

Doomsday 34

Chapter 34: First heard of the amazing heart of evolution

"Potential? What potential?"

Cheng Chao asked with a look of confusion, even if he said the first two, everyone can understand, what is the third unlocking potential, let alone him, the other people are also confused, about what Di Ping said. I don't know what it is to unlock the potential.

"What is potential?" Di Ping saw a few people looking at him curiously, and smiled, "Then I can explain it to you in another way? You know, now that dogs have mutated, cats have mutated, and mice have mutated. Now, even the tigers and crocodiles have mutated, which means that the animals have mutated." Di Ping looked at a few people with a calm face, then paused, and looked at a few people with a mysterious face and asked, "That Will human beings mutate as the spirit of high-level animals? Have you ever thought about it?"

Di Ping's words were plain, but it was like throwing a bomb on the surface of a lake, and the water burst open, breaking the calm and turning into a stormy sea. This is everyone's inner world at this time.

A group of people look at me, and I look at you, their faces are full of horror! In fact, it's not that everyone has never thought about these problems. Everyone may have guessed more or less in their hearts, but they didn't find anyone mutated, and I don't know what happens when people mutate, whether they bite people like a mutated dog, so they all subconsciously. Ignore this question, but today Di Ping suddenly throws it out, everyone is caught off guard.

"Can humans mutate? Are they still humans if they mutate?"

Yu Shujie looked uneasy and seemed very worried that she would soon become a crazy mutant, biting people everywhere.

"Then do you think I'm normal?"

Di Ping smiled slightly and said, the sound was not loud, but the shocked everyone backed away, and there were doubts and panic in their eyes looking at Di Ping.

"Well, I won't tease you anymore!"

Di Ping looked at everyone's expressions and knew that there were too many surprises for everyone this time, and they couldn't stand it anymore, and smiled and waved their hands.

"In fact, it cannot be said to be mutation, because it should be said to be an evolution, or it can be said to be awakening. I prefer to use the term awakening. Everyone has their own unique talents. This talent is hidden and will not be revealed. Once this talent is awakened, it gives us great power."

Di Ping, everyone settled down and threw out his own theories. Di Ping thought about these questions. After he inherited the warriors in the system, he felt that he had found the answer to the question he had been looking for. This should be a kind of evolution of talent. , The role of the system is to guide people to open their talents and learn to master this evolutionary power.

Animals can evolve, and human beings, as the spirit of all things, should not be unable to evolve, but it may be more difficult. Humans have been away from nature for too long, and their absorption and sensitivity to the energy of heaven and earth are much lower than that of animals and plants. This may be human So far I have not seen the reason for the evolutionary.

"evolution....."

Everyone seemed to be attracted by Di Ping's theory, and they all tasted it carefully.

"Yes, it is evolution, animal evolution, tree evolution, and evolution towards more advanced organisms, and humans are also evolving, such as greater power, faster speed, stronger body, etc. This is the unlocking of potential and showing various Only when the potential is unlocked can human beings fight against mutant animals in such a drastically changed world and survive!"

Di Ping combined his thoughts with system knowledge and briefly summarized it to everyone, but I don't know if these people can accept it.

"Dige, then why do humans mutate so little?"

Cheng Chao quickly woke up from the shock and discovered the core of the problem.

"I haven't observed some things, but I have thought about it. At present, my analysis may be due to two reasons. One is that humans are no longer pure animals. They have left the jungle to live in groups, learned to use tools, and lost. The wild humans began to degenerate, and the digestion and absorption of energy by their physique became weaker and weaker. Second, humans may be advanced intelligent creatures with more complicated mutations. This is not what I can know!"

After thinking about it, Di Ping said that he also had some doubts about this question, so he could only answer so many questions, but seeing the loss and horror on the faces of a few people, he did so with a relaxed smile and comforted them: "There is no need to worry, I believe that more and more humans will mutate in the future, but we haven't encountered it yet..."

"Dige, are you an evolutionary?"

The light in Cheng Chao's eyes flickered and he looked at Di Ping with scorching heat, but he asked the question everyone most wanted to ask.

"Yes! I have evolved and awakened my talent..."

Di Ping glanced at the people and said calmly, his tone was casual as if it were just a small thing that couldn't be smaller.

"Ah! Really? No wonder Di Ge is so powerful?"

A few whispers and talks, with envy, fear, surprise, and joy in his tone, all in his own mind.

"Okay, let's not discuss this issue." Di Ping waved his hand to interrupt the discussion. He looked at a few people, especially a few women, his eyes were eager to make him restless: "Don't worry, you will know it slowly, maybe you Some of them will soon evolve. Once the evolution is completed and your talents are unlocked, you will become stronger!"

"Papa....."

Di Ping looked at the people who were still in shock, slapped his palms a few times to attract everyone's attention, and then said with a smile, "You can live in this castle today, and you can choose your own room! Slow, good room for Don't cry if others  it!"

"Okay! Grab the room!"

After hearing Di Ping's words, everyone didn't think about this issue. Although everyone was still shocked, they were still a little far away from themselves. What's more, when Di Ping asked them to choose their own house, they immediately became excited again. What kind of variation? Leave me all alone, don't delay my room selection.

He ran away with a huff, and ran upstairs in a mess. You dragged me for fear that I would be behind and others would be ahead. Di Ping smiled in his eyes watching the jokes behind him.

Di Ping doesn't want to share the room on the third floor with a few people, but he already has a plan. The three things he made before are his preliminary plans. The world has changed, and the strong will be respected, and the strong will be better. It is also necessary that everyone is equal. Di Ping is not an ideal idea. He doesn't think that everyone's equality is really good.

The strong should have the privileges of the strong and seek equality everywhere, and the strong should be equal to the weak. This is an inequality in itself.
