

Dragon Husband 1573

Chapter 1573

At this moment, Song Hanyu's face was full of surprise, and even shuddered because of being too shocked!

She thought of a terrible guess!

Why do those who kill Wiliam know that Wiliam will appear on the hill?

There are only two possibilities!

Or, someone informs!

Or, they found out the law of Wiliam's whereabouts.

The first possibility Song Hanyu directly ruled out.

She still has confidence in Yuntian Auction House.

Liu Yuntian secretly does the job of collecting information. The selection of his opponents is extremely strict, and there will never be any betrayers.

Then there is only the second possibility.

They know the law of Wiliam's actions.

For a while, Wiliam stayed at Yuntian Auction House during the day.

Only at night, I would go out to exercise on a small hill very abnormally for a while.

Before Song Hanyu thought that Wiliam was going to meet Wenrenqing's fox spirit.

Even before, he was teasing Wiliam.

Think about it now, think carefully!

Could this be a flaw that Wiliam deliberately sold!

Otherwise, with Wiliam's enchanting wisdom, definitely wouldn't do anything abnormal.

And as expected, Wiliam smiled and said, "It seems you have also thought about it. It's wrong. These days I deliberately went to the hill at the same time and came back. I have to give someone a chance, right?"

Song Hanyu grabbed Wiliam by the collar and lost his mind, "Why! Why did you start laying out all this so early! Could it be that you have been thinking of all this since then! This is impossible! This is not the wisdom of mortals? I can think of it!"

William looked at Song Hanyu, who was crushed by IQ, with a look of lovelessness, and said, "What is impossible, everyone can do it. It's just that I think a little bit deeper than you."

"Tell me! I don't believe it!" Song Hanyu still couldn't believe it.

William motioned Song Hanyu to let go.

Song Hanyu released William, his eyes burning.

William said calmly: "Well, in fact, you are the most fundamental reason for all of this. You persuaded me to participate in this nine qualifying match, right?"

Song Hanyu nodded, breathing a bit shortly.

"I think what you said makes sense, so I decided to participate in the Nine Sects qualifying competition. But I also have a deep understanding of my own strength, thinking that I will become the sweet pastry of the Nine Sects."

"It belonged to that time, I left a mind."

When William said this, his expression was slightly unnatural.

"Since you are sure that you will be scrambled, there are only two methods that are most likely to be implemented for Jiu Zong.

Song Hanyu nodded, the bargaining chip Jiuzong opened, even her heart was moved as a double arrogant.

"And the second one is that they are not of my race, and their hearts must be different. Use martial arts to ban them, and kill them quickly." The corners of William's mouth twitched slightly.

Song Hanyu nodded again, which made sense.

Recruiting a person is nothing more than two methods, allowing it to benefit, and then hardening if it doesn't work, threatening, killing, and all kinds of methods are used.

William considered these two possibilities.

"And you know that I am a person. I don't like any extraneous or uncontrollable things. Since I know that the other person may do something to me. I can't just sit back and wait for death, right? It's better to invite the king into the urn personally and help them realize this. For one thing, I can continue to control the situation, and secondly, for my own safety, isn't it?" William said.

Hearing this, Song Hanyu vaguely felt that William was no longer human.

Is this what people think?

Knowing that the other party is going to kill himself, so take the initiative to let the other party kill?

Shouldn't the turtle be shrunk up?

This girl's thinking is too tricky.

"So from then on, I began to think that the other party would not do anything in the Yuntian auction house, that can only be outside. And I must be the only one to go out. Well, so I chose to go out and take a stroll in the middle of the night. Come back, anyone who pays a little attention to my whereabouts will know this law." Wiliam looked even more unnatural when he said this.

Well, he would never admit that the big reason for going out late at night was also related to Song Hanyu.

Three times a day of Ten Quan Da Tonic Soup, it is too irritable, okay!

You have to go out to vent.

"Then why is it tonight..." Song Hanyu understood now, and could only continue to breathe in the air-conditioning from the side, completely bowing down to Wiliam's IQ.

"Are you stupid? Tomorrow I will announce which sect to join. When the dust settles, it will definitely protect me from the sect. Moreover, if they kill me at a different time, it is equivalent to dying with the corresponding sect. In case I choose. Is it Dugu Hongshi or Han Xing Wangqing, does the other party offend it? So only this time tonight." Wiliambai glanced at Song Hanyu, this girl's IQ is getting more and more offline.

Song Hanyu sighed after listening.

I felt pressed and rubbed on the ground, rubbing and rubbing, and it was almost convulsive and convulsive.

Well, it's IQ, nothing else...

Song Hanyu looked at Wiliam deeply, knowing that Wiliam must have some details disdain to say.

For example, Wiliam had previously deliberately crushed the Minghuang Earth Tower, which completely opposed them.

For example, Wiliam changed his past understatement and embarrassed the people of Canglang in public.

This is all to anger the two sects, so that the other party is determined to take action.

Also, Wiliam made friends with the people of Yushizhi and Canjian Jiutian, knowing that the other party would tell him this message.

Besides, Wiliam even counted Dugu Hongshi and Han Xing Wangqing.

Knowing that these two sects have the greatest confidence in attracting Wiliam, not taking part in this operation is tantamount to indirectly protecting Song Hanyu.

All in all, Song Hanyu thinks more and more, and the more he thinks, the colder the body becomes, and he dare not think about it.

In the end, only one conclusion was reached.

Wiliam is inhuman!

All the natural actions at the beginning have profound explanations.

And all the abnormal actions contained great mystery.

This is Wiliam.

A change in your twenties! state!

This kind of evildoer, even disdainful of Nine Sects, chose to join Jinyu Volley, fulfilling her obsession.

Think about it, Song Hanyu's eyes were wet, and the old mother was moved.

"Wiliam, you are so kind to us..."

Wiliam saw that Song Hanyu was about to come over and touch his head. After a chill, he quickly got up and said, "Let's go."

"Go, where do you go?" Song Hanyu's hands stiffened in the air, with a look of sorrow.

Wiliam walked outside with a strange expression on his face, and dropped a sentence, "Of course I am going to have an unforgettable and warm and comfortable negotiation with those nine masters!"
