

Divorce Has Never Felt This Good

Chapter 301

Chapter 301 They Don't Deserve It

Stevie wanted to ask Becky if she was back with Rory. After all, Elmore sounded so confident when he said Rory and Becky were together. Stevie felt empathy for his daughter. He thought Becky might feel ashamed about making the same mistake and discussing it with him and his wife. He was shocked that Becky guessed his question and told him directly she would not marry into the Casper family again. Stevie had an argument with Becky before when she wanted to marry Rory. He couldn't tell if she was telling him the truth this time around. "If you still love him, your mom and I won't disagree. Your happiness is all that matters." Stevie's reaction made Becky feel guilty. "Dad, I'm not in love with him anymore." "Okay," Stevie replied. "Just remember that we will always support you!" "Thanks, Dad," Becky replied. Stevie looked at the time. "It's getting late so I'm going to bed, Becky. You should get some rest too." "Alright Dad. Good night." "Good night, Becky," Stevie said. Becky did not go straight to bed. After hanging up with her father she stood on the balcony, unable to calm herself down. She was not upset because of Elmore's shameful words and actions, but because the situation had obviously affected Stevie as well. Her difficult three-year marriage to Rory had traumatized her parents, too. Stevie had been strongly opposed to Becky being with Rory in the past. But now, he gave in.. Becky felt sorry that her parents still worried about her thoughts she was already twenty-seven years old.

It should not be that way. Becky sighed and then had another thought. She knew money and status meant everything to Elmore. He seemed insistent that she marry back into the Casper family. The Casper family didn't deserve it though. A smirk lingered on Becky's face as she walked back into the room.. Becky suddenly thought of something else. Becky knew that Betsy did not want her to have a relationship with Devin, but she could have just involved Becky in the matter. She didn't have to get Rory involved. No one trifled with the Casper family in Courtbush. Betsy didn't take her seriously because she knew Becky did not come from Courtbush. Rory was a well-known ruthless figure in Courtbush, however. It was ridiculous that Betsy would offend him. Becky thought about her conversation with Betsy that night at the hotel and she knew something felt off. She was just unsure of what it was. Becky frowned and took out her phone. She called Talia. Talia often worked overtime. Talia answered almost immediately. Becky smiled and made her request. "Good evening, Talia. I hope I'm not bothering you, but I need you investigate Betsy again.". Talia was somewhat shocked. "Have you found out something new, Miss Ramos?" Becky only laughed a little. "I'm not sure. I could just be overthinking everything but feel like Betsy was too bold to drug Rory.". "I will get someone on it immediately," Talia replied after hearing what Becky said. "Thanks." "No problem," Talia said. After they hung up, Becky's eyebrows rose. She hoped that the situation did not involve the Casper family. If it did, Becky would make sure they did not come out unscathed..