

everything gone wrong

Eric's p.o.v

Since my father-in-law dropped the kids off in the hotel lobby and I brought them to my room this morning, everything has gone wrong. First, they didn't like the food. Then, when their grandma came out of her room, they basically shut up and wouldn't even talk. Only Valeria did. When I asked them what they wanted to do, Julian said they wanted to watch some tv. I allowed it since I am trying to get them to be happy and want to come with me more often, but I got so upset when the kids brought up that trash biker. "Look, that motorcycle looks like the one Alex brought over." Julian told his sisters. My mother-in-law eyed me to see if I would say anything, but I just acted like I didn't hear them. I let them keep talking as I listened. I lost it though when Victoria said she was going to ask him to go to her school for show and tell to show off his bike because he was the coolest person in the whole world. My daughter thinks a lthy biker is the coolest person in the world. I must be invisible then. What is Vanessa teaching her? I yelled at Victoria "That man is nothing but trash, Tori. Being a biker is nothing to be proud of. He is dirty, smelly, mean and ugly." I told her, well all of them, using simple words that they would understand. "He is none of those things. He is nice and he treats us well." Victoria yelled back and I couldn't help it. I smacked her. How dare she yell at me? I am her father. All 3 of my kids looked horried at what I had just done. My mother-in-law looked bored. "Do not yell Victoria. Mind your manners when speaking to elders. I swear my daughter is allowing these kids to get away with everything. Now spending her time with hooligans and allowing them around my grandbabies is just irresponsible. I just can't wait until you take these kids away from her. We will raise them right." she said. Victoria cried in the corner while Julian and Valeria tried to calm her down. I noticed Julian whispering in her ear. Hopefully telling her to shut the fu.ck up. It was soon time for my interview, so I got ready and left them with their grandmother. I told her she could take them to walk around the beach while I was gone and then when I came back we could all have lunch together. Hopefully, by then my kids got their shft together and act right.

Luckily, my interview went great. I rushed back to give my family the great news that daddy got a new job and is moving to town and getting a house nearby and they can visit me every day. But, when I arrived, I was greeted by an empty hotel room. I kept calling my mother-in law's phone, but it turns out she left it in the room. I walk down to the beach to see if I can spot them. What I nd instead is a hysterical woman, telling me she lost my kids. "They were just here a moment ago and now they are gone." she yelled. "I trusted you with my kids," I tell her. I pick up the phone and call my father-in-law. He told me he was going to be around since he is picking them up. I explain what happened and tell him that the kids are missing and he is livid. "Your rst day getting visitations and you already lost them. Visitations mean you spend time with your kids, not pawn them off on someone else to go out and do things. Especially someone who hates kids," he tells me, and I have a feeling that now this will be used against me. This bltch just fu.cked all of my plans up.

Julian's p.o.v

"Hurry up twins, you are walking too slow," I tell my sisters. "I'm tired. I want something to drink." Val says. I look around. "Okay, hurry, follow me." I say. I bring them to a lady who is selling things outside. "Can we have 1 water, please." I ask her and she nods and gives me a water bottle. I pull out money from my pocket, but she shakes her head. "Where are your parents?" she asks. "We need help. We lost our mom." I say. "Oh is she around here?" she asks me and I shake my head. "I am going to call the police. Stay here." she says, and I panick. The police will make us go back with that mean man and woman. They hate us. He hit Tori and I heard grandmother say how much she hates us, but will help dad take us forever to get back at mom and grandpa. I know that she is evil and I have to get my sisters to safety. I have to nd Alex, he will help me. I heard him and uncle Buck say "We always help our family and protect the women", so I have to do that. I can't let that man hit Tori again. I can't ght him. I am too little, so I will help her by getting as far away as possible. The woman goes inside and I grab both of my sisters' hands and run away. I will nd my mom a different way.

We walk for a very long time. I made sure to get the twins away from the big streets. We went through a park and took a break. We played on the swings for a bit. I was trying to think about what I should do. I don't know mom's phone number and I just know that our house is light blue with big windows in the front. All of a sudden, some guys on motorcycles pull into the parking lot and I tell my sisters to wait here. I run over there and I see that they have the same logo that uncle Buck and Alex have on their cuts. I grab the attention of one of them. "Can you call Alex?" I ask him. "Are you Julian?" he asks me and I nod. "Alex is looking for you. Where are your sisters?" He asks me. I point to the swings and he grabs my hand and we walk to them. "Pres, I found them. Bethune Park, got it." I hear the man say. "Alex is on his way." he tells me and I sigh, feeling relieved. I saved my sisters.

Vanessa's p.o.v

After the phone call with dad, I freaked out. I hopped in the van and made a phone call to Eric. The last person I want to speak to, but I have no choice. "I was at a job interview, your mom was babysitting them for me and she claims they just disappeared." he tells me. "Where was the last place she saw them?" I ask him and I guess he is asking her. I feel like my mother lost them on purpose. He tells me the beach, so I head straight there. I walk around asking everyone if they have seen my kids. I even show people pictures of them. I meet up with dad who yells, telling me that a woman has seen them. She tells me it has been some hours since she saw them and that she went inside to call the police for help, but that when she came outside, they were gone. Dad and I continue searching. It is getting late and no luck. Eric keeps calling, but I only answer to see if he found them, but he also has had no luck. I get in my van and I am about to call the police to le a report. I try to think what could have happened to my kids. I do not think they went near the water. The twins are afraid of the water. I am going crazy here. I don't even know what to think. "What if my mom drowned my kids?" I ask dad out loud and his face pales. "I really don't think your mother would do that honey, there's too many people around." he says and I agree. She might be evil, but she wouldn't hurt them, at least not in front of people. I begin to dial when my phone starts ringing. It is Alex. I send it to voicemail but before I can even dial again, he is calling me back. "Let me call you back l..." I'm saying when he cuts me off. "I found them." he says. "What? You found them? My kids?" I ask him. "Yes, they are at Bethune park. I am taking them to the clubhouse. Meet us there." he tells me and hangs up. I sigh, feeling relieved. "Alex has them." I tell dad, who smiles and looks relieved as well. "Lets go get them," He says.

I get to the clubhouse and there are so many people here. I forgot they had guest bikers around right now. Maybe Alex should have taken them home. Dad looks so uncomfortable, but we both get off and go look for my kids. I nd them getting a tour of the motorcycles. A man is showing them all the different bikes they have here. I hug them all and tell them we need to talk once we get home. I send a quick text to Eric that they have been found and that we will talk later. "Dad, load them into the car, let me go look for Alex to thank him." I say, and walk inside. I ask a man where I can nd Alex and he points me to the President's oce. I walk over there and hear a woman yelling. "3 kids Monster, 3. You can't take someone like that seriously. Don't you want kids of your own one day? That's why I did what I did earlier. I can give you what you need." I can tell it is Brea and I don't even want to go there. I don't have time right now. My kids come rst. I will thank him later. I turn and walk out when the Lawyer comes up to me. "I heard what happened and I talked to the kids. Alex said to send you to his oce." He tells me. "He's busy, I will talk to him later." I say. "I will follow you home. We need to talk about what comes next. Let me go get my paperwork and I will meet you at your house," He tells me and I nod.

We arrive home and I sit all 3 kids down. Dad sits in the living room, giving me privacy to speak with my kids. "What happened?" I ask them. "Mom, he hit Tori," Julian says, and it all makes sense now. My boy was protecting his sisters. I'm sure of it. "Then what happened?" I ask them. "Dad yelled and then he left and left us with grandmother and she took us to the beach, but she was so mean the whole time. She wouldn't buy us water when Val told her she was thirsty. She told us she hated us and you and auntie Verlene. She called us names and said she can't wait to take us away from you so she can raise us better than you do." my son tells me. "So you left." I ask him and he nods. "I can't let anyone hurt my sisters mom. Uncle Buck and Alex taught me that," he says. I do not know if to laugh or cry. My son is too smart for his own good, but he can not run away. "Julian, rst of all, thank you for being such a great big brother. I love that you protect your sisters, but you can not run away son. Something could have happened to you three. Next time just tell me if he or your grandmother do something to you and I will take care of it okay?" I ask him. He frowns. "I couldn't protect you mom, but I am older and bigger now and the more I grow, the more I can protect you and my sisters." he says and I smile. "Thank you baby." I say. "Are we in trouble?" Tori asks. "No sweetheart." I say.

Alex (Monster's p.o.v)

I sit in my oce, waiting for Vanessa to show up and pick up the kids when Brea walks in and I groan. I do not have time for her. She starts talking and goes on and on and on. I let her until I have had it. She begins insulting Vanessa and I am done. "Brea" I say, standing up. "I do not know how else to tell you that I do not want you. I do not care how many kids Vanessa has, she is who I want to be with and about what you did earlier." I begin to say when she cuts me off. "I did it, hoping that you woke up and opened your eyes. I expected you to f*ck me, not put your clothes on and go searching for that bltches kids." she tells me. "I do not understand how you are not understanding Brea, the hooking up we used to do is now over. We will speak about this with your president tomorrow. Now I have more important things to do. Stop coming in here or my room without knocking. Now if you can please f*ck off." I tell her as politely as possible, not that she deserves it, but I am a changed man. She looks at me with a pissed off face and dashes out. Not even a minute later, Law walks in. "I'm on my way out. Heading to Vanessa's house now, Pres." He says. "What, why? She has to pick up the kids." I tell him. "Already done. They just left. She walked out from your oce and said you were busy and that she would speak to you later." he says, and I am sure she heard Brea, f*ck. I wave him off. I call her phone and she doesn't answer, so I decide to text her asking her to call me when she gets a chance to. I get back to work, because all of this paperwork isn't going to do itself. A while passes and nothing. I call Buck who says they are on their way to her house. Apparently, the ex and mother just showed up. I think my options over, and decide to just go with my gut. I put on my cut and grab my things and walk out. I notice the party is just getting started. Good thing I am leaving. I hop on my bike and head out.

I get there and as I walk up to the front door, all I hear is yelling. I knock on the door and Buck opens it and lets me in. "Alex" all of the kids yell and run to me. I grab the one with the patch of gray hair and pick her up. Julian wraps himself around my leg and the other twin reaches for me. I really need to remember their names. "Hey kids. Are you guys okay?" I ask them, but none of them say anything. I look at Vanessa and she gives me a half a$$, weak smile. "Vanessa, how many times am I going to tell you" her douchebag ex says when she turns around and slaps him. "Vanessa!" her mother shouts while Verlene laughs and Buck looks amused. The ex holds his cheek. He grabs her arm, but quickly lets her go. I place the kid down. "Go to your rooms." I tell them. "I tell them, the h#!l do I don't want them to witness me f*ck their dad up. "Kids, come back here. Who the h#!l do you think you are, telling my kids what to do?" He yells. "Stop yelling Eric, get out of my house." Vanessa tells him. I see Verlene taking all the kids outside, thank god. "Shut the f*ck up Nessy, those are my kids and if you ever hit me again, you will be sorry stup!d bltch" he says and I lose it. I know he is not talking to my woman like that. I punch him and he falls to the oor, knocked out cold. "Damn, one hitta quitta." Buck says, laughing. Vanessa looks horried and of course, "He is alive, I'llled him. Thank you k!!!led him, call the cops, he needs to be arrested," she yells. Law checks him. "He is alive, just knocked out. Everyone here watched him assault my client, so call the cops and he will be the one arrested." he says, and the woman looks pissed.