Chapter 811 The Belief for Love

Theresa said, "Of course. I didn't explain to Charlie to spare him from hope in me. He should part with me and live a better life. As for me, I am content to live with the two children, which is the most desirable condition for me. And I don't want to get entangled with him anymore." She knew about the poor relationship between Charlie and Dick's kin. So she wouldn't entrust the two children to them and put them and her at risk.

Leticia looked at Theresa and heaved a sigh. "Well. Sorry, I shouldn't be so mean to you."

Theresa got the tissue and wiped her hands. "Never mind. I know you are concerned about your grandsons." After she divorced Charlie, she was sensible enough to know the people of the Calsis family cared for her simply for the sake of two children and didn't place too much hope in them. Regarding how much sincere concern Leticia had for her, she didn't bother to consider it.

Leticia said in a formal tone, "Theresa."

Theresa looked at her and asked, "What is the matter?"

Chapter 812 Jimmy's Trick

A subordinate walked in and said to Leticia, "Mrs. Calsis."

Sitting in the seat, Leticia put down the scissors gracefully and asked, "What is the matter?"

"Ms. Nandlall has been staying in the hospital."

"The hospital?" Leticia asked curiously, "Why did she go to the hospital?"

"I heard that Jimmy had committed suicide and that all the people of the Watson family were in the hospital."

Hearing this, Theresa paused. She looked at the informant and asked, "Is Jimmy dead?"

Chapter 813 Jimmy's Confession

Jimmy heaved a sigh, "When I was with you, I was plagued by the fear of losing you. Now that I have lost you, it suddenly occurred to me that my life is not worth living... I was a nobody in my previous life and lived humbly, different from Charlie and Dick, who are my peers and always do as they like without worries."

Rose stared at him. "You are not such a sentimental person."

Jimmy said, "I am just an ordinary person. I didn't take it seriously when I quit Cameron's Group because I thought you were on my side. But I didn't expect you to abandon me. I believed that however tough my life was, you would support me. After all, you are the only ray of hope in my life. But now that you have turned your back on me, I find my life signifies nothing. When I was a child, I knew studying hard was my only way out. My parents strove to collect the tuition fee for me, and I believed as long as I worked hard, I would establish myself in society. I didn't expect myself to be incapable of keeping my favorite woman at my side."

she could tell from his look that he had hard times. When he had been at Cameron's Group, he had been a hard-working employee who had always worked overtime and stayed up late. Rose said to Jimmy, "I know you have your difficulties. But they cannot justify the wrongs you have done to Theresa." She had been ignorant of the truth and misunderstood Theresa as an adulterer. After listening to the recording, she found Theresa had been wronged by Jimmy and suffered a lot. It was understandable that Theresa had taken revenge

"Don't worry about me," Rose said, "As you said, I was born into a wealthy family and knew nothing of the bitterness of life. As a result, I could hardly imagine what hardship you have suffered in your life."

Jimmy looked at Rose, who lowered her head guiltily, and a triumphant look flashed in his eyes. Rose was artless and different from Theresa, who was calculating. But the recording she handed over to Rose seemed not to make her change her mind and leave him. Instead, she forgave him when he put on a pitiful look and acted miserable before her.

Since Jimmy had agreed to apologize to Theresa and given up the idea of committing suicide, Rose cheered up.

Not long after, someone knocked on the door.

Both Theresa and Leticia were at home. Brenda led Rose into the room.

Since she had stayed up all night, Rose looked lethargic. She said, "Good morning, Grandma Leticia."

Leticia said, "Take your seat."

Rose walked to the side and sat down. Since she was close to Theresa, she looked at her and said, "Hello, Mrs. Calsis."

Theresa took a look at Rose and said, "I have divorced Charlie. So you don't need to address me as 'Mrs. Calsis.' Just call me by my name."

Rose nodded. "Okay."

Chapter 816 Rose's Defense for Jimmy

Rose was not evil by nature. After knowing the injustice Theresa had suffered, she had a bad conscience and felt sorry for her.

Seeing Rose defend Jimmy earnestly, Theresa said, "You needn't apologize to me on behalf of Jimmy. It's he who has done wrong to me, and he should apologize to me in person."

Rose continued, "I have talked with him about this. He said he would apologize to you when he recovered. He was determined to right his wrongs. Theresa, Jimmy has indeed caused many troubles. But it has been a long time since he made those mistakes, and he has received due punishment. Besides, he lives a tough life. He has been working hard in Cameron's Group but has now lost his job. Can you forgive him?"

"I can't forgive him," Theresa looked at Rose, not knowing how to persuade her, "Love makes you blind. There are strong pieces of evidence of his crimes. Why did you still believe in his lies? Do you think he has reflected on himself? He never thinks he has done anything wrong. His only fear is that you will leave him. Do you know it?"

"You didn't see how pitiful he was now. Theresa, despite the crimes he has committed, he has the right to reform himself. Please give him a way

She hadn't believed it when Jimmy had said that Theresa wouldn't forgive him. But now she testified to Theresa's stony heart with her own eyes.

Leticia said, "Rose, although Theresa's words may sound cruel to you, I share the same view with her. Jimmy is too selfish to commit suicide and will Theresa looked at Rose who looked sincere, knowing that she was genuinely sorry for what she had done. But... Jimmy and Rose were not the same people! Rose was so silly!

As soon as Leticia saw Rose like this, she got angry and said, "Get up! What are you kneeling for? You've lost your head for Jimmy!"

Rose said, "I just want to apologize for Jimmy."

"Apologize for him?" Leticia felt she was dying of anger at Rose. "We didn't raise you to be led around by men. Can you be any more stupid? It's Jimmy's fault, not yours. Why do you apologize for him? Gosh, you're killing me!"

"Grandma." Rose looked at Leticia guiltily.

Leticia found that Rose was really brainwashed by Jimmy. She commanded Brenda, "Ask someone to send her home. From now on, she is not allowed to see Jimmy. After Pat back, I'll ask him to deal with their divorce things."

Charlie knew there must be a reason why Leticia suddenly had her freedom restricted.

Leticia said, "She's crazy. She said she would break up with Jimmy yesterday, but last night Jimmy pretended to commit suicide, and she changed her mind."

Hearing this, Charlie subconsciously glanced at Theresa and said, "Jimmy would actually commit suicide?" Jimmy was so thick-skinned and scheming Charlie did not think he would commit suicide.

Leticia said, "I don't think he will either, but he really scared Rose. She actually fell on her knees to Theresa to apologize for Jimmy. What does what Jimmy did have to do with her?"

Charlie looked at Leticia and said, "Don't be angry. I'm gonna go to the hospital to do an examination. I'll see Jimmy by the way."

"There's no need to say that." Charlie said, "After all, it's a private matter."

Theresa said, "Well, that's right."

Charlie looked at her and said, "What? Are you under pressure to take care of me?"

"I just dare not care about you." Theresa said in a cold voice. She remembered that day when he had drunk, she had kindly let him sleep in her room, and the way he had behaved chilled her, so she could never care about him again.

Charlie heard her words and fell silent. Seeing this, Theresa also did not speak. The two went straight to Jimmy's ward.

Jimmy snapped, "It's none of your business! She said she'd be here this afternoon."

Theresa sneered, "Sorry, aren't you dying? How come you don't look you are dying when you talk?"

Hearing this, Jimmy was choked. He was playing a suicidal, dying man. Theresa reminded him of that, and he restrained a lot. Theresa gave a contemptuous smile, looking at Jimmy. He could only fool little girls with his tricks.

When Eric saw Theresa act arrogantly in the ward, he said, "Mr. Calsis, look at her. She's bullying my son. Don't you think it's so unfair to help her?"

Charlie glanced at Theresa and said, "That's the kind of attitude a man like your son deserves. Theresa's right. We're here today to talk about the divorce. Soon Jimmy won't be part of our family!"

"Says who? Eric was not convinced. "When we brought Rose back, we gave you bride price. Now they have to divorce just because you want them to?"

"We got the bride price, so Rose has to be a slave wicked girl!" Hearing this, Eric rushed over to
