

Doomsday 42

Chapter 42: Beginning to show off their skills

The three wild boars are very confident in their speed. It seems that Di Ping could not easily dodge and crashed into a vehicle on the side of the road. Although they ran the car into the air, they were uncomfortable. The three wild boars were not feeling well. Stop shaking his head dizzy.

"good chance!"

When Di Ping saw this, he was overjoyed. The wild boar was no more than five or six meters away from him, which was the best distance to attack. He didn't dare to neglect when he would not take a shot at this time.

"Crash!"

At this time, he couldn't wait to rush up. He thought of the skill collision, so he thought about it, luck collision skill, the whole body blood suddenly gushed, the fascia was agitated, the body was tight like a bow, and the foot suddenly kicked on the ground with a bang, and the ground was crushed. Flying, and the body moved from extremely quiet to extremely moving, and it shot out like a stream of light. It seemed that the space had lost its function at this time, the afterimage was still in place, and the person had appeared in front of the nearest wild boar. Slightly, one elbow in front, the elbow and half of the body hit the boar's breast directly.

"boom...."

There was a muffled sound like a giant drum.

"Oh..."

With a scream, the wild boar suddenly flew more than ten meters away as if being hit by a swift train, hitting the big tree on the roadside, the big tree shook a few times, and the wild boar slipped from the trunk. On the ground, blood was bleeding from his mouth, a faint hum from his nose, his body convulsed constantly, and he slumped on the ground without moving.

Di Ping was stunned for a moment. He didn't expect this impact to be so powerful. The perfect combination of speed and power would achieve such an effect. During a special attack, it seemed that the whole body's power was concentrated on the elbow and half of the body, so big. The impact force just felt a little numb on the half of the body, and the blood was tumbling, but there was no injury. It seems that the body's defense will be greatly strengthened by this force.

"Oh..."

Just as Di Ping was stunned, the two wild boars saw their accomplices being attacked and fell in a pool of blood. Their eyes were flushed, blood surged in their eyes, and they screamed and rushed towards Di Ping to kill him for a lifetime. .

After this collision, Di Ping already knew that his power was really extraordinary. This giant wild boar was completely indifferent, so he was no longer afraid, and a strong fighting spirit rose in his heart.

"Come!"

With a loud shout, he rushed to the two wild boars, his eyes were full of excitement. One person and two pigs were so fast that they were about to collide. Suddenly, Di Ping's body sprang violently, and his whole body suddenly jumped up and jumped. It was more than two meters high and jumped over the heads of two wild boars. Di Ping's excitement didn't mean that he was dizzy. Just now, when the wild boar was dizzy and accidentally hit the side, it would really collide with the two wild boars. The fangs that are about ten centimeters long are enough for him, but he is a flesh and blood body.

The two wild boars knew that they had smashed into the air, and their bodies slammed into the ground. Their hoofs were pressed firmly on the ground, making four marks on the ground. All the weeds on the road were flattened by the two wild boars.

Then he turned around and wanted to rush back, but since Di Ping avoided, why didn't he have a back hand, and before the two wild boars turned around and stood firm, his body rushed forward.

"Slash!"

The whole body was trembling with muscles, and the power was surging. The Han sword slashed out along a strange angle. The sword body buzzed and flashed with red light, seeming to break through the limitation of space, and it struck a wild boar in the neck like thunder and lightning.

"puff"

The sharp blade entered the meat with a soft sound, and the wild boar's neck split immediately with a length of about a foot long. The bones were deeply visible. The flesh and blood turned out for a while, and the blood spurted out like a spring.

"Oh..."

A wild boar nearby didn't react slowly. Seeing Di Ping flashed to attack his accomplices, he opened his mouth and bit at Di Ping's arm. Just looking at the wild boar's teeth as sharp as a steel file, it would be necessary if Di Ping kept his arm bitten. Got hurt.

Di Ping has slowly honed his fighting style in the past few battles. After a hit, he immediately withdrew and retreated. As soon as the wild boar's biting mouth touched his clothes, he had already retreated.

"boom...."

The wild boar's teeth gnawed together and made a huge crash. The power was shocking. Even steel could be broken into two pieces. Di Ping was shocked.

"Oh..."

The injured wild boar seemed to have aroused its fierceness even more from the pain, and suddenly rushed towards Di Ping again with a roar.

Di Ping was not firmly established at this time, and it was too late to dodge, so he had to bite the bullet and slashed away.

"boom"

The long sword was cutting the wild boar's head, but I didn't expect the wild boar's scalp to be so hard. The long sword only made a loud bang, only cut a white mark, and even no blood came out. It was just cut by a huge force. The wild boar screamed back and forth again and again, and Di Ping was also numbed by the powerful counter-shock force, his long sword swung up, and the man retreated three steps.

Di Ping did not expect that the damage between using the skill slash and the normal slash was so much different. Before using the slash, it felt like it did not take much effort to cause a wound close to a foot on the giant wild boar, but now even the defense cannot be broken. The skills he felt at the beginning were really very important, and it was a better use of strength.

After taking a few steps back, before Di Ping could stand still, a wild boar rushed up with a roar, bowed his head and picked him up with two huge fangs.
