

chapter 19 " Worst than strangers"

Sona's pov

It's been a month that I have been working with him and it had been worst than a nightmare.

He makes me work like his personal assistant as if I'm not a professional but his personal servant.

My morning routine is I have to reach the office at 7:45 am. Have to prepare a coffee for him and then just follow his orders.

And I get leave from the office exactly 1 hour late as everyone has gone due to the extra workload he has thrown over me.

The few good things about the office is I have got some new friend and yeah those are my fellow mates in his company. We take our lunch together mostly.

This is how my life is going on.

So as I'm reaching the office I prepared the black coffee for him and exactly at 8 I entered his cabin and gave him the coffee.

He looked me from head to toe.

I don't know what is wrong with my clothes that he daily eyes me from top to bottom whenever I enter first in the morning to his office.

I don't know what wrong have I done with him that he is so rude to me. Sometimes I think it is just me who he treats so specially (note the sarcasm) or just his behaviour is the same way with everyone.

He just looked at me from head to toe and threw some file towards me on the table.

"Just go through these files and prepare the presentation."

Is something wrong with my presence that whenever I'm near him his mood changes from previous whatever it was to angry one.

And again he gave me other work rather than relating to my training.

This is the heights I need to just tell him that I'm an intern here not his personal assistant whom he would order to just do anything.

"Can't you just let me do the work for which I have been assigned here." I found it hard to speak.

And then when the words left me I was like shit what have I said to Mr Shergill, now his anger is gonna be death of mine.

God save me he is not going to leave me now.

He got up from his chair and I wasn't able to read exactly the expression he had on his face. And within seconds I was dragged and my back was touching the wall.

"It doesn't matter whether we are at my home or office, between us the person who will give order here will always be me, so don't you fucking tell me what work you will do and what you will not." He shouted at me.

"But..."

"There no no but Ms Deshmukh you will do as I say or else you will not do any work anywhere...and I will make sure about that." He said near to my ears.

And then brought his face in front of me

Our eyes met

"Am I clear?"

I nodded trying hard not to breakdown in front of him and looked down.

"I need words Ms Deshmukh."

"Yes" and with that I left his cabin taking the files.

I went to my place and broke down into tears what a morning for me.

I decided to do the work so I started reading the files.

My cell started ringing. It was from unknown number. I decided not to pick it up.

I completed examining the file and as that started preparing the presentation.

The door of my cabin opened

It was Brinda. We have been now friends from the day I'm working here.

She is Mr Shergill's PA.

"Sona it's lunch time let's go and have something from the canteen."

"Just a second Brinda let me save the presentation."

"Okay."

My work was almost done so now I just need to show him.

"Ok done let's go".

So we went to the canteen and as I'm taking our order we started eating with some random talks.

Brinda is a sweet and chubby girl no wonder how she handles the works with Mr Shergill when I myself find difficult to make the both ends meet with him because instead of working as a CS intern this moron is making me work as his servant. And she is his PA in real I don't know how she would be dealing with him.

"Can I sit with you gorgeous ladies?" I looked upward it was Akshat.

He works here as an employee in HR department.

I know him and Brinda both since day one and he is such a dramatic and sarcastic person.

"No," said Brinda rolling eyes at him.

"I didn't asked you Brinda I was asking Sona I don't think she is having problem with that."

She again roles her eyes at him.

And I just smiled at their silly things then we three started having our lunch.

We were just laughing at the silly jokes that Akshat was telling us. This particular time of my day wasy favourite when I got to laugh my heart out. Their company was the best where I felt relaxed.

"Guys I'm done with my lunch I'll just come in a minute. Got to go to washroom."

"Okay" I and Akshat said in unison.

So we started having our lunch.

In between we were talking and he was telling me about his HR colleagues and I was just listening to him and smiling.

"Have you submitted me the presentation that you came here to have your lunch. I want you right now in my cabin."

I didn't had to look up to see the person to whom this voice belonged and why the hell was Mr Shergill so much angry.

"I need to go Akshat I have even completed my lunch. Tell the same to Brinda."

He smiled lightly understanding the situation.

As I'm this I grabbed the file and presentation from my table and went to his cabin.

As soon as I entered his cabin he dragged me and now my back was touching the wall. My eyes met his and anger was clearly visible in his face.

But why is he angry now?

God just give me strength to deal with his anger again.

I had given you some work and before submitting it how did you without asking went for lunch. I have already told you to have here.

"But...But I...I have done nothing. I stuttered while speaking. "Yeah this is the effect when he is angry and so much near to me.

"Really don't make me repeat everything. If I'm not saying anything and showing you some leniency doesn't mean that you will take advantage of it."

"But I have completed my presentation then only I went to the canteen."

He just grabbed my arm tightly.

"Have you submitted it to me before having lunch or you took my permission."

"But I was going to submit it just as you are."

"Don't try my patient Sona. From Tomorrow you will have lunch only as I'm taking my permission. And as a punishment your lunch timing is half an hour late than others."

He left me and went to his desk.

"You can leave and keep the presentation on table."

I went to my cabin...

Me and him are never going to come to an even equation.

Our relation as a Husband and Wife is a so impossible thing or even as an employee and employer we doesn't fit in the same frame. Me and Mr Shergill are worst than strangers.

Our relation was and always be a zero.

But I'll not pay any attention to his rude behaviour. I don't give a fuck about anything what he says. I shouldn't let him affect my life.

It was now end of my office timing so I took the cab and came home. I didn't had any appetite today so I went to my room as I'm informing Mrs rose not to make dinner for me.

I took my clothes from the wardrobe and went for a bath.

I wanted to forget whatever happened today so I decided to lighten my mood so I thought of painting something yeah the only thing since my childhood which has a soothing effect on me.

I took my all the colours and sketchbook and went to the balcony.

With this painting I didn't realised how time passed and it was 11:30 so I went to sleep.

Anirudh's pov

Why is she so much nervous in front of me. She went out I can see eyes were having moisture due to my scolding right now.

But why can't she behave as I was passing through the canteen. I saw her sitting with one of the employee of my company. They were talking she was smiling and laughing so brightly while listening to his talks. Her face looks so shy hesitating and pale when she is in front of me even though I'm her fucking husband. Then why is she not reluctant in talking to other males.

Remember Ani that days incident what is she.

Can't she find some female friend to have lunch. I was relieved when I saw through the camera that she used to go with Brinda to have the lunch and was having lunch with Brinda. But no I was wrong since 1 month. She has to show her true colours her character.

And yeah about blame I had asked one to put it in her cabin. And about that don't blame me I was just curious to see how is she at her work and wanted to keep an eye on her. I don't want her mistakes to ruin my reputation.

I know I was doing so much wrong to her but her behaviour I need to correct that first. I call her early and her timing to leave is only 1 hour late. But she never complained I mean she is really hardworking though. Timely completes her work and I'm not able to get much chances to lash my anger on her.

I wanted to lash and lashed upon her.

As I'm that I was storming to and fro in my cabin till the time she collected her presentation

As soon she entered I dragged her to the wall and tightly grabbed her hand from her elbow she looked into my eyes. Those eyes...

Focus Ani

As I'm scolding her I delayed her timing of lunch so that she couldn't have the chance to flirt with my employees.

When office timing ended I saw her taking the cab. It's good I'm never going to give her the privilege of being my wife she will have to go like other employees of this company.

I reached home at 10 as I completed my work in the office. Yeah I'm too much of a workaholic.

Mrs Rose was serving me so I asked her hi Sona had her dinner.

She denied maybe she had eaten something outside.

Then I went to my room.

As I'm taking a bath I went to the bed.
