

Doomsday 28

Chapter 28: Realized Castle

Three days have passed since the last incident, but Building No. 1 has become lively. Di Ping has not been idle for the past three days. After sweeping Building No. 2 again, he has rescued five more families, a total of 27 people. People, after that, he also scanned the villa area and brought back 13 people. The people in the villa area suffered the most in this accident. There were 30 single houses and more than 100 rows of houses, only to find The rest of these people are either unoccupied or the glass is broken. There are blood stains in the house, which should be attacked by mutant animals.

So far, all the people in the entire community have gathered here, and with Di Ping and others, there are only 50 people left in this community. It can be described as a heavy loss! The resident population of this community is definitely more than 1,000, and now only one tenth of them survived. It can be seen how difficult it is for humans to survive in such an environment, and Di Ping killed two mutant cats in the process. There are five mutant mice and one mutant dog.

It's impossible for so many people to live in Di Ping's room, so this building is packed up with a two-story house of 7.8 above and let these people live in. Now these people don't think it's inconvenient to live in a room with many people. They have no sense of security when there are fewer people. After that, Di Ping strengthened the group of people between the ages of 18 and 50, and arranged daily duty inspections to ensure everyone's safety. The team was led by Chengchao Fatty Chen Gang and Lao Luo. Li Sheng's injury hadn't been fully recovered, but the injury was also fast. It was a doctor.

Ye Lu and her two girlfriends, who were rescued by Di Ping, did not expect one of them to be a doctor or a surgeon, the woman with a clear voice, Xiao Nan. This woman was named Ning Nan, who was the chief surgeon of the Second Affiliated Hospital of Provincial Medical University. Born, a returning doctor, with a very professional technique. Li Sheng had a broken sternum, which made Li Sheng less painful. Another girl with a soft voice was named Liu Bingyu. Ping smiled, this is really inconsistent with her person, this is how a woman full of femininity and femininity would use this name.

Liu Bingyu is also not simple. She is from Beijing, and her family seems to be very powerful. She also owns a company. This time she ran out to relax. Ye Lu was a classmate in college and had a good relationship, so she lived together. Dew! Now I am also working as a psychological counselor in the Second Affiliated Hospital, focusing on the psychological problems of young people; Ning Nan also met Ye Lu in the hospital and the two met very late, and all three of them gathered here because of Ye Lu.

These people were rescued by Di Ping and they were all very happy, because they finally had enough food and a good night's sleep when they got here. The whole No. 1 building is full of vitality. It seems that this one place is satisfying. ; And these few nights are quiet here. I don't know why. Even the rats don't even go to this community. Di Ping thinks that maybe he killed too many in the past two days. These mutant animals are also afraid. It's not for this reason, he doesn't want to know, it's not better! He comforted himself.

There is a big event tonight, he has something to do. After the killings of the past few days, he finally has the conditions for realizing the castle; he is about to start realizing the construction of the system, and after working hard for many days, Di Ping has long been unable to help. Now, after dinner in the evening, he found an excuse to go downstairs and walked to the back of the building.

He has been optimistic about the location. The small high-rise buildings on the two floors are located in the middle of the community near the gate, and the left, right and back are surrounded by the villa area. When cleaning the villa area in the past two days, he found that the rear villa area covers a lot of land. Large, one of them covers an area of two acres, with a small river on the side that surrounds the villa. The front is a flat bridge that can be opened to traffic, and the back is an arch bridge connecting the garden. The garden is half-moon shaped. , It happens to surround the villa in the middle.

This is specially developed by the community. The selling price is more than 200 million yuan. It's just that no one has bought it. It was vacant. The villa is fully furnished and you can move in with the bag. He is going to have the castle here. He doesn't know what the castle has. How big, thinking that this two acres of land should be enough.

Di Ping stood on the flat ground in front of the villa and looked around. At this time, the originally beautiful grassland turned into waist-length weeds, covering the villa and surrounding it, which made the villa less beautiful and more desolate. , Like an old house that has been vacant for many years.

Calm down, don't think any more, silently in my heart, order to realize the castle.

"The castle can't be bound to reality. There are buildings, please confirm whether it is manifested here!"

"determine"

Di Ping was a little excited and hurried to make sure. He didn't expect that the castle had to be realized directly, and it couldn't be bound to the real architecture, but at this time he couldn't care about other things.

"Dip·····Realization begins, 1%··2%····99%···100%"

At this moment Di Ping noticed a sudden wave of waves above the villa, as if the sky was wrinkled, and the colorful streamers flashed, like the northern lights, it was extremely beautiful, and Di Ping's face flashed with brilliance; only the entire sky flashed. Thundering, thousands of Razers shuttled in the sky like the world is not in the future.

The whole city changed from extremely quiet to extremely noisy in an instant, countless mutant beasts were roaring, undulating, and the sound shook the sky, but the sound was full of fear, as if a great terror would come, and at this time a human hiding in the city Such a frightened body sifts chaff, I don't know what kind of monster moth these mutant beasts raise.

"boom....."

Suddenly Di Ping felt his heart muffled, and a dull loud noise rang in the sky, and then the sky collapsed, and a purple vortex appeared out of thin air. The vortex turned faster and faster and bigger and bigger, and finally formed a one-meter black hole in the sky. .

The entrance of the cave was as dark as ink, and I didn't know where it was passed, and bursts of heart-pounding energy came from the black hole, as if there was a terrifying monster inside, making the scalp numb and afraid to look directly.

In Di Ping's horrified gaze, the black hole trembled suddenly, and a black spot shot out, and the black spot pierced the black hole. It immediately grew bigger and bigger, and finally appeared in the sky a Medieval Western-style castle like a model, like a mirage in the sky. The energy ray was looming, and the city guard began to sink slowly from mid-air, and every minute it sank, it was a big point, and the villa directly below seemed to be shattered into particles, turning into nothingness.

The castle is very large, not the size Di Ping imagined. It not only occupies the place of the villa, but also occupies dozens of villas behind. The area exceeds Di Ping's expectation. I thought two acres of land in this area would be enough, but the fact is that he thought It's too simple. Di Ping kept retreating until he reached the bridge before he left the scope of the castle. He didn't expect a castle to occupy the entire villa area and gardens at the back of the community. Count, but the area is definitely less than ten acres.

The castle continued to press down, seemingly slow, but very fast. In less than ten seconds, all the buildings on the ground within the scope of the castle disappeared without a trace. An ancient western-style castle appeared in front of Di Ping, and the brilliance disappeared in an instant. Calm was restored in the middle, the night was deep and quiet, as if nothing happened.

The smoke gradually dissipated to reveal the true face of the castle. Only at this moment did Di Ping really feel the majesty of the castle, which deeply shocked his soul.

Standing on the bridge, Di Ping looked around. In front of the castle gate on the opposite side of the bridge, the waist-length grass turned into a flat lawn, as if it had been manicured. The castle was quietly located more than 30 meters in front of Di Ping. Standing quietly, like a huge monster, exuding a terrifying aura, like a dragon standing like a tiger.

Outside the castle is a tall outer wall with crevices, like an ancient city wall. The castle is surrounded by five spires. The height of the castle is more than 20 meters. There are many branches on the wall of the castle. The small window looks like a shooting observation port. Each of these five towers occupies an area of no less than forty to fifty square meters. There is a large tower building at the back of the castle center, which is about thirty or forty meters high. The land definitely exceeds Baiping.

Di Ping looked at the castle and liked it more and more, and could no longer help but walk towards the castle.

"My great master, Barton, your faithful servant, the butler of the castle, welcomes the return of the master!"

As soon as Di Ping walked to the door of the castle, the wide and thick steel door of the castle opened with a creak. Inside came out a 50-year-old man with a rich western face in a butler's gown. The old man smiled on his face, respectfully Di Ping Li Tao.

"housekeeper?"

Di Ping looked at the old man standing by the door with curly blond hair, high nose and blue eyes and a respectful smile and asked suspiciously.

"Yes, master, I am your castle steward, and my existence is to serve you, responsible for the owner's living and castle management!"

Butler Barton replied respectfully.

"Why are you in the castle?"

Di Ping didn't know how this Button appeared. Could it be that it was created by the system?

"Dear master, I exist for you and have been waiting for you in the castle!"

Butler Button was bent lower.

"You don't know how you got here, do you?"

Di Ping asked unwillingly.

"Yes, master, in my memory, it is waiting for the arrival of the master in the castle. The mission given is to serve you, and all your commands are my highest commands!"

Button bowed and saluted again, his face full of piousness, as if Di Ping was his  at this time.

"Ok!"

Di Ping is a little speechless. It seems that this Button really doesn't know what it is, and he doesn't know what he came from there. It seems that a powerful system doesn't know where it came from. It's not a time to entangle. He can only use the mysterious system now. Before it does anything to harm him, he still has to believe the system.

"Take me a tour!"

Di Ping put aside the distracting thoughts in his heart, looked at Patton who was standing in front of him with respect and said.

"It's my master!"

Patton bowed and made a polite gesture, and asked Di Ping to enter the castle. Di Ping did not hesitate. He had long wanted to see what his castle was like.

Di Ping walked into the gate first. This steel gate was really not small. It was about ten meters high and five or six meters wide. It was one foot thick. It was thick and scary to look at. There was a concierge on each side of the gate. It was the room where the gatekeeper stayed. He was shocked when he walked through the gatehouse and entered the castle.

The entrance is a hall with a wide corridor on the left and right. The lights are on in the hall at this time. Di Ping's eyes can see the situation in the hall through the door. He walked in quickly and was shocked by the decoration in the hall. On the spot, the area of the hall is no less than a thousand square meters. The tall glass arc-shaped roof is filled with glass. Through it, you can see the sparkling stars in the sky, making people feel like you are in the stars. There is also a huge crystal chandelier hanging from the top. Hundreds of bright and clean lamps illuminate the entire hall, reflecting on the bright and clean marble floor, appearing to be bright.

The hall is surrounded by beautifully carved Roman stone pillars, supporting the glass dome of the hall, and forming a circular corridor about three meters wide by the wall. In the center of the hall is a high platform of 30 to 40 square meters, which is like the rostrum of a general conference hall.

This should be a meeting place. It is definitely not a problem to accommodate a thousand people. It doesn't matter whether meetings or events are held here.

The innermost part of the hall is a portal leading to the outside. The outside lighting is not too bright, only a small garden can be seen vaguely with many flowers and trees.

"Where is Barton?"

Di Ping didn't come forward, but turned to ask Barton, who had been quietly following behind him.

"In front of the master is a small garden, passing through is your castle tower, the main person will go and see?"

Patton bowed forward, pointed to the other side and said.

"Wait a minute, where do the two corridors lead?"

Di Ping thought for a while and rejected Patton's proposal. Instead, he turned to look at the two wide corridors at the entrance of the hall and asked Patton.

"Master, the one on the left leads to the accommodation building, and the one on the right leads to the functional building!"

Button pointed to the two channels and introduced them to Di Ping one by one.

"Go to the dormitory building and take a look!"

Di Ping glanced at the two passages, and finally decided to go to the dormitory building first.

Looking at Di Ping's heart with joy, it can be said that it is more of a surprise. This dormitory building is divided into three floors, with more than 300 rooms on the first floor. Each room is small, less than ten square meters, and the decoration is very simple. However, it is not a big problem to live only four or five people, and more than a thousand people can be settled on the first floor alone.

The second floor is better. Every room has about 20 square meters. There are more washrooms in each room. The decoration in the room is also much better. It is perfectly feasible to live in a family of two or three people. It's a lot more convenient, but there are fewer rooms, only a hundred.

The third floor is even more beyond Di Ping's expectations. Each room on the third floor has a standard configuration of forty to fifty square meters, two bedrooms and one living room. Not only is there a bathroom, there is also a small kitchen, where a family can live on their own. Making a fire to cook and eat, Di Ping seemed to like it.

However, there are even fewer rooms on the third floor, and there are only less than fifty rooms. Seeing this Di Ping whispered for a while, he already had his own plans.
