

DOOMSDAY SANCTUARY

Chapter 10: Life and death

"Puff..." With a sharp sound, the long sword was stabbing at the neck of the mutant dog, and blood spurted out immediately. As the pinnacle of weapon forging technology on the earth, the sharpness of the Han sword was quite good.

The mutant dog twitched weakly, staring at Di Ping with blood-red eyes. There was infinite surprise in it. It seemed that he didn't believe that he died in human hands so easily; the three people behind were also stupid. Such a ferocious mutant dog was so easy. It's surprising that he died in Di Ping's hands.

Only Di Ping knew that these mutant dogs believed in their speed too much, and then underestimated him as an ordinary person. He did not expect his speed and strength to be far higher than ordinary people, otherwise he wanted to solve the possibility that this mutant dog would not be hurt. Not big.

With a draw of the long sword, the mutant corpse fell on the ground, and the blood soon stained a piece of grass. At this time, a ball of dark green soul energy the size of a ping-pong ball slowly rose, and then turned into a ball of streamer and shot into Di Ping's body.

"Di...found soul energy, the system cannot be stored if it is not turned on, consume energy to strengthen the host body"

A warm current stronger than before rose from the depths of the body, and then poured into the whole body. The whole body was immediately warm. After ten seconds, the energy disappeared. Di Ping shook his hands and rattled, this time his strength increased too much. , It can only be more than the sum of two times, a full two hundred catties, feeling that the powerful force has given him a stronger belief in survival.

Suddenly Di Ping was shocked. He forgot that there were three people behind him! I wouldn't find them. I turned around and found that the three of them were stupid, and it was unbelievable to stare at the mutant dog that fell on the ground.

"Di-Dige, you...you are too...too advantageous!" The fat man stammered while looking at the mutant dog on the ground.

"Hmm..." The other two drooled, and kept nodding.

"They don't seem to find the soul energy, can it be that only I can see this!" Di Ping saw that the three were just surprised that he killed the mutant dog but was not surprised by the soul energy, because if he saw it, he would be more surprised than killing the mutant dog. Right!

"Di...found the crystal nucleus, please collect it from the host!"

Then the system suddenly prompted again.

"There are crystal nuclei again?" Di Ping was happy, but he didn't care about anything else, and cut open the mutant dog's head with a sword. As expected, a round white jade ball the size of a thumb cap appeared in front of him.

Di Ping bent down to pick up the crystal nucleus without considering the blood, wiped it off and put it in his pocket.

"Brother Di! What is this...this is!" The fat man also saw Di Ping cut open the mutant dog's head to take this thing, and had some doubts.

"I'm back to tell you, leave first!" Di Ping didn't answer the fat man's question, but carefully looked around and said to leave while raising his leg.

The fat man seemed to feel that it was not the time now, and he did not bother with this problem. He quickly followed Di Ping, and Li Sheng and Lao Luo also put down their doubts and followed the two in front; he walked past the middle-aged woman whose neck was bitten by the mutant dog before. By his side, Di Ping stopped. The woman's body was still twitching slightly, but the entire back of her neck was broken and it seemed that she could not survive. She sighed, shook her head, and stepped up into the grass again.

Life is as cheap as grass in the last days. It's so. Di Ping didn't feel it in the books before, but today he really feels it. It's just that this * world, his current ability can't control it.

Screams came from all over the place from time to time. Di Ping and his team carefully pulled the grass forward, stopping and walking. Di Ping listened to them from time to time, and then walked forward when they found no problems.

Less than two kilometers, they walked for almost an hour, the dog barking gradually faded away, and the screams became less and lesser. Di Ping felt a sigh in his heart, and it seemed that the Centurion was almost dead.

"Who?" Suddenly a low voice came from the grass in front of him.

"Is Brother Wang in front?" Di Ping knew that the voice was Wang Delin. Although the voice was a little distorted, he could still distinguish it clearly with his three-time enhanced hearing.

"Brother Di. Di!" At this time, Wang Delin also heard Di Ping's voice, and quickly moved away from the grass and stretched out his head to look at the four Di Ping. He looked surprised and immediately surprised, "You are all okay, great!"

Di Ping nodded his head and pushed aside the grass and walked over. It was only after this approach that there were more than 20 people gathered here. These people are really fateful, Di Ping thought.

"Brother Wang, what are your plans?" Di Ping frowned, looking at Wang Delin, and asked in a low voice, glanced at the group of people squatting on the ground in a panic.

"I think it's better to go to the provincial government to meet up!" Wang Delin seemed determined to go to the provincial government. He gritted his teeth firmly when he heard Di Ping's question.

"Brother Wang, I don't think it's reliable. The distance is too far and the road is too dangerous! I don't plan to go." Di Ping was a little speechless, but he couldn't influence other people's thoughts, so he could only shake his head.

He has been strengthened three times, indicating that the thing in his mind is really useful, and he does not want to let too many people know about such an important thing. With his current ability, he is undoubtedly a time bomb, so he went to join the military base and enter the military base. It's not a good choice, but staying here to maximize your golden finger is your best choice.

"Brother Di!" Wang Delin said anxiously when he heard that Di Ping was not going away, but he was interrupted by Di Ping waved before he could speak.

"Brother Di, I'm not going either, I'll go with you!" At this moment, the fat man Chen Gang behind him said.

"Me too!" Li Shengluo, the two of them quickly expressed their opinions.

They are not stupid, because they saw Di Ping's strength. The sudden burst of power, the speed of swinging the sword, and the ability to kill mutant dogs in seconds are definitely not ordinary people. It is the safest to follow such a talent. This is the first time they went out and died. , If there are a few people still alive.

"I... I will go back too!" At this moment, a young girl wiped her tears and said.

"I... I still have me!" one of the middle-aged men stood up and said.

Three more people came forward one after another. In addition to the three of Chen Gang, five more people are going back together. They are not ready to go to the provincial government to reunite. Wang Delin's eyes flashed with a haze, but he was also a little helpless. Can't influence others.

"Okay, let's go!" Di Ping didn't dare to stay longer, the smell would be big when there were more people, and the mutant dog might catch up at any time.

"Brother Wang, we're going back, you guys are careful along the way!" Di Ping saw the five people standing up, turned around and watched Wang Delin stretch out his hand and whispered.

"Good! Goodbye!"

Wang Delin also stretched out his hand, and the two of them separated after a brief grasp.

"Let's go!" Di Ping greeted several people, bent over and pushed aside the bushes to touch in the direction of the community.

Fatty Chen Gang and the three followed closely, and the other five, three men and two women, followed closely into the grass, and soon disappeared in the thick grass; Wang Delin stared at the direction where Di Ping everyone disappeared for a while, but also one. He gritted his teeth and greeted everyone in a low voice, and walked along the road to the city center.

Everyone walked cautiously and walked for almost half an hour. When the bushes were pulled aside again, the community reappeared in front of everyone. The two big characters on the high gate of the community were so cordial: If it wasn't for the situation, everyone wanted to cheer; Di Ping also let out a long sigh.

Di Ping Xiaoxiao looked around and found that it seemed safe. No one was there and there was no mutant dog. It was quieter and quieter without a sound. This led everyone to quietly touch the door.

"Wow...Ah...Help!" Di Ping and his group had just stepped into the gate, when suddenly there was dog barking and human screams behind them.

Everyone looked back in shock. It turned out that it was Wang Delin and his group. There were only ten people left in the twenty-something group. They were running frantically towards the community, chased by five or six mutant dogs; Wang Delin was not jogging at the front. .

When Wang Delin saw Di Ping and his party, his eyes lit up and he ran towards this side while shouting.

"He's numb!" When Di Ping saw it, he knew that the * wanted to pull himself into the water. It was really not a thing, but it was not the time to curse, so he hurriedly shouted "Run!"

Take the lead and turn around and run, but there are five or six. I don't know if there are any more. If you are surrounded, you will definitely have fun. Don't run and wait when.

The seven people around Di Ping turned their heads before Di Ping told him to run, and rushed into the community in the blink of an eye; how fast he rushed into the community first, ran straight to the building where he lived, only to go upstairs It's safe. The mutated dogs in this empty field can't do anything by themselves. Only when they are scattered can they break them all. Taizu and his elders all guided this way.

"Ah..." there was another scream, and it seemed that someone had been caught up again.

The thick grass on the ground has now become a life-fighting lock for escapers. The grass is too thick and can't run fast with the legs, but the mutant dog is okay. It is faster than human beings by itself, which is faster at this time, and sometimes misfortune comes from behind. Called, everyone was heartbroken and ran desperately.

Di Ping ran to the door, quickly entered the security door code, opened the security door with a beep, stood at the door and greeted everyone quickly.

"Quick! Come in!" It was Li Sheng at the first place. This guy was really not slow. He rushed in first, and another young man was behind him. Soon Brother Luo rushed in. When everyone came in, only Fatty Chen Gang actually had more than 20 meters left. He was so fat that he quivered when he ran and couldn't run fast at all.

"Wang Delin!" At this time, Di Ping realized that Wang Delin had surpassed the fat man quickly, and rushed over quickly, followed by a white-faced middle-aged man behind him.

"Quick...Close the door!" Wang Delin rushed in and shouted to close the door anxiously.

"Can't turn it off! There are still people outside!" Di Ping shouted in a low voice at this time.

"Fatty run!" Di Ping shouted.

The fat man ran and looked back, tears and sweat rushing, and there were three people more than ten meters behind, two men and one woman. The man was still holding a five or six-year-old child in his arms, and a mutant dog behind him killed him. One person, with red eyes, rushed to the three people again. These mutant dogs seemed to be extremely bloodthirsty. As long as someone was in front of them, they would not stop until they killed everyone. They were not bitten by the blood.

At this moment, the man holding the child in front suddenly threw the child into the arms of the woman behind, screaming "Run!"

After speaking, he yelled with a baseball bat in both hands, and rushed to the mutant dog who was catching up

"Ah...I...fuck your ancestor!"

"Ah! Husband!" At this moment, the woman was a little confused, and shouted sternly.

At this moment, the other man on the side reacted, stretched out his hand to reach the woman and ran. The woman seemed to know the chance of survival that her husband gave her and the child, and ran towards the door while crying.

"Ah..." Before the baseball bat that the man rushing towards the mutant dog hits the mutant dog, he was bitten by the mutant dog and immediately splashed with blood in his throat.
