

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1482

William actually guessed it too.

They said before that the grandmother's blood was produced not far from the entrance of the forbidden area.

According to the way the grandmother's blood is slowly coming out, it is estimated that there will be only a few drops in a year.

That porcelain bowl must be a good thing to keep the grandmother's blood from being volatilized.

"Well, it means that the people from the sect are the farthest to this place, but this is actually the entrance. Let's continue walking." William nodded.

The two of them walked slowly down the path they had just discovered.

The trail is only half a meter wide and a bit steep.

In addition, the peach blossoms here are colorful and paved into a peach blossom trail.

The weather was very humid again, which aggravated the difficulty of the road.

But after walking for a while, there is basically no danger.

This made William feel even more disturbed.

There is something wrong, something very wrong.

William was thinking about it, and suddenly heard Wenren behind him cry out.

"William, I'm so hot."

William turned his head to look around, and suddenly knew what the so-called danger here was!

At this moment Wenren was enamoured, his face was already flushed, and a fine fragrance of sweat came out.

Her eyes were moved and blurred, and the clothes on her body had been half lifted by her, revealing her graceful waist.

"So hot....."

Seeing that Wen Renqin was about to take off his coat, William was full of spirits, and quickly took a step forward, holding Wen Renqin's hand tightly.

But when William came over, Wen Renqing felt like a lost child found his way home.

She struggled with a blurred look, hugged Wiliam, and rubbed Wiliam's body vigorously, "It's so hot."

It's not an exaggeration to say that this voice is acting like a baby.

Wiliam's brow furrowed even tighter.

Peach blossom!

Pink mist!

Touching!

Charming heart!

He thought of what it was for a moment!

There are many strange things recorded in the "Impermanent Medical Classics".

Now cooperate with Wenren's symptoms and surrounding environment.

Wiliam remembered.

Asceticism.

The danger here is the scent of asceticism!

The so-called scent of asceticism is an extremely rare scent that is released by the exhibition of peach blossoms.

If this scent is in normal times, it will only make people feel refreshed.

But now because of the terrain, the aroma persists throughout the year, reaching a certain concentration.

It becomes a deadly fragrance that kills people invisible!

Life is too short, and have fun in time.

This scent is pervasive and can make people increasingly unprepared.

Until people are completely lost in the fragrance, only the word ** is left in the heart.

Towards the end, the blood and energy became more and more turbulent, completely turning into a beast of love.

Blasting and death in the ** is the final destination.

I didn't think that there was a sweet smell of asceticism here!

Wiliam's head turned sharply, crazily reminiscing about the record of short walks in the "Medical Classics of Wuchang".

But at this time, his head was dizzy.

The scent of Lexiang Lexiang seemed to be magnified countless times, and it rushed into Wiliam's nose frantically.

Wiliam quickly shut his breath.

But it was too late.

The nose is only one of the channels.

The fragrance clung to Wiliam's body, slowly dipping into his clothes and body.

Wiliam suddenly felt hot all over.

His face also slowly turned red.

This enamoured second person, I said just now that it is very fragrant, and I am crazy to absorb the fragrance.

it's good now.

Wiliam looked at Wenren, who hugged him like an octopus with a look of love, and shook his head.

He freed a hand, and a long live demon lotus suddenly appeared in his hand.

Long live Demon Lotus pierced into his own eyebrows.

A drop of scarlet blood came out from the center of his eyebrows.

His spiritual platform suddenly became clear.

With this clarity, the red light on Wiliam reappeared.

The dozens of Long live demon lotus sealed the five sense holes on Wiliam's body together!

After all this tossing, the heat on Wiliam's body only diminished somewhat.

Then Wiliam looked at Wenren and fell in love with him. This product has been moving around, and it can't be broken by the injection.

Well, it's very simple.

Wiliam slapped Wenrenqinxin's neck with a palm, and Wenrenqinqin let out a soft chuckle, and his body fell softly.

Wiliam caught her casually and placed it in front of her.

Facing Wenren who was in a coma, Wiliam had a headache.

Originally, he wanted to say whether to send Wenren Qingxin directly.

But after thinking about it, he immediately denied this idea.

Now Wenrenqing feels ashamed and happy, and his physical condition is very unstable.

If you send it out, on the one hand, there is a danger of being discovered by the sect.

If he is discovered, he might even figure out himself.

The risk is too great.

On the other hand, Wenren fell in love with the poison, and if he stayed next to Wiliam, Wiliam would be confident to save her life.

But Wiliam had no confidence when he sent it out. The group of people outside was counted as the people of the entire common people's territory, and Wiliam was not familiar enough.

Don't let Qingxin take this life and death risk.

After much deliberation, I can only keep Qingxin by my side.

Hey, I thought there were many beautiful women to accompany me, but I thought it would be more burdensome.

Thinking of this, Wiliam couldn't help but feel fortunate, but fortunately, he heard that people's affection did not come down.

Otherwise, it is just two cumbersome.

In addition, a person who is enamored with love can sit back and relax.

The two attacked themselves together, um, it was the most difficult to get rid of the grace of beauty.

I'm really a man of integrity.

Wiliam thought, red light appeared on his body.

The remaining dozens of long live demon lotus headed towards Wenren's body, and also sealed Wenren's five senses.

This kind of asceticism is the most tormenting and pervasive.

Even if the five senses are blocked now, it is only to avoid continuing to get sick.

Can not prevent the intrusion of fragrance and poison into the body.

Therefore, when the poison invades the body to a certain level, you will still get sick again, and it will be even more troublesome at that time.

Treat the symptoms but not the root cause.

To cure the root cause, I can only wait to go out.

Wiliam sealed the five senses of Qingxin's body, and then carried her on his shoulders.

keep going.

Down the road, apart from this short-term pleasure, there are really no other dangers.

However, Wiliam also knows that short-term trips are also solvable to him, and it may be fatal to the people who are scented and drained of blood.

The danger is enough, and it is listed as a forbidden area.

It was because Wiliam was able to suppress the poison, and he couldn't help feeling a little physically exhausted. It took a lot of time to stop and go.

And here happens to confirm a sentence.

There is no sun and moon in the mountains.

Time seems to be frozen here, there is no sun and moon, and the sky is always pink.

Not knowing how long he had been walking, Wiliam suddenly felt Wen Renqin's heart tremble slightly on his shoulders.

Then the ear hurts.

Wenren was enamoured of waking up, like a savage beast, and he caught Wiliam's ear with one bite.

Before he could break free, he suddenly felt his ears ice, and a strange tenderness spread all over his body.

Depend on!

Was licked!
