

Divorcement 251

Chapter 251

"Sarah's back."

"Don't tell me that he is like this because of Sarah." Roderick said: "As far as I know, he has no affection for Sarah. Normally he should not be like this." Charlie's reaction today is too much. Bigger.

Theresa didn't know where to start, so she just sighed: "Forget it, Dr. Hill, don't say such things in front of him in the future!"

"What?" Jonathan smiled and said, "Aren't you going to get a divorce? Are you afraid that he might misunderstand? You still like him, don't you?"

He purposely said that in front of Charlie just now, just to see Charlie's reaction, it turns out that he doesn't have any feelings for Theresa either! If he had no feelings, he wouldn't care whether she was with him or not. As for Theresa, despite her efforts to restrain herself, she clearly cared about what Charlie thought of her.

"I don't like him." Theresa denied, "I just don't want him to misunderstand that we have a relationship. It's not good for me! You know, the world is always full of ill will towards women. What men do, others only it will be a joke, but what a woman did, others would like to trample you to death. When I divorced Jimmy, I already took the blame, and I don't want people to talk about me and Charlie in the future, or say that I cheated."

Chapter 252

Leah has just received several phone calls. The partners who had been talking well all of a sudden called to cancel the cooperation. It is said that it means the Calsis family! The Calsis family can be said to be the same in this city. Everyone has to rely on Charlie Charlie wants to bankrupt the Cameron family, but it’s just a matter of one sentence....

Now there is a problem, and it is nothing more than Sarah.

Leah also admires Theresa, she was fine before, but now she can’t handle Charlie, she’s a waste!

Theresa was a little surprised when she received the call, “Shouldn’t you ask your daughter about this? Before Sarah was

But what if the family goes bankrupt? Leah asked anxiously: Theresa said, she doesn’t care about this matter! You go and see Charlie, or beg for mercy, you stabilize him first, turn back to your sister, I will Find a way. I don’t really want you to marry me, can I?”

Sarah frowned and said, “Okay” Although she didn’t want to marry Charlie, she really didn’t want her family to go bankrupt. After thinking about it, I thought it would be better to meet Charlie.

“By the way, Rose, do you know where your Uncle Charlie is?” After hanging up the phone, Sarah asked Rose beside her Rose was overjoyed: “Are you going to see me, Uncle Charlie ?” She called Sarah over today because she wanted her to meet Uncle Charlie, thinking that if they met, they might get closer to each other., It can also clear up the suspicion.

Sarah said: “There is something I want to go to him for.”

“Okay, I’ll take you to find him!” Rose couldn’t wait to lead Sarah to see Charlie. On the way, Rose said, “By the way, do your know why I asked you to come here?”

“Why?” Sarah asked puzzled. Didn’t you tell her to come over to see the stars?

Rose said, “I, Uncle Charlie, are getting a divorce.”

Jonathan stood aside, his eyes widened in surprise when he heard Sarah’s words. What’s wrong with this woman? Running to Mr. Calsis and saying this? She doesn’t really feel that Mr. Calsis is dealing with the Cameron family now because of her?

“Are you done?” Charlie looked at Sarah.

Sarah said, “I’m done.”

“Then you can go!” Charlie gestured please.

Chapter 255

She pushed open the door of the reception room, walked in, and saw Charlie sitting there. Charlie seemed to know she would come, and deliberately waited for her here. She looked at his figure in the wheelchair, and for some reason, she felt a little pitiful for him.

Sarah has always been a selfish woman, and even now, she has never reflected on what she has done. Knowing that Charlie was angry, he ran to Charlie and said those words. Theresa could even imagine how angry Charlie was when he heard those words.

She was thinking about whether to comfort him, but Charlie had already raised his head. He leaned back, looked at her, and said in a cold tone, "I thought you wouldn't come! His indifferent attitude, Let Theresa get rid of the ridiculous soft-heartedness in her heart.

Theresa sat on the chair, looked at Charlie, and didn't move.

Charlie said," Jonathan, you go out first."

When the two were talking just now, Jonathan was standing aside. Hearing Charlie 's words at this moment, Jonathan

Charlie looked at Theresa, "Come here."

Thinking of the smiles in her eyes when she was with Roderick, they were always so happy when they were together...

He leaned over and was about to kiss her, but Theresa instinctively avoided him when she saw him approaching. Knowing that he just wants to play with her and has no feelings for her, she now refuses his affection. After all, in her opinion, this kind of thing should only be done with the person she likes.

Charlie felt a sense of irritability welling up, he turned her face forcefully, and forced a kiss on her lips.

“Charlie...” she struggled.

As soon as he opened his mouth, he took the opportunity to plunder the city and plunder the land, deepening the kiss...

The reception room was very quiet, Theresa could hear the sound of her being kissed by him, her hands were unconsciously exerting force, and tears fell. Really annoying! She hated him to death!

Rose looked at Sarah and asked, “You went to find me Uncle Charlie, what did you say?”

“What did you say?” Sarah said, “Let him be fine and not bother me. You, Uncle Charlie, are really serious. Do you have to keep embarrassing me? He's married to Theresa, and now he's still playing with me.”

Rose looked at Sarah and found that Sarah was very disgusted when she mentioned Charlie. Rose said: “Sister Sarah, you really don't want to be with my Uncle Charlie ? My Uncle Charlie is a pretty good person. It would be too bad to give him to Theresa!”

Sarah said: “It would be nice for him to marry Theresa ! Why, just like him now, he still hates others?”

Rose listened to Sarah ruining Charlie to nothing, wanted to say something, but didn't know what to say.

Leonard and Ben were going to prepare for the performance, and walked away with the kindergarten teachers and other students. Mrs. Calsis sent them off, turned around and glanced at Sarah..

Chapter 259

Theresa consoled Mrs. Calsis, "Don't waste your emotion on such an unabashed person."

Hearing their well-echoed conversation, Sarah burst into laughter. She sneered at Theresa, "You've got a lot to boast of now, huh? But don't forget the fact that it's only because I didn't want to marry Charlie that a woman like you was provided with the chance to be his wife." Sarah even teased Theresa about placing so much weight on a man who couldn't walk. Sarah went on, "But I still hear that you and Charlie are going to divorce, even when you are trying so hard to ingratiate yourself with his family." She heard that from Rose, who told her that her reappearance would be a cue for the couple to separate. Sarah thus really didn't think Theresa's pride would last long. She also believed Theresa must value Charlie so much that she even had to cater to Mrs. Calsis, since such an uncompetitive woman could never find any better man. Hearing the humiliation Sarah flung to Theresa, Mrs. Calsis rose to protest for Theresa, "That's only a rumor, Sarah. I won't allow Charlie to divorce Theresa, especially for a woman like you." Mrs. Calsis had made up her mind that she would never make a concession to Charlie on that score.

"I hope so." Sarah said. "But I'll be off now." She then sighed, regarding Theresa with resignation. What a proud girl Theresa used to be, Sarah thought, and Theresa should have reduced to a wife of a disabled man. What a pity and what a piece of good news to Sarah it was! The more miserable Theresa's life was getting, the more content Sarah was feeling. Such a sick mentality of Sarah had been formed when she grew up being compared with Theresa each time she failed the examination.

Calsis reassured Theresa, "No worries, I'll let Charlie know that I would never agree with decision of divorce."

Rose had asked for a special position for Sarah, which was amongst the stars who attended the concert too. It was just next to Sarah's favorite idol Jefferson. And Sarah was now taking a selfie

Chapter 260

While everyone around had gussied themselves up. Theresa was still wearing the ordinary dress, which, though, couldn't prevent her from emerging as the most impressive one among the crowd. Though she had left the guest room crying, she now seemed much more cheerful. Charlie just found his tension alleviated at the sight of her softly smiling eyes, which he had grown quite fond of now.

Having perceived the gaze from above, Theresa looked up to Charlie. And Charlie just looked away immediately. True as it was that he adored Theresa, he just couldn't get rid of the sense of humiliation she gave him. He still remembered how she wept when he kissed her, and that just made him resentful as he regarded her reaction as a sort of indignity.

When Theresa could see Charlie clearly enough, he was already switched his stare at Sarah from Theresa. He just appeared so grim and gloomy. When Theresa turned to Sarah, Sarah was pressing herself against another man, either showing off to Charlie or really being intimate. Theresa thus drew a conclusion that Sarah really weighed a lot in Charlie's heart, judging from his expression. She just couldn't understand why he refused to divorce since he loved Sarah so much.

"Hello, Dr. Hill!" Mrs. Calsis hailed.
