

Doomsday 94

Chapter 94: Upgrade for strength

Di Ping watched the breath of the beauty in front of him begin to heavier, a raging fire was burning in his eyes, and a fever in his heart rushed like a horse.

At this time, Gina's hands for washing Di Ping's feet trembled a little. She heard Di Ping's heavy breathing and felt the strong desire emanating from Di Ping's body. She immediately felt a red heartbeat.

I like this master from the bottom of my heart, and I can't refuse any demands of myself. From the bottom of my heart, she doesn't want to refuse.

She felt Di Ping's heavier and heavier breathing, waiting for her destiny to come, a strange feeling crawled into her heart, and her body was slightly warm.

There was some expectation in my heart, but also some fear.

At this time, she was bowing her head, otherwise a blushing face would definitely reveal her true thoughts at this time.

For a moment, the pair of jade hands had no idea what they were doing, they just rubbed unconsciously, waiting for the scene to come.

It was just that suddenly, she heard the heavy breathing ease, she looked up a little puzzled, and found that although the owner was not looking at herself, the things in her eyes that made her afraid and shy disappeared, and she became clear again. .

This made her very puzzled what happened to the master?

Did you make the master angry again this time?

Thinking of the mist in the beautiful eyes here, I felt aggrieved. Didn't I move just now?

It wasn't that Di Ping didn't want to. The glance just now made him almost lose a square inch, but at the last moment he still resisted it.

This abnormal state has caused him to be wary, and the impulsive state reappeared, and he immediately woke up, desperately suppressed.

He didn't expect that this time he suppressed his desires very easily, and became clear again, exhaling a long breath in his heart, not daring to look at Gina.

Gina seems to have a kind of magical power, an extremely charming power, and there is also a kind of purity. These two contradictory temperaments appear in a person, not only show no conflict, but more easily cause the fire of desire. .

Fortunately, it is best for him to rein in the precipice, and to hold back his restless desire without making a mistake, which makes him feel a little sense of accomplishment.

Gina gently washed Di Ping's feet with gentle movements, and then poured the water.

I didn't wait for Di Ping bird or beast to rush over for a long time, so he was relieved, and at the same time there was a slight loss.

Di Ping didn't care about this. He was really tired today. He washed and rested on the sofa while turning on the system. He wanted to see what he had gained today.

With a thought, a virtual interface appeared in front of Di Ping Ping. Now Di Ping has built a castle, manor and tavern, and these three buildings have become colorful and bright.

In the screen, another icon lit up. At first glance, it was a warehouse. Di Ping was disappointed. The market and workshop he wanted to build most now.

You can buy the things you need in the market, things that improve your strength than weapons and equipment, and some essential items for survival.

It's just that he doesn't know if the market is the same as in the game, and what is included in the sold items, only if the market is built.

He needs the workshop even more. If the tavern is the talent center of the base, the workshop is the development focus of the base. For a base to develop soundly, the workshop is indispensable. Only with him can the combat system be quickly improved.

From weapons to potions, to runes, there must be workshops to build. This is what he lacks most at the moment, and it is also the key to the development of the base.

So the warehouse is not what he needs most at this time, but he still doesn't understand the construction sequence of this system, so he can only build what he wants! Click the warehouse icon to display the building price options, 20 crystal coins.

Di Ping looked at his heart and felt unhappy. He didn't expect this warehouse to be so expensive, and it would cost 20 crystal coins. How many crystal coins he had to use to recruit heroes would be redundant.

But there is no way to not build a warehouse, and nothing else can be built, but the warehouse has to go back to choose a place to build, and now I don't care about it, I turned off the option and clicked on the tavern.

There are still two heroes in the tavern frame. The interface has not changed, but the soul energy displayed on the tavern has changed, and the soul energy has become 194 points.

Although looking at so much energy is a bit greedy, just looking at it is for nothing. I don't dare to rise too fast and want to upgrade steadily, but today he still has to rise. Today's battle makes him feel that his strength is still a little worse, otherwise neither It will be so tormented against the mutant Tibetan Mastiff.

Finally gritted his teeth!

He clicked on his avatar and chose to upgrade, but he was taken aback when he clicked on the upgrade option, because this upgrade actually requires 30 soul energy points, which was only 20 points before, but now it has increased. What's the matter?

Can it be said that the reality upgrade is different from the game. The energy points of each level increase after the game is upgraded to the third level, but now it has changed after the first level and fourth level. Is it different from the game, but also at this time Di Ping Perplexed, I pressed my doubts or clicked to confirm the upgrade.

Another burst of energy seemed to come from the void, detonating deep in the body, and rushing towards his whole body like a torrent.

Every time the energy passes, the muscles and bones in this place seem to be moisturized and strengthened by the energy, warm and numb, every cell is cheering and jumping, spitting out energy, and the blood flowing quickly. As the Taotao river rushed, it seemed that the rolling sound could be heard.

After ten seconds, the energy flowed all over the body and then from all parts of the body to the lower abdomen Dantian. Di Ping felt that Dan became warm like a warm stream of water injected, and then became a little swelling and supportive, accompanied by A slight tingling.

After a few seconds, the energy seemed to be advancing into the void, slowly dissipating without a trace, and the boiling blood slowly smoothed down.

This time the upgrade also lost the previous pain, but was very comfortable. The whole person was warm and tired.
