

Divorcement 151

Chapter 151

Although the two babies looked the same, their personalities were very different. Leonard was aloof and didn't like to be close to people. Even Cristina was rarely favored by him. He only got close to Theresa. Jonathan glanced at Leonard in surprise, and was about to say something when Ben grabbed his hand and said, "Uncle Jonathan, let's go!" Compared with Leonard, Ben could be an angel.

Seeing him, Jonathan raised the corner of his mouth, and instantly was moved by Ben. He said to Ben, "You can just call me Jonathan in the future, young master."

"How can I do that? My mother asks me to be polite."

Jonathan smiled, and he hadn't thought that their mother could bring up children well.

When they got to the car, Charlie was still on the phone, Jonathan let Ben get in the car first. When Charlie saw Ben, there was a hint of surprise in his deep eyes. I have always heard that the two children look like him. He thought it was just an adjective. He did not expect that his children would really look so similar to him...There was a lot of space in the car. Today they specially used a RV in order to pick up children.

After Ben got into the car, he was stunned when he saw Charlie, and then sat down opposite Charlie. He looked “Did she agree you to bring the children back?” Mrs. Calsis thought that Cristina would not agree it unless

Charlie promised to marry her! However...

Charlie said, “Yes.” Cristina didn’t ask for anything, and agreed Charlie to bring the children back. Charlie was surprised too. Didn’t Cristina say she must marry him before? But that thing was settled, so Charlie didn’t care

about it.

Mrs. Calsis said, “I’ll wait for you!” Her tone was very bright. Charlie hung up the phone.

Theresa looked at the phone and asked, “Was it from your mother?”

Charlie nodded, “Yes.”

Theresa said, “She should be very happy to know that Leonard and Ben are back!” Theresa knew,

Rose said, "Aunt Theresa." She took the initiative to greet Theresa, which seemed to be polite, but she gloated.

Theresa greeted, "Mom, Rose." She also greeted Mrs. Calsis and Rose. Seeing Theresa's calm face, Rose twitched the corner of her mouth, and wondered how long Theresa could be so calm!

Leonard and Ben got out of the car and attracted much attention at once. When Mrs. Calsis saw her grandsons,

she was on cloud nine. She said, "Leonard, Ben, welcome you back. I miss you." Although she could see the two little guys on the live broadcast, picking them up had a different meaning to her. After all, in the Rose raised the corner of her mouth, and continued, "Yes! Sister Cristina can bring up children well. She was not like some parents now, who can only create some arrogant children without any courtesy!"

Theresa echoed, "You are right."

Rose was speechless. Rose clearly mocked Theresa. Theresa wouldn't be so stupid that she didn't understand Theresa's children had beaten Jimmy's mother last time!

At this moment, Leonard saw Theresa sitting down, came over, and gave her the cake. Leonard was different from Ben. Ben would care about everyone, but Leonard only cared about Theresa! He would only share his food with Theresa. As for others, he didn't care about. Everyone's attention was on Leonard, so at this moment their eyesight also fell on Theresa.

Rose frowned, remembering that Leonard usually ignored her, but why was he so good to Theresa? She said on Leonard sat aside and looked at Charlie. He didn’t like this man at first, but seeing that Charlie actually defended Theresa, Leonard brought a piece of cake and handed it to Charlie. When Charlie saw Leonard, could see that Leonard didn’t like him, and even looked down on him a little. Leonard was different from Ben, who was cute and outgoing. Leonard gave Charlie a piece of cake, which made Charlie a little surprised.

Seeing Charlie was stunned, Mrs. Calsis said, “Hey. Leonard gave you the cake, so you quickly receive it. You must know that he rarely shares something with others!”

Charlie stretched out his hand to receive the thing, and casually said something rude, “His mother taught him.”

Theresa was speechless. Although she knew that Charlie referred to Cristina, she was actually the mother. She nervously. Jimmy walked in and saw Leonard and Ben as soon as he entered the

at the two little guys and stood aside with a shocked expression on his face.

Chapter 156

Last time when Jimmy saw Leonard and Ben, Theresa took them and the two little guys were dressed in ordinary clothes. Today, they were wearing the clothes that Mrs. Calsis had bought them before. They were very delicate and chic. In Jimmy's eyes, Theresa's two children were two rubes. And, children looked similarly.

He didn't pay too much attention to the two children last time. He just felt irritable and didn't even look at them seriously. More importantly, he didn't even think that the two children Theresa gave birth to would be Charlie's. People in the family, like the Calsis family all thought highly of genes, so why would they go to the hospital to donate their genes? Therefore, he didn't connect those two children with the two children he abandoned at all. He looked at Leonard and Ben and greeted, "Hello."

The two babies saw Jimmy, but they didn't know why they would meet this scumbag here. It was him always bullied their mother and made her sad. Thinking of this, Ben's small fist clenched. He raised his head and glanced at Theresa, remembering that Theresa had said that he could not reveal his identity, so he endured it.

Rose sat next to Jimmy and asked, "Why did you come back so soon?"

Seeing Mrs. Calsis, Theresa felt guilty for a moment, and quickly explained, "Ben asked me how to do with the things in his house! I said I would help him get them back later." Although there were new things here, the children were nostalgic. Although the things at their previous home were not expensive, they were bought by Theresa, so the two little guys liked them.
Mrs. Calsis said, "Later let someone to do it, and let Cristina know in advance."
Theresa nodded, "I can do it."
"You?" Mrs. Calsis looked at Theresa, and was full of suspicion.

Theresa said, "I have also been in contact with Cristina, and we had lunch together today. In fact, we get along very well. After all, we are both mothers, and it is good for the two children."

The couple came out of the children's room. Rose supported Jimmy and saw Theresa standing at the door.

Rose's face instantly became cold.

"Auntie," she muttered involuntarily.

"What are you two doing?" Theresa asked.

Looking at Jimmy's appearance, she wondered if Leonard taught him a lesson.

Jimmy sneered at Theresa.

"Auntie cares so much about the children, so she is waiting here for them!" He said to Theresa sarcastically.

He opined that Theresa obviously hated the children so much, but as soon as the children came back home, she was so courteous to them. She was pretending to be nice to them while she sowed discord among them.

Theresa looked at him innocently.

"I don't know what you are talking about," she replied.

"Leonard smashed my head with something, you dare to say that you didn't teach him how to do it?" Jimmy asked her.

"I didn't teach him," Theresa denied calmly.

"Impossible! It's you who taught him!" Jimmy replied affirmatively.

Ben heard Theresa’s words and walked out of the room.
Theresa turned around and saw Leonard still standing there.
“Leonard?” She called him.
“I don’t want to go,” Leonard said dully.
“Why?” Theresa asked him. She felt strange.
“I don’t like him!” Leonard replied assertively.
Who told him to speak ill of his mother?
Theresa remembered that Leonard gave Charlie something earlier today and then took it back, and flashed a nasty smirk.
“Little guy, you hold too much vengeance!” She said to him.
Because Leonard didn’t want to go, Theresa took Ben to Charlie’s room.
Compared with Leonard, Ben was warmer and looked forward to seeing Charlie more.
