise, why would he let a retard like you enter Habourland University?”

“Who are you calling a retard!” Lucy immediately stood up in exasperation.

However, Sophie took a step forward. “Of course I’m talking about you. Don’t you understand? You’re indeed a retard!”

Her domineering look instantly reminded Lucy of the day she was beaten up, and her arrogance dissipated a little.

When the admissions teacher saw that the daughter of the Smith family, whom the Director of Academic Affairs had personally instructed to take care of, had been angered, he immediately stood up. "You've already been exposed, yet you're still so arrogant. You're so unrepentant! I'll get the security guards to send you to the police station now! Once news of you forging the notice spreads, no university in Habourland will want you anymore!"

Sophie did not expect not only Lucy to be a retard, but this teacher was also extremely stupid. Even now, he still thought that she was fake!

"Alright, then call the police. It's best if you invite your principal over too. Ask him personally if your principal has gone senile and actually accepted a transfer student!"

Everyone knew that the principal of Habourland University was the respected head of the Thompson family, Mr.

Thompson.

In his early years, he was a big shot in the business and political world. Initially, he invested in Habourland University. Later on, when he retired, he simply came to Habourland University to be the principal. How could such a powerful figure be a fool?

These teachers actually doubted his decision. They were simply extremely stupid.

Seeing that she was so confident, the admissions teacher was a little suspicious. However, since she had already said so much, she still refused to leave. For the sake of face, the admissions teacher could only press the call button and quickly call for security. "This girl forged the principal's handwritten notice! She even disturbed public order. Call the police immediately! Take her away!"

At this moment, countless students had already gathered outside the admissions office.

Everyone was looking around, wanting to see what the person who forged the notice looked like.

However, the security guard was about to reach out and grab her.

At this moment, someone shouted, "Mr. Thompson is here!"

"Hello, Mr. Thompson!"

These greetings immediately stunned the admissions teacher and security guards.

The admissions teacher ignored Lucy and hurried to the door to welcome Mr. Thompson.

As expected, Mr. Thompson immediately walked in with an exquisite walking stick.

"What do you mean yes? Why did you cause such a huge commotion? Did our esteemed guest and I hear it in the corridor?"

As he spoke, Mr. Thompson had already entered, and a tall figure followed behind him.

Seeing this tall figure, Sophie could not help but be surprised.

Why was Kenneth here?

He actually did not go to work?

Chapter 79

Kenneth glanced at Sophie and smiled calmly, indicating for her not to speak.

Sophie could not help but smirk.

It seemed that Kenneth had invited Mr. Thompson over.

This was going to be a good show.

At this moment, Mr. Thompson had already sat down at the long table in the admissions office.

When the security guards saw that the principal had arrived, they did not dare to act rashly.

The admissions teacher could not help but take a deep breath and say, "Mr. Thompson, you came at the right time. Our Habourland University has never recruited a transfer student for so many years. However, this student actually came to me with a fourth-year acceptance letter to apply for admission. It's simply ridiculous. I might as well tear up her forged acceptance letter, but she actually refused to leave. I had no choice but to call security and call the police to deal with it."

Mr. Thompson's originally lazy and listless eyes suddenly emitted a hale and hearty light as he silently sized up Sophie.

When the admissions teacher saw this scene, he was immediately pleasantly surprised!

Look, the principal did not know Sophie at all! She must be a fake student!

Thinking of this, the teacher said to the security guard, "What are you two waiting for? Aren't you going to take her away?"

The security guard was stunned for a moment. He looked at each other and could only step forward.

However, at this moment, the principal suddenly smiled at Sophie and said, "Are you the top scorer of the middle school examination, Sophie Dawson, who dropped out of school because of an accident Roger mentioned?"

Sophie did not expect the principal to remember her name. She immediately nodded politely. "It's me."

Mr. Thompson looked at her polite appearance and could not help but smile at Kenneth. “Kenneth, when Roger told me about it, I was a little worried about her future academic results, but I didn’t expect her to be your sister. Then I have nothing to worry about. Just help her catch up on her studies when you have nothing to do. After all, you got out with the best results in our school back then.”

Kenneth was the top scorer on College entrance examination back then. His results were still the school’s record. The top scorers in the subsequent batches could not surpass him. If he tutored Sophie, there was no need to worry about her academic results.

Roger really married a good wife. No wonder he, who had always had his own principles, did not hesitate to personally visit Mr. Thompson to let her enter Habourland University.

“Mr. Thompson, you flatter me. Actually, my sister is also very smart. During the time she dropped out of school to recuperate, she had already studied all four years of university courses. She just lacks a chance to obtain results and recognition.” It was rare for Kenneth to say a long sentence, all for Sophie’s sake.

Sophie could not help but feel touched. No wonder her brother insisted on sending her to school personally early in the morning. It turned out that he was afraid that someone would blame her and wanted to support her in public to give others a warning.

As expected, the student recruitment teacher’s face turned green.

The teacher recognized Kenneth!

He was a very famous genius at Habourland University! The holder of the highest results at Habourland University! He was also the CEO of the Brodesia Group!

And the girl in front of her who she had thought was faking her admission to school was actually his biological sister!

How was this possible?

描

Did the Dawson family not only have one daughter?

Evelyn had already enrolled in school! Why did another daughter of the Dawson family suddenly appear to be in her fourth year?

Seeing that the teacher seemed to have been struck by lightning

Sophie looked back and said, "Sir, the principal is here himself, proving that I'm indeed a fourth-year student. Do you have any questions?"

The admissions teacher's face fell. The principal was already here, so how could he dare to have any problems?

Sophie obviously did it on purpose, but the teacher could only grit his teeth and smile apologetically. "Since Mr. Thompson is here, I naturally have no problem."

"Is that so? Then I have a question." As soon as the teacher finished speaking, Sophie's face turned cold. She turned around and said to the principal, "Mr. Thompson, this teacher didn't even look at my admission notice carefully just now. He actually tore it up directly. He even slandered me for forging the notice in front of so many people. We can't let this matter go just like that. Otherwise, if word gets out, it will only ruin Habourland University's morals and affect the school's atmosphere."

Kenneth saw his sister raise her chin and look like she was going to pursue the matter to the end. A hint of admiration appeared in his eyes.

Sophie was indeed his sister. Her words were well-founded and clear.

It seemed that he did not have to worry about anyone bullying her in school in the future.

Sophie was strong, so no one could bully her.

Mr. Thompson also had a whole new level of respect for Sophie.

She was young, but her boldness was extraordinary.

“You’re right. Habourland University’s morals can’t be ruined because of anyone, and the atmosphere can’t be affected because of one person, right?”

Mr. Thompson did not say what to do, but when he glanced at the teacher with a cold gaze, the teacher’s heart immediately turned cold.

He panicked and subconsciously pushed the blame away. “Mr. Thompson, you can’t blame me for this. Firstly, Habourland University hasn’t made an exception to accept transfer students for so many years. Also, Miss Smith just told me personally that Miss Dawson didn’t finish high school. I must have thought that she forged the notice.”

When Mr. Thompson and Kenneth came in, Lucy was so scared that she did not dare to say anything.

Lucy thought that she would be able to escape this calamity if she did not say anything. She did not expect the teacher to drag her into this. She hurriedly explained, “I’m telling the truth!”

Sophie had almost forgotten about Lucy. Seeing that she was still unrepentant, Sophie simply said, “Then I’m telling the truth too. You're a third-year student who has to repeat for two years. How did you get into Harbourland

University?"

After being exposed by Sophie in front of the principal, Lucy was so frightened that she was sweating profusely. She was flustered.

This was because she knew very well that her score was not even close to Harbourland University's cutoff score.

Lucy had given the dean a large sum of money to get the acceptance letter. Now that Sophie was questioning her results in front of the principal, she was so frightened that her legs went weak.

Mr. Thompson had seen all kinds of people. He could tell at a glance that Lucy was guilty and said coldly, "Have you checked this student's college entrance examination results and information?"

When the teacher was asked, his expression immediately stiffened. "I did look at her information. The admission notice is all there. I didn't look at the results."

After all, the Academic Affairs Director had instructed him, so he naturally went easy on Lucy.

However, at this moment, Mr. Thompson's expression could not help but turn ashen. "There's an admission notice?"

Aren't you going to check your results? What kind of teacher are you?"

After being reprimanded by the principal, the teacher immediately broke out in a cold sweat. "I'll check it right now!"

As he spoke, he quickly went to the computer to check Lucy's results.

Seeing this scene, Lucy's face instantly turned ashen.

She knew that she was done for!

As expected, a moment later, the teacher could not help but widen his eyes when he checked the official results.

Lucy's results were not even comparable to Habourland University's cutoff score!

However, the Director of Academic Affairs even asked the teacher to arrange Class B for her!

Lucy would not even be able to enter Class F with such a last-place result!

Mr. Thompson also saw the results on the computer screen and immediately snorted. “You had two admission notices, but you actually treated them differently! Are you really competent as an admissions teacher?”

Mr. Thompson's sarcastic words immediately made the teacher sweat profusely!

“Mr. Thompson, it's not my fault. This is a certificate personally issued by the Director of Academic Affairs. He even instructed me!”

The teacher wanted to continue exposing the truth, but Lucy had already gone crazy. She rushed over and grabbed the teacher's hair as she shouted, “How dare you fucking say that! It's all your fault! If you hadn't shirked responsibility just now, I wouldn't have been discovered! If I can't enter Habourland University, you can forget about staying in Habourland!”

Lucy was amazing. She slapped the teacher twice!

The admissions teacher was instantly stunned!

“How dare you hit me? If it weren’t for you, I wouldn’t have been scolded by the principal!”

Just like that, the two of them started fighting!

Everyone in the office was stunned. The students outside the door were also dumbfounded.

They did not expect the admissions office to be so lively this year!

The teachers and students were actually fighting!

The principal was afraid of affecting the atmosphere, so he immediately shouted at the door, “Everyone, disperse! The two of you, quickly pull them away!”

“Yes!” Upon receiving the order, the security guard immediately rushed forward and grabbed each of them, pulling them apart.

However, Lucy was still kicking her legs in hatred. She wished she could kick the teacher again.

However, the security guard held her tightly and pulled her out!

When Lucy passed by Sophie, she roared crazily again, “Sophie Bourn! I won’t let today’s matter rest! Just your wait!”

Sophie looked at her coldly and said, “My name is not Sophie Bourn. My surname is Dawson!”

After she finished speaking, Lucy and the admissions teacher were also pulled away.

The admissions office immediately fell silent.

At this moment, the Director of Academic Affairs rushed over from outside the door.

He saw Lucy being dragged out of the door and thought that the truth had been exposed. He rushed over with a pale face. "Mr. Thompson, don't listen to their nonsense..."

Mr. Thompson rolled his eyes at him. "Mr. Johnson, you're an old man in the school. I'll let you go this time, but if there's a next time, you'll be like them. Get lost!"

The Director of the Academic Affairs was so frightened that he trembled and did not dare to say anything else.

Mr. Thompson snorted and stood up. He looked back at Kenneth. "Kenneth, it's rare for you to return to school. Accompany me to the office for a drink."

"Alright." Kenneth nodded gently, as if everything had nothing to do with him.

Mr. Thompson brought him out just like that.

When he passed by Sophie, he still instructed, "Mr. Johnson, I'll leave Kenneth's sister to you. Send her to Year Four Class A personally."

"Huh? Alright, alright!" Since the principal had already given such instructions, the Academic Affairs Director hurriedly nodded in agreement.

He subconsciously glanced at Sophie.

She was actually Kenneth's younger sister

Was Evelyn not Kenneth's younger sister?

However, he did not dare to ask further. He arranged for someone to continue recruiting students, and he personally brought Sophie to Class A of the fourth year.

On the way, the Director of Academic Affairs was so nervous that he could not say a word. His mind was probably filled with fear of almost being expelled by the principal.

Soon, Sophie was brought to Class A.

At this moment, all the students of Class A had arrived and the counselor was calling out names.

The Academic Affairs

The Academic Affairs Director knocked on the door.

The counselor immediately came out to welcome him. “Mr. Johnson, why are you here?”

Mr. Johnson glanced at Sophie and said, “Ms. Taylor, this student is an exceptional transfer student that the principal accepted this year. From today onwards, she will be a student of your class.”

“Huh?” Ms. Taylor was obviously stunned for a moment. “Mr. Johnson, are you serious? When has Habourland University ever recruited transfer students?”

Mr. Johnson frowned and said, “I’m not sure about the details either. In short, she’s a student of Class A from today onwards.”

He still had to apologize to the principal and did not have time to continue nagging.

However, Ms. Taylor said with a troubled expression, “Mr. Johnson, Class A shoulders the honor of Habourland University. Every student in the class is top-notch and their results are outstanding. If you suddenly give me a transfer student, what if the average results of our class are affected?”

Mr. Johnson was instantly displeased. “Why do you have so many questions? Anyway, it was the principal who instructed us. Hurry up and bring her in!”

With that, he turned around and left, leaving Ms. Taylor behind with a stunned expression.

The principal had instructed him to do

Ms. Taylor could not help but glance at Sophie. Although she did not know how Sophie’s results were, Sophie was quite pretty.

After thinking for a moment, Ms. Taylor asked the question she wanted to know the most in a low voice, “Where did you transfer from? How were your results at the end of last semester?”

Sophie did not lie. She said seriously, “After my high school entrance examination, I dropped out of school because of my health. I’ve been self-studying and have never taken the exam.”

However, she had basically done the mock questions for every college entrance examination and university graduate every year. Basically, she could ensure that she would be in the top ten in Habourland.

However, this frightened Ms. Taylor. “Dropped out of school? Didn’t take the exam?”

Ms. Taylor’s head immediately buzzed.

She was dumbfounded!

Was Mr. Thompson crazy? Did he give up on the average score of Class A?

He actually sent a person who did not study in high school and did not even take the college entrance examination to study in her fourth year?

“Then why did you come to the fourth year? If you’re self-studying in high school, you can start from the first year. Why did you come to the fourth year?”

Sophie could tell that Ms. Taylor really did not want to accept her. She could not help but sigh.

Chapter 80

It was really too difficult to return to school.

However, it was only natural. After all, which teacher did not care about the average results of their class?

Helpless, Sophie could only say, “Ms. Taylor, I’ve already finished self-studying my four years of university, so I want to directly take the final semester’s exam and graduate as soon as possible. Don’t worry, I won’t slack off on the monthly exam results.”

Although she solemnly promised, the corners of Ms. Taylor’s mouth twitched.

How could self-study be the same as Habourland University’s teaching standards?

However, at this moment, Ms. Taylor could only say awkwardly, “Alright. Alright, I’ll do my best to help you. If you can’t take it anymore, look for me anytime. I can transfer you to another class.”

She still hoped that Sophie could go to another class.

However, Sophie’s eyes were filled with smiles. “I only want to be in Class A.”

Ms. Taylor almost vomited blood in her heart.

Was the heavens trying to kill her?

In the last semester, she had originally planned to bring the students in her class to break the school’s average score record.

But now, there was such a ‘self-taught’ little girl.

Ms. Taylor was afraid that she had no hope of breaking through.

Seeing that her teacher was still in a daze, Sophie could not help but remind her, “Ms. Taylor, aren’t we going in?”

Ms. Taylor immediately nodded. “Go in, go in.”
