

Divorcement 541

Chapter 541

Theresa was confused for a moment... Well, why was he suddenly talking about Roderick?

She denied, "Nothing!"

Just as they entered the door, Charlie grabbed her hand and pulled her into his arms.

He leaned against the door and looked at the woman in his arms. His eyes were fixed on her face. "He is your children's father?"

"Huh?" Theresa looked at the man in front of her and wondered what was wrong with him. Hearing his words, she couldn't help but feel funny.

So, that was why he had targeted Roderick so much over dinner?

What Charlie said made her want to laugh.

What the hell was he thinking?

He was so suspicious of who the children's father was, which simply showed that he didn't trust her.

If there was really another man... it would mean that she had cheated on her husband!

Theresa said, “Sure. You’re not going home?”

Cristina frowned. “What’s there to go back to? I have no place in that family, do I?”

Cristina’s parents got divorced when she was very young.

Her father married her stepmother and had more children. Now, she was like a stranger in the family.

She did go home for the holiday last year, but she ended up coming back within two days. That home made her feel out of place. Even her father felt like a stranger to her.

Theresa took a look at Cristina and felt sorry for the girl.

She asked, “By the way, how are you and Eugene doing?”

“Same as usual,” Cristina said. “I have been staying with him these days. I have no choice. He said he would go to Charlie about the kids if I didn’t stay there. He is a mean person, isn’t he? I don’t know what he wants to do. He is nice to me, but I have no feelings for this jerk now. I just feel uncomfortable when I

Daphne came to see them.

Theresa introduced Cristina to her.

Daphne looked at Cristina and said gently, "Hello."

The two girls shook hands.

Cristina sat next to Theresa and looked at Daphne. She had to admit that Daphne was a wonderful person.

Cristina had grown up without parental love. Seeing Daphne, she had an inferiority complex.

Daphne said, "By the way, Roderick is also here. I don't know what he's doing. I'll make a call and ask him to come over for dinner."

"Uncle Roderick?" Leonard was glad to hear that.

Theresa didn't know what to say.

Even she was surprised to see how much Leonard liked Roderick.

Cristina said, "Yeah. When we went out on vacation before, it was all crowded outside and that got us in a bad mood."

Roderick smiled.

They had two kids with them, and Cristina did not know how to ski, so Roderick took them to the novice ski area.

It was the first time Cristina had skied, so Theresa came to teach her. At this time, Theresa saw Leonard, who was on his skis, skiing down all the way...

Cristina said enviously, "Leonard is so good that he actually knows how to ski. When did he learn that? Why didn't I know he could ski? It makes me feel that I'm so stupid.""

Theresa said, "Well, I also don't know. Did he learn it in kindergarten? He didn't even tell me!"

Roderick looked at the two ladies and asked, "Do you need any help?"

Theresa said, "I don't think so. You take care of the kids for me while I teach Cristina."

Cristina didn't know Roderick very well and she was afraid she would be embarrassed, so she had to be taught by Theresa.

And Roderick had to ski down with Ben.

"..." As he said this, Cristina felt even more humiliated, as if she was being laughed at.

Theresa pulled Cristina up and noticed that Charlie came with Eugene.

Theresa looked over at him, "Why are you here?"

When she told Charlie that she was coming to ski this morning, he didn't say he was coming.

Charlie said, "I came over to see the kids."

Because Theresa had not told him about the father of the two kids, Charlie was a little angry and did not really want to yield to her.

But he did care about this thing, and when he heard that Eugene was coming over, he came with Eugene.

At this moment to see Theresa, Charlie did not admit to coming to see her, only to say that he came for the kids.

Theresa looked over at Charlie, who looked very handsome in his ski suit, but Theresa kept her sanity, "Charlie, you can't ski now. Your leg is healed, but you still need to recuperate for a while longer, and you can't be in such a hurry to exercise."

Charlie looked over at her, "I know."

When she finished her coffee, she licked her lips, which looked very cute.

Theresa put down her glass and found Charlie staring at her.

He stared her straight in her face, which made Theresa so embarrassed that she averted her gaze and pretended not to see his sight.

After finishing this cup of coffee, Jonathan and the others came back.

They got tired of skiing in the novice area and were ready to go outside to ski.

Theresa stood up and said to Charlie, "You take a break, and we'll go play."

Charlie, "Well."

What? And he was just left here by her?

She froze for a moment, and then remembered her current relationship with Eugene. Cristina said with an expressionless face, "I'm not coming with you! Scumbag."

Her attitude changed too quickly?

Just now when she learned to ski and jumped into his arms, she was obviously happy.

While waiting for Charlie, they went to change clothes.

After taking off the heavy ski suits, they were instantly relaxed.

Leonard's shoes couldn't be taken off and Roderick was helping him with them.

Watching Roderick squatting in front of Leonard, Theresa thought he was really kind of awesome.

Because Leonard was rarely close to others.

Theresa walked over to the two of them and looked over at Roderick, "Thank you."

Roderick raised an eyebrow and said, "It's

"I don't want to discuss that."

When she left, she would forget Charlie and live her life quietly.

Looking at Theresa, and then at Leonard, Roderick was anxious for Charlie...

If Theresa really took Charlie's two kids away, Charlie would be mad with anger by then.

Just at this time, Ben's voice rang out behind them, "Dad."

Theresa and Roderick realized that Charlie had come in.

And now, he was standing aside taking off his gloves and clothes... while his dark eyes were locked on Theresa and Roderick.

Not surprisingly, wherever Theresa and Roderick went, they were talking about something.

Cristina said, "Okay."

Cristina also quite liked drinking. Today she was having a good time, so she also wanted to drink some.

Eugene then had her poured, but not much, "You need to drink less. If you get drunk, you'll go crazy again."

"When did I go crazy?" Cristina said discontentedly.

"Do you want me to send the video of you getting drunk and crazy to everyone?" When Cristina and Theresa went to the Hunk Restaurant for drinks last time, Eugene was tormented by her after she returned.

Hearing his words, Cristina twitched her lips.

Cristina said, "Theresa, do you want to drink some?"

"No."

"Drink a little." Cristina said, "Come on, let's drink some together."

After saying that, she also asked Eugene to pour Theresa some wine.

She was a little helpless, but it was fortunate that the elevator soon arrived. Someone was waiting outside, so she hurriedly helped him out the door before she was embarrassed.

"Which side is your room on?"

She took the room card and started looking for the room number by looking at the sign on the wall.

Finally, she found the room, but Charlie was standing still and didn't go, so she had to walk over and drag him back in, just like taking care of a little kid.

Charlie's room was a single queen room. Theresa opened the door to drag him in.

And then, the lights in the room turned on automatically.

She took him to the bed and said, "Take off your clothes and go to sleep!"

When she finished, Charlie immediately lifted his neck.

Theresa froze for a moment at his move. Did he mean for her to undress for him?

"Are you a little kid?"

Neither Leonard nor Ben would let her help them undress now.

Theresa reached out and helped him loosen his tie and unbutton his shirt anyway...

He felt hot all over after drinking wine. Looking at her who was undressing in front of him, he
