Chapter 1690 Innate

Before Lady Peach Blossom finished speaking, Wiliam was already shocked.

What he originally guessed was that this glowing red light had a special magical effect related to soul refining.

But he never thought that there were so many magical effects, so great, that it had far exceeded his expectations!

The first is soul capture.

There are two situations in Reaper of Souls.

One is that others take the initiative to integrate their souls into this thing to achieve the purpose of nourishing the soul or longevity.

And the sect masters with the sword that covered the sky should have used this feature to integrate their souls or half of their souls into this thing.

The other is exaggerated.

Can take the initiative to capture the soul!

If you take the initiative to steal the soul, wouldn't that be a very terrifying move!

Who can survive without a soul.

Even if it survives, it's just a walking dead!

As for the second magic use, Wiliam was even more pleasantly surprised.

If the soul can be warmed and nourished in this thing, then putting this remnant soul of Senior Tianqing Qilin in it will speed up the recovery of his soul.

Even Wiliam thought of putting his grandfather's soul in it, and he could also temporarily hang his grandfather's life.

But for the third type, although Lady Peach Blossom said it exaggeratedly, and even felt more shocking than the first two magical effects, Wiliam didn't know much about it.

However, with the first two magical uses, Wiliam is already very satisfied.

Madam Peach Blossom saw that Wiliam said that he was getting calmer and calmer, and couldn't help laughing, "It seems that you don't understand the benefits of this soul-soothing at all."

Wiliam smiled helplessly, "I don't have much experience and knowledge, which makes my grandmother laugh."

Lady Peach Blossom also smiled and said, "I'll tell you in detail, it will be good for you to practice martial arts and seek immortals in the future."

Wiliam quickly got up and listened intently.

"In the world of thousands, people who practice martial arts and seek immortality are like the sands of the Ganges River. After thousands of years of evolution, they have gradually formed several systems that are now recognized by your side. That is, training martial arts, seeking immortals, and conferring gods."

"The realm of martial arts, from the lowest level of external energy, to the innate secret realm, the realm is very clearly divided. The same is true for seeking immortals. It is still too early for you to be conferred a god, and you don't need to know."

"But in general, training martial arts, seeking immortals, and conferring gods, what you have to do are Jade Blood, Danxin, and Soul Breaking. In the realm of martial arts, it is important to train the body and blood, and most people take the road of physical fitness. , but in the end, you still have to return to the path of blood refining. You have done a good job at this point, focusing on blood refining from the beginning."

"Seeking the realm of immortality is to pursue the enlightenment of the heart on the basis of refining blood."

Speaking of this, Lady Peach Blossom paused.

And Wiliam responded immediately.

If the realm of martial arts is to refine blood, then the ultimate pursuit of the realm of immortality should be to open and temper the heart.

He couldn't help but said: "I don't know much about this, but I know that the second realm in the fairyland to build a state of mind has mentioned opening the heart."

"Well, yes. You don't seem to know what Xinyu is, right?" Lady Peach Blossom asked Wiliam.

Wiliam scratched his head embarrassedly, "I don't know much."

“The so-called heart domain, how to say it. By the way, do you know why the end of the martial arts realm is called the innate secret realm? Or, how do you understand the word innate?”

William was stunned for a moment, thinking that he never wanted to understand the name of each realm in the past.

The innate secret realm sounds more powerful and majestic.

Is this the answer?

Lady Peach Blossom asked and answered herself with a smile: “The so-called innate means that every person has an innate instinct or talent from birth. Everyone’s talent is not the same. And the innate secret realm is actually the foundation for building a state of mind in the fairyland. When you arrive at building a state of mind, you can open your own heart domain. To put it more commonly, it is the power that is exclusive to you. Some people have infinite power after opening their heart domain. Some people manipulate wind, rain and thunder after opening their heart domain. People who open their hearts travel thousands of miles every day, and they are different.”

Hearing this, William couldn’t help but be stunned, it turns out that there is such a magical doorway.

He has read a lot of wild books, and to make a straightforward explanation by analogy, he will open his own buff. In this buff, his strength can be multiplied.

William couldn’t help but think, isn’t the heart domain actually an upgraded version of internal force Xuanjin?

Inner strength and profound strength are also their own strengths.

Unexpectedly, the way of martial arts has already formed its own system, and even the inner strength and profound strength can be found in the fairyland.

“There is also a limit here. Because people’s talents are limited, they can only open one heart. This is an unwritten phenomenon. Do you understand now?” Peach Blossom asked.

But at this moment, William has fallen into contemplation.

Judging from one fact, William quickly thought of what kind of heart he would open in the future.

From the perspective of internal strength and profound strength, it is possible that what he will open in the future will be the same attribute heart domain as metamorphosis.

But William’s unique talent doesn’t stop there.

For example, the medical skills that are unique in the world, such as the power of space and the power of frost in the Long Live Demon Lotus.

Too much.

Thinking of this, Wiliam couldn't help but have higher expectations for this state of mind.

However, Wiliam suddenly reacted.

He looked at Lady Peach Blossom in disbelief, and asked in surprise, "You said that only one heart domain can be opened? Did you just now?"

Peach Blossom Lady smiled and said, "Yeah, do you understand the mystery of this thing now? This thing can help you open your heart domain early, and it will open an extra soul-suppressing heart domain."

Wiliam's body trembled slightly because of excitement.

The most important thing in seeking a fairyland is the heart.

And this thing actually helped him open a plug-in!

Can open two heart domains!

This is equivalent to the one-on-one battle, and suddenly there is one more person on my side.

This is too outrageous!

Never thought that a small thing could be so terrifying!

Why didn't the people with the sword cover the sky find it?

Wiliam thought for a second, and that's right, the people with the sword covering the sky are very ordinary people, and their knowledge is limited.

Where can there be such an old evildoer like Peach Blossom Lady to point out the maze.

Not knowing or not using it is normal.

This time, I stepped on the sword and covered the sky and made a lot of money!

"Is this so excited?" Lady Peach Blossom looked at Wiliam playfully.

Of course Wiliam was excited, and blurted out: "I have no intention of getting such a good thing, can you not be excited?"

Lady Peach Blossom looked at Wiliam with a half-smile, "That's enough? Did you forget what I said just now?"

"Above martial arts is to seek immortals, and above immortality is conferred gods."

"Practicing martial arts and refining blood, seeking immortals to enlighten the heart, and conferring gods, is to break the soul."

"This word for soul, combined with the soul of this thing, what did you think of?"
