

Doomsday 851

Chapter 851: The road ahead is blocked

More than a thousand catties of wild boar were evenly divided. Many people didn't want to move after eating. They were too full and they were too tired.

The powerful energy in the mutant meat enters the body through digestion, eliminating their pain and fatigue, and enhancing their physical fitness.

This night, it was a good night's sleep. The one in the base was quiet, Zhang Hengcheng, the last meat-eating person. After eating the mutant meat, he fell asleep without holding back.

He is too tired and too hard, and he has worn out this iron-clad man in this month.

Gu Xing looked at this man who fell asleep leaning on a pile of debris, with deep worries and distress in his eyes. He was about to collapse because of the super pressure, and now he can no longer support his body. Fatigue and pain.

Di Ping didn't let Gu act on him, so let him sleep well, right?

Anyway, in this last days, there are no conditions to say, where to sleep is different! In the evening, Di Ping, the vocational class, arranged for guards to take charge. A dozen people were divided into three groups to guard the safety of the base.

A night without words, a good dream!

The base was busy at four o'clock in the morning. After a late night's sleep, Zhang Hengcheng regained his energy and his whole body was full of vitality. The eyes that were originally sunken are now full of direct light, and his full body of blood makes people look sideways .

Di Ping was surprised to find that after resting this night, Zhang Hengcheng broke through again and became a Tier 3 Awakener

It seems that his previous accumulation has been very deep, sufficient mutant meat provides him with energy, and the deficiency of his body is also filled, pushing his strength further.

Not only him, but the people on the base woke up in the morning full of energy and energetic after a night of sleep. They still looked like a starving ghost before.

To say that Zhang Hengcheng is not a man who is not flexible. He drew a big pie for everyone and told them that the place to move today is not only safe, but also has sufficient food, and everyone has food and shelter.

If you say this at the beginning, many people may not believe it. It is really difficult to lie to people nowadays with Wangmei quenching thirst.

But last night's sumptuous meal of mutant meat dispelled everyone's doubts, and they really believed that the scene Zhang Hengcheng described was true.

Especially when they woke up this morning, everyone felt the difference, their bodies became stronger again, their hunger pangs disappeared, and they were full of energy. This made them even more yearning for a sanctuary where they could eat and drink.

So there is no need for Zhang Hengcheng to say much. Everyone got up early in the morning and started to chat with friends, ready to set off today.

Yesterday's remaining mutant meat was mixed with some rice. In the morning, the five big pot was rekindled, and five pots of mutant meat porridge was boiled.

This made the people in the base who had only eaten a little food for two days, once again burst out of unprecedented enthusiasm, each with their mouths cracked, smiling happily, while admiring the good life of the future, while drinking meat porridge.

People who were originally timid and didn't want to leave now don't want to stay anymore. With the hope of life, who wants to stay here and starve to death?

Now there is no need for Zhang Hengcheng's instructions to announce that they are ready to go. As soon as the steel gate opens, these people have already rushed out and boarded the buses. They were extremely active, for fear that they would be left behind.

The bus carrying seventy-five people was crowded with more than one hundred people. No one shouted.

At six o'clock on time, the bus swayed out, heading towards happiness in the morning sun.

Chapter 852: Go east by the river

Many people have walked out of the underground base for the first time, and when they saw the sky outside, they were already a little uncomfortable.

Although there are lights in the underground shopping malls, they are all low-power led lights. You can only look at them roughly, but they are still dark. Many people see the sun suddenly, and their eyes are half-squinted and tears are flowing. .

But no one closed their eyes. They looked curiously at the mutated world outside, even if they were looking at the beautiful scenery outside with tears in their eyes.

One by one was breathing fresh air greedily, seeming to want to breathe enough at a time.

An army of steel suddenly appeared in this deserted city, and the sound of the motors of a dozen or so cars was particularly obvious in this silent city.

Although some people who were hiding were shocked when they heard the sound from outside, when they made up their minds to come out to see, they found that the convoy had gone far, and one by one they slammed their chests, regretting that they were late.

Di Ping was sitting on an off-road vehicle in the middle. This kind of vehicle shouldn't be too many in the underground parking lot. He took Gina and Angela and drove the teacher's machine in the base.

And Yue Lie and Daniel, they drove a majestic sweat horse, leading the way.

The other dozen or so awakened persons, including Zhang Hengcheng, were divided into three off-road vehicles, with three stages of protection in the middle and back.

The sudden appearance of the convoy injected different vitality into the entire quiet city, and mutant animals began to constantly move around the convoy.

Di Ping could see mutant dogs, mutant cats, mutant wild wolves and other mutant animals flashing not far away.

But none of these mutant animals couldn't figure out the details of this steel convoy, and they didn't dare to come forward to find something for a while, but this also made Di Ping faintly uneasy.

This was different from the rainy road migration last time. It was a sunny day. Buses blatantly walked in the city where mutant beasts were rampant, and there was no difference between knocking on the gong and shouting.

But Di Ping couldn't help it. If these thousands of people walked, the movement would be greater. The strong human aura would attract more mutant animals, and without the protection of vehicles, they would be more vulnerable to attack.

Although the bus is very dynamic, it is fast and travels very far quickly.

Moreover, the road from Denton to the Sanctuary City is also more convenient. After turning two or three kilometers of the inner city road, you will enter the ring road. It is not far from the main road in front of the base. In his opinion, this section should not have too strong mutation. animal.

Therefore, although he looked at the mutant beast shadows that flashed from time to time not far away, he was a little uneasy, but he was not quite worried yet.

The people at Denton Base couldn't hold back their excitement. They have been chatting in the car about the changes in the outside world. When they saw the appearance of mutant animals, these people became scared again.

At this time, thinking of the danger outside again, one by one hiding in the car did not let out the atmosphere, secretly watching the movement outside, shivering.

And for the first time with Zhang Hengcheng who came out so blatantly, his heart jumped suddenly.

In the past, he came out to find food almost every other day. Every time he was evasive for fear of encountering mutant animals. Sometimes he was not lucky enough to run into one or two. Although it was resolved, he never dared to blatantly take the mutant animal carcasses back to the base. He is afraid that the blood will attract mutant animals.

Today, he actually drove a car in this crisis-ridden city, and he felt crazy thinking about it.

"Lao Zhang, don't be afraid, don't worry if there is a city owner!"

Tang Zhandong admired Zhang Hengcheng's skill very much in his heart, so he walked closer to him. After yesterday's cooperation, the two are now quite familiar. He smiled and patted Zhang Hengcheng on the shoulder.

"I'm not afraid, I'm nervous!"

Zhang Hengcheng glanced vigilantly out of the car window, and said nervously.

"Haha! What is nervousness or fear?"

Tang Zhandong pointed to Zhang Hengcheng and laughed. Zhang Zhengyi and the fat man in the car also laughed. They have gone through a big battle, and they are not worried about these three or five mutant cats and dogs.

Chapter 853: The strange shadow in the river shocks everyone

The speed of the car is not fast, and it will drive at a speed of thirty or forty, sometimes even slower. The main road is not completely smooth, not only the mutation of trees squeezes and destroys the road.

There are still many vehicles left on the road to block the road, and Yue Lie at the forefront also plays the role of opening the road. The sweaty horse is like a tank knocking all the cars on the road to one side, clearing a passage. Ensure that the cars behind you pass quickly.

Di Ping has been paying attention to the situation outside the car. It took half an hour for the car to get out of three kilometers. There were too many vehicles on the streets in the city.

And this time, nearly a hundred mutant animals gathered around.

They followed the steel convoy with stern eyes, and followed closely, staring at the convoy with bloodthirsty rays in their scarlet eyes.

As the number increased, they were still hiding in hiding, but now they dare to brazenly appear in front of or trail behind the convoy, ready to start at any time.

"Xu Sheng, the fat man led the team and cleared the mutant dogs that followed. Give you one minute!"

Di Ping gave orders to Fatty and Xu Sheng through the walkie-talkie in the car.

"It's the city owner!"

Both of them took a car. In Xu Sheng's car were Boogie and Liu Han, while the Fatty's car was sitting in Tang Zhandong, Zhang Zhengyi, and Zhang Hengcheng; in the other car were Li Shuang, Ava and Luo Xinyi, they followed closely. Behind the Diping car, protect the middle section of the convoy.

Upon receiving Di Ping's order, the car of Xu Sheng and Fatty stopped abruptly, and then they rushed out of the car with serious expressions, waving their arms and rushing towards the group of mutant dogs that were following behind!

The rear team moved, and Yue Lie, who led the way in front, also received Di Ping's notice, and began to squeeze the speed of the car, as soon as the speed dropped to 20.

There are thirty or forty mutant dogs behind, they are following the convoy closely, ready to rush to take a bite at any time, these mutant dogs are extremely cunning and cruel.

When they saw Xu Sheng, Fatty and the others getting off the car, they were not afraid. Instead, the corners of their mouths were running wild, their eyes were scarlet, and they were yelling in excitement.

They dare not attack a large group of iron bumps, but these humans still dare to move!

Humans seem to have a certain temptation to them, as soon as they see it, they will rush to bite wildly.

They had never had a chance to start, but now they were given a chance. After a commotion, the dogs began to roar and rush towards everyone.

"kill!"

Surprisingly, Tang Zhengdong was the first to rush up with a roar of his war master.

He was suffocated with anger. Although he admired Zhang Heng's successful husband, it did not mean that he had no lumps in his heart. Losing to Zhang Hengcheng before made him have nowhere to vent the frustrations in his heart. Now these mutant dogs dare to appear in front of him. Come out.

Following his roar, his body shot out like lightning, and then the Fatty didn't lag behind, and also rushed up with their weapons.

Although Tang Zhandong was the first to charge, Xu Sheng was the first to reach the dog group. He even directly activated the collision skill and slammed into the mutant dog group, waving the big sword in his hand to bring a piece of cold light.

Don't look at Xu Sheng, who is usually quiet and quiet, but once he fights, he is extremely brave.

"Xu Sheng, you are playing!"

The fat man looked at Xu Sheng, who had already cut down a mutant dog with a sword, and suddenly roared. He was a barbarian and had not learned the collision skills. He really suffered at this speed.

But Xu Sheng ignored him at all, and then he hacked and killed a mutant dog. The fat man hated the itching of his teeth, but he had no choice but to rush his head, but it was only a momentary thing. The distance of twenty meters was in a blink of an eye. arrive.

For a time, the sword and lightsaber bloomed like plum blossoms, covering the entire street. It was very beautiful under the brilliant sunshine, but the beautiful belt was blood red.

Chapter 854: Python chasing flying bridge

Zhang Hengcheng fell behind, and he looked at the group of people dumbfounded. He just halfway through the rush, was stunned by Xu Sheng's sudden outbreak speed, and he slowed down.

What happened suddenly was beyond his knowledge, so he hesitated, and then he realized that the horror was just the beginning.

When everyone came into contact with the mutant dog group, he was surprised by the powerful attack power and attack speed. He felt that if these people randomly pulled out one to fight with him with such speed and power, he would undoubtedly lose. It's possible that he couldn't even pass a single move, and Tang Zhandong, who had previously been defeated by his own hands, was so brave that he was stunned.

Now he was a little puzzled. Before Tang Zhandong fought with himself, did he really win?

It now appears that he has some doubts about the previous results.

It's no wonder that Zhang Hengcheng thought too much. Fatty people used skills to complete Di Ping's mission. Once they use martial skills, their power and speed will change qualitatively. Zhang Hengcheng doesn't know the result. jump.

Now he was a little suspicious that Tang Zhandong had let him go before.

But also, if Tang Zhandong used skills, he was definitely not an opponent, and for the glory of the martial artist, Tang Zhandong finally used talents, but did not use skills.

Not to mention that Zhang Hengcheng was shocked, the group of seven people was like seven killing gods rushing into the mutant dog group. For a time, more than 20 mutant dogs had fallen in a pool of blood, and the remaining few were murderous in front of them. Frightened by the scene, he was so shocked that he did not dare to attack and turned and fled.

These mutant dogs are no longer like the previous ones, but they don't attack without death.

It is also true that this group of people stood together with a strong murderous aura, as if rising up into the sky like wolf smoke, which was very powerful to the mutant dog.

For more than ten seconds, the corpse of the mutant dog lay on the ground, and blood flowed all over the ground, and the entire road seemed to become a river of blood.

The seven stood in a pool of blood, with fires bursting in their eyes, and the fighting made them excited. The fat man licked his lips, with an expression of unfulfilled meaning.

Fortunately, no one has seen this, or something has to be scared, these people are too bloody, and even Zhang Hengcheng is shocked when he looks at it at this time.

Several people looked at each other, then laughed, and then they started to crack open the mutant dog's head to take the crystal nucleus.

When several people talked and laughed holding the crystal core, walking back on the blood, Zhang Hengcheng eased a little.

"Go, you're not one step too late!"

After getting fat, Zhang Hengcheng smiled happily.

Everyone also laughed excitedly, it seemed that the killing just now was just a very simple thing.

Zhang Hengcheng smiled awkwardly, until he was dragged into the car by the fat man, the whole person was still dumb, which caused everyone to laugh again.

When the car started, the two cars quickly caught up with the convoy that had walked out 100 meters in front, and then reported the results to Di Ping. The convoy rose again and moved forward.

At this moment, Zhang Hengcheng's heart was overwhelmed. He had always been proud of being beaten at this moment. He felt that he should be the strongest among these people.

Now I really don't dare to think like this. These people are stronger than each, why their attack power and speed have changed so much.

All these doubts hovered in his mind, making him uneasy. He opened his mouth a few times, but didn't know how to ask.

"Are you surprised? Don't worry, you will be like us soon!"

The fat man suddenly patted Zhang Hengcheng on the shoulder.

At this time, the fat man still had a silly smile, but his pair of small eyes burst out with a bright light, and he looked at Zhang Hengcheng with a slight sense of meaning.

If Di Ping saw it at this time, he would definitely not believe his eyes. This would be a fat man. When did he become so smart?

Zhang Hengcheng did not speak, he already knew what he was thinking?

Chapter 855: The dragon flies in the air

The speed of the convoy was raised again, and after this killing, it was obviously still shocked by the mutant animals that followed around. Many of them have dispersed, but some crazy still followed unhurriedly.

People who were frightened and trembling by the mutant animals found that after walking for so long, the mutant animals were just running around and did not attack them. This made the trembling heart finally let go and began to look at them again in surprise. Changes in the outside world.

If the city used to be prosperous, busy, and noisy and full of people walking in a hurry, even in the middle of the night, there will always be people and cars on the road.

Then the current city is desolate, depressed, and silent!

The city in front of everyone has lost its former prosperity. The people who used to rub shoulders disappeared. Only empty buildings are left. The buildings are covered with huge thick green vines, and the streets are surrounded by big trees in the sky, growing everywhere. The luxuriant weeds are full of desolation and ancient times, as if walking on the ruins that have been abandoned for thousands of years.

Some of them have been hiding underground for a whole month, and the shortest one has been hiding for more than 20 days, but the earth's changes have not stopped.

The streets are full of sturdy trees that cannot be hugged by two or three people. Such trees can only be seen in the original primitive forests, but now they are everywhere. The end is invisible when you raise your head.

After the initial shock, Zhang Hengcheng was finally relieved and chatted with everyone. Only then did he realize that these people were using martial arts, which were skills that could only be learned by those who changed their jobs to professionals at the base.

Zhang Hengcheng's heart suddenly became hot now, which made him look forward to the visit to the base more and more grateful for his choice.

Not to mention the excited Zhang Hengcheng, Di Ping has been looking around sharply. This section of the road is not a section he is familiar with, and he does not know whether this section will be dangerous, so he is extra careful.

"City Lord, the road ahead is blocked, request a detour!"

At this moment, Yue Lie's voice suddenly came from the walkie-talkie, and the team also slowly stopped.

"Everyone stops and waits for orders, pay attention to the surrounding movement!"

Di Ping frowned, he turned on the intercom and ordered.

"Roger that!"

There was a response from the intercom, and then Di Ping patted the driver on the shoulder and said:

"Look ahead!"

The driver was obviously a veteran driver. When the steering wheel was hit, the car creaked and rushed out from the gap on the side. Fortunately, the road was relatively wide and there was room for him to walk.

The people on the bus didn't know why the bus stopped, and they all stretched their necks to look ahead. Di Ping's car quickly rushed to the front with more than five or six buses.

He frowned when he saw the situation, and saw that the viaduct in front of him was originally a viaduct, but now it has completely collapsed, completely blocking the entire wide road, which is not easy to clean.

And this section of the road is full of one mile without a split, just need to turn right from the middle section of the convoy to find the way again.

Di Ping frowned not because the road was blocked, but because he didn't understand why the viaduct suddenly collapsed here. You must know that there was no earthquake here, and the quality of the viaduct was generally very good. How could it suddenly collapse?

"The city lord has only a detour now. Do you think it is going east or west?"

Seeing Di Ping's arrival, Yue Lie walked to him and asked.

"Go west, go around!"

Di Ping thought for a while and decided.

To the east is the direction of the zoo. He is more sensitive to the zoo now. As a last resort, he doesn't want to go to that position again. The power of King Kong is not a joke.

"It's the city owner!"

Yue Lie responded, and then used the walkie-talkie to convey Di Ping's instructions to the rear, then quickly got into the car and hit the direction of the Hummer and turned back.

And Di stood in front of the broken bridge, his eyes keenly scanning the traces between the broken walls.

Chapter 856: Shocking roar

The drivers received instructions and began to direct the steering of the bus. The rear team changed to the front team and started to turn westward from the middle.

The mutant animals who were walking around couldn't figure out their status for a while, but watching the car stopped, all the mutant animals began to growl anxiously. They felt that the opportunity had come and they were rioting.

And all the awakened personnel, carrying their weapons, started to stare at these mutated animals vigilantly. Although the mutated animals roared anxiously, they did not dare to jump on them.

Di Ping stared at the collapsed viaduct for a long time without seeing any traces. The broken cement block covered all traces.

The convoy was very fast, and these drivers were all skilled drivers. After a while, all the cars entered a small road called Jianguo Road to the west.

Di Ping remembers that fortunately, this road was newly built on the old road and widened to seven meters. The tall platanus trees on both sides of the road have now been changed to Magnolia grandiflora. The root system of this tree is not well developed and has not grown too much. It is tall, the road damage is not serious, and the car can still pass.

If it were the old French plane trees, then this road must not be open to traffic. Di Ping had seen many plane trees planted in the old streets. Now some of them grow to five or six meters in thickness. The huge tree roots completely destroy the road. Even the thick concrete floor was torn apart by it.

But that's it, the broad magnolia also grows into a basin of water thickness, fifty or sixty meters high, covering the entire sky tightly, without a trace of sunlight.

Di Ping's car went from the middle position to the back, and the collapsed viaduct flashed in his mind from time to time. There was always doubt in his heart, which made him feel a little unsure. There was no earthquake, no shelling, and such a strong viaduct collapsed. There was only one willing. It can be explained by some powerful mutant beast.

Then this mutant beast was absolutely terrifyingly strong, and the bridge was bumped into pieces, and the reinforced concrete didn't seem to have much effect.

Feeling relieved, the convoy walked less than one kilometer and then proceeded northward from a one-way street. Although the convoy was retrograde, no one came to take pictures and punish it.

What made everyone rest assured was that this section of the elevated section was intact, and the convoy passed under the elevated section smoothly. Di Ping breathed a sigh of relief. If this section was also destroyed, he would have to make a detour. He didn't want to touch any accident.

The car steadily crossed the viaduct, drove more than 300 meters, and arrived at an inland river in the city, and moved east again along the riverside road towards the avenue.

This is a river that runs through the city. It was only fifty or sixty meters wide. There used to be only shallow river water, but now the river is about half a meter away from the road surface. It seems that the entire river surface is extremely wide. The river surface is very quiet. No flow is seen.

The willow trees planted on the banks of the river have now grown into ancient big trees, as if they have gone through a hundred years, one by one, one by one, thick and strong, large swaths of willow branches hanging on the water, the reflection of the river has also become green, if this is not the end of the world, This will be a good place to escape the summer heat and enjoy the coolness. A fishing rod is hanging down by the river, it is a life like a fairy.

Only at this time, the riverbank was so quiet that I couldn't even hear a bird's song, as if it had entered a silent world, with only the roar of car motors remaining in the whole world.

A steel convoy traversed the river bank quickly, if it weren't for the noise of a motor, it would be considered a ghost convoy.

In the ruins of the city that has been silent for a month, a large-scale motorcade suddenly appeared, bringing a different vitality to the entire city. I don't know if people hiding in the hidden place heard or saw it at this time. What kind of mood.

Some people have indeed seen it now that it is impossible for such a convoy to survive without attracting attention. The human beings hiding in the dark are shocked, surprised, hesitant, and so on.

There are also people who are bold or in despair, come out of the hidden hiding place with the belief in life and inaction, but only see the tail of the convoy, their sudden surge of excitement quickly fades, and they just want to raise their hands. Call, the convoy has disappeared from sight.

Chapter 857: Situation crisis hanging by a thread

Di Ping was not in the mood to pay attention to anyone calling for help at this time. Even if he was there, he didn't have time to rescue him. He couldn't bring more than one thousand people into a dangerous situation for one or two people.

When the convoy turned to this riverbank, Di Ping suddenly felt that his anxiety was increasing. It was too quiet here, and the silence was scary.

Even the mutant animals that had been following the car before disappeared one by one and did not follow, which made Di Ping more worried.

The people sitting in the bus have been walking for more than an hour without encountering any danger. It is no wonder that there are mutant animals looming around.

At this moment they were watching the scenery of the river bank, marveling at the huge willow trees, without paying attention to the mutant animals that had been following them before, but they were gone.

They didn't notice, but Di Ping did. He didn't believe that these mutant animals had suddenly become vegetarian, and he was no longer interested in them.

"Attention all, speed up and pass the road as soon as possible!"

Di Ping picked up the camera and said solemnly.

"Roger that!"

There was echoes of people from the intercom, and then the sound of the motor increased, and then the speed of the car increased.

This road is relatively wide and there are not many cars. It's less than two kilometers of road. It doesn't take much time. When the speed is raised, it takes more than half of the journey in a short time. You will reach the bridge as soon as you reach the bridge. The main road, then all the way north.

"What do you see in the river?"

Suddenly a young girl in the bus who was watching the river scenery exclaimed.

"What...what...let me see?"

The person sitting next to her shouted and looked at the river.

"My God! What is that, is there a monster, do you like big waves?"

Someone looked at the river as soon as the girl made a sound, and then suddenly widened her eyes and exclaimed in surprise.

"No, there are monsters, look at the big shadows underwater!"

This is someone who is more knowledgeable, his face changed, and he exclaimed.

The chaos in the car attracted the attention of the drivers. One of the drivers took the time to glance into the river, and his expression suddenly changed. He quickly picked up the walkie-talkie and shouted:

"Attention... Attention... Monster in the river!"

Di Ping was taken aback by the sudden anxious sound of the intercom. He immediately looked into the river through the window, but his body was relatively short and was completely blocked by weeds. He couldn't see the river.

Di Ping immediately stood up, smashed the sunroof with a punch, jumped onto the roof of the car and looked into the river.

As soon as he saw the huge shadow in the middle of the river, he was swimming fast in the river, forming white waves in the river, as fast as a bow speedboat.

The billowing white waves rolled and rolled the black shadow mask in it, making Di Ping unable to see what monsters were in the river, but from the huge black shadow, about forty meters from the body, he knew that this was definitely not a little guy.

"Stay and don't be afraid, the team accelerates and cross the bridge quickly!"

He took the intercom and shouted harshly.

The speed of all the cars increased again, even Di Ping's car speed also soared, but Di Ping's feet are like suckers, sucking the roof tightly, allowing the car to accelerate.

In this situation, Di Ping calmed down instead, staring sharply at the fast-moving monster in the river, thinking about countermeasures quickly in his mind.

He couldn't tell if the target of this monster was them, but now the monster was chasing the car all the time. If the target was not them, Di Ping felt embarrassed to believe this judgment.

Chapter 858: Billowing torrent of world prestige

The speed of the car is fast enough, but it is still not as fast as this monster. The speed of the monster in the water has exceeded the speed of 80. Now the team has increased the speed to the limit. If it is fast, Yue Lie's leader may crash. Destruction will be more troublesome then.

The monster smashed in front of the waves, and the waves surging behind it, fierce waves hit the river bank, making a snapping noise.

For Di Ping now, he was fighting against time. He roared in the walkie-talkie that the speed of the car had been soaring, and soon the speed had reached eighty.

Upon hearing Di Ping's anxious order, Yue Lie also slammed on the accelerator, smashed the vehicle in the middle of the road, cleared a way for the vehicles behind, and quickly approached the bridge as soon as the speed rose.

Everyone in the bus saw the behemoth in the river, and all of them were panicked, all trembling in fright. The sudden increase in speed made everyone more afraid, and they hugged their seats for fear of being thrown out.

Standing on the roof of the car, Di Ping watched the arrow-like black shadow in the river quickly overtook the vehicle, and had already rushed to the bridge first, which made his eyes freeze.

If this monster guards the bridge at once, then they may be in danger. The heavy pressure from the monster in the river makes him vigilant.

Di Ping was extremely anxious. Seeing the dark shadow crashing into the bridge, he felt desperate for a moment.

That's it! That's it!

Di Ping sighed secretly in his heart. At this time, the bridge deck was less than one meter away from the water surface due to the rising of the river. This monster would appear on the bridge as long as one jumped, and the team would not even think about passing it.

"Huh! What's the matter?"

Suddenly Di Ping discovered that the huge monster suddenly protruded its head out of the water. Di Ping's eyes moved. It was a huge black python whose savage snake head revealed its identity.

As soon as the giant snake's head came out of the water, a huge snake's tail came out from behind it. The snake's tail struck the water surface suddenly, and there was a loud noise. The water surface was pulled in half by the giant snake's tail, and the black mud at the bottom of the river could be vaguely seen. , The entire river surface was like a tsunami, and huge waves swept around the sky. The splashing waves shattered countless willow branches and leaves like bullets, and the broken branches and leaves fell into the water.

But the giant python's huge body suddenly jumped into the air like a flying dragon, and shot past the river more than 30 meters wide like a black arrow.

Then the huge body fell into the water like a mountain, igniting endless waves, and the huge waves rushed directly out of the river and rushed onto the roads on both sides.

But the giant python didn't care about these at all, swaying its body, breaking through the waves again, the speed was scary, as if floating on the water, the speed increased sharply again, and the speed at this time was definitely more than one hundred.

It wasn't until the giant python body disappeared and the river channel hidden by the green trees only left huge waves behind him, that Di Ping was stunned.

This sudden scene confuses Di Ping. Isn't this monster the target of his own team?

Is this unscientific?

Di Ping couldn't think of what the problem was, and he felt a little confused.

Everyone sitting in the bus was stunned by the scene in front of them. They realized that the giant monster in the water just now was a giant python. They thought that the giant python was going to attack them and was so scared to death. I know, the python is going to cross the bridge.

It was the first time they saw such a big python that could fly, but when they were worried, they began to marvel at seeing the basilisk.

Chapter 859: Lift up the car

The giant snake flew over the bridge like a flying dragon, crashed into the water, and then quickly disappeared. Everyone looked at the direction in which the giant snake disappeared in shock.

At this time, the fifty-sixty-meter-wide river was tumbling like boiling water, rolling up the black mud at the bottom of the river.

The super-fast speed of the giant snake drove the river to surging forward, like a torrent, and then the giant snake slammed into it, hitting the boundless waves of water, blocking the water, and the two waters rushed together, and then aroused The seven or eight-meter-high water waves formed layers of huge waves rushing to both sides of the bridge and the road, instantly submerging the road and the bridge deck.

The sound of tires rubbing against the ground was piercing, but no one cared now. These drivers were shocked by the appearance of the mutant python, and realized that they were about to hit the vehicle in front, and hurriedly stepped on the brakes.

This time it broke, and only heard a scream of ears, the tires clinging to the ground clinging to the ground, drew black marks, and the powerful strike aroused water arrows.

"Boom boom!"

The ground was wet and slippery. Several cars were too close. They slammed into each other and screamed again and again. The people in the car were stunned and dizzy. Many people smashed their heads and broke their hands. Shedding blood.

Fortunately, the brakes are tight, and the collision is not serious, otherwise the speed of more than 80, directly hitting it, may just be a small injury to the head.

The car stabilized, and all the drivers were sweaty. When they stopped the car, they wiped the sweat from their heads with lingering fears.

The convoy stopped, and for a time there were screams from the buses. The guards of the city owner jumped out of the buses and began to check the damage of the buses. Zhang Hengcheng also turned pale and nervous. Zhang Zhangche inspected it for fear of death.

And Di Ping car was at the back, and the driver could not see the giant snake. When he saw the front brake, he hurriedly braked, but Di Ping didn't pay attention, the force that was suddenly stopped was able to throw it out.

How powerful is his Di Ping's power control now. With a little tiptoe, the speed man flew five or six meters like a bird and gently landed on the top of the bus.

He was not moved by this, his eyes looked at the direction where the giant python disappeared in confusion!

He was stunned. Although the pythons were not very aggressive, how could the pythons let them go with such a large fleet in front of them, and now not only let them go, but they seem to be eager to rush for fear of a little delay. Go ahead.

After a while, Di Ping finally retracted his gaze. Since the Serpent's target is not their team, wouldn't it be better?

What can be entangled, can it be said that the team is not happy without the attack?

Di Ping was of course not such a pedantic person, he quickly recovered his senses and looked at the team.

"Nothing! Is anyone injured!"

Zhang Hengcheng and the others were running in the water that was as deep as their ankles, slapping buses and asking about the people in the cars.

"the host!"

In the car where Di Ping was sitting, Gina and Angela rushed out of the car with panic faces and exclaimed. When they found Di Ping was not abnormal, standing on the roof of the bus in good condition, the two women Just relax.

At this time, the driver of the car turned pale in fright, but he threw the boss out. If this is something, the responsibility would be great.

"I'm fine!"

Di Ping, who had already figured it out, turned around and looked at the two with a relaxed smile, and then the portrait fell from the bus like a leaf.

Chapter 860: Human life is as crisp as a spring bud

"Wow!"

At this moment, there was a huge roar not far away. The roar shook the sky and the earth. Even the water on the ground was fluctuating and tumbling, and the glass on the buildings on both sides of the road was humming and shaking violently.

It seemed that there was a thunder in the ears of everyone, and everyone who shook their hearts beating wildly. Ordinary people even had tinnitus and dizziness, screaming in shock, and the weak people fainted directly.

"What is going on, is it the roar of a giant snake!"

As soon as Di Ping smiled, he suddenly jumped onto the roof of the car again, looking in the direction of the roar, but the road was full of tall trees covering his eyes, and he could see nothing.

Suddenly Di Ping felt a powerful aura pressing over from the front, which made Di Ping's heart trembled, and he knew that this was a terrifying mutant beast based on his aura.

"Sisi!"

Suddenly, a sharp, tooth-scorching squeaking sound like an iron sheet across an iron plough came from a long time ago.

"what!"

Almost everyone suddenly screamed in pain with their hands in their hair. The Awakened also frowned and showed painful expressions. It was obvious that they were not feeling well.

Not to mention them, even Di Ping felt a tremor in his mind. The voice was too sharp and harsh, even he felt uncomfortable.

"Could it be that this is the giant snake meeting another monster, and there are two monsters about to fight?"

When Di Ping listened to the roar of the two monsters that came suddenly, he thought to himself.

Thinking of this, he suddenly felt a little cold in his heart. This end of the world is getting more and more terrifying. There are so many terrible mutant animals in the urban area. The previous King Kong wrestled with lions, but now there is a giant snake and the owner of the giant roar.

Zhongzhou City is not as simple as he thought, it is so hidden, and his sanctuary city is under the nose of so many giant beasts. If it doesn't have a protection period, he can't imagine how long the base can support.

There was a time bomb next to him, but he didn't know it. He thought it was a blessed land. If he knew this, he wouldn't build the base here if he killed him.

At this moment, Di Pingxin couldn't express regret, but it was useless. Once the base was built, he could not move it, so he could only face it. For a while, he had a headache.

However, after the two roars, they returned and calmed down. It seemed that nothing happened. Everyone looked up blankly. There were many people with blood from their nostrils and ears, which was shocked.

"Gina! Where is the city lord?"

Fatty Xu Sheng rushed over with a few people, with a look of horror on his face, anxiously said.

"I'm here!"

Di Ping replied on the roof of the car, and then the person fell from the top again, watching a few people and asking:

"What is the personnel situation, how many people were injured?"

"Fortunately, there was only one bus whose driver turned the wrong direction and hit a tree on the side of the road. Some people in the bus hurt their head and bled a little, and the rest were all minor bumps, which is not a major problem!"

The fat man wiped the water on his face and quickly said.

Di Ping nodded, and finally let go of the original burden. Just now standing on the roof of the car, he saw many buses collided in front of him. He was really worried about casualties.

"City Lord! What should I do now?"

Xu Sheng asked nervously.

It seems that this is not just his opinion. Di Ping saw Tang Zhengdong, Zhang Hengcheng and others looked at him nervously, waiting for his order.

"Can't delay, cross the bridge immediately, throw the crashed car to the side of the road, and vacate people on other cars!"

Di Ping looked up to the east. That was the direction where the giant snake disappeared. There was a strong threat from there, as if some huge danger was about to come and made him feel a sense of crisis. He didn't want to wait for a moment.

"Yes, the city lord, let's make arrangements right away!"

Everyone responded in unison.

"Be fast!"

When everyone was about to turn around, Di Ping emphasized again that the bodies of several people were shocked, and then they responded and ran quickly.
