

Chapter 14

This birthday party, which was supposed to be happy, ended in a ridiculous and hasty way...

Lying on the ground, Su Zhile was pale and almost fainted. Wang Suping still had a sense of reason.

Seeing the guests gradually walking away, she quickly grabbed her husband and said, "Guoqiang, you can't let these people go! They just took a video of Zhile being insulted. If it was spread out, Zhile will be completely ruined!"

It should be noted that Su Zhile had just started in the entertainment industry, and she had always been pure and charming.

But if this matter were to be spread out...

"You're shameless enough to let me protect Zhile's reputation!"

Su Guoqiang's face became red with anger. Looking at his wife who was hugging his thigh on the ground, he directly kicked her away. "What a good thing you did today to find these five men to ruin Su Yan's innocence!"

"Wang Suping, I didn't expect you to be such a person. What did you tell me before? You said you would take good care of Su Yan and let me rest assured. But now?"

"So this is your way to take good care of Su Yan!"

Five men, not to attend any banquets...

In the past, Su Guoqiang only thought that his youngest daughter was shy and didn't like this kind of social interaction, so he doted on her and let her be. Su Guoqiang never forced Su Yan.

But in the end, the truth behind it was so shocking!

When Su Guoqiang heard it just now, he couldn't believe his ears!

Su Yan stood to the side and watched as her father protected her. Her heart also ached...

In her past life, there were only two people who were truly good to her. One was Qi Jingxuan, and the other was her father.

However, Wang Suping's mask of hypocrisy was too thick.

Every time Wang Suping would always do her best to take care of her in front of her father. But behind her father's back, she would use other means to make Su Yan suffer.

In her previous life, after she was insulted by the five men, Wang Suping secretly told her father that these five men were brought by Su Yan at the banquet and she did not know about them. Su Yan did not know why things had become like this. In addition, she was too silly, so she did not know how to explain it, so she could only be blamed like this.

For the next few years, Su Yan couldn't raise her head in front of her father. After that, she was sent to study in another province. When she came back again, it was already her father's funeral.

At the funeral, Wang Suping complained tearfully to the crowd that it was Su Yan's previous scandal that had hit Mr. Su so much that he felt depressed and passed away at an early age.

At this point, Su Yan had been expelled by the Su family, and even her right to inherit the inheritance had been stripped.

But later, Su Yan found out that her father's illness was not because of her, but because he was drugged by Wang Suping.

Without her father, Su Yan was completely out of protection. Only then could the Su Group completely fall into the hands of Wang Suping and her daughters.

But in this life, everything was different from now on...

Listening to her husband's accusation, Wang Suping said with tears in her voice, "Guoqiang, I didn't. I don't know why Su Yan slandered me in front of everyone! Think about it, I've always doted on her at home! I took care of her food, clothing, housing, and transportation myself! I even treated her better than I did to Zhile and Zhige!"

"Moreover, I'm from an influential family and I'm Mrs. Su. Do I even want something from a little girl like her? This is all nonsense!"

Mr. Su frowned in disbelief.

After all, although many of the things he usually gave to Su Yan were very valuable, Wang Suping, who was a grown-up and well-cultivated person, should not be...

"Mom, why are you still lying now? Do you want me to tell Dad the truth about you selling the shares of the company and exchanging them for money to make up for your parents?" Su Yan cried and asked.
