

Doomsday 1171

Chapter 1171: The post-war summary is so cruel

Di Ping half hugged Ning Nan and walked on the quiet path of the community. Neither of them spoke, and walked silently. Ning Nan leaned his head halfway on Di Ping's broad shoulders, and the rosiness on his face never appeared. She disappeared, her eyes were blurred, and her mouth was filled with contented smiles, she seemed to enjoy the process.

This proud woman who has always held her head high, now looks like a petite woman with a small bird, nestling tightly on Di Ping, breathing greedily the fascinating smell of him. .

She has always been an arrogant woman, not only beautiful but also more talented. She doesn't think that there is a man worthy of herself. All the men I have seen dare not look at her in front of her. At one time she thought she would never fall in love with a man in this life. Until she met this man, she didn't know what love is, what it means to be unable to breathe, and the desire to do everything for him, the feeling that she hopes to melt into his body, she is going to sink!

Sinking for love!

It's just the dull nature and the shyness of a woman, she has been reluctant to say, even without showing, just waiting silently, sharing his worries and solving his problems.

At this time, Ning Nan really hopes that this quiet path will never have an end, and just keep going on like this, to the end of the world.

"Come and drink this!" After walking for a while, Di Ping suddenly stopped, magically showing thumb-sized glass bottles in which half of the milky white liquid shook.

"what is this?"

Ning Nan, who was thinking wildly, was interrupted by Di Ping's sudden birth. She blushed and thought that Di Ping had discovered it. She hurriedly raised her hand to brush the hair beside her ear. Di Ping asked her to look at things, she calmed her mind, looked at the milky white glass bottle in Di Ping's hand curiously, and said with a puzzled expression.

"This is a vitality potion, it restores your strength, you can drink it quickly and try it!"

Di Ping shook the glass bottle in his hand.

She felt that Ning Nan's body seemed to be getting softer and heavier just now, and the body was getting heavier and heavier. The whole body was hanging on her body, as if she had no strength. He thought it was because Ning Nan was too tired, so she felt very distressed. Suddenly he thought about the system. Is there any medicine in it that can restore physical strength?

So he went to the system drug purchase page to check. He didn't expect it to be there. This vitality drug is specially used to restore physical strength, and the price is not expensive. The first-order top-grade drug is only 30 coins. Now he doesn't care about this. Money, so I bought a bottle of the best recovery potion.

"it is good!"

Ning Nan's face reddened again, and happily took the vitality potion from Di Ping, took off the cork and raised his head to drink.

"how do you feel?"

Watching Ning Nan drink the vitality potion, Di Ping stared at her nervously and asked.

"It doesn't feel much, it just tastes bitter and bitter in the mouth!" Ning Nan sexyly picked the clove tongue, as if she was aftertaste, but the next moment, she said with surprise on her face: "I feel it. The stomach is hot, and the body is warm!" He said that there was a refreshing feeling on his face, as if he had drunk a good wine, and he was intoxicated and muttered: "It's so comfortable, it's like a hot spring, and the body is so relaxing!" "She said that she closed her eyes as if she was going to fall asleep, and her face was indulged.

Visible to the naked eye, Ning Nan's face became ruddy and shiny again, and the sluggish spirit that was just now quickly changed and invigorated. The whole person seemed to have just taken a bath, and his face was red and simple, and he was full of energy.

After a full minute, Ning Nan opened his eyes, then looked at himself up and down, his hands and feet were still shaking, and then looked at Di Ping with surprise on his face and said: "This medicine is amazing, I feel full of power again! "

"Of course! This is a good thing!"

Di Ping looked at the excited Ning Nan and smiled slightly.

Chapter 1172: Expansion Reward Definite Points

Di Ping thought to himself that this is a Tier 1 best potion, worth 30 crystal coins to buy a Tier 1 weapon, but watching Ning Nan recover as before, he was also very happy.

At this time, Di Ping was a little depressed. He found that he hadn't figured out many things about the system. It turned out that there were so many good things in the system shopping store, and he had never studied it in detail. Big waste.

After the battle was tired, eating a bottle of vitality potion immediately regained his strength, and was able to fight again in a full state again. This kind of thing can really save lives on the battlefield, and such potions have not been discovered before.

"Great! I can get back to work!"

Ning Nan said with joy suddenly.

"Don't even think about it!"

Di Ping glared at her angrily and said: "Today you don't have to think about anything, you don't need to do anything. I will send you back to sleep well. I will give you this vitality medicine to restore your body, no Let you go to work again!"

"Oh, OK!"

Ning Nan was glared by Di Ping, and immediately stretched out her lilac tongue like a little daughter, with a happy expression on her face.

But immediately she was unhappy, because Di Ping was no longer holding her when she got better, she could only leave by herself.

"Ning Nan, didn't we have five or six hundred casualties yesterday?"

The two walked a few steps, and suddenly Di Ping asked.

"Yes!"

Ning Nan looked at Di Ping strangely and nodded.

"Then how do I think there are only two hundred wounded now, what about the other wounded? Is there any other inpatient building?"

Di Ping looked at Ning Nan and asked strangely.

"Oh! No, they are all injured and discharged!"

Ning Nan shook his head and said.

"The injury is healed? How could it be possible that the injury would be cured overnight?"

Di Ping looked at Ning Nan in surprise with an unbelievable expression.

"Yeah! There were so many people last night, and then Cheng Chao called for Mok, Angela and Zhang Zhengyi to treat the wounded!" Ning Nan looked excited and the little star appeared like a star chaser. , His eyes were full of fascinating expressions: "You are not there. The scene is really spectacular. The three of them cast spells at the same time, just like angels descending in the movie. A large holy white light falls in the sky, illuminating the entire sky. It's amazing, no matter how many injuries, it's good to be covered by white light for a while, and hundreds of people are saved in a short while!" At this point, your excitement disappeared, her face was a little depressed, and she said with a lonely expression:" If they hadn't run out of mana, the remaining wounded could be cured."

Di Ping didn't expect Mok and the others to do such a big thing after they came back. No, he didn't expect the three of them to have this ability. The joint cast releases a large amount of energy at one time, and even heals two or three hundred people at a time. If this makes them Casting the spells alone, the three of them can heal at most a hundred people and run out of mana.

Suddenly Di Ping discovered that Ning Nan hadn't followed and was a few steps behind. He turned around puzzledly, only to find that Ning Nan's eyes were red, tears were rolling in his eyes, and his expression was extremely sad.

"Ning Nan, what's wrong with you?"

Di Ping stopped and asked!

"Why don't I wake up! If I wake up, I can save more people, and there won't be so many soldiers who haven't survived!"

Ning Nan did not answer, but tears rolled down in her eyes, and she said with a choked voice.

"It's none of your business, you have tried your best!"

Di Ping watched sadness and tears. Ning Nan, who looked weak, suddenly felt soft. He didn't expect this woman who has always been very good and strong, and proud to show such a weak side. He seemed to be the root that was touched deepest. The weak string slowly walked to Ning Nan, gently holding her in her arms, smelling the fragrance of her hair, unexpectedly, the ghost lowered her head and kissed her hair softly and comforted.

"Ok!"

Ning Nan's body trembled, and there was a soft groan in her nose.

For a while, an ambiguous breath filled this quiet path. Two hearts were beating. Ning Nan had stopped crying. At this time, her body was hot and her body trembled involuntarily, her hands were tight. Pinching them together, trying to stretch out to hold Di Ping's generous waist, it seems a little shy that he dare not reach out.

Chapter 1173: Initial award of points system

"Master, there is a telecommunication request for access!"

Just as Ning Nan finally decided to stretch out his slender hand and hug Di Ping's waist, suddenly a clear voice sounded on Di Ping's wrist.

The sound was like thunder, and the frightened Ning Nan pushed Di Ping away, blushing, and tiring her hair in a flustered expression. He didn't even dare to lift his head, let alone look at Di Ping's face.

Di Ping's arms were still stretched out stiffly, and his expression was as embarrassed as he was.

"I go first!"

When Ning Nan finally raised her head to see the embarrassment of Di Ping's face, she blushed and gave Di Ping a white look. Then she whispered and turned around and ran...she ran away. There was still a string of laughter like silver bells!

Di Ping looked at Ning Nan, who was gradually running away, leaving behind a beautiful back. He smiled bitterly and shook his head, then retracted his stiff hand and touched his nose in embarrassment.

He feels that he seems to have become emotional recently, and he is easily moved, especially by beautiful women. He really doesn't have much thoughts about Ning Nan. Of course, everybody likes beautiful women, but he is not thinking about winning Ning Nan.

I didn't know what was wrong just now, but the ghost ran up and hugged it, and kissed it. This is an abrupt beauty.

However, he smelled the delicate fragrance between his fingers and twisted his fingers to feel the greasiness in it. Suddenly he seemed to think of something, and a wretched smile appeared on his face. If Ning Nan sees this smile, I don't know that Ning Nan will. Will not stab him with a scalpel.

Di Ping shuddered, and hurriedly put down his hands like an electric shock, secretly angry that when he became so wretched?

"Come in!"

Di Ping shouted at "Zero" angrily.

Zero seemed to feel that Di Ping's tone was not good and he didn't even talk more directly to communicate, Liu Bingyu's face appeared before his eyes.

"City Lord, the nine o'clock post-war summary meeting is about to begin, and everyone is almost there. Are you coming over now?"

Liu Bingyu looked at Di Ping and directly explained the purpose of the call.

"Okay! I'll be over right away!"

Di Ping realized that yesterday, Cheng Chao and the others had seen too much of his parents, and they would drive them away for fear of affecting their parents' rest. Before leaving, they would start a post-war summary meeting at nine o'clock the next day.

When Di Ping arrived at the meeting room, the small meeting room was already full of people. At this time, they were chatting happily, each of them looked excited, sputtering stars flying around, and several big people headed by Han Zhongguo and Lu Guoliang. The smoking gun is the smoke in the conference room as if in a fairyland.

With Di Ping's arrival, the conference room suddenly made a noise of tables, chairs and benches. Everyone stood up and looked at Di Ping with eager eyes. Suddenly, there was no sound in the conference room.

"Sit down!"

Di Ping was in a good mood at this time. The defending battle was victorious, and his parents took it back. Early in the morning, they also molested Ning Damei. Now he feels comfortable physically and mentally, so he smiled more on his face, smiling to everyone. He pressed his hand, and then sat down on the main seat.

"Wow!"

Everyone just sat down together, all standing upright, as if waiting for the general's instructions.

Liu Bingyu served Di Ping a cup of tea, then sat next to Di Ping, spread out the notebook and prepared to record, her current secretary is very decent.

"Don't be so serious! Come on, everyone!"

Di Ping looked at everyone's serious faces, but smiled, took out two good cigarettes and threw them on the conference table, smiling.

"Haha! It's still the city lord who has good products, I'll divide the smoke!"

The nearest Han Zhongguo jumped up suddenly, pounced on him, suppressed the two cigarettes, and smiled proudly in his mouth.

"Old Han, quality! Quality! Don't you be so frustrated?"

Lu Guoliang stretched out half of his hand and stiffened, then pointed at Han Zhongguo's serious expression.

"Quality? What is quality?"

Old Han Zhongguo rolled his eyes and ignored Lu Liang's set, then slowly retracted his body, holding two cigarettes in his arms, more nervous than holding a beauty, his eyes scanned the crowd vigilantly, for fear that someone would ***** him.

This scene made Liu Bingyu and Yu Shujie almost couldn't help laughing. The crowd shook their heads with a wry smile, their eyes full of contempt.

Chapter 1174: Explanation of crystal card recognition crystal coin

Han Zhongguo didn't care about everyone's contempt. He took the cigarettes apart, and the smoker threw a pack, and then there were four packs of cigarettes left in his pocket, regardless of the anger of everyone. His eyes were thick-skinned enough to block bullets, and Lu Guoliang and the others who hated it itch.

After getting the smoke, the meeting room was filled with smoke again for a while. If it weren't for the advanced ventilation system, which could quickly exhaust the smoke, otherwise people who didn't smoke might not be able to sit still.

Di Ping glanced at the conference room while Han Zhongguo was smoking. Today, there are more people here, and all the bases are there.

Secretary Liu Bingyu, Military Commander Cheng Chao, Director of Law Enforcement and Staff Lu Guoliang, Director of Civil Affairs Han Zhongguo, Director of Logistics Yu Shujie, Director of Medical Services Ning Nan, Director of Agriculture Delin, Director of Public Security Yun Kuohai, Director of Construction Luo All.

The captain of the Fifth World Team, the Leopards captain Xu Sheng, the Tigers captain Zhang Liang, the Wolves captain Chen Gang, the Eagles captain Li Sheng, the Bears captain Wei Zhongkai, and the guard captain Owen.

The rest are the managers of several buildings in the system, Wu An, the tavern manager, Liu Anhe, the workshop manager, Doro, the market manager, and Delin, the manor manager, who is now the director of the agriculture department.

There were a few more people left, Luo Hongyuan and Shi Dexing. They attended the meeting because they had made a lot of contributions to the city of refuge. There were also Zhang Hengcheng and Gu Xing, who used to be from Denton Base. Although the main leaders did not arrange positions when they arrived here, they also summoned the two during the meeting. They will definitely arrange positions when necessary.

The last person was Han Ming, who found Di Ping's parents. Needless to say, he did not hesitate to say a word from Di Ping. He went through all the difficulties and dangers to complete the task. Such a person Di Ping will reuse it anyway, so Called him over.

A total of more than twenty people dang the small meeting room full of people. The long meeting table is already full of people. It seems that more people will not be able to sit in this meeting room.

At this time, Di Ping felt a sense of satisfaction. His sanctuary city was already full of talented people, and it looked like that.

Boom!

Di Ping gently knocked down the conference table, and the original noise in the conference room suddenly became quiet. Everyone knew that this was the city chief's speech.

"This time the battle for the city is the first huge crisis we have experienced since the completion of the sanctuary. This crisis came extremely suddenly. Our foundation is weak, we have few weapons, and we are inadequately prepared. The city wall has changed hands several times, but in the end all of us With human hard work, we have won, and the mutant beast has been beaten back!"

Di Ping glanced at the crowd and said slowly in a low voice.

Everyone in the venue looked at Di Ping, no one spoke, no one even took a puff of cigarettes.

Di Ping's expression suddenly changed to a low voice: "However, although we have won, we can only describe it as a tragic victory. We have paid a huge price. The defenders suffered more than a thousand casualties, and almost everyone was injured. Many fighters have not survived. These are our elite fighters. This makes me very heartbroken, and there is no reason to be happy to celebrate!" His face turned a little sad when it came to this.

All the people in the meeting looked sad, their expressions changed sadly, and tears were already in the eyes of a few women.

After being silent for nearly half a minute, Di Ping went on to say: "Don't be too sad. These people have all died for our refuge city. They will be the heroes of our refuge city. We will build the hero cemetery in the future. All will be among them for all the people of the refuge city to worship and admire!"

As soon as these words were said, everyone's eyes brightened, with glittering light flashing in their eyes, living to gain fame after death, these people who died in battle can really have such treatment and sacrifice their lives for the city of refuge.

At this time, Di Ping said loudly again: "After the war, it must be summarized. This will become the tradition of our sanctuary. Now the commander Cheng will make a post-war summary report!"

After finishing the opening topic, Di Ping handed the post-war summary to Cheng Chao, the commander-in-chief of the battle.

Chapter 1175: The new department is the Blacksmith Division

Cheng Chao stood up when he heard the words. He picked up a folder on the table, opened it slowly, and scanned it with a serious expression for a week, and then said with his deep and penetrating voice: "We totaled this battle. More than 1,500 troops were invested, including five hundred city guards, seven hundred combat personnel, and three hundred young men who spontaneously organized battles on the top of the city. The battle was recorded for three hours and fifteen minutes, and fifty were killed on the spot. Four people, three hundred and sixty-three people with minor injuries, and 187 people with serious injuries, 38 of them died of serious injuries, 27 people were severely disabled, and the rest were all wounded!"

Speaking of this, Cheng Chao raised his head, his eyes flashed with a warm light, and there was a touch of pride in his heart.

Not to mention him, even if everyone in the room listened to this data, they also felt in their hearts. This battle was really cruel. Nearly 100 people died and nearly 200 people were seriously injured. One can imagine how high this death rate is, everyone. My heart is very heavy.

However, this battle also made everyone gratify. In this battle, almost every combatant was injured.

What does this show? It shows that everyone is fighting, and no one backs down, so everyone is injured. This kind of fighting will has to move people.

Even if Di Ping heard this number, he was deeply moved in his heart. At the same time, he felt heavy. The casualties this time were too great. It can be said that the people paid the price of blood to protect the city. More than 90 live lives were taken. It was thrown on the head of the city like this, and the blood was sprinkled on this land.

No wonder the war is cruel, the crown is poured with blood!

Fortunately, this battle is for people to fight to protect their homes, not for the desires of some careerists. This is the purest side of this battle!

"However, I have good news for everyone!"

Suddenly Cheng Chao's conversation turned, and said with a smile.

"What good news?"

Everyone looked at Cheng Chao with expressions of expectation, and they all wanted to know what the good news he was talking about. Only Di Ping and Ning Nan were present, with a calm expression on their faces. They could think of what Cheng Chao was saying.

"According to our latest statistics this morning, except for those killed and disabled, all of our injured are out of danger, and the three hundred and sixty people with minor injuries have all recovered and returned to work!"

Cheng Chao said with a smile on his face.

"Ah! No way! So many people have recovered?"

"The medical department is so good now?"

Cheng Chao's words seemed like water poured into a frying pan, and the whole venue immediately boiled, talking buzzingly, even if Han Zhongguo and Lu Guoliang didn't know the news, the two looked at each other and exchanged quietly.

"There are still two hundred severely wounded people. Yesterday it was only preliminary treatment. It is expected that all treatment will be completed today. By night, these people should be able to recover!"

Cheng Chao threw another heavier bomb.

The discussion in the venue became even more heated, especially when Yu Shujie approached Ning Nan and asked what she was asking, she wanted to get answers from Ning Nan.

"Old man, I said you don't want to sell officials, just talk about what happened!"

Han Zhongguo is anxious. He has been busy with the affairs of the Civil Affairs Office from yesterday to today. The eating and drinking of thousands of people are all matters, and he is in charge of him. He really doesn't know the latest news, so he is a little anxious Cheng Chao asked after waiting.

"Let's talk about this from Director Ning! He has the most say!"

Cheng Chao smiled indifferently and cast his eyes on Ning Nan who was talking to Yu Shujie.

Ning Nan put away the delicateness that was only found in front of Di Panyang, and at this time returned to the former coldness and pride, stood up expressionlessly and told the story again. Now everyone understands that it was Such a thing.

At this time, in addition to shock, everyone was shocked. It turned out that the city lord's guards had taken action, and only so many people had been treated with magical treatment.

Although they have always known that Mok, Angela, and Gina can use magic to heal injuries, that is only for one person, but they never thought that there could be such a large-scale method of casting spells, treating hundreds of people at once, and they are powerful against the awakened. A higher level of understanding of ability.

This has also made many people feel more envy and anticipation in their hearts, hoping that they can also awaken as soon as possible.

Chapter 1176: The base established the sixth team

After that, Cheng Chao announced the harvest again. If there is a loss, there will be a gain. Although the loss is heavy, the gain is full.

Collect more than 17,000 crystal nuclei, of which the mutant bird has contributed the most to the base, more than 11 thousand, although it is relatively small, it is better than nothing, and it can be exchanged for some crystal coins.

Now add Di Ping's harvest of killing mutant spiders, which is nearly 30,000. There are nearly 50,000 crystal nuclei. This amount makes Di Ping a little dizzy. When did he become so rich, he killed it before. Multi-mutation Rats only saved ten thousand coins.

How many crystal coins can be exchanged for these 450,000 crystal cores, he really didn't dare to think, Di Ping was also scared, and suddenly there were so many crystal cores, he felt a little unreal for a while, and felt that he was dreaming. The same.

Apart from the crystal nucleus, the biggest gain this time is mutant meat, which amounts to 1.5 million catties. If it weren't for a large number of mutant beast corpses to be destroyed by artillery bombardment or destroyed by the battle between King Kong and Di Ping, it would definitely exceed two million. jin.

This is what makes the people in the base so excited that they can't sleep. What is the concept of 1 million catties of meat? One catty per person a day is enough for half a year. With the original stock, the base will not have to worry about it in a year. Eat the meat.

Seeing trucks of mutant beast corpses transported to the warehouse, everyone in the sanctuary city knew that there was food and drink, and no one was happy in a safe place. The original atmosphere of grief after the war was also washed away.

The leaders in the venue were also very excited. This battle was really brilliant. It not only solved the problem of mutant beasts surrounding the base in one fell swoop, but also created a lot of income for the base. Why not do this?

Although some people have been lost, are few human beings dead in these last days?

Compared with losses, everyone sees more gains. Is this cruel? In fact, this is the case. In these last days, people have seen too many deaths, and they have long been used to this kind of joy and sorrow. In these last days, who is qualified to have mercy on others?

Bang bang bang!

Di Ping knocked on the table again, and everyone in the discussion stopped, and then slowly said: "The second battle exposed many problems, such as too few defenders to effectively defend all the defenses; second, too contemptuous Thermal weapons, resulting in insufficient inventory of weapons and equipment, are very disadvantaged when defending the city; third, the combat experience is not rich, and the combat power is not fully utilized; fourth, the logistical materials are not fully prepared, the equipment is unreasonable, and a series of problems, I hope each The departments have paid attention to this problem and actively communicated to solve it." He looked at Chengjun said: "The next step when the city guards go out, they will not only train troops and collect supplies, but also the other main task is to find the residents hiding in the city , Our sanctuary city now has enough food to expand its staff. Without a huge population base, it is difficult for our city guards to grow rapidly!"

"Ok!"

Cheng Chao stood up and responded.

"correct!"

Before Cheng Chao could sit down, Di Ping looked at him again and said, "After going back, we will carry out a new round of army expansion, and the number of the five major teams will increase to three hundred!" As he said, he swept to the five city guards sitting together. The captain said: "After you go back, you will discuss with Commander Cheng, draw up a plan, and report it as soon as possible!"

"Good City Lord, I will make a plan after I go back!"

Cheng Chao nodded, then sat down, and then recorded in the notebook, the five captains also got up and took orders at this time, and then sat down.

Cheng Chao and the five captains are very happy. Now the number of their staff has doubled. Increased strength means increased power. Who doesn't like it.

At this time, Di Ping spoke again: "Everyone has worked hard in this battle. I can see it. Of course you have to reward you for merit. Of course, how to reward this is a question!" As he said, he glanced at everyone, and then watched. Liu Bingyu said: "Next, Secretary Liu will announce the latest point rewards and punishment system for everyone. Of course, this is only the first case. After it was put forward at today's meeting, everyone is discussing it. If there are any shortcomings, let's change it!" Nodded to Liu Bingyu.

Chapter 1177: Han Ming promoted to captain

As soon as they heard that there was a reward, everyone was excited again, and everyone eagerly looked at Liu Bingyu who was slowly standing up.

Liu Bingyu stood up and smiled slightly at the crowd, then turned on the projection in the conference room. Everyone saw the shadow cloth wall. At this moment, there were some tables drawn on it, and the people who looked at it were dazzled. At this time, Liu Bingyu began to explain to everyone: It is the points system that I and the city owner have initially negotiated with. Now I will tell you what kind of point system this point system is for!"

Liu Bingyu began to talk about it while turning the pages: "The point system is simply the currency system of our sanctuary city. Now everyone is paid for work by food. This is inconvenient for settlement and not conducive to circulation. After the implementation of the points system, it will be changed to use points as currency for settlement of transactions in the sanctuary city!"

Once Liu Bingyu's words were over, there was an uproar from the crowd. Previously, distribution according to work was implemented in the base. As long as the job was paid, the salary was food. This kind of settlement was troublesome, and different foods could not be estimated, so it was messy.

There are too many problems in this, and this point system can solve this problem very well, everyone clapped and cheered.

However, Han Zhongguo, Lu Guoliang and Cheng Chao didn't say anything. They watched quietly. Liu Bingyu had communicated with them many times on this matter. They also participated in the design of this point system.

Liu Bingyu and others talked quietly, and then they smiled and said: "After the points system is activated, everyone's work remuneration will be settled in points, including the welfare of everyone present, and the military expenditures of the city guards are all settled in points. , After the points system is opened, we will open the market. All materials are clearly marked and can be purchased directly with points instead of receiving food from the warehouse!"

After she finished her words, there was a lot of discussion in the conference room. This policy is too good, so that you can buy whatever you want. You don't have to get those things, even if you want to change things.

Liu Bingyu smiled and signaled to be quiet. When everyone calmed down, she showed a playful smile and said, "I think everyone cares about the value of this point?"

"of course!"

Everyone laughed.

Liu Bingyu also smiled brilliantly: "One point is currently equal to one dollar, and the purchasing power is equal to one dollar in the market. Of course, the current shortage of materials, the price of market materials may be higher than before the end of the world!" After he said that, everyone's expressions changed. There seems to be a posture of discussion, she hurriedly said: "The specific value will be determined by the changes in the market materials after the opening, and this regulation will be completed by the intelligent system. I believe everyone knows the intelligent system, such as this smart watch in my hand. !" Then she raised her watch: "I believe that the calculation and management capabilities of this intelligent system are known to everyone, so I believe it should be fair and fair!"

Of course, everyone knows the magical smart watches used by senior executives. Many people have experienced the power of the smart system. Therefore, everyone's complexion has improved a lot. They are not saints. If the points issued for a day of work are too few, it is not enough to buy It's good for them to say that they are a loaf of bread. After all, Di Ping can't stop them from filling their stomachs.

These people don't think they are good now, but once someone touches their interests, they can guarantee that they will immediately scold their mothers. This is like Han Zhongguo and they know it best!

Human nature is like this. No matter how he loves and admires you, they will call you stinky shit. In fact, this is also normal. Human survival is the first element. If you can't survive, who cares about your faith! Even gods dare to scold, let alone human?

Chapter 1178: Three people join to change jobs

After the promulgation of the points system, everyone began to discuss, for example, how appropriate the price level should be, how much wages should be set, and how many points should be awarded by soldiers.

In fact, there is not much actual content. Several leaders of the base have discussed it before finalizing it, and it has been approved by Di Ping. The following implementation is complete. No system is completely problem-free. Only problems can be found and solved during the implementation process. , It's only gradually improved.

Originally, Di Ping wanted to set up a material bureau to allocate materials and manage market transactions, but he glanced around and found that there was no suitable candidate. Now a carrot and a hole can be freed up, and then he suddenly felt that he had few people. There is no one available.

So let this matter go, only Du Luo and Yu Shujie can cooperate first! Let the market stand up first, and then decide when there is a suitable candidate!

The matter is basically discussed. The following is the matter of rewards. Di Ping no longer pays attention to meticulous work. With a big wave, everyone present has 1,000 points.

So everyone has a magic card the size of a thin, crystal-transparent business card, with a castle carved on one side, exactly like the castle on the base, and there are a few words on it, "Sanctuary City Crystal Card", The other side is as smooth as a mirror. If you look closely, it seems that some mysterious runes are looming.

Everyone looked at the crystal card in their hands curiously, with curious faces, no one knew how to use this, so they all asked to see who knew how to use it.

This card is still a crystal card made by Di Ping asked Zhenbaolou to spend dozens of coins, and one crystal card actually requires one crystal coin.

Now the base does not have scientific and technological talents, and there is no industrial system. He has no choice but to produce a card. Although the smart system has advanced card surface production technology, it is only a glorious picture. It is not touchable and useless now.

Fortunately, he is rich now, otherwise he would really hate it!

Di Ping looked at the people who didn't understand him, and explained to them: "This is a card, which is equivalent to the bank card we used before. This card can be consumed in the market and the treasure building, and this will record the number of your points and crystals. The number of coins!"

"Oh!" Everyone understood that this card is so useful, but the next moment many people are wondering what the coin is, so someone asked.

Di Ping thinks it is necessary to talk about crystal coins. After all, crystal coins will also be one of the most important currencies in the asylum city, and points can only be regarded as a scoring system but not currency, but crystal coins will inevitably become the most important base. An important currency, so he explained to everyone: "Crown coins are similar to points, but the only difference is that the points are only numbers, and the crystal coins are physical objects. It is a currency made from the animal crystal cores we collected before. This will become the only physical currency in our base. The exchange ratio between it and the points is 1:100, that is, one crystal coin and one hundred points!"

"Oh!" Everyone suddenly nodded their heads suddenly.

"What is the city lord crystal coin?" Han Zhongguo suddenly looked at Di Ping and asked.

Di Ping smiled slightly and stretched out his hand. There were more than 20 crystal coins in his hand, and then handed it to Liu Bingyu, "This is the case with crystal coins. You can check it out. In the future, the treasure building will be opened, and the crystal coins are the only ones that can be handed over to the treasure building. The currency of the transaction!"

Everyone took the crystal coins one after another and studied them curiously.

The material of the crystal coins is very similar to that of the crystal card. They are both crystal clear, and there are patterns on them. Upon closer inspection, you can see that one side is a castle pattern, and the other side is a sword and a shield. There is a small word "City of Asylum" underneath. , The patterns and words are all raised, and it feels good to the touch.

The whole crystal coin is like a warm crystal and feels very comfortable. Everyone is playing with it, and they are reluctant to hand it over.

Di Ping saw this and smiled and said, "You don't need to hand in this, just keep it for fun!"

Everyone was overjoyed upon hearing this, and smiles appeared on their faces, thanking Di Ping!

Chapter 1179: Successfully transferred and donated strong soldiers

"Okay, now you have watched the crystal coins, let's talk about how to use them!"

Di Ping saw that everyone was almost playing with it, and then spoke.

At this time, the crowd carefully put away the crystal coins and began to listen to Di Ping's explanation of the use of crystal cards.

"Doro, can you explain to everyone how to use the crystal coin card!"

Di Ping handed the explanation task to Doro, the manager of the treasure building. After all, he also listened to Doro, and he didn't understand much in many places.

"It's the master!"

Doro stood up, raised the crystal card in his hand and began to explain to everyone: "This crystal card is just a new card. If you want to use it to get the Treasure Tower counter binding, it will become a registered card after binding. This card may be lost. You can also spend crystal coins to make up!"

Everyone watched Dora explain intently, for fear of missing a detail and not understanding.

Doro looked at the crowd and said, "This binding is also relatively simple, that is, fingerprint binding. Whenever you make a transaction, as long as you press the fingerprint on the smooth side to confirm your consent, you can directly trade without fear of being stolen. The fingerprint recognition rate is very high, and the security is extremely high!" Doro showed the smooth side of the crystal card to everyone.

"Every time we trade, our transaction information will be displayed on the smooth surface, and we can also check the balance of the account through the machine and complete functions such as transfers!"

When everyone heard this, their eyes brightened, and they all looked at the crystal card in their hands, wondering whether this is almost the same as a mobile phone? There are such powerful functions on a small chip.

After Doro finished speaking, he sat down and watched everyone discussing for a long time. Di Ping interrupted everyone's discussion with a cough. He slowly stood up and said: "Okay, I'm finished talking about crystal coins and crystal cards. Announce two appointments!"

Everyone sat up straight and their expressions became serious. Han Zhongguo and Lu Guoliang looked at each other. Di Ping did not communicate with them beforehand about any new appointments, and Liu Bingyu also looked confused. This matter even her. do not know either.

After standing up, Di Ping suddenly looked at Luo Hongyuan at the back and said, "Uncle Luo, Uncle Dexing, stand up and let everyone know!"

The two of them were a little stunned. They didn't know what was going on before they were listed in the meeting. Now they understand what position Di Ping was going to appoint them. However, the two of them quickly stood up. They came to the base not in a day or two. The insiders have long been familiar with Di Ping's authority. They don't have any dislikes, but some surprises in their hearts. After all, who doesn't want a status?

They have been embarrassed in the sanctuary city. They don't have to do anything every day, and they eat and drink for nothing. If they weren't able to fight weapons in this battle, it would be even more useless. So they had been expecting Di Ping a long time ago. Can give them a position.

After the two stood up and bowed to the crowd, Di Ping looked at the crowd and said, "I think everyone is familiar with the counterpoint!" Everyone nodded when they heard the words, and he continued: "This time the battle for the city, the two Wei has made a significant contribution to our base. He has built more than one hundred iron bows and tens of thousands of arrows for our base. He has also built a lot of weapons and made a great contribution to defending the city. I believe everyone should recognize it! "

Everyone nodded again, Di Ping looked at Luo and Shi and smiled slightly:

"In view of the experience of this city defense battle, I decided to set up a blacksmith department to build weapons and equipment for the base. Luo Hongyuan will be the director and Shi Dexing will be the deputy director. Heavy responsibility!"

As soon as Di Ping's voice fell, Luo Hongyuan and Shi Dexing showed smiles on their faces. They slapped their chests together and said to Di Ping: "Please rest assured, we will work hard to create the best sanctuary for our city. Weaponry!"

"congratulations!"

Everyone and Shi both stood up and congratulated the two of them, and the two of them broke their mouths and bowed their hands with everyone.

Of course they are happy. They finally have their status now. It is not embarrassing to be in the Sanctuary City. They are not lazy people, and they all want to use what they have learned and use their strengths.

At this time, standing Di Ping spoke again, and he said in a loud voice: "The second appointment will be issued, the sixth team will be established, named "Snake", and Han Ming will be appointed as the captain!"

"Wow!"

As soon as Di Ping's thoughts fell, everyone was talking about it.

Chapter 1180: Fighter in the air shocks the army

Everyone is looking around, looking for who Han Ming is, how could the city owner suddenly appoint him as the captain of the sixth team. You know that there are 300 people in a brigade now, holding military power, and they are already the real power figures above the middle of the base.

After a while, everyone's eyes fell on Han Ming who was sitting at the back.

Han Ming was also taken aback. He didn't expect Di Ping to name his name, but he didn't ask much, but he stood up quickly with his signature free and easy smile on his face. He clasped his fist and said: "In the next, Han Ming, when I first came to the city of asylum, I hope you will take care of you!"

When Han Ming came yesterday, Barton arranged for him to live. When everyone arrived, he was already taken away by Barton. No one knew him. In the morning, Di Ping asked Liu Bingyu to find Barton and inform him of his arrival. He was taken by Liu Bingyu. Everyone who led into the meeting didn't know who it was, but they didn't ask much because of the meeting.

The atmosphere of the sanctuary city is pretty good. Everyone is getting along very well at the moment. Seeing Han Ming holding fists and saluting, everyone stood up in response. Although everyone was full of doubts at this time, how could Han Ming just join the base? He won such a position, but no one asked much, they turned their eyes to Di Ping, and he would definitely explain it.

Di Ping looked at everyone's performance and was very satisfied. Although everyone was full of controversy, no one stood up to object. After a moment, he looked at everyone and laughed: "Han Ming may not be familiar to everyone. Let me explain, Han Ming didn't just join our sanctuary city today. He has been in the sanctuary for a while, or the last time I went to the south to meet him and recruited into our sanctuary city!" He paused and scanned. Everyone smiled slightly and said, "The reason why I am coming back now is because I sent him a mission and just finished returning to the sanctuary!"

"Oh!" There was a trace of comprehension on everyone's faces. They had known each other a long time ago, but they were talking about tasks.

What is the task?

New doubts appeared in everyone's eyes.

Di Ping said slowly: "This task is to find my missing parents! We just stayed for one day, and he took the task and turned hundreds of kilometers. After going through all kinds of dangers, he succeeded when I was desperate and did not report any hope. I found my parents!" His voice was a little excited. He took a deep breath and breathed slowly, and then said: "Moreover, what I didn't expect was that he was in desperation to save my parents. I won't retreat against the tens of thousands of mutant spiders army, and bought precious time for me. Only then did I have the opportunity to rush to rescue my parents from the mutant spider army! I should thank him!" He really gave Han Ming a bow. With a bow, he was solemn and didn't mean to be perfunctory at all, his head had already touched the tabletop.

To be honest, he was really desperate. When he went to the Jincheng base and saw the ruins of the Jincheng base, he really felt that the sky had fallen, and he had no hope, but he did not expect that Han Ming had succeeded and found himself. Parents, not afraid of danger, went to the rescue. Although it was the person who rushed to the rescue in the end, how could he know and how to rush without him, so Han Ming is the biggest hero.

"No...no, this is my duty as a subordinate!"

When Han Ming saw Di Ping bowing to him, his heart suddenly moved, moved in his heart, waved his hand again and again, and then bowed to Di Ping to the end, lower than Di Ping's.

"Wow!"

There was chaos in the conference room, and everyone was talking about it, and the look at Han Ming had changed. No one thought that there would be such a big thing after Di Ping left immediately after the war. How terrible is the army of tens of thousands of mutant spiders? People can withstand and save the parents of the city owner. No wonder the city owner reuses such people.

Can save the city owner's parents, that is the city owner's benefactor, and also the benefactor of everyone in the sanctuary city. What a captain is, no one can say anything strange, not to mention that Di Ping's words in the sanctuary city are not exaggerated. .
