Chapter 501

"Do you believe that?" Theresa looked up, her beautiful eyes shining.

She looked at Charlie as if he were a retard.

Seeing how indifferent she was, Charlie felt bored, so he simply stood up and walked out the door.

He went back to his bedroom and took a shower. He hadn't slept well last night, so it was a good time to get some sleep.

Theresa kept playing chess with Old Mr. Calsis in the room. Before long, Brenda appeared at the door, "Madam, please come out for a minute."

Hearing this, Theresa said, "Now?"

She hadn't finished the game yet.

Brenda said, "Leticia is back!"

Moreover, Leticia looked quite unhappy.

Theresa remembered that she had left halfway through a conversation with Leticia in the morning...

When Theresa lowered her head, Leonard reached out to touch her head, “You’re upset?”

Theresa was stunned for a moment, not expecting Leonard to be so perceptive.

She laughed, “Why are you saying that?”

“That woman said today that she’s going to be our mother, so is Badass Charlie really going to marry her?”

Theresa said, “No. Don’t think nonsense!”

Leonard looked at Theresa and said, “Mom.”

“Hmm?”

“If they treat you badly, let me marry you when I grow up!”

Listening to the little one’s innocent words, Theresa couldn’t help but laugh out loud, “It would be nice if you could make me worry less when you grow up.”

Leonard said, “I wouldn’t. I’m not like Badass Charlie!”

After taking a look at Jimmy, Rosales realized that he still had a big problem with Theresa. It’s not that Rosales wanted to be nice to Theresa now, but that she knew Theresa had the evidence that could destroy Jimmy.

Rosales glanced at Rose, who was sitting on the sidelines, and said, “Jim, don’t take it personally the next time you see Theresa. You’re divorced, so just let her go!”

Jimmy said, “Mom, it’s not that I don’t want to let her go and it’s that she doesn’t want to let me go.”

She should be responsible for what’s happened!

He’ll be waiting for the time when she’ll be unlucky!

When the time came, he would not just let her go.

Looking at Jimmy, Rosales felt very worried and at that moment, Rose spoke up, "I heard today that those two kids of Theresa's are my uncle Eugene's."

Rosales looked to Rose, "Who said that?"

Rose said, "I don't know, but now everyone knows that And, Sarah wants to marry my Uncle

"Grandpa, Ben spoke up.

"Leonard," Theresa reminded Leonard, who kept silent.

"Grandpa, Leonard muttered.

Theresa frowned at him. He was too indifferent!

Sarah was surprised Theresa didn't bring her own children. Speaking of which, Theresa had never shown up with her children. 'Is she afraid to let Charlie see her children? How ridiculous! Why should she please the cripple like that?'

Johnson asked, "Where's Charlie?"

Theresa glanced back at Charlie in the car. "I'll go get him."

Sarah asked stiffly, "Charlie, you can stand up?"

Charlie glanced at her and nodded. "Why? Are you disappointed? After all, I'm a cripple in your eyes, aren't I?"

Embarrassed, Sarah turned scarlet and then white.

Leah explained quickly, "Charlie, Sarah used to be childish. She didn't mean it. It's all in the past! We're all so happy for you."

Sarah sneered at Theresa. "Tsk, ts, you knew Charlie could stand up so you ingratiated yourself with him. That explains it."

"If it makes you feel better to think that." Theresa was not surprised by Sarah's reaction. She knew Sarah was angry at this point because she hadn't smiled all night. She was embarrassed every time Sarah taunted Charlie. They guessed correctly. Sarah regretted it when she learned that Charlie could stand up!

Sarah complained, "Why didn't you tell me earlier? Did you steal Charlie from me on purpose?"

"What are you talking about?" Theresa stared at Sarah in disbelief. 'I stole Charlie from her? How ridiculous!'

"Yes! You didn't get along with Jimmy so you grabbed the opportunity to marry Charlie. I knew you were not that good! You must move out of Calsis's Residence! Dad said he'd let me marry Charlie as soon as I got back. I was childish before. Now I'm going to marry him. You don't have to replace me!" Sarah shouted in a commanding tone.

by Sarah's words. She knew Sarah was mean, but she was still irritated! She denied it, "Who said that? Do we need to report to you?" Charlie couldn't move his legs before, so it was normal that they didn't sleep together, but it didn't mean they would never do that. She believed that Charlie was not like Sarah said he was. She could feel

You rarely lie so I can see right through you. There's no shame in it. After all, Charlie has turned down so many better women than you. It's just that he's too picky. You'd better leave on your own. You'd be out."

Chapter 507

Theresa's lips curled. "She asked me if I had known you could stand up and blamed me for not telling her earlier."

"She's insane. Don't take it to heart!" Charlie was in a good mood at the thought that Sarah was now very angry.

Theresa wiped the water off her hair and Charlie took the towel naturally. He was very sweet and loving toward her.

Theresa stared at his handsome face. "Charlie."

"Huh?" Charlie looked at her with a concerned look in his eyes.

Theresa asked, "Did you ever like Sarah?"

Charlie frowned and glared at her in disgust. "Ow! It's disgusting!"

"I'm curious about it. You were together, after all. Don't tell me if you don't want."

Theresa admitted that she was a little narrow-minded. She was a little afraid and wondered who Grandpa would like when Sarah showed up. After all, Sarah was the one he had been talking about.

After a while, Leonard yawned, but he watched very carefully. It seemed that he was very interested in chess.

As for Ben, he had fallen asleep on Theresa's lap.

The butler came over and said to Old Mr. Calsis, "Let's go to sleep! Mrs. Calsis is going to put the children to bed."

"Charlie's not that kind of guy." Theresa looked at Dick and realized that this man really talked quite a lot.

Dick heard her words and sneered in defiance, "Are you women all like this? You will still speak up for the man who dumped you?"

Theresa looked at him and asked, "Can we start the treatment now?"

Looking at her in a calm manner, Dick was inexplicably subdued and quieted by her.

Standing behind Dick, Theresa began to give him acupuncture, while Mr. Garson stood by and cautiously stared at the scene.

It was like the way Jonathan looked at her when Theresa went to treat Charlie...

Treating insomnia was not a difficult task for Theresa, but it required some patience.

After the acupuncture, Theresa looked at Dick and asked, "Mr. White, how do you feel now?"

Dick said, "I have no feeling. Can you really heal me?"

Theresa, "..."

Choking on Rawlins' words, she laughed, "Don't worry! I can't stand Mr. White's temper and I just want him to invest in my father's company."

Rawlins was surprised, "Why? I heard that Mr. Calsis has invested in your father's company. With his ability, do you still need to find outside investment?"

Theresa said, "I have my own reasons. Let's talk about this matter after I cure Mr. White and I believe you will keep your word."

She thought it over. If she took Leonard and Ben away, Charlie might do something against her father's company...

She couldn't ignore the company just because of her decision.

And in SERAMETON, there were few people who were able to bail her father's company out from Charlie.

After getting out of Dick's house, Theresa didn't rush back to the Calsis family. She planned to go over to see the house her father had bought for her, and when she got out of the Calsis family, she would move there directly.

However, Theresa was only halfway there when she received a call from her father, Johnson,
