

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1007

William's eyes also looked at this extremely beautiful thing in front of him, without speaking.

He squeezed the thing with his hands and found that it was not a stone.

Very light in the hand.

It looks like wood.

At this time, Xiao Haitang approached with the camera, and when he saw this thing, his eyes were full of stars, "Fuck, so beautiful."

William turned his head and said to Mulan: "I don't know what it is, but if it can be obtained from this green ghost snake grass, it must not be a bad thing."

Xiao Haitang suddenly raised his hand and said, "Little grandpa knows that little grandpa knows! When I was young, I saw this kind of thing in my grandpa's room. My grandpa seemed to call it Snakegrass. But your one is better than my grandpa's. It's a lot more and more beautiful."

Snake grass mother root?

William thought carefully about whether there was any record in the "Medical Classic of Wuchang", but found that there was none.

Xiao Haitang continued to admire the female root of Snakegrass with an idiotic look, and her saliva was about to flow down.

At this time, a tragic voice came from behind, "Someone cares about me, I feel like I'm going to die."

The three of them looked back and found that Guo Wuji, who was lying on the ground, was talking.

Xiao Haitang laughed when he saw Guo Wuji like this.

Don't mention how embarrassed Guo Bukit is now.

He was all dirty, and his clothes were in tatters. It could be seen that he was wearing a golden armor.

But his lower body was terrible, a blood stain.

Especially his ass.

Flesh and blood.

When Mulan saw this scene, her heart suddenly became balanced.

There is something worse than her ass here.

Guo Wuji's face is black now, and his head is swollen into a pig's head. When he speaks, he is still drooling, like a mentally retarded child.

Guo Wuji's tears burst out, "I'm so blue and thin, I'm so blue and thin, I'm going to die."

Lu Yezheng walked over and said, "Don't worry, you can't die. Did you forget, I'm still a doctor?"

With that said, Wiliam helped Guo Wuji up, and then used Long live Honglian to pierce him easily a few times.

A stream of black blood flowed out along the long live red lotus of Wiliam.

Long live Honglian was originally glowing with a reddish glow.

After being contaminated with black blood, a black light flashed suddenly inexplicably.

But this black light flashed, and even Wiliam thought it was an illusion.

After a while, Guo Wuji's blood turned red, and Wiliam took out the silver needle.

At this moment, the blackness of Guo Wuji's whole body has subsided, and the swelling on his face has gradually subsided.

Guo Wuji blinked his eyes and asked innocently: "Am I saved?"

Wiliam patted him on the shoulder and said, "Don't worry, you can't die. I have seen the poison of this green ghost snake grass just now. It is a toxin that paralyzes the nerves. It is not too vicious, so you are in trouble."

But Guo Wuji seemed unwilling to believe Wiliam's words, and said miserably: "But I still feel so painful, Wiliam, since you are so skilled in medicine, can you help me completely heal it?"

Wiliam frowned and asked, "What's wrong with you?"

At this time, Guo Wuji pushed up his ass with difficulty, and said pitifully, "My ass is so hot, can you help me..."

When the words were not finished, Mulan kicked over, kicking Guo Wuji's round body directly.

After kicking, she still rubbed her shoes on the ground, and said dejectedly: "The eyes are so spicy, especially after seeing the female snake grass root, the eyes are more spicy."

Xiao Haitang nodded sadly and agreed.

Obviously Guo Bukit was almost better, with only a little skin trauma left.

His actions also recovered, and he limped back depressedly.

He stared at Wiliam with a gloomy expression, "Boy! I just remembered something was wrong!"

"What's wrong?" Wiliam asked back.

"Huh! Since you have long thought of attacking the green ghost snake grass from the ground, why did you want me to be the bait in the first place! It made me run like a wild dog before! You said, are you playing with me!"

At this question, even Mulan was taken aback.

By the way, what Guo Wuji said was wrong, and Mulan suddenly didn't react.

With this reaction, she grinned, and instantly formed a united front with Guo Wuji's sister and brother.

She grabbed Wiliam's clothes and asked angrily: "Yeah! You say! Are you playing with us? You have kicked me for so long...what..."

Seeing Mulan like this, Wiliam faintly patted her hand off, and casually explained: "You can't think of such a simple reason? We have never seen Green Ghost Snake Grass before. Seeing its vines playing so slippery, you can guarantee, its body won't jump up?"

Mulan buzzed her head and said in a daze: "You mean..."

The little Haitang on the side raised his hand and answered, "Little grandpa understands! Brother Lu did this at the beginning, just in case, he simply fixed the vines of the green ghost snake grass on the big tree, so that it would be a green ghost snake grass. The body can run, even if it is fixed, it is the safest way."

Wiliam Yihan, when did you even call out Brother Lu.

How blind worship is.

And Mulan and Guo Wuji listened to Xiao Haitang's explanation, and felt as uncomfortable as a dog who had eaten shit.

Perfectly lost an opportunity to retaliate against this kid.

Seeing Wiliam staring at him with idiot eyes, Guo Wuji's face flushed, and he couldn't get off the stage for a while!

He forcibly argued: "It's so nice, who knows you! You guy, your head is so bright, who doesn't know if this is the reason that has been compiled."

Wiliam has a black line. Are you complimenting me?

"I thank you!" Wiliam replied.

Kwok Bukit can't come to the stage anymore, and he babbles, "Anyway, I feel like you are playing with me! Let me be a stray dog for a while, and a groundhog for a while! Finally let my ass bloom! You are Bad intentions and jealous of my talent!"

Wiliam spread his hands together, and said helplessly: "Are you going to break this with me? Think about it seriously, except for the fact that I let you be the bait at first, and you agree with it. Every time you move, Which time didn't I follow you? Which time was not you in charge?"

Guo Bukit's head bounced.

All the previous embarrassment resurfaced.

He thought about it carefully, it was really special!

In the beginning he was a bait, he deserved it, he couldn't say.

Then next, he himself asked for improper bait, and even named Wiliam to be it.

Wiliam really did it.

Then, he dug a hole and was terrified. He didn't dare to stay underground anymore, so he said he wanted to be on the ground, but Wiliam agreed.

If you think about it this way, it's really special that Wiliam is following him in everything!

All of a sudden, Guo Wuji was about to collapse.

How could things be like this? Why do I feel that the picture seems to be cheap and behaved, but in fact I lost my wife and broke down!

He suddenly changed his mind!

One thigh!

its not right!
