Chapter 1241: Judgment Towards Gu Chaoyan

Hearing that, the King was startled first, before realizing that Gu Chaoyan was that kind of woman. She always put forward conditions for her treatment.

De Fu, who had been ready to serve her tea, shivered, almost spilling the water inside.

Elder Miss was the only person who would charge money from the King.

No wonder Officer Gu never spoke highly of Elder Miss, instead showing extreme dislike towards her. He would have not liked it either.

It was such a good opportunity to suck up to the King by healing him, because she was definitely going to get an equal payment as an award. Why must she say such an annoying thing?

De Fu shook his head slightly, looking annoyed by Gu Chaoyan.

Nevertheless, he still had the tea prepared. He continued to serve her tea and spoke. "Elder Miss, you don't need to be worried about payment. Imperial doctors who heal the King always get payment afterwards. You will definitely get rewarded too, if you heal the King."

The King looked at DeFu, telling him not to say anything more.

Since she asked for that, she could get what she needed.

Elder Miss Gu was a very skillful doctor, but she was only a little smart at this point. She wanted to get the payment for her skills and she was in a hurry to do so.

Well... That had something to do with her birthplace.

The Gu Mansion used to be a small place, and her birth mother was born to a business family, and never taught her well or told her to open the horizon for something bigger.

This kind of woman was annoying, but not troublesome. She could get what she wanted.

"How much do you want?" The King asked patiently.

"50,000 liang." Gu Chaoyan answered briefly.

"When you heal me, I will ask De Fu to pay you this much." The King said without much hesitation. 50,000 liang was nothing for the court.

He also understood why she needed this much money.

Lord Huai had moved to a new mansion...

The Ministry of Rites could not have offered Lord Huai anything good, due to the situation he was in. Lord Huai's Mansion must be in a very shabby status right now, let alone her own mansion. Fifty thousand liang was plenty for them to live a relatively peaceful period of time.

She would want the money because she needed it. Fine, she could have all she wanted.

“Can you start now?” The King asked expressionlessly.

Gu Chaoyan nodded and went to feel his pulse.

The King, honestly speaking, was quite lucky. When so many of his guards died, he was not hurt except for some surface scratches.

However, Gu Chaoyan would not say that honestly. She still went on to write a prescription.

Those were all medical herbs, bitter and difficult to drink. And they would not work well or badly for the King.

Having written that, Gu Chaoyan brought out the cream and said, “You can use this for your wounds.”

“Okay.” The King felt both assured and glad.

With his eyes upon Gu Chaoyan he said, “Thanks to you, the chaos in the court was appeased.”

Chapter 1242: Purposeful Trouble

“The leader of the imperial army told me that you suppressed the metal humans, though the imperial army met many casualties as well. You asked for the payment just now, but for this achievement, I will award you well too,” the King said calmly.

Gu Chaoyan wrote the prescription and offered him the medical cream.

He could tell by how Gu Chaoyan treated him that he was doing well. Because of that, the King felt very relieved.

When he was physically well, he was going to deal with what happened in the court.

He would not be able to tell the civilians what happened here.

The King was playing with his ring as he frowned slightly, as if he were thinking about something.

Gu Chaoyan did not talk, but started to put away her own needle bag, waiting for the King’s arrangement.

“When you moved out of the Gu Mansion, you were living in the shabby mansion you bought. That is not very proper, because you are marrying my Eighth Son in the future. The Ministry of Architecture is building some mansions, so I will tell them to build an extra one for you.”

Having said this, the King looked up to see how Gu Chaoyan would react to that.

Looking at her, the King felt assured and added. “But you should never tell anyone else about what happened in the court, including the metal humans you have suppressed.”

“Just remember that it is the Crown Prince Consort who has done this, got it?” The King threatened.

Gu Chaoyan showed no expression on her face, but sneered inwardly.

The King was trying to make sure that the Phoenix Girl's reputation was raised to the sky through the chaos in the court.

No wonder the King had been thinking about how to make the Phoenix Girl more loved, rather than how to arrange the affairs in the court well.

Gu Chaoyan nodded indifferently, smiling. "I got it."

The King nodded with assurance.

Gu Chaoyan would definitely say yes to the mansion, because she knew that the mansion was worth a lot of money.

Business people loved to balance losses and gains.

1

She had gained a lot through this incident, so she knew pretty well what she should and should not get.

Seeing that things were well-arranged, the King felt much more relaxed as he looked at Gu Chaoyan. "You can leave now."

"De Fu, please see her off and pay the money she asks for." The King ordered.

De Fu nodded and said indifferently, "Please come with me, Elder Miss."

Gu Chaoyan got up and followed him.

Fifty thousand liang might not be a large amount, but it did take De Fu some time to carry it all there. Gu Chaoyan waited patiently with Sword One, and after one hour, De Fu came with the money.

He did not have the notes, but cash, which filled a few boxes.

Well...

He was apparently trying to give Gu Chaoyan some problems.

Gu Chaoyan had only one Sword One with her when she came into the court, and De Fu saw that these two girls were the only ones in the court, but the money made up to at least six small boxes.

It would be a very big problem for Gu Chaoyan and her maid to carry them home.

1

Chapter 1243: Purposeful Trouble 2

Sword One was a girl so De Fu did not think that she was able to carry all six boxes of money. So Gu Chaoyan was the only helper, and only in this way would they be able to get the boxes back.

Gu Chaoyan was the leader, and no leaders should return with the awarded things.

De Fu was clearly trying to humiliate Gu Chaoyan.

He did this, because he wanted to show Gu Chaoyan some threat, and for another, he wanted to humiliate her since the King could not do anything about it. At least in this way, the King would feel better.

De Fu held no expression on his face, but he looked at Gu Chaoyan with a smile, saying, "Elder Miss, here is your payment, just take it. I am in a hurry to take care of the King, and I can't stay here with you for too long."

That was a kind of urgency.

Gu Chaoyan threw a look at DeFu.

Faced with such trouble, Gu Chaoyan showed no expression on her face.

Seeing her act this way, De Fu did not think that she had any solution, except that she had no intention of showing any expression on her.

"Just take it." De Fu urged.

"Sword One, go and fetch our payment," Gu Chaoyan said to Sword One calmly.

Sword One nodded.

Sword One could carry the six boxes without any effort, but Sword One did not want to take them empty-handed. She took out a large patch of garment on the floor, and brought the six boxes to the garment one after another. She wrapped up the boxes with one large garment, picked them up as she nodded with relaxation. "Elder Miss, the boxes are ready, let's leave."

Gu Chaoyan nodded and smiled at De Fu. "Thank you for your efforts."

Then she left with Sword One.

Gu Chaoyan could not help but hold the smile.

When she called Sword One, she had thought that Sword One would take them away directly, because she understood what Sword One was capable of. She had not expected that Sword One had prepared such a thing, so she laughed.

The most funny part was De Fu's look.

Sword One had not expected that the thing she had with them could come into use.

The two of them started to head towards the court with a smile.

Gu Chaoyan did not conceal the fact that the boxes were given by the King, when she was asked by the imperial army or the officers on the way. So later, the imperial army did not dare to ask any more.

Gu Chaoyan and Sword One had already walked out of the court.

Back to the wagon, Sword One asked confusedly, "Elder Miss, we don't lack money, so why did you ask the King for that?"

“The King is very suspicious, so if we don’t ask him for anything now, he would suspect that we would want something more. That is troublesome for Huaijin. So we better give them what they want. And we can save ourselves trouble as well.”

“The King can give nothing more than money, also...”

Chapter 1244: Asking You

“Also, how could I treat someone for free!” Gu Chaoyan said with a look as if it were natural.

However... the King was a King with small thoughts. Although there were many schemes and conflicts back in the court, it was still the same in the front court, some things were just covered up by some so-called stuff.

That De Fu was doing this for the King was totally clear.

If not for his approval, nothing like this would have happened.

Gu Chaoyan could not help but shake her head slightly. She had her eyes closed in the wagon for a nap.

What happened in the court was settled, but Gu Chaoyan knew that it was just something on the surface. Mu Yihan had escaped, and things would get much more complicated.

Mu Yihan should not have been kept after he was caught.

He understood that he could not be conquered by the King, so he would always be a potential trouble.

He had not been found and it would never be easy to find him again.

Gu Chaoyan would get really tired.

In the court.

De Fu did not return to Qianqing Palace directly after he settled Gu Chaoyan. He allowed his men to check what Gu Chaoyan was doing afterwards. He was extremely startled when he heard what Gu Chaoyan was up to.

He had failed to conduct that plan well, but he had allowed things to become so horrible!

He had an even worse opinion of Gu Chaoyan!

She accepted the gifts and bragged about it!

De Fu let out a sigh of relief and headed towards Qianqing Palace, thinking about what he should say to the King.

De Fu got back to Qianqing Palace.

The King was speaking with Gu Ruxue.

De Fu let out a sigh of relief and poured them tea.

“I told Gu Chaoyan not to reveal a thing out of the court. Crown Prince Consort, you should be cautious and smart about this too. As long as there is an imperial army there, I won’t let them reveal anything. So you are taking over the fruits for the chaos of the court.”

“You got the achievement so you should handle it well. I trust that you know how to do that!” the King said calmly.

Gu Ruxue’s eyes sparkled. She said, “For real?”

The King did not answer her.

Gu Ruxue already knew that it was for real. She was no longer as angry as before. She was very pleased – Gu Chaoyan, you can achieve nothing no matter how much you try!

“Don’t worry, I will handle it well,” Gu Ruxue said accordingly.

The King nodded feeling assured.

He had made a good arrangement, so even if she was not that smart, she would always think that it was she who achieved it. So there was no need to worry about her.

“The victory news has arrived from Jiayu Pass, but it leads to chaos in the court. Destiny Monk has been under seclusion for too long, so he should come out to see what the Saint Divine Land is like now.”

“Our land is flourishing, and we are under the Phoenix Girl’s protection. We are going to unite the whole world!”

“...”

“We have too many things happening these days, so I think it is time!”

“...”

“Crown Prince Consort, you should stay in the court, and guard the court of the Saint Divine Land.”

“...”

“Also, I have one more thing to ask you.”

Chapter 1245: Out of Practice

Gu Ruxue was smiling and wondering what she could do with what she had now – she was gaining a lot of reputation among the civilians and officers, which was such a surprise for her!

However, hearing that the King had something to ask her, she got startled and looked at the King.

“Did you feel anything strange before and after the banquet?” The King asked.

When a nation was in trouble, the Phoenix Girl should at least have the ability to sense something. Although she might not learn of the destiny, at least she should have some sense. The Destiny Monk did not mention it and it was not known to anyone else, but he knew it well.

He was the King of the Saint Divine Land...

And the Kings of different generations of the Saint Divine Land knew quite a lot about the Saint Divine Land.

Some stories were passed on over different generations. And the one that could hear the story should be the real heir to the throne.

The Crown Prince had no idea about this, because he was not yet to be the King so he should not be told.

Hearing that... Gu Ruxue felt quite nervous.

She did not sense a thing! She did not even have any idea of what happened in the court after all.

However, she did not dare to answer a no directly right now.

Instead, she thought for a while hesitantly and then said, "Yes... I had been feeling quite uncomfortable starting from yesterday on. I thought that it was just because I wasn't feeling well, so I did not put many thoughts in it, but then something horrible happened today. Had I known about this, I would have reminded you."

Gu Ruxue showed a self-blaming look on her as she spoke.

The King looked at her and felt slightly better.

It was good that she had the premonitions. What happened today was already over, but as long as she watched for the situation in the future, it would be much better.

"It is fine, not a big deal. You should tell me if you don't feel well in the future," the King said indifferently. "I have just sent someone to get Destiny Monk. I wonder if he is out of seclusion now. Such a huge thing happened in the court, so he should be out here. You can stay in the court these days. I can't award you any palace, but you can go to the Honored Princess Jing to let her arrange something for you." The King stressed.

Gu Ruxue let out a sigh of relief and nodded, getting ready to find Honored Princess Jing.

Apart from staying in the court, Gu Ruxue was going to check if Chu Xiwen had been dealt with by her Elder Brother. That was really important.

She intended to gather the Chu Family's forces, and hated Chu Xiwen. If Chu Xiwen was successfully framed, she would be at her mercy from now on!

Gu Ruxue was about to leave when De Fu came with a look of cheer. "Destiny Monk is out!"

"Really?" The King was very surprised.

Destiny Monk had been in seclusion for a long time, which he felt quite anxious about. Finally, he came out.

And...

Since he was out, it basically meant that the Phoenix Girl was going to be put into use?

The King looked very greedy as he started to think about how to deal with the Phoenix Girl.

“Bring Destiny Monk here to the Qianqing Palace!”

Chapter 1246: Out of Practice 2

It was very important to get Destiny Monk here, so De Fu could not delay at all, so he hurried off. As for what happened between him and Gu Chaoyan in the court, it was not mentioned, because compared to Destiny Monk’s arrival, what mattered more was very clear for De Fu. He understood well what he should and should not do.

Destiny Monk was at Yanxing Palace, and without any order from the King, people would stay there and wait.

That was what the rules were like in the court, even if that person was Destiny Monk.

The King had never thought that Destiny Monk would come to the court of his own accord, so he did not tell his staff how to receive him. Therefore, it was quite chaotic in the court.

De Fu went to Yanxing Palace with utter courtesy.

In Qianqing Palace, the King and Gu Ruxue were both very quiet. Both of them were planning something.

The King was more excited, because he had not expected that he would be able to bring Destiny Monk out of his seclusion. It was something that had been pestering him all this while.

It was the correct thing for him to send the Crown Prince to Jiayu Pass whilst keeping the Crown Prince Consort here.

He wondered what Destiny Monk would have for him.

When everything was sorted out clearly, he was going to send a letter to the Crown Prince and let him return as soon as possible.

The King was thinking about a lot of things.

Gu Ruxue was the most excited because she had always been wearing the title of being the Phoenix Girl, but she had not proven to herself that she was one, despite the recognition from most people in the capital. Now that Destiny Monk was out of practice was the best time for her to prove herself.

Gu Ruxue clenched her hands tightly, her knuckles turning pale because of the force. She had no feelings for pain. She was just feeling really nervous.

Some movement happened outside Qianqing Palace.

Both of them were looking outside with full concentration.

De Fu showed Destiny Monk to the court. Destiny Monk was about to greet the King and the Crown Prince Consort when the King waved his hands, and turned it down. He said politely, "No need, Destiny Monk, please take a seat!"

"..."

"I am the King, but I can't accept your greetings!" The King said, sounding a bit anxious.

The King owned the whole land, but the Destiny Monk could learn the heaven's destiny, so he should not be offended. The King was pretty aware of that.

Seeing how the King reacted, Destiny Monk smiled. He was quite satisfied about that.

Normally, it was not yet the time for him to come out of practice, but he was out because he had predicted something and had to come out.

He felt even worse when he learned of what happened in the court.

After receiving Destiny Monk, the King looked at him and asked straightforwardly. "Destiny Monk, are you out because of the Phoenix Girl? Can the secret of the Phoenix Girl be revealed right now? Is it time to follow the heaven's destiny?"

Chapter 1247: Out of Practice 3

As the North Qi invaded yet retreated backwards, chaos occurred in the court, and no one knew if that was a good sign or not.

Everything was showing that heaven's destiny was arriving. And Destiny Monk even came out of practice right now, so he wondered if it had anything to do with the Phoenix Girl.

The King thought inwardly.

As the Phoenix Girl was mentioned, Destiny Monk showed a very profound look on his face. He said seriously, "Regarding the Phoenix Girl, the secret will be revealed when the heaven's destiny has arrived, it is not yet time."

"..."

"I am here today, not for the Phoenix Girl, but because I have predicted that the Saint Divine Land would suffer from a disaster, which I did not predict in the past. According to my prediction, there is still a long way to go before heaven's destiny arrives, and the Phoenix Girl is revealed. So how can a disaster happen right now?"

"..."

“This disaster will possibly affect heaven’s destiny in the future!”

“...”

“So I have to be here right now!” Destiny Monk looked really worried.

Well...

He was called Destiny Monk, but all he knew was that when heaven’s destiny arrived, the Phoenix Girl would get what she deserved.

However, when he found that the disaster would affect the Phoenix Girl, he was very worried.

If his mission was not completed, then what should he do with his own practice?

So Destiny Monk was very nervous too.

A disaster?

Hearing that, the King and Gu Ruxue felt shocked.

They had thought that the Phoenix Girl’s secret would be revealed now that Destiny Monk was here to see them, so that they could get many more things in the future. However, what they had not expected was that they were confronted with an even bigger disaster, which was unknown to others.

“What should we do?” the King asked seriously.

What should they do?

Destiny Monk had no idea, otherwise he would not have hurried to the court anxiously.

If the Phoenix Girl was out, then all was fine, but the Phoenix Girl’s identity was not confirmed, so it made things very difficult.

He could tell heaven’s destiny and predict the future, but he was not a God who knew what to do.

Suddenly, he thought of a person.

Gu Chaoyan... That woman had broken through his special array formation!

If she managed to break through the array formation, she should be quite skillful and she should have some ideas.

Destiny Monk subconsciously trusted Gu Chaoyan.

He looked at the King and asked cautiously, “Where is Lady Chaoyan? I would like to meet her.”

The words had just been spoken when the King and Gu Ruxue showed a very terrible expression.

The King was confused about why Destiny Monk wanted to meet Gu Chaoyan, whilst Gu Ruxue was just jealous about her. She was the Phoenix Girl, it was accepted by everyone, so why was Destiny Monk asking for someone else? Who did he think Gu Chaoyan was?

Gu Ruxue had her fist tightly clenched, and her fingernails dug straight into the flesh.

“Destiny Monk, Gu Chaoyan doesn’t work well, you should turn to the Crown Prince Consort instead. She is the Phoenix Girl. At her Adulthood Ceremony, all the birds came to pass on congratulations to her. The Crown Prince Consort is a lady with auspiciousness. She can solve the disaster.”

Destiny Monk had a very complicated look on his face.

Chapter 1248: Insisting

He had met the Crown Prince Consort before. When he went into the temple for practice, the Crown Prince and the Crown Prince Consort came to visit him at the temple. So he had seen her before.

The Crown Prince Consort had no manners, nor did she show him any respect. She was allowed to be wild and arrogant, but she needed to be capable too.

In his opinion, he did not think that the Crown Prince Consort was of any use. He had also looked into her background and never believed that she was of any good.

The disaster he had predicted was different from anything that happened in the past, in case the birth of the Phoenix Girl was affected.

He really did not think that the Crown Prince Consort was of any use.

On the other hand, he did appreciate Gu Chaoyan, who broke through his array formation during his practice. She was the first person that he met after he went into practice, so he was holding onto some hope for her.

However, since it was the King’s order that he should talk to the Crown Prince Consort, Destiny Monk could not just humiliate her in front of the public. Destiny Monk was a very well-received monk, but before the Phoenix Girl’s news was revealed, he was nothing more than an ordinary monk at the temple. So he needed to deal with the King in a more proper way.

Based on that, Destiny Monk turned to Gu Ruxue and asked with a small voice, “Any suggestions, Crown Prince Consort?”

Gu Ruxue got a bit shocked when asked to share her ideas. She looked really confused.

Any suggestions? She had no suggestions. She had not even figured out why chaos happened in the court, and now Destiny Monk was telling her that there was a disaster, which was unknown to anyone.

Of course she had no suggestions about what was going on.

Gu Ruxue’s head was totally blurry. She had no idea what was going on, but she was faced with the King and Destiny Monk, so if she wanted to sit stably in her place as the Phoenix Girl, she had to act a bit differently.

However, what was she supposed to do?

She had to defend her identity as the Phoenix Girl.

“I am thinking that if chaos happens in the court, the capital should be in trouble for a while, so I think that we should bring the Crown Prince back to deal with the unknown disaster, and the secret of the Phoenix Girl so that the Phoenix Girl can help with the problem,” Gu Ruxue said toughly.

Hearing what Gu Ruxue said, Destiny Monk threw a look at her. And he was very dissatisfied.

None of what she said was important. She was just full of useless words.

Destiny Monk insisted as he looked at the King. “Please, I would like to speak with Lady Chaoyan.”

Dissatisfied... the King still needed to obey what Destiny Monk required, but he asked confusedly, “Why?”

Destiny Monk had a very complicated look on his face.

Chapter 1249: Insisting 2

He could not mention the real reason.

He was Destiny Monk, and everyone, including the King, worshiped him like a God. Based on that, he could not just tell them straightforwardly that his array formation was broken through by Gu Chaoyan, who made almost no efforts.

His master left the array formation for him so that he could defend himself. And that was the only array formation he was able to make.

Since the array formation was broken through and the secret revealed, he was definitely going to be considered as someone incompetent. The King was a very skeptical person, who would even start to suspect his real identity.

He had the mission of dealing with the Phoenix Girl, so if the King lost his trust towards him, things would get worse.

Destiny Monk moved no inch. He kept thinking about a proper explanation.

After a short while, he said expressionlessly, “You may not know one thing, the Crown Prince Consort is already the heaven’s destiny, and judging from her characteristics as well as the auspicious scene happening on her Adulthood Ceremony day, it can be seen clearly that she is one of the candidate for the Phoenix Girl.”

“However, the heaven’s destiny has not arrived, and the treasure bank that only the Phoenix Girl could open is yet to be opened.”

“...”

“That is to say, we can’t say clearly who the real the Phoenix Girl is.”

“Before the real Phoenix Girl is confirmed, all the daughters from the Gu Mansion should be considered to be one. Lady Chaoyan is as old as the Crown Prince Consort, so the Phoenix Girl should be one of them.”

“Even if that is the slightest possibility, we should still be very cautious when it comes to the interest of a country.”

“...”

“The disaster is approaching soon, and apart from the Crown Prince Consort, I have to meet Lady Chaoyan as well,” Destiny Monk said with an as-a-matter-of-fact tone.

Well... Those were the excuses he made up, but they made sense.

That was why he sounded so certain.

“That won’t be possible.” The King did not believe that.

The Crown Prince Consort was definitely going to the Phoenix Girl. On her Adulthood Ceremony day, birds flew all over to pass in congratulations to her, which was something Gu Chaoyan could never achieve. With that as the prerequisite, how could Gu Chaoyan, a daughter born in a business family, be the Phoenix Girl? That was just impossible.

Business people were in the lowest class, in all the four countries. How could the Phoenix Girl be born in a business family? She had been abandoned before and she had even been removed from her family!

He still could not believe what was happening. And he did not think that it made any sense.

Destiny Monk felt his head ache. The King was a very stubborn person. He wouldn’t believe anything other than that which he already believed. He was the King, so he believed that what he thought was true.

Destiny Monk could not confirm which one was the real Phoenix Girl, thus not saying anything.

He said, “That is related to the country, and we need to be cautious. If she isn’t the one, then what harm can it bring to bring her here? You are the King and you can do whatever you want.”

Hearing that, the King felt slightly better.

“In that case, just bring her here.”

Gu Ruxue changed her expression when she heard the summoning order.

Chapter 1250: Insisting 3

So Gu Chaoyan, the b*tch, was going to be summoned here?

She had just started feeling a little better, but now the b*tch was coming again. How could the Phoenix Girl be related to her, who was born in a business family and had such a horrible history?

Gu Ruxue's hands had reddened. She had gotten so angry because of what happened today.

She was the Phoenix Girl! Yet she had to be tolerant of everything! Why!?

1

The King didn't notice any of this. He said to De Fu, "Just go to Xinlin Mansion to fetch Gu Chaoyan and don't delay!"

De Fu nodded and hurried away.

There were too many things happening in the court, and he believed that his offense on her could be forgotten for the moment.

Gu Chaoyan...

Okay, he had born her in mind.

There were going to be many occasions when they were going to meet and he was soon going to have a lot of chances to deal with her.

De Fu thought inwardly and hurried out of the court.

Gu Chaoyan had just returned to Xinlin Mansion from the court. Sword One was with her, whilst Sword Two had hurried back to Shadow Door. He needed to inform Shadow Door about Mu Yihan's escape, because he was definitely going to do something more in the future. The King's men would never catch Mu Yihan, and Gu Chaoyan did not trust them either. So people from Shadow Door were needed to catch the man in case the civilians got troubled again.

Back at Xinlin Mansion.

Qing served her hot tea. She felt her head aching so she went to bed directly.

No one had expected that something like that would have happened in the court. She had not expected that the King would have been so greedy either.

Mu Yihan was a very difficult person to deal with, and the Chu Family had been framed by Honored Princess Jing. There were many grudges and revenges yet to happen and the victory news from Jiayu Pass did not please Gu Chaoyan at all.

The North Qi must have been fully prepared to have started the invasion.

Gu Chaoyan closed her eyes gradually as she thought about that. She really felt like taking a nap.

She had just fallen asleep when Sword One called her.

Gu Chaoyan frowned slightly and asked confusedly. "Is it dawn already?"

"No, Elder Miss, someone from the court is here. The King is summoning you to the court, no delays." Sword One whispered.

To the court again? Was the King collapsing again? That could not be possible.

Sword One continued with a small voice, "Sword Two has returned too. He says that Destiny Monk is out of practice, and he is now in the court. I wonder if the King is summoning you there because of him? Maybe something is going on there."

Gu Chaoyan suddenly thought of this.

That was Destiny Monk's summons.

Gu Chaoyan got up in a hurry, neatened herself quickly and went straight into the yard. It was De Fu who was waiting for her out there. Gu Chaoyan remembered clearly how he tried to humiliate her in the court.

She knew clearly that eunuchs in the court held grudges, including the one working next to the King. He must have remembered what happened today, but...

That was not a problem. She was not afraid of enemies.

"Hey, Eunuch De Fu!"
