Settings

The girl with unbearable nobleness and dreadful eyes is definitely not the one who was sent to the "special education center" for less than three days and was bullied by the problematic students inside and almost committed suicide by jumping off the building!

Isn't it An Xia?

Song Zhengwei's fierce eyes sank, and he quickly looked at An Xia.

His eyes fell on the small red mole beside Anxia's earlobe. Human, there is nothing wrong with it.

The grieving Mrs. Song's eyes were blushing and she screamed with tears, "Zhengwei, take her away! I don't believe that she can't open her mouth! Yanyan is dead, I want this **** to be buried with Yanyan, everyone I want to settle down Buried for Yanyan."

Whether or not An Xia, she will let her die, and even let An's family be buried with her!

Yeonyan, her daughter! !

I was so young, and before I had time to enjoy it, I was killed by Anjia!

Song Zhengwei knew very well that he had no way to take people away, and it was even impossible for An Xia to bury his daughter.

He can even be sure that if he wants to make a move tonight, he is very likely to be ended by An Xia.

People, he can't take them away.

However, the lost face of the Song family must be retrieved.

An Xia has no way to deal with it for the time being, so let the people in the family give him an explanation!

Taking a deep breath, Song Zhengwei said coldly: "Ms. An did not ignore our Song family. It seems that it was taught by An's parents. The next day, I will ask your old lady in person. I hope that then, Ms. An Still as hard as today."

An Xia lightly "sneered" and laughed, "There are not many things that I can put in my eyes. You Song family is not even a thing, I will naturally not put my eyes on it."

"There is another Anjia, I hope you can destroy Anjia within three days."

A face of disapproval, partiality, and indifferently, there was the domineering superior who gave orders, and suddenly Father Song felt that he was really going to destroy Anjia, which was also the order of the little girl in front of him.

What irritated him even more was that the Song family was not a thing.

Outrageous!

She didn't even look at Anjia, what else could threaten her?

Madam Song even fainted directly.

The daughter is gone, his wife fainted, Song Zhengwei still has the thought to stay.

He murmured for a few seconds before saying: "Miss Ann, it's not early tonight, or else, you go home and see your crazy mother first?"

After that, she hugged Song Yanyan, who was almost stiff, closed her eyes tightly, and squeezed a "go" word from the gap between her teeth, and left with Madam Song who had fainted.

When he reached the door, Song Zhengwei turned his head again, taking a deep look at the girl who forced him to become corrupt.

In the twelfth lunar month of winter, the clothes are thin, as thin as a bamboo pole, but arrogant and frosty, and the attitude of the whole body is daunting.

With the killing intent passing by, Song Zhengwei strode towards the helicopter.

If this woman is not removed, she will surely be a disaster for the Song family in the future!

Before boarding the plane, Song Zhengwei coldly instructed the assistants around him, "Tell the old lady An and let her know that if she doesn't give me a satisfactory result, Xuancheng will never have a home."

Arrogance is not afraid of death, is it?

If Mrs. An hands her crazy biological mother to the Song family for the sake of keeping her home safe, can she still be arrogant?

Whether it's your own death or the death of your biological mother, choose one of the two!

In the warehouse, An Xia's blood is in the depths of her pupils.

Song Zhengwei's crazy mother is An Xia's biological mother "Ye Mengwei", and she is also her only weakness now.

Settling down, she naturally wants to return.

Seeing the mad daughter-in-law, she personally gave her granddaughter as a "gift" to the old lady of Anjia who was tortured and killed by Song Yanyan.

We will also meet An Ziqin, An Xia's biological father, who abandons his wife and child and takes his mistress back to the home.
