

Divorce Has Never Felt This Good

Chapter 298

Chapter 298 Do We Need His Money

Stevie and Vivien looked at each other briefly, none of them making an attempt to touch the so-called compensation. Stevie looked back at Elmore and said, "All that is in the past now. There's no need to talk about it now." "Come on. I know these things are in the past, but I can't just ignore all the harm that our family has caused to Becky. I know you don't need this, but to relieve me of this weight, take this small token," Elmore pleaded. Stevie's first reaction after Elmore's words was to frown, but he managed to conceal his displeasure and said with a stiff smile, "Don't worry about that. As you surely know, Becky doesn't keep grudges. It's been almost a year now. She surely doesn't even remember these things." Elmore sighed again and said, "This is all my fault. It was because of my stubbornness that Becky suffered in our family the way she did. But that is over now. From now on, anyone that dares say anything wicked to Becky will have me to deal with." Vivien's eyebrows furrowed as she finally understood why Elmore was here today. Stevie tried to keep his expression neutral, but he couldn't stop the frown that finally made its way to his face. "Well, I'm a little confused. Becky and Rory have been divorced for almost a year, right?" "Yes, but you know that young people nowadays have different mindsets. Didn't you read the news that was circulating on the internet a few days ago? They may be divorced, but they love each other. We can't be the ones to keep them away from each other, right?" Vivien raised her eyebrows at the nonsense she was hearing and asked in a not-too-polite tone, "Are you trying to say that Becky and Rory got back together?" Elmore wasn't done talking, and Vivien's interruption annoyed him. Under normal circumstances, he would have shown his annoyance, but he was in a vulnerable position. He covered the small frown he had let slip up and then smiled before answering, "Rory loves Becky, and we all know Becky loves Rory. They only divorced because of some misunderstandings. But now that these misunderstandings have been cleared up, nothing is stopping them from getting back together." Vivien was fuming with anger, and Stevie could feel it, so he held her hand to calm her down and looked at Elmore pointedly. "You are right. They have the right to love each other. We are Becky's parents, but we don't have the right to interfere in her love life. You've said a lot since you came in. What is it exactly that you want to say?" Stevie cut to the chase. He was tired of entertaining this conversation..

Elmore, who didn't get the impatience under Stevie's tone, chuckled and answered, "You're right. I should make my intentions clear. I came here today to let you know that Rory wants to remarry Becky. Carl, bring the betrothal gift out." Carl nodded and then brought out another document. This time though, he didn't just place it on the table. He opened it instead and put it in front of Stevie and Vivien.. Although she was annoyed, Vivien couldn't help but glance at the document. She had to admit that the Casper family was ready to spend a fortune to get her precious daughter back. But it still didn't move her. The Ramos family didn't lack money. They didn't need the betrothal gift from the Casper family. After reading through the document, Vivien couldn't stop the dry chuckle that escaped her lips.. Elmore misunderstood her laughter and frowned. "Are you not satisfied with the gift?". Vivien looked at him emotionlessly and said, "Not satisfied? Don't sell us so short. We have only one daughter, and she will eventually inherit all our property. We don't care about this betrothal gift. We only want our daughter's happiness. If this is what she wants, then we will give her our support. If it's not what she wants, we will not force anything on her." If Vivien was being honest, she didn't want her daughter to join the Casper family again.. They had looked down on her daughter before and even made her feel useless. Why were they so eager to bring her back in? They finally realized what they had lost, but it was too late.
