

Dragon Husband 1717 Part 1

Chapter 1717 Going into battle to kill the enemy

"Hello, Brother Lu!" Before Qin Shengzhong came over, he folded his fists first.

William also folded his fists and smiled: "Brother Qin, what a coincidence, I met you here."

"Unfortunately, I'm here specifically to wait for you." Qin Shengzhong, this iron Hanhan, said directly without giving William a single step.

William's face froze, and he smiled shyly: "What's wrong? What troubles you to wait for me here?"

Qin Sheng sighed heavily and said, "Brother Lu is a man of temperament, and I don't know how to beat around the bush. This time I came here to invite you to my sect to help me."

"Go to your sect? What happened?" William asked, frowning slightly.

He originally planned to go to Arashiyama Zhige.

"Hey, it's my father's business. A few years ago, my father suffered a serious injury while guarding the wild ancient realm, and then he has not been able to take care of it well over the years, but it has become more and more serious. And I am fortunate to learn that Brother Lu Not only is he superior in martial arts, but he is also quite accomplished in medicine, so I have the cheek to ask if you can help me visit my father..." Qin Shengzhong said sincerely.

Hearing this, William almost didn't hesitate, and immediately agreed, "I thought it was something, I just happened to be going to your sect, so let's go together tomorrow. Your father's injury, I will do my best."

"You want to come to our sect too?" Qin Shengzhong looked at William curiously.

William smiled and said, "I just happen to have something to trouble you, so it's not a coincidence."

"What's the matter! As long as it's Brother Lu's business, I, Lanshan Zhige, will definitely go through fire and water!" Qin Shengzhong replied immediately.

William said casually: "I have a group of good brothers, probably a hundred or so, and they are not very strong. But I want to throw them all to your sect to practice for a few years. First, let them grow up as soon as possible. , Second, it can be regarded as adding some strength to your sect and guarding the safety of the four directions, everyone is responsible.”

When Qin Sheng heard it, he was instantly happy, and he almost held Wiliam’s hand excitedly, “What you said is true! Do you really have hundreds of people who want to join our sect?”

With an embarrassed look on his face, Wiliam quickly broke free from Qin Shengzhong’s hand and said, “That’s natural, it’s up to you whether you want to take it in or not.”

“Yes! Of course I do! Brother Lu, you are really the benefactor of our sect! First, you supported us to enter the nine sects, then you helped my father see a doctor, and now you have sent a large number of new troops to our sect. You are simply Rebirth of the Bodhisattva!” Qin Shengzhong, Tie Hanhan couldn’t speak at first sight, and the Bodhisattva said it in the next life.

Qin Shengzhong participated in the nine-sect qualifying competition this time, and the biggest purpose was to attract more people to join their sect.

Although they have entered the ranks of the nine sects, their names are still not fully effective. At least in a short period of time, not many people will join Lanshan Zhige.

But guarding the wild ancient realm, the situation is changing rapidly, and as many people as possible are urgently needed.

Wiliam’s move is tantamount to sending charcoal in the snow!

“Hoho, you’re serious, then we’ll leave tomorrow? I’ll go back and gather the brothers first?” Wiliamsan laughed.

Dealing with Tie Hanhan can be embarrassing sometimes.

“Okay, okay! Then we will wait for you at the gate of Canjian Jiutian at eight o’clock tomorrow?” Qin Shengzhong was obviously still excited.

“Okay, then you can go back to rest first, we have to rush back.” Wiliam was still embarrassed.

After saying goodbye to Qin Sheng, Wiliam took a deep breath.

Bai Fengxue, who was on the side, giggled.

“What are you laughing at?” Wiliam asked depressedly.

“Isn’t my husband a good person? How come he doesn’t know how to speak when he meets a straight steel man?” Bai Fengxue joked.

“Don’t talk about it, that Qin Sheng is heavy, and his head only needs a muscle.” When Wiliam said this, he couldn’t help thinking of the last time he had a heavy drink with Qin Sheng.

It’s a big tank to carry, who can stand it!

It’s fine if you don’t understand the wink, and he interprets it indiscriminately, making his own life a Sh*tposter.

When Wiliam sees Qin Shengzhong now, there is a big shadow as big as a big vat.

“It turns out that you are afraid of this kind of person.” Bai Fengxue continued to cover her mouth and make fun.

It is rare to see Wiliam have such a bewildered expression.

I thought that he was not afraid of anything.

“Okay, okay, go back soon.” Wiliam obviously didn’t want to discuss with Bai Fengxue about a straight man like Qin Shengzhong, and walked straight forward.

Naturally, he wanted to return to the Nine Heavens of Remnant Sword.

On the way, he also told He Tiantian and others that Chunfeng wanted to stay at Hanxing Wangqing.

But there is nothing to say about the inheritance of the Spring Breeze Emperor’s Heart.

He didn’t want other women to worry too.

He Tiantian and others did not feel much regret about Chunfeng’s stay in Hanxing.

After all, this place is so big, it is still very easy to meet the spring breeze, and it is not isolated from the world.

When the Nine Heavens of Cannjian arrived, Wiliam immediately summoned his old subordinates.

These people were mainly Qilin people, and some people from the Medicine Knife family were added.

The God of Wealth and Furious Horse naturally became the leaders of this group of people.

Originally, in the four unicorn gates, Wenren stayed in Xianghua and drained blood, and Mulan went to the red and thin high-rise building.

The rest have to switch to Arashiyama Zhige, which seems to be falling apart a bit.

But Wiliam didn't care too much about it.

He no longer needs the protection of these people.

And since they have been brought here, it is necessary to plan for them the way to go in the future.

The four unicorn gates will eventually reunite one day.

Wiliam briefly explained his thoughts to them, and immediately got the support of the God of Wealth and Angry Horse.

Why don't the man take Wu hook and collect the fifty states of Guanshan.

Big man, of course, it is enough to have fun in the Quartet!

Let them stay here to do some management or something, but they will not adapt.

It's better to fight the enemy and defend the Quartet!

"Okay, then it's decided. At eight o'clock tomorrow morning, you will bring people to gather at the door, and we will go to Lanshan to stop Ge." Wiliam finally set the tone, and everything went smoothly.

Early in the morning the next day, the God of Wealth and the Angry Horse finished their team.

A total of 150 people are just right.

A group of people mightily opened the door of Canjian Jiutian, ready to go to Lanshan Zhige.

As soon as the door opened, Wiliam's eyes shrank, and his head grew bigger.

A straight body, like last night, stood motionless at the door.

"Morning, Brother Qin, you are really early. Have you eaten breakfast?" Wiliam politely walked out to greet him.

Qin Sheng turned his head again, saw Wiliam, and smiled——

“It’s not early at all. I didn’t go back last night. I was waiting for you at this door, let alone having breakfast.”

Um!

Still not half a step is left for Wiliam!
