Chapter 131

"No," Charlie said. "I often ate in my room by myself."

His words surprised Theresa, "In the past?"

After she came, it was rare to see him eating in the room. He usually had dishes with everyone.

Charlie nodded, "Yeah. I was just injured and couldn't stand up... I really didn't want to live anymore, neither.

Upon hearing Charlie's words, Theresa was surprised by seeing a different him since it was rare for him to say this. Born in a rich family with talents, he had been attracting attention since he was a child. He must be uncomfortable after experiencing such a blow suddenly.

She encouraged him, "Charlies, everything will be fine."

Theresa stood up and walked over to him, "Charlie."

Holding the book in his hand, he raised his head and glanced at her, "What's the matter?"

"It's getting late. Let me help you with acupuncture."

"Aren't you not well? You can take a rest."

"It's fine," Theresa said, "I feel much better now."

Charlie's eyes were full of suspicion.

Theresa knew what he was worried about and said, "Your legs are very important. I won't make fun of you."

When Theresa came out of the room, Charlie had almost finished his job. Seeing her come out, he said, "You are not well. Go to bed earlier."

Theresa looked at him and said, "You go to bed. It is okay for me to sleep on the sofa."

"You caught a cold while sleeping on the sofa last night."

"It's okay. I've already asked Brenda for a quilt." Theresa said, "The sofa is very wide, so I can sleep on it."

"Go to bed. I don't repeat it." Charlie was serious.

little dazed. She had been despising this man in the bathroom just now because of his suspicion, but seeing him caring about her so much now, she felt that he was different.

Charlie said, "Go to sleep."

Theresa lay down obediently, not really wanting to talk to him. She fell asleep quickly because she took medicine at night.

Charlie hadn't slept in the middle of the night when she was drowsy, and came over every now and then to see if she had any more fever.

She opened her eyes, saw him who had just cared about her lying down beside her. She turned over and looked at the man. "Charlie."

Hearing her wake up, he cast a glance at her, and said, "What's wrong? Water?" He brought a glass of water from the table next to himself and handed it to her.

Brenda made the bed, brought clothes for change over, and handed them to Theresa, "Mr. Calsis asked me to

Theresa said, "He is quite thoughtful."

"Yeah." Brenda said, "Alas, he is too perfect that his legs..."

Standing aside, Theresa saw how contemptuous he was from his eyes. This was the place she rented and where she lived with her two children."

Not interested in watching him examine her life here, Theresa said, "Please get out. You are not welcome here."

Jimmy was successful now for being high in the company and marrying Rose as his wife. He was not the same as before.

But so what?

"Seriously, of course, so don't do anything to me. Otherwise, I might talk something to Rose."

Jimmy twitched the corners of his mouth. In his opinion, she was so self-righteous just because she just thought she had Charlie as a backer. So he said, "Do you know that when Charlie's two children were sent to the Calsis family, you will be nothing to him?

She didn't expect that this man was so damned!

Theresa said: "You really don't find it ridiculous to say these words. From the beginning to the end, I don't

When she got divorced, she didn't want to break up with him, she just wanted to get out of this scumbag
