Chapter 1271: The Min Family's Lady 1

Since they talked to this degree, when the King asked about this, Gu Yunhe felt much more confident. He understood that the Crown Prince Consort was more than just the wife of the Crown Prince. She was also the Phoenix Girl, who was going to be of great help in the future. Gu Yunhe was her brother, and all he needed was a good martial connection. The King should have all the reasons to agree.

Gu Yunhe said as he felt more confident, "I would like to have a lady from the Min Family."

"Back at the banquet a couple of days ago, I ran into the lady from the Min Family. She is very good and my parents are quite satisfied with her. The Crown Prince Consort believes that she is suitable too. So I am here asking for your help."

"We used to be an unknown mansion, so if we go to make the proposal, we are not quite sure they will agree."

"..."

"So my parents asked me to beg for the imperial order."

"..."

"I want to get married because I like her, and more importantly, my sister is the Crown Prince Consort, so my marriage should be well arranged so that the Crown Prince Consort won't be humiliated. Otherwise, our mansion might even slow down the Crown Prince Consort's step."

"..."

"What do you think?" Gu Yunhe asked politely.

Before the Crown Prince left for the Pass, he had some strategists he personally liked at the mansion.

He was here asking for the imperial order for marriage and he even asked the strategist how he ought to behave in front of the King. That was why Gu Yunhe could say everything so straightforwardly and plainly.

He waited for his answer with head lowered, as he spoke politely.

He was quite anxious.

It was the Min Family that he asked for.

The Min Family was the head of the noble family in the capital and the King respected them. So Gu Yunhe was not very sure about it.

Hearing that, the King did not look at Gu Yunhe.

He thought about this as he frowned.

The Min Family...

Gu Yunhe was not wrong about what he said. In the past, the Gu Family would not be able to be related to any noble family in the capital, and the family was not capable enough either. However, the Crown Prince Consort was born in the Gu Family, and the Crown Prince should have his reputation properly built up, as well as the face of the Phoenix Girl. That was why the Gu Mansion should be lifted.

He was right about marrying the lady from the Min Family. So it was a very reasonable request.

However...

It was the Min Family he was talking about.

In the past he did not dare to touch the Min Family, because Mrs. Min was always with the Min Family even though she did not live there.

He did not dare to touch Mrs. Min when she was around, but... His messenger told him that Mrs. Min left the capital and did not even say a thing to the Min Family and Madame Min.

Therefore... the situation was obvious.

Mrs. Min was gone and she did not want to protect the Min Family any more.

Under that circumstance, he had thought about establishing a martial connection with the Min Family.

Chapter 1272: The Min Family's Lady 2

It was perfect.

In this way, the Gu Family would get a very proper marriage, whilst he was able to warn the Min Family about what they should and shouldn't do.

The King believed that it was alright.

Gu Yunhe became really anxious when he did not receive any response after a long while. He started to think that maybe he had made a mistake in making the proposal.

He could drop the proposal if that wasn't proper.

He could just marry a noble lady randomly and when Ruxue became the real Phoenix Girl, he could be endowed with a noble identity.

When he thought about this, Gu Yunhe said, "If the proposal doesn't work, I...

"You can have it," the King said straightforwardly. "It is a good marital proposal. Your parents can see things through. You are a suitable match for the lady from the Min Family. I approve of the proposal."

"..."

"Nevertheless, the border is still at war, so this announcement can't be publicized right now. However, I will give the Min Family my imperial order, and when the time comes, I will give them the written imperial order."

Gu Yunhe was totally surprised.

The King approved of this proposal?

When the King spent so much time thinking about this, he had thought that the King must be hesitant about how to answer him. He even thought about dropping the idea, but unexpectedly, the King approved of the whole thing.

So he was able to marry the lady from the Min Family directly?

Gu Yunhe looked extremely happy! When the marriage was settled, he was going to make the Chu Family see what he was capable of and how regretful they should be!

He had demeaned himself to marry the lady from the Chu Family, who turned him down. So Gu Yunhe was going to tell them that he had someone better. Someone more useful.

“Thank you!” Gu Yunhe looked so delighted as he said gratefully.

The King felt quite glad seeing how Gu Yunhe reacted.

The Gu Family was very easily satisfied.

It was just a marital proposal and yet he was so glad as to treat him as a savior.

The Gu Family was good.

They could not help much, but they were devoted to the Crown Prince.

When the whole thing was settled, he was going to tell the Min Family about this.

The King waved his hands. “Anyway, you can tell your parents about it.”

“The Min Family is a long-existing family, but you have the Crown Prince Consort. And you are related to the imperial family, so you don’t need to lower yourself in front of them. Since I already approve of your proposal, then in my opinion, you are equal, and there is no one who is higher than the other, got it?”

Gu Yunhe thought for a while, soon he realized what happened.

He nodded. “I understand.”

“Alright, you can leave now.” The King lost his patience and spoke frankly.

Gu Yunhe left with a big smile on his face.

The King was still quite troubled. “De Fu, get me some important ministers. I need to speak with them.”

De Fu answered and left.

However, the moment he left, he returned directly. “The King...”

“So fast?”

“No, Destiny Monk is outside waiting to see you.”

Chapter 1273: Hexagram

Destiny Monk was here?

The King's eyes brightened.

There was no delay in bringing him in.

"Bring him in. Destiny Monk can come in anytime he wants!" the King said patiently.

It was Destiny Monk that was outside. He was related to Heaven's Destiny.

When Destiny Monk spent so much time in the court, he realized that no matter where Destiny Monk lived, it was the same for everyone else. The palace where Destiny Monk lived was not open to anyone, just as it was before at the temple.

So whether he was living at the temple or in the court, things were the same. He might come out when he needed to, otherwise no one would be able to see him.

Finally, at this point, he was here.

He wondered what he needed to say.

The King got slightly excited.

Instantly, De Fu led Destiny Monk in. Then the other eunuchs at Qianqing Palace served him since De Fu needed to inform the important ministers to talk about affairs.

The King looked at Destiny Monk, asking, "Destiny Monk, what are you doing here?"

Destiny Monk nodded. He found the whole thing strange as well.

After a long time of consideration, he decided to inform the King.

"I have been reading Hexagram these days, and now I have found that the disaster is gone."

"..."

"However, to my knowledge, nothing happened these two days at the Saint Divine Land, right?"

"..."

"That is so strange."

Destiny Monk just could not understand it.

The disaster is gone?

The King let out a sigh of relief, but started to think about this again.

He tried to check it out with him.

He said, "Destiny Monk, can it be related to the war at Jiayu Pass? Jiayu Pass has been lost and that is the disaster. Now the disaster is gone, so Feng County can be kept, right? And we can reclaim Jiayu Pass as well, right?"

"..."

“Destiny Monk, what do you think we should do to keep Feng County?”

Destiny Monk frowned.

What the King said about Jiayu Pass could fit, but Destiny Monk did not think that it was the correct one.

He did not know how to keep Feng County.

Destiny Monk shook his head. “I am just a Monk who can predict Hexagram. I am not sure how to lead the army.”

The King was slightly disappointed. He thought that Destiny Monk could offer him an answer, but it did not seem to be this way.

He had to drop it.

“Sorry,” the King said politely.

“I have already told you about the Hexagram, so I need to go.” Destiny Monk said, got up and left.

The King asked the eunuch to walk him out.

He did not care if Destiny Monk greeted him, but he sighed.

When he thought about what happened at the border, he felt a headache arising.

“The ministers are here,” De Fu said.

“Let them in.”

Chapter 1274: Duke North

De Fu went to pass on the message.

Only in this way would the ministers be allowed to come into Qianqing Palace.

In the past, Prime Minister Chu was the leader of the ministers, but the King ignored Prime Minister Chu at the summoning, so the whole gang had no leader and all got excited. They could clearly see that Prime Minister Chu had lost his power and after he was fired, someone else would need to step up.

They were all those who had a chance to take the position, so they were all very excited.

However, they did not dare to show off their excitement.

They stood there with a serious look on their faces.

The King did not have any patience towards them. He said straightforwardly, “News came from the border – we have lost Jiayu Pass and General Liu is seriously injured. The Crown Prince and the troops have retreated to Feng County.”

“North Qi is very ferocious right now.”

“They have magical monsters apart from the troops. They are not easily killed by us mortals. The Saint Divine Land is in danger right now.”

“...”

“The Crown Prince has a very special identity, so he can’t lead the troops any more. General Liu is badly injured, so apart from some supporters, someone needs to lead the army to the border. Who do you think suits that position best?” the King asked with a sunken voice.

Although the ministers were divided into two sections, when wars arrived, few generals were capable apart from General Liu.

There were many small generals, but not major ones.

The King was quite troubled as well, that was why he called the ministers here.

Hearing the news, the ministers were all obviously shocked – they had lost Jiayu Pass? That was the most defensible place. All the countries who lost to the enemies started to lose their borders first.

What should they do?

For one moment, all the ministers all fell into chaos. They could not think through everything clearly.

“Don’t be too afraid. The Saint Divine Land is the place where the Phoenix Girl is going to be born, nothing serious will happen, but we do need a leading general,” the King said with a calm look on his face.

The ministers all felt assured as they thought of the Phoenix Girl.

That was right... they had the Phoenix Girl, so nothing big would happen.

“I think that if we need to have a general, we can have Duke North. Duke North used to be more influential than General Liu. Although Duke North is not around, his son is equally strong,” the Officer of the Ministry of Architecture said.

Duke North!

The King was suddenly reminded of something. He almost forgot about this man.

Duke North was never in the court, and he had no military power in his hands, thus being forgotten all the time.

“Yes, send him there!” The King let out a sigh of relief, believing that it was a very suitable arrangement.

The King wrote the imperial order directly and asked The Fu to read it aloud.

***

At Xinlin Mansion.

Li Qing kept repeatedly stewing ginger soup in the kitchen in the hopes that Gu Chaoyan could drink it the moment she woke up.

However, she was still in a coma, even after such a long while...

Chapter 1275: Waking Up

Zhou Huaijin had slightly let out a sigh of relief, after Li Qing added ice into the room to make Chaoyan feel and look better. He looked at her and suspected that she would wake up soon, but after sitting there for almost three or four hours, Chaoyan was still asleep and had no trace of waking up. She was not moving either.

She looked even worse. He became even more worried. Every now and then he felt Chaoyan's forehead, fearing that Chaoyan would feel cold due to the low temperature.

Zhou Huaijin felt so intense, and was not feeling well either.

Sword One looked outside.

It was getting dark and the room was still very cool in June. Lord Huai had been guarding the Elder Miss all this while, without wearing more clothes or eating any food. Hours had passed, and Lord Huai had not taken any breaks. She feared that Lord Huai would collapse.

She thought for a while and remembered. "Lord Huai, eat something and take a break, me and Qing can stay here."

They had no idea when Elder Miss would wake up, and if Lord Huai collapsed, things would be even worse. Lord Huai and Elder Miss were those that were guarding Xinlin Mansion, so nothing could happen to them.

Hearing Sword One's reminder, Zhou Huaijin did not even look up. He just sat there, staring at Gu Chaoyan and saying hoarsely, "No thanks."

Having said that, he refused to leave.

Sword One did not know what else to say, after she gave the reminder. She asked Fu Bao to have some food prepared. Lord Huai did not want to leave Elder Miss, but he should eat something.

It was extremely quiet inside the room.

Everyone was watching and thinking about Gu Chaoyan.

Fu Bao soon had some small food prepared, but Zhou Huaijin turned it down without even looking up.

He was not in a mood to eat anything, while Chaoyan was still in a coma.

He had no other thoughts except for one thing – as long as Chaoyan woke up, everything else would not matter.

Zhou Huaijin's eyes became dull.

They stood by her side all the way until the second part of the night.

Gu Chaoyan started to frown and started to move.

Zhou Huaijin was so cheerful. He took hold of Gu Chaoyan's hands and asked gently, "Chaoyan, what is wrong, are you not feeling well somewhere?"

Gu Chaoyan was still dizzy and was frowning as she cringed. "Qing, I will be cold."

Hearing that, Zhou Huaijin got motivated, took her in his arms so that he could give her more warmth, then he said, "Qing, go and get some thick blankets, Sword One, Fu Bao, move the ice out of the room and ask Li Qing to bring the ginger soup."

He held Gu Chaoyan in his arms tightly.

Everyone was doing their job orderly in the room.

Elder Miss talked and was waking up. That was such good news.

Chapter 1276: Bumps

The ice was soon moved away and Sword One carried the fire basin which was used in winter. That was something she had just thought of. Everything happened so fast, and she felt that Elder Miss must have suffered from the cold. The fire basin should keep her warm.

Soon the room was warmed up by the fire basin.

Qing carried some new blankets, and replaced the old ones. The old blankets had been inside the room for too long so they were not clean.

With new blankets around her and a fire basin inside, Gu Chaoyan felt slightly better.

She had woken up and was now warmer up after the cold.

She looked a bit confused.

She wondered what had happened. As far as she remembered, she was just asleep and then she felt very cold as she started to wake up.

She opened her eyes and saw so many people around her.

"Did I sleep for too long?" Gu Chaoyan asked.

She had no idea what happened during her sleep, but seeing how they reacted, Gu Chaoyan more or less understood that she had repeated what she did before and everyone else was worried about her.

"Just longer than usual." Zhou Huaijin said gently, "It is fine."

Gu Chaoyan still looked quite saddened and disappointed.

Despite his answer... she knew clearly what she was thinking inwardly. They would not have gotten so worried and wouldn't be wearing this expression if that was just a long sleep.

After a moment of silence the sound of footsteps arose and then the door was pushed open.

It was Li Qing who came with the ginger soup.

He looked very anxious, but after he walked in, he realized that he might have gotten too anxious. So he greeted her and said shyly, "Sorry for disturbing you. Fu Bao told me that you have woken up, and I was too anxious to control myself."

He was totally absent-minded when he walked in. He thought that as long as Lady Chaoyan woke up, she should drink the soup. He barely remembered the manners that he needed to follow.

He was truly worried.

Seeing the people in the room, he realized that he was being impulsive.

Gu Chaoyan looked at Li Qing, but did not blame him. Instead, she felt quite warm. She had learned about Li Qing's personality when they met at Xinlin Clinic. If not for his personality, he would not have been used by those doctors.

However, he was kind-hearted anyway.

Because of this, Gu Chaoyan did not hesitate to keep him at Xinlin Gate. She would not blame him.

"Could you bring me the ginger soup?" Gu Chaoyan said.

Li Qing passed the heated ginger soup to Zhou Huaijin, retreated and went back to where Sword One was standing.

He stood a little distance from them.

He could not help looking at Lady Chaoyan.

He did not want to say it, but Lady Chaoyan's face had turned red, yet something else was going on.

Chapter 1277: Scared

He just felt that Lady Chaoyan seemed to look sick like a patient.

When he met Lady Chaoyan for the first time, she was skinny but healthy. She was so intimidating that she stood out among all the experienced doctors in the capital. Those doctors with ulterior purposes did not dare to touch her.

Therefore, in his eyes, he believed that Lady Chaoyan was not only capable in medical skills, but also capable in everything.

She was just like a supporter.

However, today... as she was lying on her side in the days that were getting hotter and hotter, she looked so hollow under the thick blankets.

She had a fever when she fell asleep and yet at that moment, she started to feel very cold. It was because she was suffering from physical problems and misery.

He just did not know what to say. He had no idea what to say.

He felt distressed, thinking that people like Lady Chaoyan should not suffer, yet it was always she who suffered.

Gu Chaoyan finished the ginger soup with a frown.

She did not like ginger, nor did she like the smell. Li Qing had been very cautious to add some brown sugar inside, but Gu Chaoyan still did not like it.

When she finished the ginger soup with effort, she felt full of energy. She put down the bowl happily and with some strength.

Hearing the sound, Li Qing said, "Lady Chaoyan, you have woken up, I think you can check on yourself. I believe that you must have been poisoned."

Zhou Huaijin felt a bit helpless when he heard what Li Qing said.

Chaoyan had just woken up and he had hoped that she could take a proper rest first.

Li Qing was so straightforward that he put forward this proposal.

"Oh really?" Gu Chaoyan seemed to be quite happy hearing that she was poisoned.

Li Qing was startled. He had no idea why Lady Chaoyan would be so happy to hear that she was poisoned, but he dropped his curiosity and added. "I have no other explanation for this."

"..."

"I am not that capable so I don't know if you have other clues."

Li Qing was anxious because he really hoped that Lady Chaoyan could get better and stop suffering.

Gu Chaoyan felt her own pulse.

She looked very dim.

The pulse was very important when someone was being checked on, but she had no pulse and could not even feel her own pulse, so she did not know if she was poisoned.

Gu Chaoyan was suddenly very disappointed.

She came to this world and she met Qing, Sword One and Huaijin so she had the hope for life.

However, while she had hope, heaven did not give her life.

She had no idea what the future would be like and whether she would just pass away without knowing anything in her sleep.

Gu Chaoyan got out of the blankets, startling Zhou Huaijin, who was worried that she would be attacked by the cold. Suddenly, Gu Chaoyan threw herself into his arms.

Zhou Huaijin stiffened.

Chapter 1278: Chaos Outside

Chaoyan was always a very independent person and she seemed to treat everything with composure, but now...

Chaoyan suddenly seemed to have become weak.

A long while ago when he carried Chaoyan from the government office after she received the punishment, she was injured but she was firm in heart. Yet this time, she looked as if she had become weak because she was worried about something.

Zhou Huaijin suddenly felt as if his heart had been restrained by something, which hurt him deeply.

He held her tightly in his arms.

She was so small when she was in his arms. As her face rubbed against his chest, she was just an innocent, young, little girl.

Li Qing looked really worried. He knew pretty well that when a patient just woke up but did not know about how they could be saved, they tended to be fragile and afraid.

However, he firmly believed that nothing was too difficult in this world.

He believed that as long as he worked hard, he would surely find a way to detoxify her.

Li Qing looked resolute and consoled. "Lady Chaoyan, it is fine, we will definitely find a solution."

Hearing that, Sword One threw a speechless look at Li Qing, covered his mouth and dragged him out of the room.

In the meanwhile, Fu Bao and Qing left too, so Lord Huai and Elder Miss could be left alone in the room.

Sword One was still looking at Li Qing speechlessly.

Honestly...

This was the first time she ran into someone so single-minded.

What else did he know apart from medical skills and examinations?

He could not say anything. He was even worse at it than the hitmen working at Shadow Door.

Sword One looked very angry, but Li Qing still insisted with a look of confusion. "The poison can be solved, as long as we work hard, we will find a way."

Sword One was totally speechless.

She really wanted to see what was inside Li Qing's head.

Sword One left directly.

Li Qing believed that it was Sword One who did not trust him, so he followed her. "Ms. Sword One, are you saying that I can't find the solution? I am not as good as Lady Chaoyan, but my family have been devoted to medicine for a long while, so..."

Sword One felt terrible inside.

***

In the room.

Zhou Huaijin was still holding Gu Chaoyan tightly, caressing her head and saying with a warm voice. "It is going to be okay, Chaoyan. It is going to be okay!"

"..."

“The Phoenix Girl and magical monsters exist in this world, and your problem is not that serious. We will figure out something.”

“...”

“I will stay by your side and guard you.”

“...”

“Mr. Zhao and mother are in the South and Shadow Door can't find them right now, but soon they will. When Mr. Zhao is found, he can help you figure out what you should do. Also, Li Qing is right, maybe you are poisoned, but there should be some solution. We will find it!”

“Okay.” Gu Chaoyan answered like a child.

She suddenly felt quite distressed. She was worried because things were falling out of control, but what should she be afraid of?

There was nothing she should be afraid of.

Soon Gu Chaoyan regained her spirit and said, “It will be daytime soon, let's both take a break.”

Zhou Huaijin let out a sigh of relief.

He covered her with a blanket. “You can sleep first. I will take the break when you are asleep.”

Gu Chaoyan nodded.

The whole night passed by very fast after Gu Chaoyan woke up.

The following day...

Gu Chaoyan had just woken up when Sword One spoke with a complicated look on her face.

Chapter 1279: Snow in June

Gu Chaoyan lifted the blanket, and asked Sword One to put on the blouse for her. Seeing the way Sword One reacted, she wondered what happened outside. “What is happening outside?”

She had been awake for a while in her room, and it had been quiet outside, with no noise coming in. Nothing was moving out there either.

What suddenly made Sword One so excited?

She really could not fathom what had happened.

She stretched out her hands, waiting for Sword One to put on the blouse for her. Due to the fire basin in the room, it had always been warm inside. Gu Chaoyan did not feel very cold even if she went out of the blanket.

Sword One helped Gu Chaoyan to put it on as she said, “Elder Miss, please, you can look at it yourself.”

When she was dressed, Sword One gave her a fox-fur coat to put on. Gu Chaoyan was very surprised and found it ridiculous. It was the first day of June! She felt cold, but it was way too exaggerated for her to put on the coat?

She protested. "No, I am not putting this on."

"Elder Miss, just put it on. We can have a look outside and you can remove it when we come back in." Sword One urged.

Gu Chaoyan frowned.

She wondered what was happening that she needed to do this. It sounded very peculiar.

With the fox-fur coat on, she went to the door and as Sword One opened the door, Gu Chaoyan felt a chill sweeping by. She was shocked as she saw what was happening outside. "What is going on?"

It was the first day of June.

Normally, the day should have already become really hot by this time. And by July, the whole court would be moving to the summer palace to escape from the heat.

And yet... Gu Chaoyan saw snow falling down and whiteness covering the whole place.

It had been snowing.

She had been lying in her room these two days, so she had no idea what was going on outside, but Sword One was aware of it.

So Sword One was so excited about what was happening, because it had been normal the day before.

The snow might have come in the latter section of night.

That was why the whole scene became like this.

Snow in June? Something weird was going on.

What on earth had happened, for the day to become so strange?

Gu Chaoyan started to feel a bit worried.

She watched the scene for a long while as she was outside.

Sword One felt that it was too cold so she reminded her. "Elder Miss, let's just go in. It is too cold outside."

Gu Chaoyan nodded and returned to the room.

She had made Sword One and everyone else worry after this long coma, and she did not want to make them even more worried.

Back in the room...

She realized that it was because of the fire basin, that she did not feel a thing outside.

Unexpectedly...

The capital must be in chaos.

It was the 23rd year of the land, when so many things were happening. Gu Chaoyan sighed emotionally, wondering what would happen.

Qing hurried in.

“Elder Miss, Ms. Liu is here asking for you.”

Ms. Liu was Liu Qingqing, who was addressed as Ms. Liu when she divorced Lord Ling and returned to the Liu Mansion.

Chapter 1280: My Father

Liu Qingqing did not go out with her, but General Liu was a very just person who had been hanging out with Huaijin all the time, so Liu Qingqing was here asking for her...

Maybe she needed to discuss something with her.

Gu Chaoyan did not dare to delay and said straightforwardly, “Qing, bring Qingqing in.”

Qing answered and followed her order.

Soon Liu Qingqing was guided in.

Liu Qingqing came in and without sitting down, said hurriedly, “Lady Chaoyan, please, save my father.”

“What happened to General Liu?” Gu Chaoyan looked very confused.

“Jiayu Pass has been lost and my father is terribly injured. The Crown Prince brought him back to the capital. Father has been so badly injured and the snow has fallen. He is dying!” Liu Qingqing almost cried, though she had always been a very steady, serious person.

Gu Chaoyan was surprised.

Jiayu Pass was lost?

Without many other thoughts, she took up her kit and said, “Let’s go.”

Sword One had not expected this to happen. She was panicking. She was worried that Elder Miss would freeze, so she brought the coat, a handheld fire-place and everything else she could stuff into Gu Chaoyan’s hands.

The wagon was moving quite slowly at the moment.

Liu Qingqing was still wearing a very anxious and self-reproaching look.

She divorced Zhou Huailing because she would not bend down to him. She had not expected that Zhou Huailing would take revenge, since everything had been going so well with them, but the truth was that Zhou Huailing just had not gotten a chance yet.

Her father was Grand General, and no Grand General would have gotten hurt so badly. Something must have happened.

Also, he was injured but not treated at Feng County. Instead he was sent back to the capital directly – that was killing him!

Liu Qingqing understood what was going on so she felt complicated.

“As long as General Liu is still alive, I can do something. Qingqing, don’t worry.” Gu Chaoyan looked at Liu Qingqing and consoled her.

Liu Qingqing still felt quite nervous after she heard that, though she felt better.

They arrived at the Liu Mansion in a hurry. They headed directly to the Liu Mansion the moment they got off the wagon.

Every moment counted, because it was a life they were talking about, and that man was General Liu.

It was quite depressing at the Liu Mansion at the moment.

General Liu must be one of the reasons why it snowed today.

Liu Qingqing took Gu Chaoyan to the yard in which General Liu was settled.

A woman rushed out and slapped Liu Qingqing’s face, as they walked in. “How dare you come back, you bitch. You are the cause of your father’s death!”

“You could just spend your rest of life with the Crown Prince in peace, so why did you come back to our mansion? No women are divorced in this land. You have humiliated us, and offended the Crown Prince!”

“...”

“If not for you, your father would not have suffered this much.”

“...”

“You are the cause of your father’s death!”

“...”

“Get outta here. Don’t stand here blocking the way!”

She then asked the servants to drive away the gang.

Gu Chaoyan frowned as she looked at this woman. General Liu was dying and yet she was not taking care of him but was blocking Liu Qingqing’s way.

As she was thinking, Gu Chaoyan was pushed away by the servant of the Liu Family and staggered backwards.
