

Doomsday 741

Chapter 741: Reborn inside and outside

In just two minutes, Feng Ziming's head was full of sweat, but there was still no movement in the small building, and Li Jun did not appear.

"waste!"

Feng Ziming cursed in a low voice, but he was helpless now.

At this moment, he suddenly saw a figure waving at him in the window on the first floor. When he saw that it was Li Jun, he was happy at that time:

"It's done!"

At this moment, in the direction of the castle, there were noisy human voices. Nearly a hundred people ran towards this side. The messy footsteps sounded like Xianle in Feng Ziming's ears.

He stood up from the dense forest, ready to wait for the combat team members to come, so he could take advantage of the chaos.

No one would doubt himself in this way, he thought very beautifully.

At this moment, Feng Ziming's eyes widened suddenly. He saw five or six people rushing out of the small building, of course, one of them was Gina in a black robe.

When she waved the staff in her hand, the blazing fire seemed to suddenly lose its fuel and was extinguished in an instant.

As a mage, controlling the fire element can be said to be a good job, but it is not a problem for Gina.

But this scene caused Feng Ziming's pupils to dilate in an instant, and his heart shrank sharply, as if he was caught by someone, his heart was in pain, and his whole body was bursting with cold sweat.

"How is this going?"

Feng Ziming was stunned. How could Gina be in the medical department, and why are there so many people in the medical department?

What about Li Jun?

Thinking of Li Jun, Feng Ziming looked over. At this time, the lights in the building were on. At a glance, he saw Li Jun's figure all appearing in front of the floor-to-ceiling windows, unlike the previous half-hidden and half-revealed.

He was being framed by two people at this time, with his head down and his expression depressed.

Seeing this, Feng Ziming didn't know this was a trap, so he was too stupid.

"broken!"

Feng Ziming has fully understood that this is a trap for himself today. He suddenly cursed with a sordid face:

"This stinky watch betrayed me!"

After scolding, he calmed down, his eyes flickered sharply, and he stomped his foot fiercely before turning around and backing away.

Now the base can no longer stay, he can only escape, even if there is danger outside, but that is only there, and at the base, he is dead.

It's just that he has just walked out a dozen steps, but suddenly stopped, and then he suddenly turned around to run backwards, but just as he moved, the sky and the earth suddenly lit up, and five or six bright lights suddenly lit up, turning his body The shape is clear.

Feng Ziming's eyes dizzy by the strong light, he resisted the discomfort, and looked over, only ten meters in front of him, standing in darkness, standing at the number 100, looking at him silently and coldly. .

"Brother...brothers...hurry...hurry up and put out the fire..."

To say that Feng Zi was clearly solid enough, after a panic, quickly calmed down, covered the light with one hand, and said anxiously.

What he could not think of was the fact that this hundred-odd people looked at him quietly, motionless, all of them were carrying bright weapons, but they had no fire fighting tools.

Seeing Feng Ziming, the adrenaline surged in an instant, his tail spine numb, and his heart was filled with fear.

These people are not here for fire, they are here to arrest people.

This is a net of heaven and earth! It's ridiculous that I thought I was smart, but I was beaten in the face today. Originally, people had already prepared the net and waited for themselves to drill?

"Isn't Captain Feng fighting the fire? How can you run back?"

At this time, a calm voice sounded behind Feng Ziming.

Hearing this voice, Feng Ziming trembled all over. He knew that today was really over, and he knelt down as soon as he felt weak.

Chapter 742: Crazy for love, crazy for love

Tonight is a sleepless night for people in the city of sanctuary.

At first, there was a fire, and there was a lot of noise. Everyone couldn't sleep. Then came the special forces and combat members, attacking everywhere.

The breaking of the door, the arresting of the people, the scene is very big, it hasn't stopped all night, there are torches everywhere, the voice of people is noisy, and the people are panicked overnight, I don't know what's going on.

Di Ping personally sat in the army. Cheng Chao, Li Sheng, Lu Guoliang, and Han Zhongguo led the four teams. The special forces and combat teams captured 33 people overnight.

These thirty-three people are basically members of the combat team, and the ordinary people are only eight, and they are implicated.

When the next day, everyone trembling all night, thinking that the base was in turmoil again, and found out that the sun was still rising and the base was still calm as before.

But today, the difference is that everyone was gathered on the square in front of the castle before they had eaten in the morning.

What shocked everyone was that in front of the castle gate, people numbered thirty or forty were kneeling.

These people were tied with their hands, bowed their heads and knelt on the ground. Behind each of them stood a large knife holding a cold light. The cold light people were screaming in their hearts, just like the ancient times. Head execution.

"How is this going?"

Someone asked in a low voice.

"Who knows?"

The person on the edge also shook his head with a look of doubt

"Don't you know? A lot of people were arrested last night, and they were all arrested!"

Others seem to know that the insider is complacent.

"Why caught it?"

Some people questioned.

"I heard that these people usually bully the people and humiliate women and children. They are not good things? The city lord was angry and was arrested!"

Someone seemed to really know the news, explained in a low voice.

"Stop talking, the city lord is out!"

At this moment someone shouted in a low voice.

Thousands of people gathered together, all in the dark, and the low voices buzzed like flies.

Di Ping's voice stopped abruptly all the time when Di Ping appeared on the head of the city. Everyone looked at the city lord with fanatical gaze before facing the sun, who was standing proudly all over his body.

Di Ping looked at the quiet and fanatical city people below, and there was a feeling of enthusiasm in his heart. For these people who loved him deeply and followed fanatically, he wanted to create a clear sky in these last days.

He suppressed the excitement in his heart and looked at the enthusiastic faces, he said loudly: "City dwellers of the sanctuary! The arrival of the end times has caused us to lose our loved ones, loved ones, children, and children. My friend, lost home and homeland! This is the misfortune for all of us!"

Di Ping did not shout loudly, nor did he scream hoarse, but a very natural voice, but it was clear to everyone present.

Everyone looked at him quietly and listened to him slowly saying that they thought of the lost relatives and friends, and their faces were filled with tears in their hearts, but no one wiped them.

Even though, some bodies trembled slightly to make a sob, but they were still firmly suppressed.

"But! We are lucky too!"

Di Ping suddenly raised his voice, and his voice went straight to the sky. Everyone in Zhen was horrified, and everyone focused their eyes on his face.

"We are lucky to survive. We carry the thoughts and blessings of our relatives, and we are responsible for the continuation of life. For the dead relatives and friends, we have to live and live well!"

Di Ping's voice slowly became deep and deep, and it penetrated the bottom of people's hearts. Many people couldn't help sobbing again.

Chapter 743: Save the base and give rewards

"We are lucky. We have come here. We have a place to live, a place where we can live, a place where we can have dignity and hope. This is mine and everyone's. It is our common home!"

Di Ping's voice rose again, and his voice was violent, like a big river, the waves rolled, like the sky, clouds and thunder.

The hearts of all the people who sounded shook wildly, as if there was a strange rhythm that made everyone follow his rhythm, and everyone's thinking began to follow his voice.

"We can live a safe and happy life here, we can eat and wear warmly here, and we can enjoy a new happy life here..."

Following Di Ping's words, scenes of happy life began to appear in everyone's minds, where they could sleep peacefully, eat their stomachs, and live happily with their families.

Suddenly Di Ping's voice changed, and his voice was raised again, his voice full of anger:

"But! Someone wants to destroy our hard-earned peace, you can't agree!"

"No!"

The three thousand people were taken aback for a moment, but then burst out an unprecedented roar.

"Someone wants to destroy our home and let us live in an unfixed place again. Can you agree?"

Di Ping shouted again.

"No!"

Three thousand people erupted in a neat roar, the roar was like a raging sea, rolling up a thousand waves, and even the dark clouds in the sky were swept away.

There was madness on everyone's face, as if they saw that they were once again displaced, hungry and cold, living like a rat with fear and fear, and they were suddenly angry, each with a hideous face and heartbreaking roar.

"It's them, oppressing you, snatching your property, bullying your wives and daughters, some of them even sell the base, join the enemy to attack the base, and ruin our hard-won life, what do you say?"

Di Ping suddenly stretched out his hand and pointed at more than 30 people who were kneeling on the ground, and shouted sharply.

"Kill them!"

Everyone fell into a state of mass fanaticism, screaming wildly, if it were not for the blocking of the hundreds of combat members in front, these would definitely rush to kill these people in the first place.

Three or four people were kneeling on the ground, looking at the masses who seemed to be eating their flesh and blood in front of them, they were trembling in shock, and some of them were incontinent.

"Kill them..."

People roared one after another, their voices became more and more frantic, and they were surging. The hundreds of combat team members were affected by the emotions of these groups and gradually joined the roar.

Not to mention them, it was Han Zhongguo, Lu Guoliang, Cheng Chao who stood behind Di Ping, and there was enthusiasm in the eyes of those who looked at Di Ping.

Especially Liu Bingyu, Yu Shujie, Ning Nan, Yun Mengsi, the red tide surging on their faces, the eyes looking at Di Ping were hot.

"All right!"

Di Ping gave a soft drink, and the sound was not loud, but it was like a spring thunder, awakening the crazy crowd, everyone stopped yelling, and looked at Di Ping quietly, as if being held together by the collective, even the expression on his face Nothing has changed.

At this moment, Han Zhongguo's eyes were horrified. This sudden change in painting style, without any buffer in the middle, suddenly stopped, like time suddenly stopped, or the high-speed train stopped instantly, an extremely abrupt uncomfortable feeling for everyone The uncomfortable is about to vomit blood.

This is what kind of terrifying influence can achieve such an instant grasp of emotions, this is God.

They know that from this moment, no one can shake Di Ping's position, no one can shake the foundation of the base.

Chapter 744: Exaggerated transmission distance

What happened today will be recorded in the annals of the sanctuary city.

This is a rebirth of  for the city of refuge and a transformation, laying a solid foundation for the further development of the base.

Thirty-three people, including Feng Ziming, Li Jun, and Wang Xuming, accepted the base's public trial meeting.

Five people executed the death penalty on the spot. Among them, these three people fell on their heads, and the crowd on the base burst into cheers. Normally no one would have a good impression of traitors.

The remaining people were beaten with military sticks according to the severity, and then all were thrown into the construction site, becoming inferior city dwellers. Only those who performed well in exchange for food can regain their equal status.

On the spot, Di Ping announced several decisions.

The first step is to reorganize the army, the combat team, and change its name to the city guard, Cheng Chao as the commander, Lu Guoliang as the city staff, and there are five teams.

The first team, titled "Leopard", team leader, Xu Sheng;

In this unexpected army, unexpectedly none of Xu Sheng's team had a problem. Even Li Sheng failed to do it. This made Di Ping admire Xu Sheng very much. This small soldier showed quite strong leadership ability. Therefore, Di Ping gave Xu Sheng the title of Leopard. Leopard's calmness and calmness fit his temperament. .

The second team, titled "Tiger", team leader, Zhang Liang;

During the review at this time, only three people in the team were found to have problems. It can be seen that there is not much problem with the team management. Zhang Liang's character is bold, daring to fight, and conforms to the tiger, so Di Ping gave the tiger number to the Zhang Liang team. .

The third team, titled "Wolf", team leader, Chen Gang;

Chen Gang's performance was not very good this time. Five members of the team were tried out, which made him very shameless. However, Di Ping gave him a team captain and gave him the wolf number. Don't look at him. Fat, a little timid, but he has a strong sense of strength. Once he is better, he is immortal and has the characteristics of a wolf.

The fourth team, titled "Eagle", team captain, Li Sheng;

Li Sheng, the team performed well this time. Four of them had problems and were tried out. Li Sheng was very angry about this. But at this time, his team was the main force in the action, and it could be regarded as making up for it. Di Ping gave it. He is the captain of the fourth team, the title of eagle.

This is consistent with his character, calm, cruel, like a cold-blooded killer, as long as Di Ping orders, he dares to kill anyone, extremely loyal, like a hawk.

The fifth team, titled "Bear", team captain, Wei Zhongkai;

Wei Zhongkai was the former ten-man captain of Feng Ziming's brigade. He was loyal, mature, and resilient. He was able to gain the upper hand in Wang Xuming and was loyal to the base. He was loyal to the base. Di Ping brought him up and became the captain. And given the title of bear.

All the teams were broken up in teams and redistributed. The teams with problems had been cleared, and some people were drawn from the base people to make up five teams, and 500 people were full.

After redistributing the five teams, Di Ping promulgated the military law. In a traditional sense, the city guards with military law can be regarded as an army.

The contents of the military law are as follows:

1. Do not listen to orders, refuse marching orders, cut off;
2. Robbing property, killing and cutting;
3. Form gangs, gather crowds to fight and cut;
4. Bullying the people, humiliating women, and beheading;
5. Collusion with foreign enemies, surrender, rebel, and cut;
- Six, use power for personal gain, oppress goodness, and cut

These six items are called the Six Laws of the Army of the City of Refuge, and they have become the important six methods for the base to manage the army. Once these six methods are released, the atmosphere of the entire army is instantly shocked.

In addition, the Military Law Division was established, with Lu Guoliang concurrently serving as the director, specializing in dealing with the violation of law and discipline by the city guards.

From then on, there is a law to follow, and there is a law to enforce, and it's hard to imagine the nonsense before.

Chapter 745: Extra-satellite technology shows its magic

In the second step Di Ping took, the special team was renamed and changed to the guard of the city lord, the captain of the guard Owen, the deputy captain Yue Lie, and the title dragon.

Anyone who unlocks the potential or recruits heroes is automatically classified as the Santos Guards.

When Yue Lie received his fate, he was stunned on the spot. Among recruiting heroes, his strength can be said to be the weakest, and that person can serve as an instructor for him, but suddenly Di Ping's appointment of him as the deputy captain made him very surprised.

To make Yue Lie the deputy captain, Di Ping had some consideration. Although Yue Lie's current strength is not as good as recruiting heroes, the most important thing is that he has less experience. As long as he goes through more actual combat, his combat power will soon rise.

The most important thing is that this kid is full of spirituality and can learn everything quickly. The natural shortcoming of recruiting heroes is that he has little knowledge of the earth. This requires a process.

So at this time, Yue Lie's role was revealed and he could play a certain supporting role in the team.

This is Di Ping's positioning of Yue Lie!

Everyone had no opinion about the change of the Santo's personal guards, and it was the third step below, which left many people puzzled.

That is, Di Ping announced the establishment of the Public Security Office, which mainly manages public security in the base. Yun Kuohai serves as the director and has ten personnel under his jurisdiction. Now the base has a small number of people, and ten people are almost enough.

This appointment made some people a little puzzled. After all, Yun Kuohai had just joined in and became the real management.

But in fact, Di Ping has nothing to do. The most important thing is that there is no one under him now?

If someone were to use Yun Kuohai, he would certainly not use Yun Kuohai now, and only had to dry it for a while; but there was Yun Mengsi's presence in it, which gave Di Ping the mind to use Yun Kuohai.

As an awakened person, Yun Mengsi became a guard of the city lord, and she used her abilities a lot of time. It was also the intention to give Ye Da a job to make her feel at ease.

Moreover, Yun Kuohai has sufficient abilities. He has managed gangs and groups, and it is okay to be a small chief of public security, right?

After that, Di Ping made another appointment that made everyone smile. Liu Bingyu was the secretary-general of the city lord, mainly responsible for managing the day-to-day arrangements of the city lord and issuing instructions.

Liu Bingyu is smart, clear-hearted, quick-thinking, resourceful, and able to gain a reputation in the Kyoto circle. It is not easy. He is a rare talent. Di Ping keeps him by his side so that he can give himself advice.

The most important thing is that I am busy with cultivating, and many times I can't take care of the things in the base. It is much more convenient to have such a person to go up and down.

Di Ping looked at everyone's weird eyes, so he touched his nose in embarrassment and cursed a group of people for being too dirty.

Talents should be used wisely, Liu Bingyu's talent is not managing a logistics, it is too wasteful.

In the logistics department, Di Ping brought Yu Shujie up. The agriculture department is just a decoration. What about the new type of planting Yu Shujie?

Now that Liu Bingyu was promoted as the Secretary-General, she followed the situation, but Yu Shujie had no interest in being an official, and she was a bit saddened by Liu Bingyu's becoming the Secretary-General of the City Lord.

When Yu Shujie became the head of the logistics department, the agriculture department let the manor manager Delin take charge. He was an expert in this area, and it was appropriate to manage the agriculture department.

After that, Di Ping will announce a series of policies that are beneficial to all the city dwellers, such as pay according to work, as long as you are willing to work, you can get a salary, eat enough, and let everyone live more dignified; another example is to ban the city. A series of policies and rules such as forced labor, prohibition of fighting, and theft have made the base people feel safer than ever.

As a result, the vigorous base rectification is over, and the impact is far-reaching.

This time, Di Ping's sudden vigorous effort to remediate the base did not cause the people at the base to panic. They underestimated Di Ping's prestige among the combat team and the people.

The bad elements in the army were eliminated, and the new policy was announced. The city guards broke out unprecedented unity and rapidly increased their combat power.

And the public trial meeting allowed the people to see a different city lord, trust Di Ping from the bottom of their hearts, and the level of reverence has even reached the point of fanaticism.

The entire base is rejuvenated, united from top to bottom, from the inside to the outside, it is hard to shake.

Chapter 746: Not enough points for smart watches

The internal stability made Di Ping feel relieved, and the rest was to solve the problem of the Bianzhou base.

However, he already had plans for this and found a solution. In the in-depth discussions with Liu Minsheng last night, he had reached an agreement.

Liu Minsheng came forward to solve the problem of the Bianzhou base. I believe that with his Liu family's ability in the base, there shouldn't be much problem.

Before, Feng Ziming was afraid of liquidation and deliberately exaggerated the casualties. The information reported to the Bianzhou base was that Liu Minsheng died in battle, Wang Dequan was killed, Di Ping was frantic, killing people like hemp, and killed everyone. Only then was it angered. Bianzhou base.

But now that Liu Min lives and most of the soldiers are alive, I believe that the Bianzhou base will only reconsider it, and if the Liu family is working hard in it, the Bianzhou base does not want to go to war!

Of course, there are joys and worries. The only regret is that Ye Lu is a woman.

She was youthful, innocent, sunny, and beautiful, but she was fascinated by Feng Ziming's demeanor. In just ten days, she had fallen and became an accomplice. She was simply a stupid and poor woman.

When he was in the basement, he saw Li Jun coming with a knife. He was originally full of hope and love, and his unwillingness to not reveal a message even if he died, collapsed at this moment. She could not expect Feng Ziming to come. Kill her.

Especially when it was learned from Ning Nan that Feng Ziming was also related to Zhou Chunchun of the Ministry of Communications, and he was killed after his defeat, which completely broke him.

No matter how Ning Nan and Liu Bingyu persuaded, she didn't say a word, and her eyes were gloomy with no trace of color.

In Ning Nan, after Liu Bingyu had something to leave, in the middle of the night, she strangled herself to death with a belt.

After Di Ping heard the news, he was also full of sadness and sighs.

This is a decisive girl who has no hesitation in love and is devoted to love. It is also pure love without a trace of impurities. She can do anything for the one she loves, even if it is murder and arson, but she will never allow love. Innocence.

Di Ping was a little regretful. This was a young, innocent and splendid girl who had the best time, but because of a mistake, she killed herself.

Therefore, Di Ping did not regret the execution of Feng Ziming. Such a person would pollute the air even alive.

Feng Ziming has many advantages. He is young, smart, capable, and high in EQ. If he develops well in the base, it will not be difficult to follow Di Ping to a higher level, but his human nature is not good, and he is at the end.

"City Lord! This is based on labor, is there a plan to be made, as long as there are rules to follow, there will be no trouble!"

It was already the second day of the public trial meeting. Liu Bingyu took office. She had already entered the role of secretary, holding a folder, standing behind Di Ping and asked in a low voice.

Originally, Di Ping, who was standing in front of the floor-to-ceiling windows of the main tower, watching the busy people outside the castle, was thinking about his concerns, but was interrupted by Liu Bingyu's voice.

"Well! It's time to make a plan!"

Di Ping glanced at Liu Bingyu, and thought that this woman deserves to be from a big family. The policy he announced before was too general. It was something that he thought roughly and did not refine it, but she could see the core at a glance, so he Nodded and said:

"You can draw up a plan. I decided to implement a points system. Army salaries, work income, and base contributions can all be counted as points, and then points can be used to exchange resources. This is a general policy, and you will also make specific content!"

"It's the city owner, I will draw up a plan as soon as possible!"

Liu Bingyu nodded calmly.

Then quickly record Di Ping's opinions in the file for easy reference.

Chapter 747: Sudden change Di Ping shocked

This point system is what Di Ping has long thought of. The point system is convenient for management, points for work results, and easy to use. It is inconvenient and difficult to calculate without using food every time.

The second is that the points system can bind everyone to the tank of the Sanctuary City. Everyone will have a card. This card is like a bank card. You can buy items in the base with the card. Once you leave the base, this card loses its effect.

It is too simple to realize this. You must know that Di Ping has an intelligent system called Zero. A computer and a mobile phone can complete these tasks through processing, and it will exceed the pre-apocalyptic technology countless times.

This is confirmed by Di Ping and Zero. Di Ping has a system and has not paid much attention to this intelligent system, but after this incident, he really paid attention to it. Zero is not an ordinary thing, it is far beyond the earth. The high-tech products of science and technology must play an important role.

"City Lord, then I went out?"

Liu Bingyu recorded good content and said goodbye to Di Ping.

"Go ahead!"

Di Ping nodded, looking at Liu Bingyu's haggard face, he sighed and said: "Don't be too sad, everyone has destiny, this is her best result!"

"I know!"

Liu Bingyu nodded in relief, then turned and stepped away.

Ye Lu's death touched her and Ning Nan the most. After all, the three of them had the best relationship, but it was really hard for her to accept that her good friend left.

Originally, Di Ping had promised not to deal with Ye Lu, leaving the castle at most and becoming an ordinary citizen, but Ye Lu did not accept it. She was buried for her love.

In fact, Liu Bingyu also knows that Di Ping is right. Her death may be the best result, because even if she is alive, those who have died in battle, how can people let her go? Her life will not be good. .

But she was a little sad and uncomfortable, especially Ning Nan, who had been crying all night and her eyes were still swollen.

"Di...This time, the host perfectly solved the base crisis, and the system gave special rewards. The reward is being calculated, please wait!"

Originally wanted to comfort Liu Bingyu with a few words, suddenly Di Ping sounded a system reminder and immediately awakened him and stopped his steps.

"I wipe it! There is still this good thing!"

When Di Ping heard that there was a reward, he immediately became excited. He didn't expect this unexpected joy.

"Di...This reward includes a quantum virtual terminal with ten smart watches. Please check it out!"

Di Ping was stunned when he heard the reward. What are these things? Are there any weapons or exercises practical?

"Dip...The virtual terminal covers an area of ten cubic meters. Please find a place to realize it as soon as possible. The smart watch has been stored in the back of the system bag!"

Immediately afterwards, the system made another beep, interrupting Di Ping's chaotic thoughts.

Di Ping was stunned for a while before he came back. Since the one given to him by the system must be useful, let's get it out first.

Di Ping quickly came to the top of the main tower. There was an attic on the top floor with an area of more than 40 square meters. Di Ping was going to put this virtual terminal in this location.

He has a feeling that this virtual terminal may be very important. The system is produced and it is absolutely extraordinary, and it is absolutely safe to put it on top of the city lord.

"System, realize it!"

Di Ping looked at the empty room and said to the system.

"Om!"

There was a humming in the space, and then a sudden fluctuation was seen, and then a strange machine appeared out of thin air on the ground.

It is a round silver object with a semicircular base underneath, a sphere on the top, and three spikes of different lengths on the dome.

Chapter 748: Collective disease

The silver sphere is not high, just over two meters. Di Ping stared at the object with a strong sense of high-tech in front of him, not knowing how to start.

"Virtual terminal!"

Suddenly Di Ping appeared in front of an illusory figure, looking at the virtual terminal in front of him with a surprised tone.

Di Ping was startled by the illusory figure that suddenly appeared, but when he heard the sound, he immediately knew that this was an intelligent program zero. He never knew that zero energy appeared. Before, he listened to her voice and looked at the woman in an illusory shape. The figure, he was a little stunned for a while.

"Zero, you know this thing!"

However, he reacted in an instant, looking at the zero state, he seemed to recognize this object, and he was eager to understand the usefulness of this object, so he hurriedly asked.

"Yes, master, this is the first generation of virtual terminal machine, it is the interstellar short-distance communication network server!"

Zero replied.

"Hey, Interstellar Communications!"

As soon as Di Ping heard this term, of course he knew the usefulness of this thing immediately. He swallowed his saliva and said in shock, "How far is this short distance?"

"Short-distance transmission within 100,000 light years!"

Zero voice said plainly.

"Damn!"

Di Ping exploded with a swear word. He swallowed hard, looking at the ball in horror, and said, "A hundred thousand light-years are also called short distances?"

He has studied physics. It is necessary to know that the diameter of the Milky Way is only 150,000 light-years, and this virtual terminal can transmit up to 100,000 light-years, which is almost the entire silver system.

"Yes, master, according to the zero internal storage data records, some life sciences have now developed the fifth-generation long-distance virtual terminal, the transmission distance can cover a star field!"

Zero then broke the news.

"How big is the star field?"

Di Ping has crashed, and Mu dumbly asked.

"Tens of thousands the size of the Milky Way!"

Zero said lightly.

"Damn!"

Di Ping exploded again, and after a while, he had already exploded twice.

Di Ping clutched his heart, gasping for breath: "Okay, zero, don't tell me next, I'm afraid the heart can't stand it!"

"Oh..."

Zero actually giggled, looking very like a woman.

Originally, he felt that the system sent a low-level virtual terminal and felt that the system was stingy. Who knew that this first generation was so powerful, and the earth Saturn was far enough?

In fact, it's less than one light-year. Think about how terrifying this 100,000 light-years are. The difference in science and technology on the earth can be calculated by light-years.

"How does this thing work?"

Di Ping turned around twice in confusion and saw that the big guy had no choice but to ask zero.

"Master, can you authorize this to be managed by me, okay?"

Suddenly, he spoke to Di Ping with a humanized imploring tone.

"Uh!"

Di Ping looked at the imaginary figure of Zero with some surprise. His tone was no different from that of a real person. He was even acting like a baby. He looked at Zero and asked in a daze, "Zero, what's the use of managing this?"

"Master, I can quickly collect data through this virtual terminal, improve the database, and upgrade to a higher level of intelligence!"

Zero voice resumed calmly.

"Can you upgrade?"

Di Ping asked in surprise.

He feels that today is the end of the day, and everyone is surprised not as much as today.

"Yes, master, I am now a first-level intelligence, and every time I improve, my intelligence is higher, the calculation is stronger, the more powerful I have, the better I can help the owner!"

Unreal Shadow Ling looked at Di Ping and nodded.

Chapter 749: Si awakening to understand the reason

"Well then! I'll leave it to you to manage!"

Di Ping looked at zero expectation and finally agreed.

"Thank you Master!"

Thank you Di Ping with zero humanity, and then it seemed that I couldn't wait any longer, and the body turned into a stream of data and quickly dived into the virtual terminal.

"Om..."

Suddenly the virtual terminal made a hum, and then slowly separated from the middle, revealing a black layer of black metal like layers of rock, and then the entire sphere was densely covered with countless lines and began to light up.

The sudden change frightened Di Ping. Fortunately, he had already experienced too many dangers. His concentration increased greatly. He stood still and watched the virtual terminal start quietly.

The buzzing sounded for a while, and suddenly Di Ping felt an invisible wave in the air that swept across his body, very slight. If it were not strong mentally, Di Ping would not feel the difference.

However, this feeling comes quickly, goes quickly, and disappears in an instant, and those who are not sensitive will not notice it.

Then the buzzing sound disappeared, and the virtual terminal was quietly lit. If you don't listen carefully, you can't hear the sound from the machine. It seems that there is no sound. You can feel a little buzzing only by putting your ears on it. sound.

Di Ping stared at the changing ball in a daze, muttering to himself in doubt: "Yes, master, it's already on!"

An illusory figure flashed, and Zero reappeared in front of Di Pinyang.

"How does this work?"

Di Ping looked at this iron knot and spread his hands.

"As long as the owner has a communication terminal, he can directly connect and use it!"

Zero reply.

"What communication terminal?"

Di Ping looked confused, but instantly he remembered something and smiled on his face and said, "Zero, do you think this is it?"

Di Ping thought, the smart watch presented by the system appeared in his hands.

"Yes, master, this is a smart watch, with power intelligence, can be connected to a virtual terminal to communicate! The function is similar to the earth's mobile phone, but more powerful!"

Ling looked at the watch in Di Ping's hand and explained.

"So awesome?"

Di Ping said in surprise when he looked at this thing that looked like a small metal watch.

"The master can be equipped with the setting and setting functions to know!"

Ling had an indifferent smile. Although it was illusory, the expression on his face could be clearly seen. This human ability and intelligence had such a rich expression.

When Di put the watch on his left wrist, the metal watch suddenly moved, as if it was alive. The silver diamond strap quickly shrank and changed in size, just jamming Di Ping's wrist. No matter how it moved, it would not affect it.

"hiss!"

Suddenly Di Ping took a breath. He felt like a needle pierced his wrist, but the pain quickly disappeared. He looked at the silver watch on his wrist with some confusion.

"Master, this is the binding user, the genetic code is locked, and the non-initiator cannot open it to prevent it from being stolen!"

Seeing Di Ping frowned, Ling immediately explained.

"Isn't this the same as the divine tool in the fantasy novel?"

Di Ping looked at the watch and thought to himself.

"Why there is no response? How to use it now?"

Di Ping looked at the watch that hadn't changed afterwards except for the time he had just pierced him.

"Master, the watch did not start the smart program, now I will start it!"

Zero explained.

Then it saw zero, once again transformed into a data stream, rushing towards the smart watch, and when it moved, the watch immediately shook.

Immediately afterwards, a virtual interface appeared in front of Di Ping, just like Di Ping's original system.

"Master, wherever you go in the future, I can be with you again, and I can better manage the base through me!"

Zero appeared on the interface, looking at Di Pingdao with a big smile.

Chapter 750: The big cat who won't return for a few days

Under the guidance of Zero, Di Ping played with a smart watch for a while before he really felt that this thing was powerful.

It not only has the function of a computer, but also the communication function of a mobile phone. It can be said that it is a collection of the two and is more complete.

What's more powerful is that this has virtual network functions, and even has the ability to bridge the spirit. It can directly enter the virtual space through spiritual consciousness and complete some experiences, just like reality.

It can be said to be extremely powerful. The only thing that makes Di Ping uncomfortable is that there is no such content in his virtual terminal now, nothing is empty, and some content construction must be completed by zero later.

Only now did Di Ping understand the intention of the system to send this thing. Before he was thinking about leaving the base by himself, he would not be able to directly contact the people in the base. He had to go through the system, which was very inconvenient.

These people, unlike his recruited heroes, can directly contact themselves, but with this smart watch, it is much more convenient. Afterwards, even if they leave by themselves, they can also contact people in need.

Di Ping's admiration for the system at this time is like the Yangtze River Taotao, and it is out of control. If the system is in front of him, he can't wait to kiss him, knowing his needs too much, it is better than timely rain.

"Just a little bit less!"

But then, Di Ping looked at ten smart watches and thought with regret.

This person is a donkey. He turned his face when he said that he turned his face. He was still thanking the system just now, and he wanted to kiss him. Now he is complaining about too little.

"Ten stations are not enough?"

After Di Ping settled the accounts, he couldn't help but get a headache.

If each division chief gave one, then seven would have to be eliminated. To whom would the rest be given, it would be better to have one for each battle team, but the five major teams would not have enough points?

Di Ping considered for a while and decided to divide it like this.

There is one for Owen, the captain of the town lord and guard. Although it can be contacted by the system, it is too inconvenient. Owen is passive and cannot actively contact Di Ping, so it is much more convenient to use a watch.

Then, the captain of the Five Great Wars was a person to facilitate communication during the war. The commander Cheng Chao also had to have one, and the Chief of Staff Lu Guoliang had one.

Liu Bingyu's one, she is her own secretary, and her job is to upload and release, so her one is enough for the government affairs.

In addition to the one I used, this would have to be exactly ten. There weren't many emergencies elsewhere, so Liu Bingyu would just pass it through.

All ten watches have been activated by Zero and can be used normally, as long as they are bound for authentication, they can be used.

As the first part of Di Ping's, everything was done by the zero generals. He only did the binding and the certification was completed by zero.

"Master, don't worry, I have watch development materials here. As long as the owner has a professional scientific research team, he can produce it by himself!"

Seeing Di Ping staring at the smart wrist on the desk worrying about the distribution, Zero's voice came again.

This sound was like a natural sound, which made Di Ping instantly ecstatic, seeing the magic of the watch, and he felt that this thing would be more and more useful in the future.

"Zero, can it really be produced?"

Di Ping asked urgently.

"Yes, master, as long as you can overcome the technical problems of production, you can directly produce, and the intelligent program will be completed by me, very simple!"

Zero expression proudly.

"Good!"

Di Ping rubbed his hands excitedly and said okay.

At this time, Di Ping had longed for scientific and technological talents from the past, but now he is a poor man, and he has come to get these high-end talents.

With a strong unwillingness, Di Ping went down to the top floor and returned to his residence. As soon as he sat down and took a drink, there was a knock on the door and anxious breathing from outside the door.

"The city lord...hurry...hurry...something happened!"
