

Doomsday 861

Chapter 861: The two beasts are fighting against each other

"Quickly, the car moves, cross the bridge, cross the bridge!"

Then there was a roar.

The people who were sitting in the car anxiously and frightened and did not know what to do with a scream, hurriedly sat down and waited for the road again.

These people have experienced such strong winds and waves, and have seen at most ordinary mutant animals such as mutant dogs before, and they have seen such terrifying python creatures.

It is dozens of meters long, as thick as a barrel, head as big as a bucket, with huge mouths and densely covered fangs. It can swallow a few people in one bite. It is terrifying. Moreover, this giant snake moves like a dragon and leaps, making waves, and overwhelming. The momentum is overwhelming, and many people almost fainted at first sight.

Many people are already in a daze, regretting agreeing to move. If they knew it was so dangerous outside, they wouldn't come out, even if they were starved to death.

Fortunately, the giant snake was far away, listening to the yelling from outside the car, reflecting that the hearts of these people had settled down, only that there was no danger.

The car motor sounded again, roaring, and Yue Lie's Hummer rushed into the bridge first. At this time, the water on the bridge was nearly a foot deep, and the wheels ran over and caused two water arrows.

"Boom boom boom"

At this moment, there were roars not far away, like the thunder in the sky, like the earth exploding, like a mountain and moon tsunami, the sound was loud and deafening.

Then came roars and neighs of monsters, and their voices were full of anger, sharp and loud, and the sound shook the sky.

At this time, the first bus was just getting on the bridge. Everyone's complexion changed, especially the sharp neighing sound. Everyone who pierced their eardrums had pain and dizziness. Everyone looked at the voice with horror. Coming direction.

Yue Lie was right in the middle of the bridge. He also looked in the direction where the sound was coming from, but after only one glance, his face changed immediately, his hand panicked and the car moved towards the side. If he didn't react, he hurriedly turned around. Must rush into the river.

"Oh my God!"

Daniel saw it too, his face changed drastically, and his heart jumped wildly, and he cried out in shock:

"Quickly! Notify the owner!"

At this moment Yue Lie also reacted, grabbing the walkie-talkie next to him, and shouted in panic:

"Quick, quick! Speed through, it's dangerous!"

Yue Lie has experienced a lot of major events and gradually matured. He knew that there was no time to report to Di Ping. In a blink of an eye, three or four cars had already been on the bridge, and now he wants to retire. Unable to return, he had to inform the team to pass quickly.

At this time, the drivers who got onto the bridge also saw the situation on the east side, and they suddenly burst into panic in their eyes, and then desperately stepped on the accelerator, the speed of the bus surged, and roared forward.

"All cars speed up through the bridge!"

When Di Ping called Yue Lie anxiously, he knew something was wrong, and quickly grabbed the walkie-talkie and shouted.

Boom boom boom...

The cars roared. No matter whether there were drivers who understood what was happening, they were desperately stepping on the accelerator. They knew that it must be right to follow the command. Such anxious orders must have happened.

All the drivers on the bridge will glance eastward, and then their complexion will turn pale in an instant, with terror in their eyes, desperately stepping on the accelerator.

From time to time, there were roars and roars from the east, like two monsters fighting, the sound was loud, like a billowing thunder, shaking the sky and the whole world changed color.

Di Ping was very anxious at this time. He knew that Yue Lie was relatively stable. It was not that a major event had happened. He would not be so scared and anxious. So he was also in Cui Cui. The driver of the car slammed on the accelerator and the off-road vehicle roared and rushed out.

Chapter 862: The island has a dark fragrance of fruit

At this time, he couldn't see the previous situation, Di Ping was very anxious, and his fear came from the unknown. Now his heart is also fearful.

"Go ahead and see what's going on!"

Di Ping sternly shouted at the driver.

The driver is a middle-aged man who is in his forties. He has a strong build and a simple face, but he is a good driver. As soon as Di Ping ordered, he slammed the direction, stepped on the accelerator, and the car engine made a blast. Roar, the car suddenly shot out, amazingly fast.

This is obviously a good car. Although Di Ping didn't pay attention to the brand, it was only four or five seconds, and the speed rushed to 100, more than five or six cars in a row, and the car flicked onto the bridge.

As soon as he reached the middle of the bridge, Di Ping looked east, but his face changed a lot at a glance, and the two of Gina also saw it, and suddenly screamed.

"Hurry up and drive across the river!"

Di Ping suddenly woke up and shouted at the driver.

Then they saw him jump out from the roof of the car. Gina and the two were shocked and shouted anxiously, "Master!"

"You cross the river!"

Di Ping's roar came from behind the car, and then the car roared and led Gina to the other side.

Standing on the pier of the large bridge, Di Ping looked east, and saw a huge wave coming from the east to the side. The huge wave was five meters high and two or three hundred meters wide. The Dahe and Lianglian roads were all swallowed, and it rolled and rushed forward. It seemed that it was advancing very slowly, but it was extremely fast, and it advanced more than ten meters in an instant.

The huge wave roared and swept across the face, a gust of wind had hit first, and the blowing of Di Ping's shirt was hunting.

Seeing that the huge current was only a hundred meters away from the bridge, like a tsunami, huge waves rolled uprooted willow trees on both sides of the strait, as well as rolling cars, rushing towards the bridge.

The power of nature is so terrible, Di Ping faintly paled, so he could not stop the huge waves, even this bridge might not be able to stop it.

"Quickly cross the river!"

Di Ping saw that there were five or six vehicles not on the bridge, and three vehicles were passing on the bridge, and he immediately roared.

In fact, there is no need for him to shout, the bus driver is already desperately stepping on the accelerator, the speed of the car is not slower than the waves, but after all there are too many vehicles, and the road area is watery, which seriously affects the speed of the bus. These buses are not just the top of Di Ping. The cars have super power, they are all old cars, and they accelerate very slowly. They just roar and don't charge forward.

At fifty meters, forty meters, and thirty meters, the huge waves were advancing rapidly, and all the cars finally got on the bridge. At this time, there were only five cars on the bridge, and they were racing wildly.

Boom boom boom

The roar formed by the huge wave finally came, and the whole world was full of the sound of a torrent, and the roar of the motor was suppressed by the huge wave.

Di Ping's complexion also changed at this time, his figure resembling an electric illusion, dashing out phantoms in the air towards a lighthouse about twenty meters high by the river.

He can't guarantee that this bridge can block the billowing waves. If he is still standing on the bridge, once the bridge is washed away, he will not be able to complete it. Such a terrifying torrent will be useless no matter how good the water is.

Twenty meters, ten meters, and five meters were pressed by a huge wave, and the wind was howling. Di Ping was standing on the lighthouse with his clothes flying, and he was a little unstable.

He looked at the last two cars with a gloomy look in his eyes. These two cars may not be able to escape. There are more than 200 people in these two cars!

It's just that he is helpless. This is the fastest speed. He didn't expect that the battle between these two mutant beasts would cause such a huge wave. What a powerful mutant animal, it is comparable to the torrent caused by the aftermath of the battle. The power of heaven and earth.

"what!"

The last two cars looked at the huge waves coming, and immediately called in horror. The driver of the car was desperately stepping on the gas pedal, as if the gas pedal was about to step into the gas tank, and the car wailed in pain and charged forward with grief. Out, I want to compete with time and the world.

Chapter 863: Diluo fruit

The huge wave finally came and collided with the bridge and made a huge roar. The railings and street lights on the bridge fell apart for the first time, and the huge wave was rushing away, and the bridge was crying in pain.

Boom boom boom

A big tree was swept by the torrent and hit the bridge, and cars rolled past the bridge. The reinforced concrete bridge that was considered daring and strong in the past trembled violently, seemingly afraid of the terrible stormy waves.

The last one was shot by a huge wave. The window glass of the car broke instantly. The huge wave rolled around the bus and flew into the river. The people in the car screamed.

The other one finally dashed across the bridge and was hit by the waves on the avenue. Fortunately, the waves on the road were blocked by trees and floors. The speed was much slower. When the bus was swaying, it would be carried by the waves. Fortunately, the driver was very capricious and tried his best to refuel, and finally rushed out of the huge wave.

Standing on the lighthouse, Di Ping was also very worried. Fortunately, after the lighthouse shook violently for a while, he was hit by two cars swept by the torrent. The steel lamppost was deformed and tilted, but in the end it didn't fall. This made Di Pingshen. Take a deep breath of relief.

But his face tightened again in an instant. Although most of the lucky cars passed by, a bus was swept away by the torrent. His eyes were fixed on the bus that was constantly undulating in the huge waves, and his heart was very sad.

He didn't know how many people in this car could survive, he thought to himself!

The huge waves come and go quickly. This is not a real tsunami after all. It is just the aftermath of the battle between two monsters. After the huge waves are weak, he slowly calms down. He jumps onto a big tree with a move. He headed for another one, chasing after the bus.

The bus was swept away by a huge wave for a full kilometer, and finally hit the second bridge and finally stopped.

After all, this is a countercurrent, although the water waves are terrible, but at such a long distance in constant consumption, it is unable to roll up such a large car.

Di Ping rushed onto the bridge and grabbed the window of the bus.

His muscles tensed, his vitality surged, his dantian struggled, the window post screamed in pain, and the bus was pulled out of the water by him.

"what!"

The bus filled with water weighed more than ten tons. Di Ping roared, his hands burst with blue veins and his complexion turned red. He used his full strength. Although his strength was more than 20,000 catties, the bus is too heavy now. The window post has been deformed under his hands.

However, the slow bus finally came out of the water, and the river gushed out from the window. There were many people in the car at this time, but these people were already in a coma. Just now, the huge impact of the huge waves shocked the life inside the car. fainted.

"Get me up!"

Di Ping probed with the other hand and grabbed the other window post, took a deep breath, and suddenly burst into a shout. The muscles all over his body bulged like dragons, and his skin was violent, and the blood on his body surged like waves. , Cooing sound.

The car left the water little by little and was pulled up by him little by little.

At this time, Di Ping was sweaty, his clothes were soaked, his complexion was flushed, and he was panting like a cow, but he didn't care about it.

"Sanctuary...Master....."

At this time, there was an anxious cry from a distance, which made him happy.

"At this!"

He took a slow breath and let out a sudden roar, and then raised the bus by one point again. The smaller half of the body had left the water, but most of the people were still submerged.

Chapter 864: Life fight behemoth fight

Gina and others drove the car to a safe area and avoided the first wave of strong waves. When they saw that Di Ping had not returned, these people panicked and hurried over to look for it.

Although there are still waves after waves, it is much smaller. After all, the river water is limited. After a large amount of water poured into the streets, the water volume decreased and the water level dropped, and the big waves were no longer enough to threaten everyone.

But it was the most difficult for Di Ping at this time. The one or two meters high water wave rushed over, wrapped in the bus, as if to compete with Di Ping, dragging it abruptly. But he had already used his full strength and was about to be unable to hold the car body, his muscles were in pain.

At this time, he really realized the power of the torrent. Although it did not seem to be big, the waves of strong pulling made the bus as heavy as a mountain. Due to excessive force, the concrete steps on the bridge were all broken by him. crack.

He couldn't hold it anymore. When he heard the cries of Fatty Gina and others, he renewed his courage. He couldn't abandon these people in the car, and could save one, so he could feel at ease.

Hearing Di Ping's roar, a crowd of people rushed toward the sound in excitement. When they saw Di Ping standing by the bridge holding the bus, the fat guy rushed to help.

Especially Zhang Hengcheng's eyes were red. He grabbed the tail ring of the bus and pulled it up desperately. The Fatty and the others did not neglect, grabbing the body and pulling it up.

It's not fake to say that there are too many people and they are powerful. Don't look at their power but two to three thousand catties, but they can't hold up a lot of people. Adding four or five people is ten thousand catties, like the last straw that overwhelms the camel. The bus was finally pulled up by several people.

"Help people!"

As soon as the car got ashore, Di Ping shouted, and then rushed into the bus.

It's been nearly ten minutes now. Di Ping doesn't know how many people are still alive in the car. He can only do everything he can to his destiny, and he can save as much as he can.

In fact, Zhang Hengcheng and Fatty had already rushed forward and opened the front and rear doors with two bangs. As soon as the doors opened, the river suddenly sprayed out and almost knocked them down, but the two clung to the body and the water flowed past. Just rushed up.

Di Ping was disappointed as soon as he entered the car. There were not as many people in the car as imagined. There were more than one hundred people in this car, and at this time, it was definitely not more than one hundred people.

But at this time it was too late to think. He picked up a comatose and pale middle-aged woman beside him, and sent it off to the car. The awakened people outside the car were already ready and quickly picked them up. Came out and started first aid.

For a while, he was in a panic, but fortunately, the team arranged dozens of young men over there to help, and this quickly moved all the people in the car.

A row of people were placed on the road. Many people were seriously injured after the impact. The blood had already stained the entire road. It looked shocking.

After more than ten minutes of rescue, the result is very regrettable. A total of 87 people in the car, more than 30 people disappeared, and the people in the car only rescued 56 people. The rest is not that they are seriously injured and cannot be rescued. , Is to suffocate due to excessive water absorption.

Looking at the twenty-one corpses lying on the ground, everyone was silent for a while, tears rushed in the eyes of Zhang Hengcheng and Gu Xing, and their faces showed sadness.

A group of rescuers, watching their relatives, friends, and lovers lying on the cold concrete floor, suddenly felt sad and painful. Even if it was dangerous, they did not hesitate at all. They wished to go with them at this time. , And save the heartache now.

Di Ping looked at the crying people, the dead people still lying on the ground, and thinking about dozens of people who were washed away by their size and whose lives and deaths were unknown. He sighed and sighed for a while. The life is at this moment. It's so fragile, it's only a few minutes apart.

He suddenly raised his head and looked in the direction from which the loud roar and rumbling sound was coming.

Chapter 865: Cranes and mussels compete for fish

No matter how heartbroken, those who have left have already left, no one can change this. In this **** end world, no one knows how long one can live. Death is only a matter of time and night, only to wipe away the tears. Living well in these last days with the thoughts and blessings of those who have left.

Everyone stood on the bank of the river, watching the people who were alive the moment before floating silently on the water, being pushed by the waves to the distance.

In this crisis-ridden apocalypse, I don't know what dangers will be encountered in the next moment. Everyone knows how unrealistic it is to leave with these dead people. Perhaps the return of the dust to the dust is their best ending.

Di Ping's eyes also flickered. Originally, he just wanted to survive in the last days. It was enough to save his parents and survive with a group of friends. But at this time, he watched the lives of alive disappear. He brought an unprecedented shock, and the pain of his heart hit was unbearable.

At this moment, he gradually understood the responsibility he shouldered!

With a powerful inheritance system, if you don't do something for human inheritance, not to mention a waste, then you may spend the rest of your life in self-blame and guilt?

He used to work hard to save his parents, but now he doesn't know his parents' life or death. He feels that the direction of his efforts has changed. That is to strive for a safe sky for mankind and do his part for mankind.

The convoy continued on the road, but Di Ping left. His eyes were very calm, but his heart was already unbearable. The battle in the East continued. The constant roar and roar stimulated Di Ping's nerves.

Although in the worry and dissatisfaction gaze of Fatty Gina and others, Di Ping's back was firm and steady, as if it were a lofty mountain, he hurried to the east along the river bank.

What do you want?

He didn't tell anyone, he had his own thoughts in his heart, and he felt that he wanted to give an explanation to the dozens of people who died.

Although too many people have died in the last days, there are no human beings, but these people have nothing to do with him, but today, the ones who died are in front of him, watching the flowers of life wither.

Di Ping moved fast along the river bank. The river that was full of water now only had less than half of the river water. The water level dropped by only two or three meters. That's why the water is still three or four meters deep, and it is still rolling. The surface of the water turned black and muddy, and a rotten smell filled the nose.

The more you move forward, the more you feel a powerful and terrifying aura, and the roar is even more deafening. I don't know how this giant python is fighting for so long, and the movement is so loud.

After running for a full kilometer, Di Ping finally saw two monsters fighting. One of them was a giant python, while Di Ping did not know the other giant monster.

This monster is ten meters long and looks like a crocodile, but it has no feet, but a fish tail. The long crocodile has a sharp beak, and its huge steel teeth look scary. A gleamed in the sun, which was especially terrifying.

This monster has a lot of power. Every time it flips, the water boils. The giant tail swept the water and the waves were surging, and the giant python was not easy to provoke. The huge body rolled and twisted, and the river was stirred like a river.

Two monsters come and go, and soon collided together, or swept their giant tails and hit each other, or opened their mouths to bite. It seems that these two monsters are also out of real fire. The attack, there were wounds everywhere on his body, the scales fell off, traces of blood flowed out, and the black and smelly river water was blushing.

Chapter 866: The mantis does not know the oriole queen

Di Ping approached quietly and went up to a tall building on the side of the road. Through the ten-story building, he could clearly see the whole river.

During the battle between the two giants, all the huge willow trees within 100 meters on both sides of the river bank disappeared, some only had broken roots, and some leaves seemed to have been struck down by life and turned into bare willow branches. The scene caused by the beast made Di Ping's tongue utterly too powerful.

Di Ping felt attentively that although the strength of the giant python and this monster is not as good as the King Kong and even worse than the Komodo dragon, they are only at the same level as the mutant golden eagle, and they are faintly stronger!

Di Ping could feel two powerful threats, and his breathing seemed to take a beat when suppressed.

Therefore, he hid upstairs, quietly watching the two monsters fighting through the window that had all the glass shattered.

Suddenly Di Ping's eyes condensed, and he saw an unusual place.

The river became wider here, reaching more than 300 meters in width, and there was an island in the middle of the river.

This island is not big, it is only a thousand square meters in size. Di Ping remembers that there was this island in the past, with a lot of lush vegetation growing on it, and there are usually many birds here.

At this time, the island is bare as if all the plants have been pulled out, but what is strange is that there is a huge skeleton on the island, and no animal can be seen, and the ribs of the bones of this monster. There is a low tree growing in the center. This little tree is very strange, with only five leaves, and it is green.

This is what puzzled Di Ping, how strong the air and water waves were caused by the fighting between the two monsters, but at this time the island stood calmly in the middle of the water, and the little tree seemed unmoved at all.

When the huge water waves hit the small island, it is silent and calm, as if the island has magical magic power to eliminate all power.

Di Ping watched this magical scene with amazement, and he also found that the two monsters were fighting as far as possible to leave this small island position, no matter how crazy they bite and kill, they would not get close.

"Could it be that these two monsters fought because of this little tree?"

Di Ping thought to himself.

This is not what he thinks too much. The appearance of these two giant beasts fighting life and death and carefully avoiding them has to make him think more.

What kind of tree is this?

Di Pingyun looked at it with full eyesight. The small tree was about fifty centimeters high, divided into three forks and five pieces, and there was a dark red jujube-sized fruit hanging on the top. This is still Di Ping's good eyesight and then the color of the fruit. It's dark, otherwise I really can't see it.

What kind of fruit is this? Why did it cause the two monsters to fight? Could it be a strange treasure, but this idea was beaten by him when he first started.

If there are treasures in the deep mountains and Daze, he still believes that in this noisy city, on a small river island, the age is definitely not more than ten years, there will be any treasures of heaven and earth, you must know that in Di Ping's concept of heaven and material Can Dibao not grow for thousands of years, can it be considered a treasure?

He was thinking secretly, watching the two monsters fighting, suddenly he smelled a faint scent, which was deep and deep, fresh and pleasant. Just smelling it, he felt refreshed, healthy and light, with large pores all over his body. Open, there is a feeling of cheering in the whole body.

He took a few mouthfuls with some doubts, as if he didn't believe in his body performance.

"Oh oh..."

"His..."

As soon as this smell appeared, the giant python and the other monster suddenly raged, and their attacks became more violent.

Could it be that the fruit is about to mature?

Isn't it amazing that the fragrance of fruit can be passed from here?

Di Ping looked at the changes in front of him with some disbelief, and the battle between the giant python and the monster suddenly escalated, making him even more puzzled, but now he was somewhat sure that the two monsters were fighting for this unknown fruit.

Chapter 867: Give it a go

Di Ping suddenly remembered a great skill of his own. He had probing skills, and he knew what it was if he checked it.

"Diluo Fruit: A sixth-order spiritual fruit, a different world species, where there is no growth within 100 meters. It can absorb the aura of the heavens and the earth and the aura of the earth veins, and give birth to a fruit of the earth. Humans can also eat to increase their talent level!"

When seeing the increase in talent level, Di Ping stared at the boss, breathing quickly, and he wished to run over and take the fruit food into his arms now.

His talent is only Grade B. The last time he used the bloodline of a Grade A powerhouse, he experienced the danger of almost exploding before he was raised to Grade A. This is a pain in his heart. The gap in talent will limit his future growth and improvement of strength.

But now the opportunity was right in front of him, he suddenly couldn't control his inner impulse, he really wanted to rush up now, but when he saw two terrifying beasts, his life stopped.

At this moment, he rushed up to find death. He appeared to break the balance. If the two monsters aimed at him, he would have no chance to escape. In the water, he was the opponent of these two monsters, but actually on the shore. It's not.

After calming down, he suddenly thought, how could this Earth Luoguo, called another world species, appear here?

And growing so fast, will it be effective?

Don't wait for you to rush up and the "Diluo Fruit" is immature, then you will be happy, and you will have nowhere to cry.

He began to scrutinize the exploration skills description.

The upgraded exploration skills are very powerful. Not only are there simple summary instructions, but there are also small notes below, which he liked.

From this look, he realized that the original "Diluo fruit" has a characteristic, that is, he can move before it bears fruit, a bit like a dandelion seed, flying everywhere with the wind, once it encounters a suitable place, it will quickly take root and sprout. , It can be fruitful and mature in just ten days, which is amazing.

What is the right place?

That is the place where a powerful alien beast died. He would stick on the alien beast and quickly digest the alien beast's body.

After absorbing enough energy, it will take root on the spot and begin to bear fruit. It takes nine days to absorb energy, and it takes only one day to mature.

"Diluo Fruit" can completely absorb the physical energy of a powerful alien beast, so that it has the ability to enhance its talents. This is also a magical plant that major forces are vying for in another world to transform energy and enhance talent.

But as soon as the "Diluo fruit" matures, the plant will wither instantly and promote a seed. As long as there is wind, it will move quickly with the wind. The seed is erratic and small, so it is not easy to be found. How many forces can own it, even if they want to grow it themselves, there is no way.

Looking at this, Di Ping's eyes burst into light. The world is really getting more and more exciting, and the evolution of species is really amazing.

But this miraculous plant actually appeared on the earth, and Di Ping touched it. He couldn't let it go anyway. He was afraid that he would regret it forever.

Originally, I just wanted to see if there was a chance to teach these two giants a lesson. In order to give the dead people an explanation, I did not expect to encounter such a thing.

Then this is just right. If you grab this fruit, isn't it taking revenge on these two monsters?

Liu Xiang's "Shuo Yuan * Tan Cong" said: If the sky does not take it, it will be blamed; the time will not meet, but it will suffer.

The fragrance became stronger and stronger, and the battle between the giant python and the other monster became more violent.

The giant python flicked its tail abruptly, like a dragon wagging its tail. The powerful force made the air shook, and the wind whistled in the air, drawing towards the monster's body.

Moreover, the monster is extremely flexible in the small middle school. With a flick of its tail, its body rushed forward, avoiding the giant tail slam. The more than ten-meter-long python lashed its tail on the surface of the water. The black mud at the bottom was exposed, and the inflamed waves rushed out tens of meters high, and then scattered like explosions.

Chapter 868: Diluo fruit is not easy to pick

The monster's huge body flew up in the air, the huge mouth of a crocodile with a huge sharp mouth opened, and it bit towards the head of the giant python, its steel-frustrated teeth gleaming with a sharp light.

Di Ping could imagine that this kind of huge mouth could swallow two or three people, and if it bit the mutant giant python, I believe it would not be better.

Obviously, the giant python also knew that, as long as the giant python suddenly turned over, the waist was twisted, and the giant python head smashed towards the monster like a giant hammer.

The powerful force and speed caused the wind to whistle on the head of the python, and the entire air seemed to collapse, deformed and distorted by the powerful force.

The monster was in mid-air at this time, and it did not expect the giant python to react so quickly. It swung its tail suddenly, and its body shrank in mid-air, turning its body into a round shape, trying to resist the python's hammering.

Huhuhu...

The wind roars like thunder, and what is in the ear is scary. Seeing that it is about to hammer the monster, the monster suddenly straightens its body again, like a bow. With the force of a bullet, its huge body actually rushes again. A few meters away.

boom.....

But it was still a step too late, the giant python's head was sweeping his tail, and the monster's body escaped the body's tail but did not escape.

Ooh...

The monster let out a horrible roar, its huge body flew out ten meters and then crashed into the water, smashing a large spray of water, and the red blood instantly stained the water surface.

The monster's body was lying upright in the water, as if dead.

Hiss...

The giant python straightened up his upper body, raised the sky with a long hiss, and the sharp neighing sound rolled around like a violent wind. The lofty python head was like a giant dragon roaring to the sky, seeming to swear to the heavens and the earth that it is strong and domineering. Sweep the void.

Di Ping hid upstairs and watched this scene, with shock in his eyes. The monster was defeated so easily. It seemed that he had no chance to get this "Diluo Fruit" by fishing in troubled waters.

There was a faint disappointment in his heart, but he couldn't. Looking at the powerful mutant giant python, he could do nothing, even if he scratched his head.

Ooh oh oh...

At this time, there was a loud howl in the city, and there were five or six loud howls, which seemed to be responding to the neigh of the giant python.

Listening to the loud roars one after another, Di Ping's eyes fluctuated continuously. There is so much horror in this city!

At this time, there seemed to be only these roars between the heaven and the earth, and even the worms and bird calls disappeared silently, and even the heaven and the earth surrendered to the power of these powerful and terrifying mutant beasts.

Wow...

Suddenly, there was a loud sound of water, and Di Ping's eyes narrowed. He saw a huge wave emptying out, and then a huge body rose into the sky.

This was nothing else, it was the monster that was pretending to be dead, and suddenly attacked while the giant python was excited.

Its huge open mouth seemed to swallow the sky, and a pair of dark yellow pupils shone with dangerous light.

hiss.....

The python reacted for the first time, a trace of anger and panic flashed in its eyes, and it shook its body abruptly to avoid the monster's huge mouth.

But it was too late, the distance was too close, its upper body escaped, but the waist did not escape, the monster's huge mouth bit its waist.

boom.....

The huge mouth closed, as if two huge steel sluices were brought together, the waist of the washbasin that was sandwiching the giant python made a loud bang, and then two blood arrows shot out.

The beast's steel-sharp teeth bit into the giant python's body, and even the amazingly defensive python armor failed to block the monster's sharp teeth. The hard scales shattered, and two white muscles turned out as if they were The land plowed by iron plows opened huge gaps and looked scary.

Chapter 869: God wants to give it or not to take it

Hiss...

As soon as the giant python was hit so hard, he immediately stiffened and let out a miserable hiss, and then desperately twisted his body, trying to break away from the monster's sharp mouth.

It's just that everything was in vain. The steel teeth of the monster plunged deeply into the flesh. The more struggling, the more the wound was torn, and the painful python screamed again and again.

And bite the body of the python tightly, letting it twist violently without letting go, and it began to swing its giant tail, and its body began to twist, as if it was a crocodile turning over, constantly twisting, trying to twist the python's waist. Off.

Looking at it, the giant python couldn't get rid of it, and suddenly turned its head back, its eyes were blood-red with ferocity, it opened its big mouth and bit at the monster.

The monster completely ignored it at this time, still biting the giant python, and this time the giant python bite effortlessly, and its pair of sharp, nearly-foot-long snake teeth pierced the monster's back deeply.

The monster let out a muffled snort, but it still didn't let go, and turned around desperately, its head swayed violently, the python's muscles shattered and blood splashed.

The two monsters were entangled together for a time, rolling in the river, like turning the river to the sea, with a great momentum. A thousand-layered huge wave was stirred up in the river, and the rolling wave ran wildly around.

Di Ping stood on the balcony and watched this scene. He only felt trembling all over and his teeth sour. The battle was so tragic that neither of the two monsters would be softened.

In order to win a spiritual fruit of heaven and earth, the two monsters fought their lives. I don't know who this one originally belonged to. It was discovered by the giant python or the monster first. But now it's not important. My own evolutionary struggle, in the end, a real fire was hit, and now it is a battle of life and death, endless, not for the "Diluoguo" heaven and earth spiritual creature!

After fighting like this for more than ten minutes, it seemed that the two monsters were running out of strength, and finally gradually eased down. At this time, Di Ping discovered that the monster that was originally as slippery as a rice eel could not stop the mutant python at this time. Death twine.

Di Ping has seen the animal world. He knows that pythons usually find their prey in one bite, and then entangle them with their bodies until the bones of the prey are broken, the internal organs are broken, and they die from suffocation. Generally speaking, the pythons over two meters, one human You can be entangled to death if you are not careful.

At this time, this monster was in the same state. It was tightly entangled in the body by the giant python, and could not move. Di Ping's eyes were about to protrude when looking at the monster. The inside of the eyes were bloodshot, but it was still Without letting go, he bit the python tightly.

This monster seemed to be a diehard too, even if it was dead, it knocked on the mutant python.

It was strong just now. Seeing that its body was shining bright and smooth mucus, the python failed to entangle it many times, and was always freed by it, but now it seems to have lost its strength, and it still failed to escape the death of the python. Winding.

Click...

One or two hundred meters away, Di Ping could hear the sound of clicking. It is possible that the bones of this monster were cut off by the giant python.

However, the giant python became tighter and tighter, and did not relax at all. The monster's body was already bulging, and the corners of the mouth were blood flowing, but it didn't let it go.

The blood of the monster mixed with the blood of the giant python ran over the river, the original black river water now turned maroon, looking shocking.

The two terrifying mutant beasts were entangled in such a state, no one would let go, and time passed by.

Di Ping stood upstairs and kept watching. When he saw this scene, ecstasy suddenly surged in his heart, he knew the opportunity was coming.

As long as these two monsters go together, then his opportunity will come, and today this heaven and earth spirit fruit is his own.

Chapter 870: Angry King Kong Torn Python

Di Ping was overjoyed. He was about to go downstairs and touched it quietly, waiting for the two monsters to die in battle, so that he could pick up the ready-made cheap.

He had already smelled the fragrance of "Diluo Fruit" becoming more and more intense, and the color of the fruit hanging on the tree became more and more vivid, the original dark red gradually becoming bright red, hanging among the leaves is especially conspicuous.

Suddenly, Di Ping's steps stopped. He seemed to feel a different pressure, his heart beat, and he looked up across the river.

He just glanced at it, and he didn't see any difference. Could it be that he felt wrong?

With a slight sense, the pressure that had just appeared disappeared, as if it had never appeared before.

Di Ping lowered his head and thought, could it be that he was too nervous and suspicious?

wrong!

Suddenly Di Ping raised his head again, trusting his intuition, because this intuition had saved him many times. Although the coercion that had passed just now was very short, the sense of reality would never be wrong.

He raised his eyes again and scanned the other side carefully, observing the past little by little.

Suddenly, his eyes stopped in one direction. When he took a closer look, his face suddenly changed, his eyes were horrified and dull, and his face was even more gloomy.

What did he see, as to be frightened?

It turned out that Di Ping saw a huge orangutan sitting on the roof of a five-story hotel on the other side of the river. Its body was blocked by a big tree, so Di Ping hadn't noticed it for the first time.

Isn't this the King Kong from the previous zoo?

Di Ping looked at the gorilla and immediately recognized it. It was the one in the zoo before. It was staring at the two giant beasts fighting in the river, carrying a **** animal with its legs thin. Nibbled thinly, a pair of adult fist-sized eyes were half-squinted, flashing a cold light from time to time.

Di Ping cursed secretly, this King Kong was too ghostly, he even wanted to grab the fruit, and knew that the mantis was behind the cicada and the oriole, hiding upstairs to watch the good show, and waited for the opportunity to start.

It seems that not only he has such an idea, but there is also a stronger existence who wants to grab the "Diluo Fruit" and wants to fish in troubled waters. It seems that there is little hope.

Suddenly Di Ping saw King Kong biting his **** fleshy legs and squinting his eyes to watch the battle. He suddenly raised his head and looked here. He quickly dodged and hid behind the curtains.

King Kong's induction was too sensitive. I didn't pay attention to watching it for a while, and was actually sensed by him. Fortunately, I was hiding quickly.

Di Ping patted his chest, sweating all over his body. At the same time, he was somewhat thankful that his thoughts were not wrong. The powerful mutant animals are extremely sensitive to gaze.

King Kong glanced at it but found nothing unusual. He shook his head and began to eat his own legs. After all, it was only an animal. Although it was very clever, its thinking was relatively simple. It seemed to be peeped, but immediately I don't care.

This person "Diluoguo" has been prying for a long time, but although it is very powerful, it is really not an opponent of the giant python in the water, so it has not dared to start.

But yesterday, its food was stolen. It had a fight with the mutant lion, and its body suffered some injuries. It was resting in the garden today, and suddenly heard the fighting here, it suddenly remembered the fruit in the river before. It just ran to see if there was a chance.

It has been here for a while. When it saw the two giant river beasts fighting endlessly, it felt that the opportunity had come. If it hadn't been for it, it would still have some fear of the giant python and would have rushed to grab the fruit.

He had fought with the mutant giant python before, and it suffered a lot in the water.

Thinking about it now, it is still a little scared, so it has become extremely vigilant. It is smart, waiting for the two monsters to die together, otherwise the two monsters will fight it together, then it will be troublesome.

To say that this primate is indeed different, it becomes more intelligent after mutation, and has learned to think!
