

Divorcement 171

Chapter 171

Sure enough, he has a great personality! It was obvious that there was something wrong with Theresa's evaluation and recognition.

"You haven't taken a shower yet." Jonathan reminded him.

Usually, he was responsible for helping Charlie take a bath.

"There's no need. Theresa will live with me in the future. She'll be in charge of these things," said Charlie.

In the past, when there were no women in the house, Charlie felt that it was natural for Jonathan to help him with these things. But now, he suddenly felt that it was not dignified to be taken care of by a man.

Jonathan looked at Charlie and asked, "Is this okay, Mr. Calsis?"

Charlie looked back at him and asked, "What's the problem?"

Jonathan murmured, "Well, it seems okay."

It seemed like Mr. Calsis had accepted the close relationship with Theresa.

Jonathan didn't want to say anything to upset him.

So this guy was trying to take advantage of her.

Charlie looked at her and said, "It's up to you."

Theresa walked out of the door and called Leonard and Ben over, "Your father has some snacks in his room. You two come over and have some fruit."

"I don't want it." Leonard refused directly when he heard that it was Charlie's room.

Theresa looked at Leonard and said, "If you join us, I will be with you at night."

When Leonard heard this, his eyes lit up with happiness, "Really?

Theresa nodded, "Of course."

Leonard's fondness for Theresa overcame his dislike for Charlie. He follows Theresa and Ben out of the room and over to

He knew Jimmy didn’t like Theresa and liked to say bad things about her. Although he wouldn’t say anything in front of him, he would definitely say it in the back.

But he didn’t expect Leonard would dislike Jimmy for that!

Charlie reached out and touched Leonard’s head. Leonard looked at him with a little surprise.

Charlie said, “All right, I admit that you’re right. I won’t force you to apologize. It was wrong of you to smash people, but it’s good for you to protect someone who loves you. Let’s call it even.”

Leonard heard this and breathed a sigh of relief.

Theresa also breathed a sigh of relief when she saw this.

It was good that they could talk it out like that.

Leonard snuggled into her arms and lay down peacefully.

As for Ben, the boy had already fallen asleep.

Theresa had been sleeping with Leonard for a while when there was a knock on the door.

Theresa was afraid of waking the kids, so she hurriedly got up from bed to answer the door and saw that it was Brenda. Theresa looked at Brenda and asked, "Why are you here?"

"Mr. Calsis sent me over to call you." Brenda said, "He heard you were sleeping in the young master's room and told you to get the hell out."

Brenda was also very helpless.

Since Mr. Calsis became disabled, he has become more and more stubborn and it is impossible to understand what he was thinking.

Theresa looked at Brenda with a helpless expression on her face and said, "Okay I get it, go get some rest. He's really mad to get you up at such a late hour."

Theresa didn't know how he could torture others like that.

After talking to Brenda, she went to Charlie's room. She saw Charlie sitting on the bed, reading a book in his hand. Theresa, who had just fallen asleep and was now sleepy, turned to Charlie and asked, "What's wrong with you?" "Who allowed you to sleep in Leonard's room?" Charlie asked, looking over at her.

However, the woman in his arms did not resist. "Why aren't you rejecting me?" asked Charlie in surprise. He still remembered how she had rejected him before! Could it be that he had been protecting her these past two days, so she had changed her mind? Theresa said, "Can I escape from you? Mr. Calsis, you have a lot of tricks up your sleeve!" "I didn't do that to you," said Charlie. Although he had done some tricks on her, he still felt uncomfortable when others said it out loud.

Theresa said, "You even took advantage of your family. How can you call Brenda up late at night? If you make things difficult for her, you are actually making things difficult for me. Charlie, if you have anything to say to me, you can just come to me. You don't need to find trouble with others. Don't you want to sleep with me? Then sleep with me! I'll help you!"

Instead of worrying about them, you should mind your own business!"

"Theresa!" Rose was so angry that she directly called out her name.

Theresa looked back at her unflinchingly.

Rose remembered that she had been attacked by Theresa once, but she didn't get a good result and didn't get a chance to fight back.

She glanced at Theresa and angrily shook her hand, then left.

Leonard and Ben looked at Theresa and said, "Mom."

Rose's reaction was too strong, and Cristina remembered who she was now in Rose's eyes. She was afraid that Rose would be suspicious and hurriedly said, "I mean, what Theresa did was all a waste of time, my sons are smart enough to know who is good for them. Don't worry!"

Cristina was also tired of having to deal with this woman who liked to talk badly about Theresa

What's more, she didn't know if Rose could understand what she meant

Rose looked at Cristina and said, "I have your interests at heart. The two boys have returned to the Calsis family. This is your chance. Don't you want to marry my Uncle Charlie? You hurry to take advantage of the opportunity to get close to him! Don't let your children help others instead."

Cristina nodded. "You're right"

Seeing that Cristina had listened to her, Rose finally breathed a sigh of relief, "It's good that you can think it clearly I'm doing this only for your own good!"

Cristina raised the corner of her mouth and said, "All right, I don't understand what you mean, but I have work to do. You may go now."

Rose finally walked out of the door

"But you've gotten a marriage license." Johnson huffed out an angry breath.

Theresa laughed, saying, "Calm down. Charlie and I will get a divorce."

"When?" Johnson looked at her. He felt a little surprised. What a joke to get married and divorced so hurriedly! She had Theresa said, "Wait first! Wait for Sarah to come back."

Hearing Theresa's words, Johnson looked at Theresa, guessing, "Charlie told you to do so?"

However, Theresa's denial was not very convincing to Roderick, who acted as if he already knew.

Roderick asked, "Why do you want to hide this?"

Theresa did not answer, lowering her head and looking at the water in her glass.

Roderick saw that she didn't answer and asked, "How about... I go ask Charlie about this directly?"

"Wait." Theresa looked at the man, she knew she couldn't hide it anymore, and pleaded, "Charlie doesn't know. Can you not tell him yet?"

Roderick heard her and rubbed his chin, saying, "Why? The two children of Cristina's are sent back to the Calsis family, and you know that! Those people love the two children very much. If you hide it now, maybe later the children will hate you for the rest of their lives. After all, they could grow up as the Calsis family's children and you are depriving them of the opportunity to grow up by their father's side."
