

Read Novel Divorce Billionaire Heiress Chapter 2502 [Chinese]

Divorce billionaire heiress chapter 2502—Fu Yechuan wrinkled his eyebrows and stood there looking like an old god was there.

“I don’t want to say anything, what is there to say to you, a bunch of single dogs...”

After he finished speaking, he glanced at them with great disgust, and no one let go, and then turned around and walked away.

Everyone thought it was ridiculous and looked at each other.

Finally fell on Lu Qi.

“Aren’t you always with him? When was this?”

Lu Qi spread his hands: “I don’t know, I’ve been taking care of my children lately!”

He himself was confused.

Another person couldn’t help but say

“He looks down on people when he gets off the list, I’ve been a girlfriend for a long time, okay, that’s because he is afraid that he will be sad and hide it, and he actually ran over to show off with us?”

“That’s right, my girlfriends have changed three or four, I already knew that I wouldn’t hide it!”

“It’s not interesting, but who is that woman?”

.....

Everyone, you guess every word.

Only Lu Qi fell silent there.

He seemed to have heard that voice somewhere, and it was very familiar.

Had he ever seen it?

Lu Qi thought about the occasions he attended recently, Fu Yechuan’s side basically did not even have a female companion, how could it be...

Wrong.

Fu Yunche's birthday.

Lu Qi's face changed suddenly.

Something seems to be perceived.

At that time, he also joked that Fu Yechuan was coming, and the girl who looked like Su Nan could appear next to him, it must not be once or twice.

It turned out to be her?

Because it looks like Su Nan?

He seemed to have spied some secret.

Lu Qi's expression changed subtly, fortunately everyone did not observe it, otherwise he would not have wanted to leave here today if he didn't say it.

But when this matter spread, it was not good for Fu Yechuan!

He thought about it and swallowed it anyway.

Fu Group.

Fu Yechuan came back early, and Chen Mian was relieved.

Follow him into the office.

Close the door.

"Yao has officially taken over the project in the neighboring city, when will we give them something?"

When Fu Yechuan could give up the project in the neighboring city, he did not think that the Yao family was so pitiful.

Did he think that the person who stabbed him was caught, the account was clean, and he did not let go of his mouth, so he would not have any worries?

Fu Yechuan is a person who will be rewarded.

Yao Lichuan still didn't know him, so he dared to take over the project.

Chen Mian could even predict how miserable the Yao family's fall would be in the future.

Fu Yechuan gently stroked the corners of his eyes, with a bit of coolness

“Since they have already taken over, it should be time for them to know how deep the water is inside.”

From the moment they started that project, on the surface, everything seemed to go well and the prospects were promising.

But only when they went deeper did they find that the situation was very bad.

All the funds were locked up as soon as they entered, because the interests and debts of all parties involved behind the project could not function properly.

Fu Yechuan originally planned to throw it away as an outcast.

But I didn't expect Yao Lichuan to jump down voluntarily, he could take over, that's the best.

Chen Mian immediately understood what Fu Yechuan meant, and immediately went out to do it.

Fu Yechuan looked at his phone, and there was no message except for the call in the morning.

He found the dialog boxes of the two people, thought for a moment, and then slowly typed
, “I was so anxious in the morning that I forgot to close it, I really didn't mean it.”

There is no reply.

Fu Yechuan then sent, “I'll pay for the repair, and you will live with me first during this time.” The other party still did not reply.

Perhaps his words directly revealed his purpose.

It was too late for Fu Yechuan to withdraw.

He had to bite the bullet and say

“Shopping makes people feel good, or do you go shopping?”

The other party still did not reply.

It seems that it is still angry.

Fu Yechuan put down his phone in frustration.

After a while.

The prompt for the mobile phone message sounded.

One word.

Express her disgust to the fullest.

However, Fu Yechuan smiled and relaxed his heart.

Because she didn't block him!

He didn't realize that the bottom line he had set for himself was so low.

Yao Group invested almost all of its belongings in projects in neighboring cities.

Not only that, but also took out a lot of loans from the bank.

They had planned to turn over in one fight, so the movement was very loud and vigorous.

But when the money came in and the project really ran, I discovered the problem.

The funds simply did not flow, and in just a few days the funds were swallowed up.

It's like a basin of water poured into the ocean, and before the splash sees one, it disappears without a trace.

The life of the Yao Group is not good, and everyone is in dire straits.

Finally don't know Who sent an anonymous message.

It is the arrears of this project, the court's recovery order, and billions of dollars owed behind this project.

As soon as the money arrives in the account, it will be automatically transferred away, so the Yao family's money has long been transferred away.

Not only that, because the Yao family is now the person in charge of the project, they are also responsible for other payments owed by the project.

It's a bottomless pit
