

Dragon Husband

1450

Azure Qilin was silent for a while.

He actually heard Ling Yun's ambition from Wiliam's words!

In the future, how much will this kid's cultivation level be!

Who dares to make a decision for him!

Thinking of this, Tianqing Qilin smiled and said: "Boy, I admire you a little bit. There is a small stall on your left, a piece of tourmaline and a circle of glazed amber."

"Wiliam, what's the matter with you?" Wen Renqing couldn't help pushing Wiliam down.

They watched Wiliam suddenly stopped, and then left in a daze alone, a little puzzled.

Wiliam returned to his senses and smiled slightly, "Nothing, let's go."

As he said, he walked directly to the left.

Then, at a glance, she saw a seventeen or eighteen-year-old girl sitting on a small stool.

There are many delicate things in front of her.

But it can be seen that many of these things are made by hand, just like the small ornaments that were in the humane in Hongchen before.

And the people who come to the Yuntian Bazaar are all cultivators. How can they appreciate these decorations?

Judging from the delicate but anxious face of the little girl, she is still not open today.

Wiliam stood in front of her and began to carefully examine the things on the little girl's booth.

Wen Ren squeezed over and said with a joking expression: "Oh, it turns out that our Young Master Lu likes Little Lolita, it looks really good."

Look closely at this little girl, although the commoner, Jingchai, is dressed very plainly.

But her face is delicate, with a kind of toughness that grows in suffering between her immature and tenderness.

Is a rare beauty embryo.

She looked at Wiliam, squeezed a gentle smile, and said, "My lord, you can choose whatever you want, it's very cheap."

The sisters Wenrenqingxin randomly scanned these accessories and found it boring.

It's more interesting to tease Wiliam.

Wiliam looked at it, and quickly locked something and picked it up.

This is a delicate bracelet.

The bracelet is woven with red rope, and there is a thumb-sized tourmaline on it, and a ring of light yellow amber surrounds the tourmaline.

And there was a bloodshot in the amber, as if it was solidified in the middle.

This is exactly what Wiliam was looking for.

"My lord, you really have a foresight. This is the crimson tourmaline bracelet made by my mother and I. Are you satisfied? The price is very cheap." The little girl has a lot of experience in doing business at first glance, and said busy.

"How much is it?" Wiliam asked casually.

"A Tianshan Lingjing?" The little girl hesitated for a while, and asked tentatively.

After asking, she looked at Wiliam nervously, for fear that Wiliam would buckle and leave.

And she seemed to be a little upset, and the price was high.

Wiliam smiled slightly at her expression.

Little girl, she is still too innocent.

Write all the thoughts on the face.

"Are you in a hurry to spend money?" Wiliam asked lightly.

The little girl was taken aback and looked at Wiliam with some surprise.

But she answered honestly: "Well, very urgent and very urgent."

Seeing that Wiliamzheng was answering, she seemed to have made some determination, and said: "My lord, I am really anxious to spend money. If you think it is expensive, we can discuss..."

At this time, a kind-hearted aunt approached and whispered: "My lord, if you do well, please help Xiao Ruyi. Her family is really pitiful."

This aunt was also upright, grabbing Wiliam Yiwuyishi and telling her about the little girl.

It turned out that this little girl was called Ling Ruyi, an aboriginal born here.

Her father is a martial artist who crossed over, and her mother is an ordinary indigenous person, frail and sick, and bedridden all the time.

Ling Ruyi's father had taken care of it, and their family of three had a pretty good life.

But during an expedition to a secret realm a year ago, her father never came out again.

Because of this shock, my mother was completely bedridden.

The mother and daughter, who were powerless and powerless, lived in a downturn from now on, relying on the skillful hands of Ling Ruyi.

She knitted some small things from her father's relics and sold them, barely making a living.

During the recent period, her mother's condition has worsened, and there are a lot of places to spend money, which makes Ling Ruyi's body more stressed.

She finally begged her neighbors, helped her pool some money and rented a stall here, to see if she could sell something to buy medicine for her mother.

Wen Renqing's sympathy immediately rose, and she said to Wiliam: "Wiliam, then buy this."

Wiliam was about to buy it himself, nodded, and was about to make Wenren pay for it.

But at this time, a haughty voice rang, "Oh, you finally figured it out. What? Watching the hot coaxing money to buy things in it, now I'm going to pretend to be an uncle in this market? Not bad."

Still don't have to look back to know that this person is Li Nianyi.

Li Nianyi couldn't bear the envy and hatred before, so he came out early and went around the market, trying to pick up some omissions.

But it doesn't seem appropriate to look at it.

As a result, I saw Wiliam and sisters Wenren.

He hurried over.

After seeing the situation clearly, Li Nianyi, a big money with 100 spirit crystals, immediately asked with great enthusiasm: "Little girl, how much is the thing in his hand?"

Ling Ruyi glanced at Wiliam, hesitated for a moment, and replied weakly, "1 Spirit Crystal, but the price is negotiable."

When Li Nian looked at the tourmaline bracelet in Wiliam's hand, he immediately yelled, "What the hell is so expensive! This is just an ordinary jade seal, and look at this piece of amber outside, and what bloodshots are inside. Mottled and messy, let alone a spirit crystal, even if you sell ordinary coins, you can't sell a lot of money. Are you cheating others?"

The people around immediately cast disgusting glances at Li Nian.

What's the matter with this person?

If you don't have a little sympathy, you just need to open your mouth and DISS, right?

Ling Ruyi's face turned red when she was told, she lowered her head in shame, and kept apologizing, "I'm sorry, I'm sorry. If you think it's expensive, my lord, how fit do you think..."

Li Nian looked at Wenren and said proudly: "You see it? You eldest ladies still have no experience, and you don't know if they were slaughtered when they came out to buy things. Fortunately, I will come, otherwise..."

Ling Ruyi lowered his head, the light in his eyes gradually dimmed, like a child who had done something wrong and was helpless.

Wiliam interrupted him directly and said to the little girl, "I bought it."

The little girl suddenly raised her head and looked at Wiliam in disbelief.

The light in her eyes gradually condensed again, "My lord, do you say you want to buy? How much? You make a price, and I will sell you."

Wiliam's face was sincere, unlike Li Nian who was aloof and arrogant.

Ling Ruyi could easily feel kindness and sincerity from Wiliam.

And Li Nian jumped in an instant.

He thought that Wiliam was provoking him!

Is hitting him in the face!

"Okay! I kindly help you, do you still want to pretend to be lavish in front of me? Then I will compete with you today! I'm going to make this thing! I have a spirit crystal!" Li Nian shouted loudly.

The people around were attracted.

Naturally, there are many people who are convinced by Li Nian's arrogance.

Wiliam smiled slightly, and said to the little girl, "Am I bidding? 100 Lingjing, it can't be higher. No matter how high someone is, he was beaten to death by a stick."