

Chapter 36

Su Yan was originally preparing to leave, but she paused after hearing these words.

It must be nobody else except Qi Jingxuan from the Qi family in Colonia!

She didn't expect him to still come here after she had warned him so many times. According to this woman's words, he should have been taken into the room now!

She recalled the news she saw in the newspaper in his previous life. When Qi Jingxuan was discovered by the police, he seemed to be having fun with a group of women. Now, if everything was going the same way, soon after these women went up to the eighth floor, the police who had received the report would come!

D*mn it!

If she couldn't make it before the police came, Qi Jingxuan would be done!

Su Yan clenched her fists tightly as she thought in her heart while breaking out in cold sweat.

With this thought in mind, she did not hesitate anymore. She immediately untie her long hair and tore off the collar of her dress. She took the elevator with a group of beautiful women and went to the room on the eighth floor.

The eighth floor was the most distinguished VVIP floor in the whole Century Hotel.

The decoration along the way was not only magnificent but also dim and romantic. Walking in the corridor, the huge sound of music mixed with women's waves of laughter made people's hair stand on end.

Fortunately, by following the group of women, Su Yan quickly arrived at the private room where Qi Jingxuan was in.

As soon as she entered the door, she saw a man sitting on the sofa.

It was none other than Qi Jingxuan.

But he seemed to be different from who he usually was. Perhaps because he had been drugged now, his originally cold face was slightly flushed, which made him look more handsome and attractive.

However, he was under someone else's control at this time, so his eyes were more terrible and fierce than ever before. His dark eyes seemed to be as cold as ice.

However, when he saw Su Yan among the group of women, his expression became slightly sluggish. Even his eyes narrowed dangerously.

However, President Wang, who was in charge at this time, didn't notice his strangeness.

Looking at the man sitting on the sofa, President Wang swallowed his saliva and said with a careful smile, "Mr. Qi, you can't blame me for this matter. I was entrusted by someone else. Someone wanted you to have a hard time, so I had to do it..."

"But I didn't treat you shabbily. Look at these girls I found for you. They are all the most beautiful girls in our hotel! You can enjoy yourself with them when I leave in a while!"

After all, Qi Jingxuan was a man, not to mention that he had been drugged. Would he still be able to control himself later?

At that time, when the reporters arrived, they would find an exciting scene of Qi Jingxuan and these women!

By then, Qi Jingxuan's reputation would be ruined. The person who entrusted him with the task would be very satisfied, and he could gain a huge benefit!

President Wang thought happily in his heart. He was too happy and did not pay attention to the crowd for a while. He didn't notice a figure had quietly come to his back...

"Bang!" There was a huge sound!

Before anyone could react, a bottle of wine on the table had been smashed into pieces.

After that, the sharp glass was already close to President Wang's neck. A cold female voice said without any emotion, "No one move. If you dare to make a sound, I will kill you!"
