

Read Novel Divorce Billionaire Heiress Chapter 2503 [Chinese]

Divorce billionaire heiress chapter 2503—Yao Xinrui ran over as if she saw a savior.

“President Fu...”

Chen Mian didn't stop her, and he was already a little unreasonable.

Looking at Fu Yechuan's face, fortunately he was not angry and looked like he was in a good mood.

Yao Xinrui's clothes were wrinkled when she pushed and shoved, and the makeup on her face was also spent.

At this point, it looks embarrassing.

Fu Yechuan glanced at her calmly and indifferently, and did not react condescendingly

“Miss Yao, what are you doing?”

Yao Xinrui tried to calm herself down

“There is a problem with the temporary project, it is simply a hole in the dissatisfaction, my father was admitted to the hospital last night, and he is still rescuing!”

Fu Yechuan glanced at her lightly, and nodded with a little regret

“Oh, then Miss Yao is not with her in the hospital, what are you doing here?”

Yao Xinrui looked up sharply, surprised by his cold reaction.

“That project was sold by you to our Yao family, why didn't you say that there was a problem with that project?”

Or did you know that there was something wrong with that project and you deliberately hooked us?

She was more afraid of the latter.

When the storm hit, the Yao family was like a thatched hut, which could fall down in an instant.

To her questioning.

Fu Yechuan's reaction was very light, like disdain, and like he was too lazy to disguise.

The icy coldness of the alienation between his eyebrows made people shudder.

Yao Xinrui tried hard not to show any fear, and calmly reacted differently from outside.

Fu Yechuan narrowed his eyes with a bit of a sharp chill.

He hooked his lips, but there was no sneer in the reaction "Miss Yao, I didn't force you to buy it, I also made up for the Yao family to let this project out, who didn't know that the prospects were great at that time?"

This is really unexpected, no one can imagine.

In the ever-changing market, profits and losses are originally risks and luck, and you should also understand that I have also traveled a lot of difficult roads.

I also feel very sorry that I will ask my assistant to visit Yao Dong in the hospital for me.

As he spoke, he glanced at Chen Mian
, who was standing there
, "Send Miss Yao back for me."

Chen Mian nodded.

It's just that before she met Yao Xinrui, she couldn't bear to burst out

"Don't say these high-sounding words, I don't believe you don't know at all.

The Fu Group has been investigating in the neighboring city for so long, how can it be that there is no problem at all, you are clearly on purpose, deliberately dumping the mess on us!

She really felt at this time that Fu Yechuan was the most terrifying person.

He never shies away from the dirty tricks in the mall.

Unscrupulous means to achieve the end.

At first, she even wanted to marry him.

Only now do I feel a burst of fear.

She shot at Fu Yunche again and again, thinking that she had tested his bottom line.

His reactions were innocuous.

But who knows, he is holding up the account and calculating it one by one!

Fu Yechuan pursed his lips and reacted indifferently

“If you have to think so, I can’t help it.”

Like an irresponsible scumbag.

Yao Xinrui looked at his appearance of oil and salt, and tears fell like that.

“President Fu, please raise your noble hand, let us go, and help us get through the difficulties.

My dad is about to run out of it, Yao is going to declare bankruptcy, we’re really finished!

She wanted to go over and grab his arm.

But Fu Yechuan stepped back, kept his distance from her coldly, and avoided her touch.

“Sorry, our Fu Group’s funds have also been tight recently, I’m afraid I have a weak heart, and I need to pass the shareholders’ meeting to help you, I believe no one else will agree.”

Pretexts are not easy to find.

It’s just that Chen Mian was a little surprised, when did Fu Yechuan speak so gently and patiently?

Yao Xinrui looked at him
stunnedly, “This is a drop in the bucket for you...”

Fu Yechuan interrupted her:

“I have no money, I still have to raise my son, and I will have to raise my son’s stepmother in the future, sorry.”

Yao Xinrui gritted her teeth, seeing that Fu Yechuan would pretend to be better than her, and immediately wiped her tears angrily.

“After all, you did it on purpose, do you know about the neighboring city?”

She stared at him deadly, with a strong reluctance in it.

“Oh, what else is going on?”

Yao Xinrui's eyes flashed slightly, and she opened her mouth to say something, but she held it back.

She gritted her teeth and looked at him deadly,

“Fu Yechuan, you will have retribution, you ruthless and unrighteous bastard, you will have retribution!”

Her always generous and intellectual image could no longer be maintained.

Fu Yechuan doesn't admit it, doesn't help, doesn't care.

It's like a stone that can't get in with oil and salt.

She came this time and found nothing.

But she knew that the more so, the more suspicious he became.

Chen Mian finally couldn't help but pull her out, and the bodyguard was waiting outside.

Yao Xinrui refused to cooperate, and Chen Mian made a look.

Two bodyguards of five and three thick carried her out.

Such a humiliating look, Yao Xinrui resisted even more fiercely.

In the middle of resistance, a black thing accidentally fell out of his pocket.

Chen Mian's face changed, and he stepped forward to pick it up.

Yao Xinrui was carried into the elevator without noticing.

Chen Mian walked to Fu Yechuan's side with that thing, and his expression was instantly solemn

“It's a voice recorder.”

He instantly understood why Yao Xinrui asked him so directly if he did it.

As long as Fu Yechuan admits, then this project will involve the Fu Group.

Once the Fu Group falls into such a scandal, I am afraid that it will not be able to help without helping.

In the conversation just now, Fu Yechuan did not have the slightest flaw.

It seems that Yao Xinrui's small action has long been expected.

His throat moved slightly,
"President Fu, this..."

Fu Yechuan glanced at it nonchalantly.

Indifferent opening

"Ruin, I knew I could fall off, but I didn't pretend it just now."

He reached out and pinched his eyebrows.

It's really tiring to talk so much!

Chen Mian: "..."

Fu Yechuan put down the coffee cup, walked to the sofa and sat down.

Just about to talk about what to do next, I heard the voice of gathering information.

He immediately took a look at it.

Oh, and it's SMS consumption reminders.

Fu Yechuan looked at the familiar card number, which was the unlimited black card that she gave to Ning Yue before, because she was bound to her own number, so every purchase she made would be directly texted to her mobile phone.

He was not unhappy in the slightest, but had a sense of accomplishment.

Look, she's not someone who can treat herself badly.

It's just that his gaze slowed down, fixed his eyes, and the consumption amount was 25 yuan.

Fu Yechuan also thought that he was wrong.

This card only spent two pieces of five?

Followed by.

Text messages poured in again.

"Spend 55 yuan in such and such a place."

“Spend 12 yuan in such and such a place.”

“Spend 18 yuan in such and such a place.”
