

Chapter 19 Beautiful Mysterious Woman

Becky had an early meeting that day, and it ran long. It was already eleven o'clock when the meeting ended.

Becky was appointed as the second-in-command of Fairway Group by the headquarters. Her position was right after the CEO. Not long after she showed up, the employees had come up with thirteen versions of her story.

The most convincing one was that Becky was the mistress of a senior executive. Nobody could find out what she had done in the four years after her graduation. Because this part of her background was completely blank, they reasoned that she had to be a mistress.

Although Becky wanted to take over the family business, she didn't intend to make her identity public for the time being. Only Talia, who had come to the company with her, knew her real identity.

Even the CEO of Fairway Group, Elvin Perkins, had no idea.

Elvin was by no means a stupid man. When the headquarters suddenly arranged for such a young woman to work under him, he knew that something was brewing. With his years of experience, Elvin's first instinct was that the headquarters wanted to replace him with Becky.

Becky was a newcomer but held a high position in the company. Consequently, she was torn between the ordinary employees and the CEO. Elvin had asked her to join the business dinner last night to make things difficult for her. ①

But Becky was no stranger to difficulties and was ready to face them head-on. Since she chose to work in this company without revealing her identity, she wouldn't cry for help in her first few days here.

Hearing what Talia said, Becky smiled indifferently. "I don't care what they say."

In her three years with the Casper family, she had heard countless unpleasant words directed at her.

Talia nodded and warned her about Elvin's little trick. "The Haynes family already have their hands on that land. Obviously, Elvin wants to derail you."

Becky raised her eyebrows. "Keenan Haynes, right?"

"Yes."

Becky's eyes flashed meaningfully. "Nobody knows whether this will derail me or if it'll be another stepping stone to my success. I guess we'll just have to wait and see!"

Elvin wanted to discourage her. Her competitor was one of Rory's best friends, Keenan.

Things were getting interesting.

Becky would never throw in the towel the second things got difficult. Fate would decide who would win this land in the end.

Hearing this, Talia was stunned for a while. "Miss Ramos, do you have a plan in mind?"

But Becky simply smiled and didn't say anything.

Talia didn't ask any more questions. She handed an envelope to Becky and explained,

"This is the invitation to Llama Group's anniversary party."

Becky pulled the invitation out of the envelope and skimmed through the details. It was Friday night.

"Okay."

Judging from Becky's reaction, Talia guessed that she was going to attend the party.

Llama Group was the Evans family's company, so naturally, the Casper family was going to be invited. And of course, the fun-loving Jessie got right to work when she heard that Becky was going to attend. She personally selected an haute couture dress for Becky from Paris and had it delivered in time for the party. That Friday, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Jessie took Becky to a beauty salon so that they could have facials before they did their makeup.

When the two arrived at the hotel, it was already half past seven and the party was in full swing.

Tonight, all the noble ladies and debutantes of Courtbush were present. Becky smiled, thinking about how she was going to take revenge on those who had laughed at her before.

Coincidentally, as soon as they stepped out of the car, Becky bumped into Jenifer and Denise.

Her former mother-in-law and sister-in-law.

Both Jenifer and Denise didn't recognize Becky at first because she looked drop-dead gorgeous. ②

Looking at the beautiful woman up and down, Jenifer smiled and complimented her. "Who's she? I've never seen her before. She's gorgeous!"

Denise also had to agree. "I don't know her either. But she's beautiful! I'll try to get her number when we're inside. Then we can set her up with Rory!" ④
