

Doomsday 73

Chapter 73: Underground Blood War Monster

"Quickly close the channel!"

Han Zhongguo saw it really, this mutant dog was very fast, rushing to the halfway in the blink of an eye, he hurriedly shouted.

"boom"

Several people who had been prepared for a long time pushed the prepared frame with spikes into the passage and used things to kill them, sealing the whole passage.

"Wow!"

The mutant dog rushed too fast, just hitting the sharp spikes, roaring in pain, and the frame was shook.

"kill!"

As soon as Han Zhongguo saw Xiao Xiao, he was overjoyed and shouted.

"puff...."

More than a dozen self-made spears pierced out from the left and right passages, and sharp spikes penetrated into the mutant dog's body. The mutant dog screamed frantically, but at this time it was trapped so hard that it couldn't even turn around. By the time, more than a dozen people were as strong as madmen, and they kept assassinating them with spears. Very few mutant dogs fell in a pool of blood.

"Ooo..."

Seeing the mutant dog fell to the ground, the crowd immediately let out a roar of excitement. Everyone had a smile on their faces. They finally killed the mutant dog. It seems that these things are not terrible, and they can be killed. At this time, people aroused greater courage.

Courage is a weird thing. Another weak person can suddenly burst out with powerful power. Just like these people were scared to death when they heard killing a mutant dog, but after killing a mutant dog, these people immediately felt that The mutant dog is not as strong as imagined. At this time, the courage quickly breeds, as if the mutant dog used a soft rabbit, and forgot that he had been chased before.

"Wow"

At this time, the first mutant dog finally understood that it was useless to hit this frame, and it also rushed towards this passage.

"boom"

This silly mutant dog hit the previous mutant dog with its head again, and the frame it hit was also shaking, but it was not much better on its own. The long spike actually stabbed it again through the corpse of the previous mutant dog. His body, it screamed in pain.

"Puff Puff"

This time, without waiting for Han Zhongguo's command, the people with long spears in the passages on both sides raised their guns and pierced them. There were a series of puffs of iron and meat. The mutant dog caught in the passage was stabbed with more than a dozen shots and stopped yelling.

"boom...."

It's just that before everyone was happy, a loud bang blocked the doorway and the deposits fell. The doorway was completely opened. Five mutant dogs rushed in from the wide-opened doorway. If these people had to run before, they could Killed two mutant dogs just now, I would be afraid when the courage is good.

"Wow....."

When the mutant dogs that rushed in saw the two companions lying in the pool of blood, they suddenly roared. The blood-red eyes were surging like blood, roaring violently, and then rushed towards the passage like crazy.

"boom....."

The huge body impact caused the entire frame to shake violently, but it should be okay. Although the angle iron deformed in the collision, the main body was still strong, and everyone was relieved.

"Puff puff..."

The mutant dog that rushed into the passage was attacked by the long spears of personnel from the passages on both sides before breaking through the frame, screaming again and again.

"Wow..."

At this moment, the entrance of the cave suddenly darkened, and a dozen mutant dogs rushed in. Seeing their accomplices being attacked, they plunged into the ranks of crazy ramming together. How powerful is the power of so many mutated giant dogs? The frame becomes more violent under this powerful impact. When it shook, the angle irons were also deformed, as if they would collapse in the next moment.

"shot!"

Han Zhongguo couldn't do it. These mutant dogs were too terrifying after they were mutated. Not only did their bodies become huge, but they were also terrifying with great strength. After collisions, the frame became seriously deformed and the form became precarious. If this continues, he will definitely not be able to resist it. The police on the frame had to be ordered to shoot.

"Papa....."

"Wow....."

There was a loud gunshot, and the bullets were shot at the mutant dog like rain. The mutant dog screamed and screamed frantically, but couldn't attack the people on the frame, so he had to hit the frame frantically, and the frame was creaking and painful. Roaring, the police had no choice but to continue shooting.

Ten seconds later, the gunfire stopped, and ten mutant dogs fell to the ground. The ground was full of blood. The blood flowed down the ground towards the mall. Everyone breathed a long sigh of relief. The policemen opened fire. I also wiped the sweat from my head, and then I looked at the gun in my hand with a wry smile. It was cool just now, but the bullets ran out.

There were not many bullets on their bodies. There were less than 20 bullets per person, but just now, they had not shot more than a dozen bullets. Some people had already empty their bullets. There may be three to five shots. , These are just ten mutant dogs, they know that there are more than thirty in this group, what should I do next?

"Wow..."

People said that the room leaked in the night rain, and another dog barking sounded, and the hole was dark, and a dozen mutant dogs rushed in, and when they saw the terrible condition on the ground, they shouted sternly.

"Aw..."

At this time, a louder wolf roar came from outside the cave.

"boom...."

The debris at the entrance of the cave broke into fragments like a car hit, and there were splashes everywhere. The entrance of the cave was brightly lit, and all obstacles were smashed into fragments by this one. The sunlight came in and illuminated the underground shopping mall.

At this time, the mutant dogs stopped roaring and turned around to look at the entrance of the cave, and the people behind the frame also stopped their movements, staring at the entrance of the cave, without knowing what happened.

Suddenly the light at the entrance of the cave dimmed, as if it was blocked by something, and then a long beast shadow rested on the ground, and everyone held their breath.

"Huhu"

At this time, there was a rough panting sound, like a bellows, and a low roar from a monster's throat, and the shocked person's heart trembled.

"Ah! Monster"

At this time, someone in the crowd couldn't stop screaming, and saw the head of a huge monster protruding into the door. The head of this monster was bigger than a lion. Its two blood-red eyes seemed to glow red and green in the dark. It came in like a searchlight, but everyone who was swept felt cold all over.

The monster walked in slowly, its huge body was like a hill, and the gate more than two meters high was enough for its body to enter, and its body length was more than four meters. When the monster completely walked into the doorway, the light came in again. Discovered what a monster this is.
