Chapter 65: Mutant giant dog like butcher chicken

"Slash!"

Di Ping didn't care about the mutant dog that flew out, his body kept moving, like a white horse passing through the gap, and instantly rushed to the four mutant dogs. The long sword swung like the wind, the cold light flashed, and the silver blades were cut in the air. In the air, with sharp whistles, several knives were cut in an instant, fast eyes could not see clearly, the four mutant dogs were wrapped in fiery red sword shadows.

"puff"

"puff"

"puff"

The scalp tingling sound of a series of dense blades passing through the flesh sounded in everyone's ears.

Di Ping's fast-running body was 20 meters away from where he had stood before. He maintained a standing posture, holding the handle of the long sword in both hands. The body of the sword was hanging diagonally to the right. The red light on the sword had disappeared, but the body of the sword White smoke was still squeaky, but there was no trace of blood stained.

On the ground behind him, four mutant dogs stopped there messily, their bodies swayed, but they suddenly crooked in a second, and fell to the ground with a thump, and a few horrible wounds appeared on their bodies. A few seconds later, blood seemed to be found. The breach rushed out like a fountain, and it dyed the entire ground in a short while.

"boom"

There was a bang. The mutant dog that was hit by Di Ping flew more than ten meters before hitting a car on the side of the road. The glass on the car shattered and the mutant dog was like a paralyzed mud. Falling on the ground, blood flowed out of his nose and mouth like money, only to see the slight ups and downs in his chest, which looked boneless like ooze, it was absolutely impossible to live.

"Woo....."

And the wolf dog was stunned for a moment. It seemed that this human being was so powerful. Five mutant dogs fell in the blink of an eye, but immediately it became angry. The wolf dog is a fierce dog. Ping killed his subordinates, not only was he not afraid, but an angry roar, his eyes were full of blood, with tyranny and madness.

At this time, Yue Lie and Liu Han, who were hiding behind the supermarket, were completely stupid. They didn't know whether to believe their eyes or not. Their brains seemed to have stopped thinking, just staring blankly at what was happening on the street.

"Come!"

Di Ping suddenly looked at the wolf dog contemptuously, and challenged it with a long sword in his hand.

"Woohoo!"

The wolf dog was already angry and became more manic at this time. He raised his head and roared wildly. The four sharp claws gripped the ground fiercely. The concrete floor was marked with several deep scratches. The body was even more like a running rhino. He charged straight towards Di Ping with a domineering momentum.

"Haha, good time!"

Di Ping laughed loudly. What he wanted was this effect. He was afraid that this mutant dog was afraid to run, so he did the action to irritate it. Who wants this wolf dog to really obediently roar and rush forward. This is exactly what he meant. , It's good to shout in your mouth.

The long sword in his hand shook, and a red flame ignited on the long sword. The sword body of the long sword had turned red. The body slowly squatted, and then the muscles of the legs were violently tensed, and the force rose from the ground with a bang, and the body was like an arrow It shot forward fiercely, and rushed to face the mutant dog.

The mutant dog is like a bull running straight towards Di Ping, and when it's not yet there, you can feel a strong wind blowing across your face. Seeing a person and a dog are about to collide, suddenly the mutant dog rushes and flies directly. More than 2 meters high, he pounced on Di Ping like a tiger.

The sharp claws of the mutant dog are like several sharp knives, and they grabbed Di Ping's head straight, seeming to want to smash his head directly, and only in this way can it relieve its anger.

"Slash"

Di Ping yelled violently, his mind moved, and the musculoskeletal body all moved. A force rose from his body, and his heart moved at will. The long sword in his hand swung out like a track. Under this force, A sudden movement of abnormal speed, flashing in the space, like a rushing thunder, a red lightning drew a bright arc in the air and cut it towards the mutant wolf dog.

"puff"

There was a light and crisp sound of cutting meat with a sharp blade. The ears of the person who heard it were cold, the scalp was numb, and the cold hair on the body was exploding, as if it was scratching their own flesh.

"boom"

One person, one dog, one touch and one touch, they staggered, and the mutant dog fell to the ground, but it was not standing but it broke into two halves and fell to the ground, but there was no trace of blood in the wound. After showing it for two or three seconds, the blood seemed to rush out with a pop of consciousness, and the internal organs also flowed out with a huff.

Di Ping stood four or five meters away from the mutant dog's corpse, shook his long sword calmly, the red light on the sword disappeared, and then turned around to look at the mutant dog's corpse on the ground with a calm expression, as if what he did just now was not what he did. , But what everyone didn't know was that his heart was surging at this time.

Because he felt that the proficiency of the skill was really too powerful, the six mutant dogs couldn't go through a round in his hands. The powerful strength and speed, combined with skills to kill these mutant dogs that once made him embarrassed before, are really not comparable. How difficult is it to kill a chicken.

"I rely on.... I rely on..."

Di Ping was calm, but someone was not calm. The two Yue Lie stared at the bull's eyes with horror. They seemed to be frightened by everything in front of them. Liu Han kept cursing, as if this way could he The panic was resolved, and the two of them suddenly had an idea, that is, did the two of us pass through? Isn't this the earth?

Mom, do we miss home?
