

Doomsday 57

Chapter 57: Increased strength is now hidden

Thinking of upgrading Di Ping, I felt scared. The pain of the previous level made him palpitate, but for the sake of his strength, he had no choice. Enduring the fear in my heart, I confirmed the upgrade.

He closed his eyes and waited for the pain to come. After a few seconds, a cloud of energy rose from the body.

This warm energy is like a stream of water, quickly rising from the depths of the body and turning into a warm current that wanders through your body. Every time you pass, your body starts to get hot and feels itchy and numb. The energy flows through the meridians. It will be like acupuncture, but it's not very painful.

When the energy flows to the bones, the bones click and rattle, and they seem to become stronger, and then flow to the flesh. When the flesh is tight, it seems that every cell is making a satisfying sound, rapidly becoming denser and tougher.

Another surprise to Di Ping was that there was no pain this time. Although it was slightly uncomfortable, it was completely tolerable. The feeling of comfort made him a little intoxicated, so cool!

But the energy came and went quickly. After half a minute, the energy did not dissipate invisible and invisible, and finally returned to the Qihai Dantian position along the Du Channel. Diping suddenly felt the heat in the Qihai rising. , Seemed to be widening outwards, accompanied by needle-like pain, the entire lower abdomen seemed to be punctured by needles, and the intense pain made him uncomfortable.

Di Ping snorted, and the sweat on his head went down. Fortunately, the pain disappeared in just a few seconds and the energy slowly sank.

"Master, how are you?"

Di Ping let out a sigh of relief and wiped off the sweat on his head. The few seconds just now really felt like a year. At this time, Gina had already discovered Di Ping's condition and had left the bed and was standing in front of Di Ping. Looking at him with concern.

"I'm okay!"

Di Ping sat paralyzed in the chair, breathing heavily, as if he hadn't recovered from the pain just now.

"The first time the master returns to his dantian, it will be very painful!"

At this time, Gina took out a handkerchief and carefully wiped the sweat on Di Ping's forehead, while still talking.

"how do you know?"

When Di Ping heard it, he screamed, and grabbed Gina's hand and asked nervously, how did this Gina know that she was angry with her Dantian? Could she see that Di Ping was extremely surprised at this time.

"Master, you hurt me!"

Gina suddenly changed her brows, frowned and looked at Di Ping in pain.

"Oh! Sorry, I was so surprised just now!"

Di Ping hurriedly let go of his hand. He knew his strength, whether it was light or heavy. This Gina Jiao Didi woman could hold his big steel hand.

"I have seen in the academy the qi return to Dan Hai from the warrior profession. The teacher present also said that the fighters strengthen the body at the first level, and when they reach the first level and the fourth level, they will start to strengthen the Qi Hai to prepare for the second level. How about preparing for the environment?" Gina carefully explained while stroking the painful jade wrist caught by Di Ping.

"That's it!"

Only then did Di Ping understand, thinking that he was really careless. Since he knows that Gina's world is a magic weapon system, he should ask more about this knowledge, so as to save himself such a little white with his eyes black and nothing. You know, you can't learn that to cross the river by touching the stones, right?

This is cultivation, and you can't make a single mistake, and a single mistake may lead to confusion and cause incalculable consequences.

Then Di Ping excitedly asked Gina some questions, but he was disappointed?

I think too much about myself. This Gina has just entered school for half a year, and has not learned as much as the system teaches, and the system teaches all the knowledge of magic. She asks three questions about the knowledge of this warrior. Just now, this was because I just saw the senior brother's promotion teacher talked about this area. Di Ping's reaction just now was exactly the same as that of the senior brother. This was a bold guess.

"Ok!"

Di Ping bowed his head helplessly.

After regaining his mood, Di Ping checked his upgrade this time, and felt that his strength has increased by six hundred catties this time, and his strength has officially increased by five thousand catties.

Feeling the surging power, as if there is an inexhaustible strength, it is really ruthless to lift up, ruthlessly pull, and think that the first fierce general Li Yuanba in the Sui and Tang Dynasties is nothing more than that?

Strength is a strange thing. It can turn a weak person into a strong person, and can make a strong person stronger. It seems that this world is not in the eye. It really feels like daring to go to the nine-day prisoner dragon and go down to the ocean to catch the turtle. , Feeling like the strength of the Yellow River from his body, Di Ping really had such thoughts;

At this time, he understood that how the generals in ancient times dared to fight wildly in the army, this was the infinite courage given by power to dare to fight between heaven and earth.

At this moment, he was just like that, wishing he wanted to rush and smash everything that was blocking him, and there was a bloodthirsty impulse in his heart.

Take a few deep breaths and suppress your fanatical restlessness. Suddenly, there is a sudden excitement, and my heart suddenly jumps. I feel that I can no longer increase my strength like this in the future. If I quickly increase my strength, I will not only be unable to effectively control more refined power, but He couldn't control his mentality faintly. This bloodthirsty impulse made him feel scared for a while. He thought maybe this was the sequelae caused by the inadequacy of the mentality in the novel and the one-sided improvement of strength, right?

Di Ping thought from this that the urge that has erupted in the past few days may also be related to this, because it is completely unlike his own character. Super self-control is what he has always been proud of. The loss of control has reached a serious level, and I must pay attention. Although I don't know if I guessed it right, I have a feeling that tells him that this idea is right.

Opened the bottle, took a few more sips of water, and suppressed the panic in her heart. Gina stood in front of Di Ping and kept looking at Di Ping with concerned eyes. She felt that Di Ping seemed to fluctuate a lot, but she didn't know. What is the reason? I am very worried about Di Ping's state.

"I'm okay, you can take a break! Let's go in a while!"

Di Ping had calmed down completely at this time, looked at Gina who was concerned about him, smiled gently.

"Oh! Okay!"

Seeing that the expression on Di Ping's face had calmed down, Gina also obediently nodded and returned to the bed to sit down, then put a cross-legged posture, closed her eyes and adjusted her breath.
