

Dragon Husband 1721 Part 1

Chapter 1721 One cure for all diseases

I saw a man with white hair and beard on the stretcher.

This man's face was haggard, and his entire face was in a state of blackening.

Moreover, his facial features have a feeling of thinness, skin and bones, looking like an old man who is waiting for the end of his life.

William looked at the old man's body again.

Where did he come from, he was eight feet tall and mighty.

Just a little old man about one meter five.

The body is also very thin and thin, and the clothes on his body can't hold up at all.

It was as if a monkey had put on a man's clothes forcibly and looked ridiculous.

William looked at Qin Shengzhong strangely.

Qin Shengzhong's face was a little embarrassed, and he whispered, "That's right, this is my father. Hey, he has been tortured like this by the pain in the past few years."

Qin Nuoshi quickly stepped forward, bowed respectfully to his father Qin Zhanxiong and asked for instructions, "Father, I have hired the best doctor in the world for you, and I hope to take care of your injury this time. "

Qin Zhanxiong seems to have lost the ability to speak.

He was all over his body, only his eyes were shaking slightly.

But those eyes were extremely dark, as if they were also full of endless despair towards this world.

Qin Zhanxiong just lay there, looking like he was unlovable.

It seems that he has been tortured by the pain and has lost confidence in life.

A generation of gods of war, he fought with blood and blood when he was young, and he was iron-clad.

In the end, it's really embarrassing to be reduced to this state.

"Poseidon Doctor, I have a job for you." Qin Nuoshi stepped back and respectfully asked Su Qingshan to take action.

Su Qingshan stood up slowly and walked towards Qin Zhanxiong.

As he walked, he took something out of his pocket.

Everyone looked closely, and it was actually a small seal.

Seeing this seal, Wiliam's heart suddenly trembled!

Could this be the prayer seal of the Hanzhou people!

However, Wiliam remained deeply suspicious of this.

Can't!

The Jiangshan Prayer Seal is a fetish handed down from ancient times.

In the cold boat race, it is more than enough to be regarded as the treasure of the town clan.

How could the treasure of the town clan be brought out casually, and put it under the eyes of everyone in such a grand manner.

Even if this Su Qingshan is the patriarch of the Cold Boat Race, he wouldn't dare to act so recklessly, right?

Wiliam made up his mind and took a look.

There may be other discoveries.

I saw Su Qingshan walking in front of Qin Zhanxiong without checking Qin Zhanxiong's body at all.

Even Wiliam could see the incomparable disgust in Su Qingshan's eyes.

Because Qin Zhanxiong didn't know how many years he hadn't had a bath, his body was accompanied by blood all year round, and his body exuded a strong fishy smell.

This made Su Qingshan, who likes clean clothes, even more disgusted.

He was eager to retreat after seeing this stinking old man as soon as possible.

At this time, the square seal in Su Qingshan's hand emitted a green light.

These green lights completely wrapped Qin Zhanxiong's body.

The people at the scene were dumbfounded and called out to the doctor.

Seeing this scene, Wiliam frowned slightly.

Green light...

These green lights appear mysterious to everyone.

Even Qin Nuoshi, who was at close range, could feel that the green light brought a warm water soaking comfort to his body.

But these are a bit commonplace in Wiliam's view.

The green light emitted by the square seal was very similar to Wiliam's metamorphosis.

The function of metaplasia is also to continuously repair people's physical injuries, as well as restore internal strength and stamina.

The green light of the Sifang Seal also has such a function.

It's just that these people have never seen the world, and they think it's amazing.

But Wiliam said something rude, the metamorphosis on his body is much better than this green light.

For the time being, it is impossible to see who is higher and who is lower.

But from the perspective of sustainability, Huasheng hangs the seals of the four directions.

Because Wiliam's metamorphosis is from the inside of the body, after nourishing the body, it returns to the body, forming a small cycle of the human body, which can be described as a steady stream of vitality.

However, the green light emitted by the four seals is rootless energy, and it will definitely be exhausted.

After watching it for a while, Wiliam felt bored.

Because he also concluded that the four seals were definitely not the prayer seals of Jiangshan.

If the Jiangshan Prayer Seal is like this, it is simply ashamed of the prestige of the ancient three emperors.

It should be a little bit of power released by the Jiangshan Prayer Seal, which is deposited on the Sifang Seal, and then the Sifang Seal will carry this magical green light.

Thinking of it this way, these four seals should be able to be mass-produced.

And Wiliam thought that Qin Shengzhong said before that Hanzhou people are born healers, or born wizards, and now seems to have found the answer.

If they have a four-square seal in hand, everyone can be called a magician.

After all, this green light can cure all diseases.

Therefore, as long as the injury is illuminated by the green light, it will slowly improve.

This is what Qin Shengzhong said before, they don't need to look at the patient's disease at all, they just need to cast spells.

Everything is right.

Qin Shengzhong and the others stared wide-eyed at this miraculous scene.

They even saw that their father's complexion gradually improved.

Everything is going in the right direction.

However, another person looked a little wrong.

That was Su Qingshan, one of the parties.

Su Qingshan was originally just casually driving the power of the Sifang Seal.

Because he knew too well what the green light in the Sifang Seal was.

Over the years, he has traveled south and north, and he has never seen any strange diseases.

But as long as these four seals are in hand, there is nothing to be afraid of.

Gradually, he made a name for himself and became known as the Sea God Doctor.

I thought that this Qin Zhanxiong was also an ordinary person, as long as he took a casual photo, this person would get better.

However, after taking photos for a while, Su Qingshan realized that the situation seemed wrong!

If it is an ordinary person, under the light, it will improve at a speed visible to the naked eye.

In his own heart, there will also be a mysterious feeling that the vitality of the other party is recovering.

But Qin Zhanxiong didn't give him this feeling.

As if Su Qingshan was facing a dead tree, no matter how irradiated it was, the dead tree would not be able to meet the spring.

This dead old man is not resisting his own divine power!

Su Qingshan thought of this, calmed down, and felt it seriously.

However, he immediately denied his idea.

Because he could feel that Qin Zhanxiong's body was like a water pump, continuously pumping out these green lights.

Where is it like resisting.

However, Qin Zhanxiong had no intention of getting better.

Su Qingshan's face became more and more ugly!

At this time, he suddenly thought of a possibility, he immediately put away the green light, and looked at Qin Nuoshi viciously!

"Your father is not sick at all! You are lying to me! Courting death!"
