

Doomsday 49

Chapter 49: Beauty provocative and flustered

Seeing that the time is almost seven o'clock, through the glass windows, you can see that the smoke has risen in the manor. People working in the fields have started to walk towards the manor with tools in twos and threes. The manor can already be seen outside the manor. Before and after, two acres of grassland were reclaimed into fields, and the yellow and black soil opened up to form straight long ditch.

As long as it is a rural person, no matter how long people live in the city, people's nostalgia for the land seems to be innate. The yellow and black soil of this long cultivated field represents the hope of a good harvest tomorrow.

Di Ping is a child in the countryside, and he has a special love for the land. Looking at this piece of land that has been reclaimed, he thinks of a young child doing farm work at home. Although he is tired, he is very satisfied, especially his father. Looking at the crops growing in this field every day, there is always joy and satisfaction on the cheerful face. It seems that the field is not planted with corn but gold. Only when I grow up I know it. Seeing the crops growing in the field, isn't it? Just the crops is the hope of the family.

At this time, looking at this field, I suddenly felt this kind of feeling. It was hope and satisfaction. After all these years of rushing for money, I finally realized that I was not happy. I always felt tired and tired. Hard work, always on the road of chasing money. At this moment, when he put everything down, he realized that people are so simple, just to live with hope and satisfaction and be happy.

Thinking of this, he missed his parents more than a thousand miles away, and wanted to go home to save his mother and father more eagerly. He wanted to set off now, but he knew that it was still not possible. At this time, he didn't just have himself in him, it was not what he had. How great, he clearly knows that his current ability is simply not enough to travel thousands of miles to save his parents. Not only will he not be able to save them, but he may not be able to live, so he can only speed up the development of the system functions to make himself stronger quickly , He believes that his goal is fast.

"Parents, you have to wait for me, you have to wait for me! I will be back soon..."

Di Ping whispered! He clenched his fists tightly, and secretly decided to speed up his pace. There was not much time for himself. It has been more than a week since the end of the world, and the living environment must be increasingly difficult.

"Boom!"

At this time, a knock on the door sounded, interrupting Di Ping's contemplation.

"Come in!"

Di Ping didn't turn his head back and said in a deep voice, his eyes still watching the slowly sinking sunset.

"Brother Di, the meal is ready!"

The door opened with a creak, and a soft voice came. Di Ping didn't need to look back to know who it was.

That's right, it's not someone else who is Liu Bingyu, this person and a woman whose name is seriously inconsistent.

"It's you!"

Only then did Di Ping withdraw his gaze and turned and smiled to look at Liu Bingyu, this long, delicate and beautiful woman.

"Who did Brother Di think? Sister Yu?"

Liu Bingyu seemed to be a little dissatisfied with Di Ping's words, and said with a slightly lost tone, but as soon as he said these words, he seemed to feel a little ambiguity and ambiguous, as if jealous, and his white face turned red.

"Haha...Liu Damei came to ask me to have a meal and it's too late to be moved! Of course I will be surprised!"

When Di Ping saw Liu Bingyu's shy and shy expression, he immediately felt amused. His thoughts just now made him change a lot. He opened up a little bit of his heart, and he became more cheerful, so he immediately wanted to amuse him when he saw Liu Bingyu's shyness. she was.

"Di Gemo didn't make me happy, right?"

Although Liu Bingyu was a bit shy, he raised his head and stared at Di Ping with big eyes when he heard Di Ping's words. His eyes were full of expectation. His big eyes blinked and flickered. The flashing Di Ping was cautious. jump.

"Ahem... of course!"

Di Ping knew that his state couldn't stand the amusement. Those big eyes were matched with a soft, dead voice, alas! Quickly coughed twice to cover up his embarrassment, and then nodded.

"Then let's go eat!"

After finishing talking, Di Ping didn't dare to see Liu Bingyu hurriedly walked out of the room, regardless of the beauty standing in the room.

Liu Bingyu watched Di Ping hurriedly walked out the door and suddenly pursed her lips and secretly smiled, her eyes were full of narrowing expressions. She wanted to tease Di Ping, but she didn't expect this person to be casual, like a pure big boy. Makes her face flushed, but her eyes flashed with deep interest, and the mysterious tightness of this person made her feel intrigued.

Di Ping didn't know when he walked in front. He just looked at people with his own eyes. How could he think of how the eldest lady who came from a famous family in Beijing like Liu Bingyu could be so simple, and he couldn't learn how to grow up in such a big family all year round The way the young big family handles things, is it as simple as a little girl?

He never thought that Liu Bingyu was just making him funny.

When Di Ping arrived at the small restaurant on the second floor, Fatty and others all came here early. There were three restaurants on the second floor, one large restaurant, and two small restaurants. One of the small restaurants was the most high-end, and the interior decoration was the same. The high-end hotel is divided into rooms, and Di Ping and the others dine in the largest room, but at this time there are only these few people, and the team members are all dining in the big restaurant. Only the fat man Li Sheng and the old Luo Liubing Yu Ningnan are here. Ye Lu and Yu Shujie and Nun Nan were dining, which was very empty.

Through the system, Di Ping asked Patton to bring Buji and Gina over, and introduced everyone to them one by one. When everyone knew that these two strong men and beautiful women were actually the same potential people as Di Ping, they were shocked. , Are all curious about the examples of these two people, and this magical castle, but everyone knows that Di Ping is willing to say that although they have many questions, they dare not ask.

The food is simple. This is Di Ping's request. Now the food is not too sufficient. The fields have just been cultivated, and the crops will not be available for a while. If you can save, everyone seems to have their own minds and eat quietly. After the meal, Di Ping simply confessed to everyone and asked them to go back to rest. Di Ping had to leave early tomorrow morning. He wanted to rest earlier, so everyone didn't say much.
