Chapter 1691 meeting a fool

However, the moment she looked back, she was shocked because this person was actually the foolish son of the landlord, who was commonly known as 250. At this moment, he was looking at her with shining eyes.

She instinctively ran away because she had heard from the aunt next door that this fool seemed to have broken into the room across from her last month and had sex with a woman with a child. That woman was timid and did not dare to make a sound when faced with such a thing. In the end, it was the mute who had to leave the room and move away.

Unfortunately, she was wearing a pair of high heels. Although the heels were very short, how fast could she run on a road that had not been repaired and the lighting was not good?

Moreover, even if she ran as fast as she could, how could she outrun that person who had long legs and looked like a savage. He chased after women every day for no reason. He had long practiced the ability to run as fast as he could.

Fang Xiao ran in a hurry and did not know where to go. In the end, she only ran a few meters before she stumbled and fell to the ground. Before she could struggle to get up, that idiot had already caught up with her and immediately pressed down on her.

At that time, she was scared out of her wits, and the fool was still giggling under her. He used his hand to turn her over and still pressed her down. He was still giggling foolishly as he said, "I love touching your boobs the most. It's only comfortable to touch your boobs."

Fang Xiao quickly calmed down. She knew that this person was a fool, but his strength was as great as an ox. If she were to fight him head-on now, she would definitely be at a disadvantage.

Therefore, she could not fight him head-on. She could only outthink him. Therefore, she pretended to be obedient and coaxed him, "fool, this place is too hard and uncomfortable. Let's get up and go back, okay? My bed is so soft."

"Go back?" Silly was stunned for a moment, and then she pulled down her pants... ..

Fang Xiao immediately turned her face to the side. Fortunately, they were under a tree and there was almost no light, so she did not see anything, but she knew what he was referring to.

"Then, let's go somewhere else." Her eyes quickly scanned the surroundings, and then she pointed at the lawn not far away and said, "let's go there, okay? The lawn is a little softer."

"I can't wait any longer." The fool clearly lost his patience and took off his pants in a few seconds. Then, he pressed Fang Xiao's body with his hands and legs and used his other hand to pull Fang Xiao's pants.

Fang Xiao was finally anxious. She knew that she could not appease the fool at this moment, so she opened her mouth and bit the arm of the hand that was controlling her hand. She gritted her teeth and exerted force.

“Ah!” The fool cried out in pain. The hand that was originally taking off Fang Xiao’s pants immediately loosened, and then a big slap came over. “You whore, behave yourself, or I’ll kill you later.”

The fool’s slap was very strong, almost knocking Fang Xiao unconscious on the spot. The mouth that was biting on the fool’s arm could not help but loosen, and the fool took the opportunity to press down on her body.

Fang Xiao struggled hard, but she could not break free from the Fool’s control. The fool quickly took off her pants, and then let go of the hand that was controlling her hand. He directly grabbed the front of her clothes. With a little force, he directly tore it open.

“Hahaha, Mimi,” the fool shouted happily. Two black hands quickly drilled into her clothes, and quickly started to caress her smooth and delicate body.

Chapter 1692: In a state of emergency

The pain from her body made Fang Xiao exceptionally clear-headed. She looked at the fool drooling on her body and felt that he was using his knees to forcefully press against her tightly shut thighs. Her gaze quickly scanned the surroundings once again.

There was a pile of bricks about an arm’s length away from her. It was probably used to build a sidewalk. At this moment, the fool had already pushed her thighs away and was about to use his weapon to pierce through her soul.

At this moment, she grabbed a brick. Without even thinking, she directly smashed it fiercely towards the fool’s head, using almost all her strength to smash it down. ...

If Fang Xiao could predict the future, then she would rather be raped by the fool than to pick up the brick and smash it on the fool’s head.

However, she was a mortal after all and did not have the ability to predict the future. Therefore, at the moment when she was about to be attacked, she would erupt with her ultimate, unbearable strength.

Some people said that when a person was at the peak of their anger and endurance, the strength that erupted was infinite. She did not know if the strength that erupted from her was infinite.

She only knew that when her brick ruthlessly smashed towards the fool’s head, the fool’s actions immediately stopped. His entire body seemed to be frozen and motionless.

At that time, the light was too dim and Fang Xiao could not see clearly what had happened to the fool. She only knew that he was still pressed against her body and did not slip to the side. Hence, she raised the brick again and smashed it towards the fool’s head.

After she used the brick to smash the fool’s head for the third time, the fool’s body finally swayed twice. Then, with a ‘Dong’ sound, he fell to the side of the empty space.

She hurriedly stood up and quickly pulled up her pants that had been taken off by the fool to her calf. However, two buttons of her shirt had fallen off because of the fool’s forceful pulling, so it was impossible for her to button them now.

Fortunately, the collar of her uniform was the kind of small suit, so she could turn the collar around now. This way, she could barely cover the spring sunshine on her chest.

The fool lay on the ground motionlessly, and the place was too dark. She took out her phone and pressed a button. The screen of the phone lit up, barely able to let out a little light from the darkness in front of her.

However, when her gaze swept over the motionless fool on the ground, she was completely stunned. This was because the fool's head was actually covered in blood, and the brick that she had smashed into the fool was also blood-red.

She had killed someone She could not help but tremble. This fool usually looked very strong, but just because she had hit him with the brick three times, he had actually died?

What should she do What should she do?

Escape But this place in Bincheng was only so big, where could she escape to?

Moreover, this place was full of traces left by her. Once someone found the fool, they would immediately find out that she was the one who did it.

The way to escape was simply not feasible. Then, she could only call the police and get the people from the hospital to pull the fool away. She only hoped that the fool would not die. As long as the fool did not die, she would be acting in self-defense!

Although Fang Xiao was extremely scared and terrified, in the end, she was not confused to the point where she did not know anything. Therefore, she used her trembling hands to call the emergency number 120 first, then used her trembling hands to call the emergency number 110.

After two calls, she stood there motionlessly. She didn't even dare to look at the fool lying on the ground.

Chapter 1693 God, this is so unfair

Fortunately, 120 and 110 quickly rushed over. 120's doctor quickly checked on the fool. She was still breathing and was not dead, so he quickly took the fool away.

Fang Xiao was taken away by 110's because she had to go back to take a statement and explain the whole incident.

She told the truth about how she met the fool tonight, but the police said that it was just a one-sided statement because she could not find any witnesses to prove that she hit the fool with a brick in self-defense.

And most importantly, her body had no signs of being violated, and she was still intact.

All the signs showed that she was lying. Everyone knew that she was a fool, and how could a fool rape a woman Did a fool understand that kind of thing?

She sat in the cold police station, her hands tightly wrapped around her shoulders, and the mother of the fool, her house rushed to the police station, saw her like a mad dog, pounced on her without saying a word and slapped her twice.

Fortunately, the police were beside her and immediately came forward to pull the idiot's mother, her landlord, and gently advised her. Now that she had been arrested, they would deal with her impartially.

"You SLUT, you selling b * Stard, you must have taken the initiative to seduce my Zhizhi." The landlord's hand was controlled by the police, but her mouth was still free. Therefore, she continued to curse relentlessly. "If anything happens to my Zhizhi, I will definitely have you buried with him. You Shameless B * Stard, you selling B * Stard..."

Zhizhi was the name of a fool, and Fang Xiao did not know the surname of the fool. Because she had not met the landlord's husband, and she had just rented a house not long ago, she left early and returned late, so she had not had the time to hear the gossip about the landlord.

Fortunately, the landlord left not long after he was cursing at the police station. He probably went to the hospital to guard her silly son, while Fang Xiao sat in the cold detention center and waited until dawn.

The sky finally brightened, and the deserted police station began to bustle with activity. The police on the night shift had finished their shift, while the police on the day shift took over. He heard a police officer introducing her situation to another police officer.

Soon, the fool's condition was transmitted from the hospital, saying that the fool was no longer a fool. Before she could be happy, the police officer's next sentence was, but she did not have the chance to become a fool either, because she had become a vegetable, lying in bed forever asleep.

She had smashed the fool into a vegetable, which was no better than smashing the fool to death. The police officer told her expressionlessly that the fool's mother would sue her, and that the prison sentence she would face would not be too short.

"I was defending myself," she argued with the police almost instinctively. "I was just defending myself too much."

"You should save these for the judge." The police scoffed at her words. Then he snorted coldly and said, "Oh right, do you have any relatives or family members?" "We will send you to the detention center in the afternoon, and then you will have to wait in the detention center until the court session. If you have any family members, you can ask them to hire a lawyer for you outside. When they see you, will your lawyer be able to help you win the case?"

Only then did Fang Xiao truly start to panic. She was about to be sent to the detention center, and what she was about to face was imprisonment. However, she was clearly the real victim?

Heavens, why are you so unfair?

Chapter 1694: What she will face

God, why are you so unfair?

God was obviously very busy and could not hear her question. So, she could only use her trembling hands to take out her phone from her bag. Just as she was about to find Dongfang Yunheng's number, a call happened to come in.

The caller ID showed that it was from Dongfang Group. She almost instinctively pressed the answer button and just as she put the phone to her ear.. Lin Shanshan's voice was already heard. "Fang Xiao, what's going on? You haven't come to work for half an hour today. Is the president throwing a Tantrum?"

"Secretary Lin, I killed someone," she said into the phone in a trembling voice. "I killed someone last night. Now at the police station, can you help me hire a lawyer? It was self-defense. I really didn't do it on purpose. I didn't expect him to be so fragile."

Fang Xiao was nervous and anxious, so she spoke incoherently for a long time. However, as she spoke, she felt that something was wrong. There was no sound on the other end of the phone. Lin Shanshan probably thought that she was being too long-winded and hung up.

Therefore, the female police officer who was in charge of guarding her said that she was a fool. Even if he really wanted to rape her, what could he do?

At worst, she would just let him mess with her. How much harm could she do to him At worst, she would just treat it as if she had been bitten by a dog?

Now, you were still acting in self-defense, but you used a brick to turn a person into a vegetable. Was that self-defense Moreover, what evidence did you have to prove that a fool raped you?

Even if you wanted to defend yourself, you would have to wait for him to go in, right That way, you could leave evidence to prove that he did sexually assault you. Even if you crushed him to death, it would still be an act of self-defense, right?

Tell me, who are you fighting so hard to defend your innocence for In today's society, even virginity is worthless. WHAT'S INNOCENCE?

Nowadays, when men and women get married, who cares if the other party has had sex before Who would think highly of her because the other party has never had sex before?

When the policewoman spoke about her, she had been listening quietly with her head lowered. She knew that she was indeed stupid, and indeed, she was not resourceful enough and patient enough.

The policewoman asked her why she did not want to wait a few more minutes before smashing that brick?

She did not know, she really did not know. At that time, she simply could not accept the behavior of a fool and did not want the fool to enter her body.

Not to mention waiting a few more minutes, she would not even want to wait one more second?

Who was she keeping her virginity for Who cared about her Who would care about her foolish behavior of breaking the law in order to keep her innocence?

Thinking of this, she felt extremely sad.

Just now, the policewoman asked her if she had informed her family Was there anyone coming to bail her out later?

She kept quiet. In this world, she was already alone. Her parents had died, who was still her relative? Who would care if she would go to jail?

Seeing that she kept quiet, the policewoman finally stopped talking about her. She only said lightly that if no one came to see her at noon, she would probably be sent to the detention center with the other suspects in the afternoon.

Fang Xiao thought that this time, she would definitely be sent to the detention center. Then, what awaited her would be a prison sentence. As for how many years she would be sent to prison, the policewoman said that if you didn't have enough evidence to prove that your actions were self-defense.. It was very likely to be a life sentence. Even if it was a life sentence, it would probably not be less than 20 years.

Chapter 1695 can you be a little more stupid

She would spend the rest of her life in prison. When she thought of this, her heart started to panic again. Although her parents were no longer alive, she still had her younger brother. Fang Chen was still in the special school. She still could not let herself walk into the prison like this If she were to go to prison, what would happen to her younger brother, Fang Chen?

Should she call Qiu Yitang who was far away in Huicheng This thought flashed through her mind in an instant.

However, when she recalled how she went to borrow money from Qiu Yitang when her father was undergoing surgery, she immediately dismissed this thought.

Qiu Yitang had nothing to do with her a long time ago. He even brought Du Caiwei to live in the West Mountain Villa that her father had originally prepared for her. How could he possibly care about her life and death?

Her parents were dead. Who would care about her life and death Who would still remember the inconspicuous Fang Xiao?

"Fang Xiao, you've been bailed out. " As the female police officer's voice came from outside the door, she looked up and found that Wu Jianping was already waiting for her outside the door.

She couldn't believe her eyes. She couldn't help but blink twice and then rubbed her hands. She looked again and saw that Wu Jianping was really standing outside the door.

She didn't call Wu Jianping or Dongfang Yunheng. She just talked incoherently to Lin Shanshan.

However, she didn't expect Wu Jianping to come and bail her out directly. It seemed that he still felt sorry for his 500,000 yuan. After all, he had bought her and hadn't enjoyed it yet. She was going to jail now.

If she went to jail, wouldn't his 500,000 yuan go down the drain So, in order not to let his 500,000 yuan go down the drain, he asked his assistant to bail her out?

Fang Xiao followed Wu Jianping out of the police station with these messy thoughts. Wu Jianping shook hands with the director and said politely, "sorry for the trouble."

She followed behind Wu Jianping and came to his car. Just as she was about to open the car door, Wu Jianping pointed at the car beside him and said, "the president is waiting for you in the car. Go over."

She was stunned for a moment, then turned around and walked toward the low-profile car. When she opened the car door, Dongfang Yunheng was sitting in the driver's seat with a dark face.

She had just gotten into the car and sat down. Before she could put on her seatbelt, he had already stepped on the gas pedal. It was obvious that he would feel uncomfortable if he stayed in the police station for even a second longer.

"Can you be a little more stupid?" As soon as the car drove past the police station, he immediately scolded her.

"I didn't expect him to be so weak." She thought he was talking about her stupid behavior last night, so she carefully explained, "If I knew, I would rather be raped by him than give you more trouble."

He was so angry that his face turned black. He wanted to reach out to grab this woman and throw her out of the window. Of course, if it was the Pacific Ocean outside the window.

"Why didn't you call me when something happened last night?" He finally stopped discussing the stupid question with her and immediately changed the topic.

"At that time, my hands and feet were controlled by him, and I couldn't get my hands out to take the phone in my bag," she continued to explain truthfully. "later, he forcefully pressed me down, and he took off my pants. My hands were empty, but calling you at that time was far less efficient than grabbing a brick. After all, far water can't save near fire."

"What about after you knocked him out?" He was so angry that his whole face turned cold and dark, and his voice sounded as cold as ice. "You called 110, you called 120, why didn't you call me? "

Chapter 1696, her new place

She bit her lip lightly and was silent for a while. Then, she carefully said, "I'm afraid I'll disturb your and Miss Gu's enjoyment of watching the midnight show."

"squeak..." the tires of the car screeched against the cement floor. Dongfang Yunheng's car skidded forward by one meter before coming to a stop.

"GET OFF!" He looked at the woman in the passenger seat with a cold face.

Fang Xiao immediately pushed open the car door and got off. She didn't know what she had done to offend him. As his personal secretary, she had already been so considerate to him, yet he was still inexplicably angry.

The place where Dongfang Yunheng left her was on the viaduct of the expressway. This place was in the middle of nowhere. Not to mention taking a bus, there were very few taxis.

Moreover, even if there was a taxi passing by, it would definitely carry a guest. Even if there was an empty car passing by, it would probably just whistle away.

Which taxi dared to stop on the viaduct of the expressway to pick up a person Unless he did not want to drive a taxi?

She had no choice but to walk forward on her own feet. The viaduct was very long, and there were no sidewalks on the expressway. She could only walk on the Emergency Lane, which was somewhat dangerous.

She didn't know how long it would take to get off the viaduct, but it was better to walk forward than to stand still here. She thought that the worst case scenario would be to walk until night time. She would definitely be able to get off the expressway and go to the bus stop on the national road.

Of course, in fact, she didn't walk for that long. In fact, before she had finished walking on the viaduct, a car had quietly stopped beside her.

"Get in." Wu Jianping rolled down the window and looked at her by the roadside, indicating for her to get in the car quickly.

She hesitated for a moment. She knew that Wu Jianping was his assistant, but she still got in the car without any backbone. After all, she was already exhausted and had no strength to walk.

"This is my business card." Wu Jianping drove off the viaduct and handed her a business card when he stopped at the traffic light intersection. "Call me if you encounter anything in the future."

"thank you!" Fang Xiao immediately took the business card and carefully put it in her bag.

Fang Xiao thought that Wu Jianping would drive her back to her village in the city or go directly to the Dongfang Corporation. However, when Wu Jianping's car stopped, she was surprised to find that it was a famous city in Jiangnan.

The famous city in Jiangnan was the most famous high-rise mansion in Bincheng. It was said that there was a staircase and a family. In other words, there was only one family on each floor, and this family's area was more than 240 square meters.

"here." Wu Jianping handed two keys to her. "Building D is on the 29th floor. From now on, you will live here. You don't have any luggage, so I won't send you up."

"Then my things are still in the rented house in the city village." She quickly said to Wu Jianping, "other things are not important, but my parents' photos, some relics, and my id..."

"I will help you move them over later." Wu Jianping quickly interrupted her. At the same time, he rolled up the car window and quickly drove away.

Fang Xiao looked at the car that had already driven away and finally turned around. Building D was right in front of her. It was the center of the famous Jiangnan City. In front of the door was a large european-style Garden building. The Fountain was spraying water happily The Colorful Koi fish were swimming happily in the man-made stream beside them.

Chapter 1697 woke her up

She envied those fish that could swim freely, unlike her, who dragged her exhausted body but was an accessory bought by others, without even a bit of freedom.

Jiangnan famous city, 29th floor

Fang Xiao used the key to open the door and walked in. The decoration in the room was not as resplendent as his private suite at the Yunxiao pavilion last time. It was slightly gloomy, but it was more luxurious.

240 square meters. An ordinary person would probably have to build five rooms and three halls if not six rooms and three halls. However, this Damn Dongfang Yunheng only made two rooms and two halls. Of course, as for the other rooms, the study, the multipurpose room, and the DVD room, they were all abnormally large.

She was not in the mood to admire his luxurious mansion, which was so extravagant that it made people and gods angry. Instead, she quickly rushed to the bathroom. She had been frightened last night and then spent the night in the police station with her heart in her mouth. Until now.. She was so tired that she could fall asleep anywhere.

The bathtub was also abnormally large, but it was the kind that was used by two people. However, she did not have time to take a bubble bath at this time, so she simply took a shower and took a shower.

After she took a shower, she realized that she did not have pajamas. No, she did not even have underwear. When she took off her clothes just now, she threw them on the ground. At this time, they were completely soaked by the water from the shower.

She must have squatted in the detention center the night before and her brain must have been damaged. She thought to herself that there was no other way. Therefore, the two pure white bath towels hanging in the bathroom were obviously his, just like the supplies in the hotel.

However, at this moment, she could not care less. She quickly pulled down one of the bath towels and wrapped herself up in it. Then, she walked out of the bathroom like a meat dumpling.

She was very hungry. When people were nervous, they actually did not feel hungry or tired. This was because they had to put in 120% of their energy to deal with the events that were very strange to them.

However, when the tension had subsided, hunger and tiredness attacked her uncontrollably. Therefore, she quickly rushed to the refrigerator and opened the refrigerator door. Unfortunately, she found that it was empty inside. There was nothing.

She finally gave up the thought of eating. She randomly pushed open the door of a room in the bathroom and did not notice if it was the master bedroom. This was because the two rooms here had cloakrooms to wash the bathroom.

A bed that was so wide that it was somewhat perverse. She lay down straight. The soft comfort instantly enveloped her. She closed her eyes comfortably. She did not even pull off the towel on her body. She just fell asleep.

Fang Xiao did not know how long she had slept for because she had not woken up since she fell asleep. Her phone was also unusually quiet today, as if Dongfang Yunheng did not need her as his personal secretary anymore.

Of course, what woke her up was not the ringtone of her phone, but the sound of footsteps and light breathing coming from the room, as well as a slightly familiar pine fragrance.

She slowly opened her eyes and realized that it was already dark. The room was lit up with a gentle light that was not harsh to the eyes. Under the gentle light, Dongfang Yunheng was standing expressionlessly by the side of the bed where she was lying.

She instinctively shivered, and her brain, which was originally in a daze, instantly woke up. She couldn't help but quickly turn around and sit up. Then, she lowered her head to look at herself.

Her body was only wrapped in his towel, and she wasn't wearing anything under it. The most damnable thing was that the bottom of the towel actually spread out a little... ..

Chapter 1698 your figure hasn't changed at all

She quickly closed her legs, and her face instantly turned red from embarrassment. At this moment, she really wished that there was a piece of Tofu in front of her. If that was the case, she would definitely bump into it without hesitation.

Wait, he bought her, and she just sold her body to him. Between them, she even signed a contract to sell her body.

Previously, he was the one who had been pestered by Gu Chenchen. She was lucky. If he was free tonight, then he had the right to demand her body.

What should she do Pretend to faint, pretend to be dead, pretend to be sick, pretend to have a fever, okay?

Fang Xiao Thought of having sex with Dongfang Yunheng, and thought of how he and Gu Chenchen often did that kind of thing. Inexplicably, a sense of conflict rose in her heart.

However, she could not suppress her conflicting emotions no matter how hard she tried.

Therefore, she sat there motionlessly, like a clay sculpture.

Dongfang Yunheng frowned, his face cold. He reached out and pushed her. "You're still not awake? was that movement of turning over and sitting up sleepwalking?"

Fang Xiao bit her lips and finally said weakly, "I'm already awake. If you want to ask for it now, I'm already naked."

She was going all out. Anyway, he was going to eat the meat on his chopping board sooner or later. If he ate it earlier, she would not feel indebted to him.

"I'm not ready yet," he said coldly, but once again, she was so ashamed that she could not hide her shame. She wished that she could find a piece of Tofu and kill herself.

Dongfang Yunheng's cold gaze landed on her body, which was so nervous that it was almost trembling. This woman's teeth were dead, but her mouth was stiff. She was clearly scared to death, but she still wanted to show off in front of him.

Fang Xiao immediately had the thought of immediately punching a crack in the bed. If that was the case, she could immediately crawl into that crack and never come out to see anyone.

No, it was never to come out to see this Damn Dongfang Yunheng!

"since you're already awake, why don't you get out and prepare to die on this bed?" Seeing that she had not moved, he immediately turned around and walked out of the door.

Fang Xiao trembled slightly. Seeing that he had left, she got out of the bed and used her hands to tidy up the towel wrapped around her body again. When she felt that there was nothing wrong, she walked barefoot out of the bedroom door.

When she walked out, Dongfang Yunheng was no longer in the living room. A tall figure stood solemnly on the wide balcony outside the floor-to-ceiling windows. Through the bright floor-to-ceiling windows, she could vaguely see the white smoke in the air.

However, on the SOFA, there were unexpectedly a few new clothes piled up. Other than the undergarments and casual clothes, coats, skirts, and the innermost covering cloth and little cutie.

At that time, she stood there feeling embarrassed and embarrassed. Fortunately, he was not there at that time, so she quickly carried these clothes and quickly ran into the room where she had just slept.

The loincloth and the little cutie's size were just right, and the clothes were also very fitting. When she wore them, her face was already flushed red, and she carefully walked out of the living room again.

Dongfang Yunheng had already smoked a cigarette on the balcony and came in. His gaze swept over her body and said indifferently, "your figure really hasn't changed. Just like five years ago, you can have whatever you want."

Fang Xiao immediately gnashed her teeth in hatred. She knew that her figure wasn't good, but there was no need for him to point it out like this, right?

Suddenly, she had the urge to kill someone Damn you, Dongfang Yunheng, can you not be so vicious?

Chapter 1699: An unknown caller

"Let's see what's in the fridge and get something to eat. I'm going to take a shower first." As Yun Heng spoke, he had already walked towards another bedroom, because that bedroom also had a cloakroom and a bathroom.

The two bedrooms in his room did not have a primary or secondary division at all. That's right, it only had two bedrooms with an area of over 200 square meters, so what primary or secondary division was there for?

Fang Xiao got up and went to the spacious and somewhat luxurious kitchen. The inside was spotless, just like the model closet in a shopping mall.

She really doubted if this kitchen had ever been used before?

She walked to the refrigerator with a doubtful heart and opened the door. She couldn't help but take a deep breath. Damn it, the empty refrigerator confirmed her suspicions. This place had indeed not been used before.

It was not that there was nothing in the refrigerator, but there was. It was just a few bottles of beer and two packets of fast food noodles.

She wanted to make do with the fast food noodles, so she took out the fast food noodles and habitually looked at the production date. However, she took a deep breath again. It was actually two years ago.

Well, even a clever woman can't make a meal without rice. She wouldn't cook these two-year-old fast food noodles for him, would she?

Moreover, she was already a person with a lawsuit. If the expired fast food noodles were poisonous or poisoned Dongfang Yunheng to death, wouldn't she still be in danger of going to jail?

No, if that was the case, she would definitely go to jail. She might even be sentenced to death!

With this thought in mind, she eventually gave up on the idea of cooking the fast food noodles. She turned around and walked out of the kitchen, preparing to go to her room to get her bag and go to the convenience store outside the neighborhood to buy some simple ingredients.

However, as soon as she walked into the room, the phone on the bedside table rang. It was probably for Dongfang Yunheng. Of course, she did not dare to answer such a call, so she went to the closet to get her bag and wanted to walk out.

However, the phone kept ringing. It was completely as if she would not give up if she did not answer the phone, and she was determined to blow up the phone.

She frowned slightly. Dongfang Yunheng was taking a shower, and he had always been known to be a neat freak. In the past, he would take more than twenty minutes to take a shower in the United States, so she estimated that he would not come out for a while.

Therefore, she pursed her lips and hesitated for a moment. In the end, she went to the bedside, picked up the microphone, and carefully said, "hello..."

The other party was silent for a moment, and then a female voice with a hint of doubt came over, "did I dial the wrong number?"

Fang Xiao shrugged her shoulders. How did she know if she had the wrong number?

Just as she was about to put down the microphone, the woman's voice came again.

“Excuse me, is this Dongfang Yunheng’s house?” The woman’s voice was gentle and gentle.

“Yes,” she answered naturally. It seemed that this woman did not dial the wrong number. She was probably surprised that she picked up the phone.

“Oh... is Yun Heng there?”

“He is,” Fang Xiao answered truthfully.

“then can I trouble Yun Heng to answer the phone?” The other party’s tone was very gentle, polite, and polite. ... Very distant.

“He is taking a shower right now,” Fang Xiao still answered truthfully. “Can you call back later?”

“Ah?” The other party was obviously a little surprised by the fact that she said that.

Only then did Fang Xiao react. She said that Dongfang Yunheng was taking a shower, and she was a woman. The other party might have misunderstood her, and this woman who called Dongfang Yunheng might be another lover of Dongfang Yunheng, in addition to Gu Chenchen.

Chapter 1700: You can also have some improper thoughts

If her inappropriate words ruined the relationship between Dongfang Yunheng and his lover, it would be troublesome. Therefore, she quickly explained, “actually...”

“Miss, what’s your name?” The other party suddenly spoke, interrupting Fang Xiao’s explanation.

“Fang Xiao,” she still answered truthfully.

“Fang Xiao?” The other party was obviously stunned for a moment, then she chuckled and said, “that’s a good name. By the way, do you live there now?”

Fang Xiao Thought, she originally didn’t live here, but who asked her to get involved in a murder case? Wu Jianping said that she would live here from now on, because Dongfang Yunheng was afraid that she would cause trouble for him again outside.

So, she nodded and said very naturally, “yes, from today onwards, I’ll live here.”

“But only for a year,” she quickly added, “I won’t live here in a year.”

“A year?” The woman’s voice on the other end of the phone was obviously abrupt, and her polite and polite voice suddenly became a little angry. “What does he mean by this? Is he trying to play with emotions?”

Play with his feelings Fang Xiao was obviously stunned, so she quickly explained, “No, well, I don’t have any feelings for him.”

“No feelings?” The other party’s voice became doubtful again. “You’re Fang Xiao?”

“Yes,” Fang Xiao replied and stopped trying to change the topic with the woman. She quickly asked, “well, you’re looking for a table... are you looking for Mr. Dongfang?”

The other party laughed softly and said softly, "yes, I originally wanted to talk to him about something, but since you're there..."

"I can be transparent, I can be air." Fang Xiao immediately panicked. Thus, she swore, "I'm only temporarily staying here. If you want to come over now, I'll immediately flash to a corner that you can't see. Even if you see me, you can completely treat me as air. I guarantee that it won't affect your relationship with Mr. Dongfang. ..."

"HAHAHA." The woman couldn't help but laugh over the phone.

Fang Xiao couldn't help but feel depressed. Was what she said just now very funny? Wasn't she trying to show her that Dongfang Yunheng hadn't changed his mind about her?

"Miss Fang, you're really not an ordinary person." The other party's voice was still coming from the microphone. With a funny tone, she asked, "if he really made out with another woman in front of you, wouldn't you be sad?"

Fang Xiao thought, how could she not be sad? How could she not be sad? But, what was the use of being sad? She had broken up with him five years ago.

Moreover, she was the one who abandoned him back then. She didn't want him anymore.

What right did she have to be sad?

"I'm just her personal secretary," she finally said righteously. Her tone was very formulaic and indifferent. "The Eastern Group's rules prohibit office romances. Moreover, Mr. Dongfang has a girlfriend now. As a secretary, we can't have any improper thoughts about the president."

The other party was silent for a moment, and then faintly said, "actually, you can also try to have some improper thoughts."

"I'm not in the mood." Fang Xiao finally calmed down completely. Then she said faintly, "Oh right, Mr. Dongfang will probably be done showering in about ten minutes. If it's not convenient for me to pass on the message you're looking for him, why don't you call back later?"
