

Divorcement 341

Chapter 341

After staying up all night, Theresa felt that her body was a little stiff. She followed Charlie into the room. He didn't move his quilt. There was only a pile of documents beside his desk. It seemed that he had not slept all night.

Charlie said, "Just sleep on the bed."

"I can sleep on the sofa." Theresa said, "You stay up all night. You need to sleep. Just sleep on the bed."

Theresa lay down on the sofa.

Theresa closed her eyes and didn't want to communicate with him.

When Theresa thought about their animosity, she could not be that calm.

After a while, Theresa suddenly felt that the sofa was sinking.

Theresa opened her eyes and saw that Charlie had come. He was sitting on the sofa. Theresa saw a handsome face.

Charlie suddenly approached her, which made her stunned. As he was about to speak, he had already lowered his head and kissed her.

In the early morning, the sound of autumn wind and rain outside came.

Theresa said with a soft voice, as if she said to herself, "Probably no one would really like a person."

She was also confused about how to judge a man if really likes her.

Theresa thought that there is no true love between a man and a woman.

Jimmy always said he loves Rose.

Does he really love her?

Maybe not!

Jimmy just loves everything about the Nandlall family, such as the power of the Nandlall family, and the benefits Rose brings him.

Rose couldn't see through his heart now. She was still immersed in it. After a long time, if she has no use value for Jimmy, Jimmy may change his attitude towards Rose.

Listening to Theresa's frustrating words, Charlie said, "I don't want to hear your harsh words. I said I like you. I mean it! I won't let you down! I can't believe it. You are just disappointed in love because of Jimmy. He is a scum. There are still good men in the world!"

Theresa was still absentminded because of the topic Charlie just said.

Hearing Charlie’s words, she was shocked for a moment, “It’s all over. Forget it.”

However, Charlie showed a solemn look.

He looked at her. “Did he do that before the divorce?”

“No, he was kind to me before the divorce.”

After the divorce, Jimmy felt more guilty and treated Theresa more badly.

Especially after she was married into the Calsis family...

He has beat her up more than once.

Charlie said, “Is he always looking for you now?”

Theresa thought that no one would pay attention to these things.

Theresa didn’t expect that Charlie would ask these now.

She said, “Charlie, I want to sleep.”

"But I don't want to say much about him."

Perhaps they both wanted to retain a little dignity when facing the people they like.

Theresa didn't want Charlie to know what she suffered before.

What a shame!

Her past life made her feel ashamed.

Theresa thought that if she met Charlie at a younger age, she would treat him well. After all, she was an innocent girl then.

But now...

The world broke her heart.

She also became no longer gentle!

Charlie said, "About Rose, what happened?"

Ben shook his head. "No."

While putting on his shoes, he looked at Leonard and said, "Is Leonard okay? Is he better?"

"Still ill." Mrs. Calsis said, "Let him sleep."

"Then we keep it down." Although Ben was still a little boy, he was very sensible.

Mrs. Calsis said, "Well, let's go. Let's go down for breakfast."

With that, Leticia looked at Cristina, who was still sleeping on the bed. She was lazier than Ben. As a mother,

how could Cristina be careless like this?

She just slept all the time.

Theresa entered from the door and Ben saw her, "Mom."

Mrs. Calsis said, "You woke up so soon?"

Theresa said, "I can't sleep. Come to look at Leonard."

Mrs. Calsis said, "Then you can accompany Leonard and I will accompany Ben to have breakfast. When

“Yeah.”

“How’s Leonard?” Rose asked, “Is he better?”

“Theresa is with him. I have to go home to change my clothes. I haven’t been home for several days.”

During these two days, she has always worn Brenda’s clothes.

Rose was surprised to hear Theresa’s name, “She hasn’t left yet?”

Cristina frowned and didn’t want to talk nonsense with Ms. Nandlall, who only expected Theresa to leave.

Cristina went straight out.

Rose sat at the table, frowning.

Pat came over, looked at her, and asked, “What’s wrong?”

Rose said, "Dad, Theresa is back again."

Did Uncle Charlie want to appease her?

Rose could feel that Uncle Charlie has treated her much better since she had been discharged from the hospital.

As long as Theresa doesn't sow discord between them, Uncle Charlie still loves her very much.

The housekeeper was scared. However, when he looked at Rose's expectant face, he had to tell the truth, "It's for Ms. Cameron."

Rose was stunned, "Is it for Theresa?"

No way!

They became like this now. Why did he send something to Theresa?

The housekeeper looked at Rose and reminded her friendly, "You should call her Auntie Theresa. If Mr. Calsis knows it, he will be angry."

Rose said, "She is not!"

The curtain of the balcony was drawn back. People could see those white gardenias through the window.

Theresa looked at the flowerpots and asked, "Did you buy these flowers?"

Charlie was happy to hear that Theresa finally asked him. He said, "This is for you."

Theresa looked back at the man and said, "You're boring."

"From now on, I will pursue you as a man. You can dislike me, but I will treat you well. You can't stop it, right?"

Theresa was speechless.

Theresa thought it was weird, "Charlie, I think you missed the point."

"What?" Charlie looked at her with curiosity.

"About Rose..."

"Did you push her?"

Theresa opened it and took a look. There was some cash, but not much. There was a bank card and a credit

Charlie said, "The password is my birthday. If you like, you can use it."

Theresa looked at the man in front of her and rubbed her eyebrows.

Theresa suddenly regretted asking Charlie to give her more money.

She said, "Are you insulting me with money?"

"I will do whatever you like."

"I won't accept it." Theresa said, "In your opinion, what I am?"

"My wife."

Theresa was speechless.

"If you think it's not enough, I can give you my salary card in the future."

Theresa was speechless again.

Rose said, "Of course."

"Get in the car." The Calsis family won't allow him to get into the house. Rose had to walk to his car.

When Rose got into the car, Jimmy helped her fasten her seat belt.

Jimmy drove away from the Calsis's residence.

Rose sat in the front passenger seat and gazed at this handsome man. He was very considerate of her.

Rose said, "Jimmy."

"What?" Jimmy gave her a gentle look.

"Do you like me?" Rose asked.
