

Doomsday 45

Chapter 45: The poor have to be recruited by the poor

Half an hour later, the cautious Di Ping came to the place where he was fighting the wild boar again. He didn't dare to walk too fast. Who knows what mighty strange beasts hide in this lush forest, so he stayed alert all the way, but this not only consumes energy It's a waste of time, it's impossible to go fast.

At this time, there was only a blood stain left in the fighting place. The three wild boars were missing, but there were still blood stains on the ground. It should be traces of the carcass being dragged by some animal. The ground was cleaned very clean, except for the blood and the meat. Down, and the animals that hunted for food have long since disappeared.

Di Ping looked at his scalp a little numb, these three big wild boars were like tall horses, and they were all eaten during this hour. If they weren't eaten by giant beasts, they were also a group of mutant beasts. Look at this. The boundless and infinite dark forest seemed to hide infinite horror. He didn't dare to stay longer, and quickly walked towards the community.

Be careful all the way, fortunately, the wind was calm, until I entered the community, I never encountered any mutant animals. It seems that the mutant animals are hidden. I really want to find it but it is really difficult to find. The big snake is still hanging on the tree trunk. If any animal comes to eat, it may be in a higher position! Di Ping thought.

When the castle reappeared in front of Di Pinyang, he suddenly felt a feeling of going home. The strong fear from the outside world disappeared. What followed was a warm feeling, watching the families who were still cultivating the fields. , And the guards who didn't move on the wall, his heart became extremely calm at this moment.

"Brother Di!"

As soon as Di Ping appeared on the small bridge, the team members who watched on the city wall found him, the door slowly opened, and two team members had already greeted him with joy.

"Nothing happened, right?"

Di Ping nodded his head. In fact, looking at the expressions on the two of them, he knew that there should be no change, but he just asked and felt at ease.

"Dige, everything is normal!"

"Okay! Brothers have worked  this, please pay attention!"

Di Ping smiled and nodded and said, his eyes also showed concern.

"No hard work, please don't worry Dige, we must keep our eyes open to ensure that there will be no problems!"

The two immediately promised excitedly.

"Master welcomes back!"

At this time, Patton had already welcomed him at the gate of the castle, still humble and polite.

"Barton, have everyone settled down?"

Di Ping smiled slightly, then asked as he walked in.

"It's all arranged! It's just that the maid serving the master hasn't decided yet!"

Patton bowed and followed Di Ping, responding as he walked, and then suddenly he returned to the question of the maid.

"Don't worry about this now, let's talk about it later!"

Di Ping's head was big when he heard it. This is not the time when the landlord was old and wealthy and there was a maid serving. If you want to really make a maid yourself, you want to enjoy it without guaranteeing safety. It's not far from death, so he hurriedly beat Broke off Button's words.

Patton also seemed to feel that Di Ping was a little upset. He didn't want to talk about this topic, so he didn't talk nonsense. He silently followed Di Ping until he sent Di Ping into the main tower, served Di Ping into the bathroom, and prepared his clothes before going downstairs. I'm busy with my own business. Although there are not many people in this big castle, there will be no shortage of things.

Lying in the pool, soaking in the warm water, Di Ping felt that the pores all over his body were comfortable and about to scream, and all his fatigue seemed to be washed away by the gentle water flow, thinking that this system is really good, making it so comfortable. Sex is really enjoyable, and it will sink in if you are not careful.

"The system exchanges all crystal cores for crystal coins!"

Di Ping has not forgotten what his mission is to go out today, that is to collect crystal cores to recruit heroes. He really doesn't want to go out alone. Facing a quiet world is too uncomfortable. There is no worm call. When he died, he cursed inwardly.

"Di...Three crystal cores are exchanged, and four crystal coins are obtained"

"call"

Di Ping exhaled for a long time. He was really nervous just now, for fear that these three crystal nuclei would not have enough energy. If he could only replace them with three, plus he had only four of the remaining one before, it would not be enough to recruit a D-level hero. Fortunately, I didn't let myself down. I really traded out four plus one of my original one, which was exactly five, which was enough to recruit a D-class potential hero.

In fact, he doesn't want to recruit higher-level people, but it's not that there are no coins, right?

He also feels that he may be limited to the misunderstanding of the game. The D-class hero in the game can be said to be the worst hero at the bottom. Basically no player will recruit such a hero, but don't forget that this is reality and can be opened. Potential is very difficult, most people are ordinary people, this D-class potential hero should not be too bad.

Today Di Ping has this idea. In fact, to put it bluntly, he still has no money in his hands. If he didn't look down on the D-level, at least he would have to be above the B-level.

The poor have to have poor thinking. After careful calculations, he carefully considers and suddenly has this idea. Once this idea occurs, he can't stop rushing in his heart. There is a strong experimental idea of whether it is correct or not. Then you have to verify it yourself, anyway, I have ten hero positions, and only one now, which is really a waste and not scary.
