

Chapter 30 Settling Scores

Before getting even with Denise, Becky had to deal with someone else first.

After being discharged from the hospital, Becky went back to her apartment to freshen up. By the time she came out, she resumed the role of the beautiful manager again.

As soon as she arrived at the office, Talia was already there, waiting for her with some documents. "Miss Ramos, these are some real estate companies that have done well in recent years."

Becky took the documents and leafed through them quickly. "Which one do you think is the best?"

"Starch Company," Talia answered without hesitation. "Although it is less than ten years old, Starch Company has a good reputation in the industry."

"Okay. Get me in contact with the person in charge of Starch Company."

"Got it, Miss Ramos."

Did Robbie seriously think that Fairway Group wouldn't survive without Highlight Group?

Since he dared to plot against her, Becky was determined to get even with him.

As one of the companies under Harvester Group, Fairway Group was rich in resources. Starch Company was ecstatic when they found out that Fairway Group wanted to cooperate with them.

Hearing that the new manager of Fairway Group wanted to cooperate with them, Domenic Holmes, the manager of Starch Company rushed back from out of town to have dinner with Becky.

The second they sat down, Becky went straight to the point and put forward the intention of cooperation. Domenic was flattered. "Miss Ramos, may I ask why you chose our company?"

Becky smiled meaningfully. "Well, Mr. Holmes, do you think Starch Company isn't qualified to cooperate with us?"

Domenic paused for a moment and studied Becky, who was sitting opposite him. He didn't expect such a beautiful young woman to be so smart and eloquent.

Two seconds later, Domenic broke into a hearty smile. "Then I wish us a most pleasant cooperation, Miss Ramos."

"Cheers to that."

Having solved such a big problem, Becky was in a good mood. She turned to look at Talia and said in a low voice, "I wonder how Elvin will react when he hears about this."

They all wanted to give her a hard time. Did they really think that she would let them step all over her?

Soon, the news about the cooperation between Becky and Domenic spread in the circle. When Elvin heard about it, he called Becky promptly. She replied casually, "Starch Company is qualified."

From the other end of the line, Elvin could feel his face turning purple from anger. Becky continued, "And the price Starch Company offered is only $\frac{3}{4}$ of Highlight Group's. Why shouldn't we try to cooperate with a new partner?"

Elvin was rendered speechless. Becky had expected that Elvin would object, so when she talked with Domenic, she made herself clear that the price he offered should be lower than that of Highlight Group. Only in this way could she stop the others from gossiping.

Domenic was also a smart man. This was a good opportunity. It didn't matter if it meant earning less money; Starch Company needed this chance. This was the perfect opportunity for their company.

After hanging up, Becky idly looked out the window at the night sky. The smile on her face grew wider and wider. "Now that I've dealt with Elvin, I'll settle scores with Denise next."

Coincidentally, the following day was the weekend. Thinking of this, Becky took out her phone and called Talia.

Talia was a dedicated secretary. It might've been late, but she answered the phone in a heartbeat.

"Good evening, Miss Ramos."

"Good evening, Talia. Could you do me a favor?"

"Of course."

Lowering her head and taking a sip of water, Becky said, "I want to settle scores with Denise after what she did to me last night. Have some people kidnap her and take her to Citrine Club tomorrow night."

"Copy, Miss Ramos," Talia said promptly.

After getting off the phone with Talia, Becky walked into the bathroom in high spirits.

She planned to take a shower before bed. Then, she'd get up early tomorrow morning to deal with Denise.

How exciting!