

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1487 part 1

Wiliam looked at Wenren in amazement.

At this moment, Wen Renqing's charm seems to have increased a bit, making it hard to resist.

"What do you mean?" Wiliam lowered his head and asked.

Wen Renqingxin broke Wiliam's head again, making the two of them face each other.

"Wiliam, listen to me." Wen Renqing was more serious than ever.

Wiliam nodded.

"Wiliam, I may not know the character of others, but I can't know your character too well. Between me and Fengxue, what are you hesitating about? This is not like you." Wen Ren said with heart.

Wiliam's mouth opened, and she couldn't speak.

"So, you actually have a choice in your heart, but you are afraid that I will die?" Wen Ren said with a heart that broke Wiliam's thoughts.

Wiliam hesitated, but nodded.

He really wanted to get the roots of his grandmother.

However, there is no such thing as a must.

Wiliam believed that with his talent and hard work, it would not take a lot of time to practice and study Chapter 9 of the "Impermanence Medical Classic" to change his life.

However, what lies before Wiliam's eyes is a life of love.

This is a hurdle he can't get past.

Wen Renqing smiled again, and said: "I don't think, you are such a smart person, also got into a dead end. I will help you stroke it again."

Wen Ren stood up in love, although his clothes were messy, but it just made people feel too beautiful to be worldly.

She uttered mercilessly at first, "There are no peach blossoms, but it's too ugly here."

Wiliam also complained in his heart, "When the peach blossoms are blooming, you are too ugly to me."

"Let me ask you first, what does pointing heart mean?" Wen Renqin asked first.

"Follow the choices made in my heart." Wiliam replied.

"That's not enough. This is the initial prerequisite. Who knows what my grandmother set here. But I know that if you go against your heart's choice, you will violate the word "Zhixin". You can't easily ignore the power of these two words." Wen Ren said with heart.

Wiliam said, "I know it naturally."

"Then I will ask you again, how important is the wind and snow in your heart? Leave me alone. According to my grandmother, if you two are separated by mountains and seas, you may not see each other again in this life, so what do you think?" Wen The person asked eagerly.

Wiliam's heartstring seemed to be flicked, as if he was trapped in the situation set by Peach Blossom Lady.

Just like now.

I live apart from Fengxue, and I don't know when and when I will see you again.

But so what!

Yes, so what!

The love for the wind and snow is not something that can be blocked by this mountain and sea!

The love for the wind and snow is greater than the mountain and the sea.

A passion from the bottom of the heart came out of Wiliam's heart.

His eyes became sharper than ever!

"Beloved is across the mountains and seas, mountains and seas--"

"It's all flat!"

Wiliam said these words faintly, and for a while, his momentum climbed to the pinnacle.

Looking at such a magnificent Wiliam, the expression of Wenren's heart was lost for a while.

But I felt that deep in my heart, there was a trace of sorrow and grief, slowly overflowing.

Part 2

However, she hid the sorrow and sorrow well, squeezed out a nice smile, and said, "So, this is your decision. That's great."

She looked at the bare peach trees all around, feeling regretful, and said: "It's just that there is more than me in this choice. And I, but I am just a drop in this mountain and sea, but this mountain is too big. In this sea, our relationship is innocent. I don't have the right and obligation to let you make choices, and I don't have the qualifications to hold you responsible for my life."

For a time, Wenren's heart was full of desolation, and he looked charming.

She continued to talk.

At this moment, she was no longer a shit-cutter, no longer a fan.

She is like a wise man, touching Wiliam.

“Also, I ask you, why do you choose me? In my opinion, if you choose me, it is really a blasphemy against me, a blasphemy against the wind and snow, and an infatuated blasphemy against you. Wiliam, I’m also a woman you won’t get in your entire life.”

Wenren said intently, he actually laughed out loud.

The haze in Wiliam’s heart gradually became clear.

It’s not that he doesn’t understand these truths.

He consciously owes Wenren’s heart.

Although the haze in his heart gradually became clear, his pressure remained unabated, but deepened.

Love has never lived since ancient times.

Grandpa, I’m sorry.

You may have been sleeping for a while.

Envy, sorry.

If there is an afterlife, I will repay the wind and snow, dogs and horses.

Wiliam’s eyes gradually became cold, and he looked at the bare peach tree.

At this moment, Wiliam also felt that the bare peach trees were really ugly and tight.

“So, do you know how to choose?” Wen Renqing hid a thumping heart well.

She looked at Wiliam in front of her with mixed feelings.

Since when did I have such a deep love for a kid?

When I first met her, I was still a child.

He was also just a hairy boy, but he dared to challenge Mulan, the owner of the Southern Qilin Gate.

One person gambles everywhere, and the style covers the whole city!

At that time, he joked that he was going to be admitted to the harem, and it was hard to say that such a seed of affection would really be planted in his heart.

But the first time he revealed his true body in front of him, it was a mistake, in the peach blossom forest illusion that guarded the mountain forbidden land.

I watched this kid go to the appointment alone, fighting against the Li family alone.

Also witnessed this kid destroying Beiluo Lu’s family with his own power.

He is kind, the world is home, and he rescued the fate of Xiangdeng Village.

He is a great sage, with a literary and martial arts at a young age, no one can rival him in the world.

He was so filial that He Daoshan didn't dare to go to He Huohai to save his grandfather, even if there was no life and no results.

He has great affection, and the love affair with Fengxue has moved the world, and he is infatuated with him, and his son is unparalleled.

Great kindness and great sage, great filial piety and great affection.

The woman named Li Chunfeng was so right.

William is honey to wind and snow.

But for women outside the wind and snow, it is arsenic.

If it is contaminated, it will be fatal, no one is spared, and it is incurable.

But can you hate him?

I'm afraid I can't at all.

Wen Renqin glanced at William a little helplessly, and suddenly, tears fell tentatively.

She burst into tears again, she wiped the tears on her face, and suddenly asked, "William, do I look good?"

William was stunned for a moment, then nodded.

Contentment...

A blood mist suddenly burst out of her body.

But it burst from the heart.

"Well, for your answer, I decide to make a choice for you. Twitching will make people look a little disappointed." The corners of Wen Ren's heart-warming lips overflowed with blood.

Her heart slowly shattered.

In front of her eyes, the colorful world became gray.

Her body slowly fell down.

In her eyes, there is no more William, no more ruthless love, no more care.

Yes, it was this gray, bare peach tree.

After eating arsenic, he was doomed to death.

Bought to leave, willing to bet.

“This peach tree does not bloom...”

“Long writing is very...”

“It’s so ugly...”
