

Chapter 84 You Are Lying

Denise laughed scornfully. "Don't you know why you don't have a child?"

"In the three years we were married, Rory never touched me. How could I bear a child by myself?" Truth be told, Becky didn't want to talk about this. But what Elmore said had crossed the line. "Just because I never had a child, you turned a blind eye whenever Babette made things difficult for me. And now, you have the audacity to claim that I'm lying to my parents. Mr. Casper, I only show you any respect you because you're an old man. But why are you lying?"

"Becky!" Rory, who had been quiet this whole time, suddenly exploded.

Becky glanced at him coldly. "Don't you dare shout at me, Rory. Since we're divorced, I won't mention whatever happened in the past three years. But your grandfather's claiming that I'm the liar here. I'm not, and you know who's lying. I'm willing to overlook everything you and your family did to me while we were still married, but as for things that Denise has done to me after our divorce, you'd better give me a satisfactory explanation."

Becky spoke each word clearly and concisely.

Denise laughed scornfully. "Don't you know why you don't have a child?"

On her way here, she was calm and collected. But the Casper family had gone too far. They still kept lying and lying through their teeth.

lying through their teeth.

When Becky didn't reveal who her father was, the Casper family looked down upon her. After the divorce, Denise continued to hurt her. Now she just wanted an explanation, but Elmore had the audacity to say that she was lying.

"I have cold, hard evidence that Denise drugged me. I also have evidence that she was the one who took a photo of me and my father and posted it on Facebook, spreading rumors that I was his mistress. I'm not an unreasonable person. If it weren't for the fact that Denise made things difficult for me time and time again, I wouldn't have let my parents come here today. They'd hate to see you."

Becky had been obedient and easy-going for three whole years. But today, she criticized the Casper family in front of Elmore.

Elmore was so angry that his face turned purple. But now, things were different. He couldn't just scold and beat her. Becky wasn't Rory's submissive wife anymore; now, she was a member of the rich and powerful Ramos family.

Stevie stood beside Becky. If the Casper family continued to be unreasonable, he was determined to make an enemy of them in the future.

Denise wasn't convinced at all. She had always looked down upon Becky, and she still couldn't accept the fact that Becky wasn't as meek and humble as before. She pointed a finger at Becky and snapped, "How dare you speak ill of my family?"

Jenifer reacted quickly and clamped her hand on Denise's mouth.

Becky sneered in disdain. "Aren't you the bad one here?" "Say that again, you—"

"For once in your life, shut your mouth, Denise!" Rory roared in a fit of rage. Then he turned to glare at Becky with a murderous look in his eyes.

"You know what Denise has done, Rory," Becky said, locking eyes with him bravely.

Rory did know. After the news that Becky was an older man's mistress was spread out, he asked Lowell to investigate the matter.

Stevie's face wasn't clear in the photos online, so Rory didn't recognize him at first. Lowell told him that the man was Stevie, but still Rory didn't connect the dots that Becky was in fact Stevie's daughter.

Denise still wanted to defend herself, but when she saw the murderous look in Rory's eyes, she clamped her mouth shut.

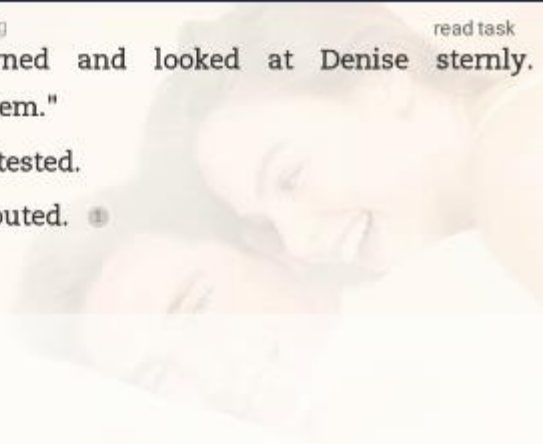

"Mr. and Mrs. Ramos, this is Denise's fault." After saying that, Rory turned and looked at Denise sternly.

"Apologize to them."

"I—" Denise protested.

"Now!" Rory shouted. ①
