

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1439

Wenrenqing and Wenrenqinxin both have exclamation marks on their foreheads!

What the hell!

What a dog is talking about than this?

What does he mean!

Are the four in his hand he wants to keep for himself, and then give us all the treasures?

and then?

We are polite, we are shallow!

We stopped talking when we took these four!

Wenren Qingqing is so angry that he wants to scratch the wall with his paws!

And Wen Renqin is already scratching it physically!

Ah ah ah ah ah!

Sister Hua's heart seemed to be blocked by a stone, and she couldn't be more aggrieved!

They thought they had earned it.

As a result, blood loss.

There is no way to refute...

The two stared at Wiliam angrily, trying to take him alive.

Seeing the jealous eyes of the two, Wiliam shrank his neck and leaned back.

Boys must learn to protect themselves outside.

Facing this sister flower is very dangerous.

And the eyes of the two women were filled with three words: Say it again!

It means that both of their sisters want faces, and they want their babies.

Wiliam cleared his throat and said, "Why don't you do one thing for me, and I will give you all of this."

"What's the matter?" Wen Ren Qingxin found the step down smoothly.

"You didn't tell me before, my grandfather has been in Fragrant Flowers, so help me find any clues about my grandfather's presence here." Wiliam said lightly.

"That's it?" Wen Renqing was stunned.

She thought that this dog had a bigger mouth than a lion at least, and made some things difficult for them to do.

Unexpectedly, it's that simple?

It's really a dog than a gift.

However, Wen Ren Qingqing frowned slightly.

She had heard her sister talk about Grandpa Wiliam before.

My sister doesn't understand the twists and turns, but my sister understands.

"Why? Difficult? Then I..." Wiliam looked at his sister, and stretched out his hand to the pile of treasures on the table.

However, Wen Renqing slapped Wiliam's hand severely with a "pop".

Obviously these treasures no longer belong to Wiliam.

She stared at Wiliam and said, "I know a little bit about your grandpa. He came to us to spend a lot of time, and he didn't stay long because he violated the rules?"

"Breach the rules?" Even Wen Renqin was dumbfounded.

Haven't heard of it.

Wen Ren Qingqing seems to not want to say this, but he has to say, his face is totally irresistible.

She said: "Your grandfather had just entered the fragrant flower and drained his blood, and he also participated in the burial of fame, and then he seemed to be seriously injured when he came back. I thought he would take good care of his injuries, but never thought that he would break into us without permission. The forbidden area was discovered by the elder the next day."

"After being discovered, he was immediately expelled from Xianghua Lishi, and later, he should have returned to your place."

Wiliam frowned.

So, the ultimate point is –

"Well, forbidden land. You should have thought about it too. Your grandfather is acting low-key in Xianghua, if you can leave any clues or traces here, it will only be in our forbidden land." Wenren expressed his love for Wiliam. Replied. not over, !

"Yeah." Wiliam answered briefly and fell silent.

Wen Ren Qingxin but anxious, "I said your kid wouldn't want to break into the forbidden land, right? Do you want to repeat your grandfather's mistakes?"

Wiliambai glanced at Wenren intently, "You kid, you kid, you are not big or small."

Wiliam still considers himself a master who hears people's hearts.

An older sister, Tentengu, barked more than a dog, and this was too much to bear.

My sister wants to rebel too, no door!

Wen Ren Qingxin's neck shrank, and he glared at Wiliam, but stopped talking.

"Well, there is a suitable time or opportunity. I must go to your so-called forbidden area. Regarding the situation of the forbidden area, can the princess tell me more?" Wiliam said affectionately to Wenren.

Wen Ren looked at Wiliam with complex eyes.

This dog is teaching me to fall?

My old lady is the eldest princess with a fragrant flower and blood, but you want to break into the forbidden area of my house in front of my old lady, so let me tell you how to break?

Am I that kind of person—

"I don't know much about the forbidden area. I only know that there are incredible things imprisoned. It can also be said that it is something that we have guarded for generations. If you have the skills, you can go to our underground book collection. Go to the deepest level of the pavilion, there should be records there." Wen Ren Qingqing said with a look of disgust.

This feeling of being forced to be a prostitution but still greeted with humor, the concubine is so sad!

The deepest floor of Xianghualixue Underground Library.

Wiliam nodded, adding another strange knowledge point.

His head hurts a bit now.

It feels like there are too many things to do.

"Then how can I enter this deepest underground library?" Wiliam asked.

"Well, there are no strict regulations. Today, you have been admitted by my father and formally worshipped the incense flower. If you want to go, tell me, you can go anytime. But whether you can enter the last floor, you have to it depends on your ability." Wen Ren Qingqing said.

She now feels that a dog is more than capable, and she doesn't have to waste too much of her own words to explain a lot of things.

Anyway, he is smart, he is great, he can do it all.

"Well, I'll go again in a few days." Wiliam said, pointing to the baby on the table, "It's all yours now."

That said, Wenrenqingqing was a bit embarrassed.

Being forced to become a prostitute, I have gained a lot.

She pondered for a while and said, "Well, these treasures are too precious, and we are a little embarrassed to hold them."

Wiliam glanced at her, trying to see a little embarrassment on her face.

It's a pity that I'm sorry, but I'm sorry to see it.

Wen Ren Qingqing coughed his throat and said, "We'll take some, and then the rest. There will be an auction the day after tomorrow. You can use it for auction or exchange for something you are interested in. What do you think?"

Well, take a short hand and eat a soft mouth.

The word "dogbi" now stops barking when he hears people's affection.

Pretty immediate results.

Wiliam thought for a while and nodded, "Okay, then you can arrange it for me."

"Yeah." Wen Renqing nodded obediently, and then realized that he had been arranged again.

The dignified princess was arranged twice by a little disciple.

This is sour and refreshing.

"Take it away." Wenren Qingxin quickly packed up the things on the table, and then said to her sister, "Let's go."

"Yeah." Wen Renqingqing just needs such a relief.

She hurriedly packed up things with Wenren and left Wiliam's room.

However, when Wiliam was about to close the door, Wenrenqingqing suddenly came back.

"What's wrong?" Wiliam asked.

Wen Renqing had no answer, but looked at Wiliam with scorching eyes.

Wiliam silently tightened his clothes tightly.

Wen Renqing stepped past Wiliam and walked towards the table.

She picked up the flask that Wiliam had prepared before in one hand, and drank to Wiliam.

The eye sockets were a bit flushed.

As soon as her hip flask fell to the ground, people strode outside.

Only one generous statement was left.

“It’s okay to come back and invite me to drink.”

“That’s it for this pot.”

“In the future, I don’t want to drink this kind of wine again.”

“Only this time!”

“Not an example!”
