

Dragon Husband 1569 Part 1

Chapter 1569

Song Hanyu looked at Wiliam with a strange expression, his face was full of disbelief.

People are not strong, so what is morality?

Since Wiliam said just now that he should not be the Sect Master, as long as Song Hanyu agreed to a condition, she felt something wrong in her heart.

How can anyone give up the great benefits, as long as one condition?

Unless this condition is more attractive than the benefits.

Well, for example, the aunt's body.

And seeing Wiliam coming to touch her forehead, Song Hanyu was even more sure, this kid coveted his beauty.

Good guy, rabbits don't eat grass at the edge of the nest, and besides, the grass at the edge of the nest has a master...

For a time, Song Hanyu's impression of Wiliam became extremely complicated.

Let the young and beautiful Wenren Qingqing do not want to worry about what the aunt does?

Shiquanda tonic soup is fed too much, making him hungry?

Well, it must be like this.

Feed him less in the future, otherwise the vitality will be too great for young people to hold on.

Wiliam is even more speechless, what the hell is this?

He quickly stated one of his conditions.

After speaking, he clapped his hands, "My condition is like this."

Song Hanyu was stunned in the corner.

That's it?

That's it!

This is also a condition for riding a horse!

Isn't this just a matter of effort!

Compared with the position of the suzerain, this condition looks down on the word "condition" too much!

"Are you sure?" Song Hanyu asked Wiliam hesitantly, "Just like that, you can join our Jinyu Volley and participate in the nine qualifying matches?"

"Well, naturally, Wiliam, although I am not a good person, I am still an honest person, and I must do what I say." Wiliam said solemnly.

Song Hanyu felt that he was going crazy.

This is too incredible!

It's shocking than Wiliam's coveted old aunt!

If this condition is spread out, let the people of the Nine Sects know that they will not be able to explode like they have eaten explosives.

"In fact, to be honest, when you persuaded me to participate in this Nine Sect Qualifying Tournament, I began to think about which sect I would borrow from. After thinking about it, only Jinyu Volley is the most suitable one. You and President Yuntian will be there. I'm not thin, I have the heart to help you." Wiliam finally had to tell the truth.

But Song Hanyu sounded extremely guilty.

How can he be treated?

It's just to give him a place to stay.

Everyone can help him with this kind of thing.

Moreover, Wiliam had already given so many magical soldiers to Yun Tian and himself, which was already a shocking reward.

Repay now.

Gee tee, is this kid's rewards so unexpected and earth-shattering?

"Then you have to talk and count! Otherwise I will beat you!" Song Hanyu finally came out of the corner.

But when she came out, her face was flushed.

What I was thinking about the tiger and wolf thing just now!

People Wiliam Mingming is simple and kind, how can he fall in love with his aunt!

Change! state!

As she thought about it, she was a little embarrassed to look at Wiliam.

Seeing that Wiliam agreed, she lowered her head and asked, "Then since you chose to join us a long time ago, why did you make such a big noise?"

Wiliam smiled casually, "Look at some people who are upset, just exaggerate."

Song Hanyu felt cold in his back.

As soon as the front foot praised this kid for his kindness, his revenge came so swiftly on the back foot.

However, seeing some people's discomfort, they fought so much that the entire nine sects became turbulent.

This retribution is earth-shaking, and revenge is also devastating.

"Then why do you want this condition? Is there any purpose? Did you think of this a long time ago, so..." Song Hanyu asked again.

Wiliam smiled faintly, "It's still up to some people."

Song Hanyu took a breath, good fellow, he was too unpredictable.

This is the beginning of the layout of all this, one after another.

Each of his seemingly ordinary and sparse actions turned out to have profound meaning.

"Okay, I promise you." Song Hanyu took a deep breath and finally agreed.

As the night gradually approached, there were few stars outside the Yuntian Auction House, and occasional breeze blew by, adding a touch of softness to the quiet night.

But in this kind of softness, there is a little bit of murder.

In one corner, three men in black stood quietly like bronze sculptures, as if they were fused with the night.

Not long after, three black figures broke through the air and landed directly beside the five people.

The three of them stood facing each other, and none of them spoke to each other.

As if talking will reveal each other's identities.

One of the three people stood up and gestured to indicate that he was the leader of the action, and all actions were under his command.

The three people on the opposite side nodded immediately.

The three people on the opposite side were the three elders among the fragrant flowers.

It's just that they are covered in black clothes, their faces are masked, and only two eyes are exposed. If they don't speak or use special skills, they really can't see their true identities.

They behave very low-key in everything, and their primary purpose is to hide their identities.

After a while, five masked men came.

They seemed to have the same thoughts as Xianghua's blood, hiding their identities for the first time, and they didn't say anything.

Wenren Jin Zhong was counting secretly. Up to now, eleven people have come, and these eleven people should all be warriors of the Innate Secret Realm.

And it seems that three sects participated.

The known are Xianghualixue and Canglang Hero, I don't know which is the third sect?

Five minutes later, two more groups came.

There are five people in one group and three people in the other group.

A total of nineteen masters gathered on the scene.

They look at me, and I look at you, obviously they are all guessing the identity of each other.

After waiting for another half an hour, no one appeared again.

Nearly twenty people, in the eyes of these people, it is far enough!

Enough to besieged and killed any innate secret realm warrior!

At this time, the big-headed brother before stood up and said with a hoarse voice: "It seems that everyone is here, I will make a brief arrangement."

As he said, he pointed to a small hill outside and said: "In a little while, the kid will appear and go to practice martial arts on that hill. Let's go and lie around and listen to my instructions. , You should do it together, and be sure to kill him to the ground as soon as possible. Otherwise, the longer the time is, the more unexpected troubles will be caused, you know? After all, so many masters are dispatched together, the movement will definitely be very loud."

Everyone nodded in agreement and agreed.

Everyone wants to make a quick fight, and no one wants to attract the attention of other sects.

After a while, he hurried to the small hill and hid in the darkness.

In a short while, as the leader said, a black shadow slowly walked from the bottom of the mountain.

With the moonlight, everyone could see the face of this dark shadow clearly, it was William!
