

Dragon Husband 1744 Part 1

Chapter 1744 Two Dragons Fighting for Heroes

"It was you who hit me first?" Bai Fengxue couldn't help but murmured when she saw the other party's arrogance.

"Do you say it again?" Su Lanbo just wanted to scold the servant casually, but he didn't think that the other party would dare to talk back, and the nameless anger burned again.

He took a step forward, but Wiliam stood directly in front of Bai Fengxue, stopping Su Lanbo from moving forward.

"Go away!" Su Lanbo shouted sharply.

Wiliam was unmoved, his eyes were cold.

With the wind and snow behind him, how could Wiliam get out of the way.

This Su Lanbo is simply looking for trouble.

At this time, the old man Qingfeng came over and said with a smile: "Su Lanbo, is your temper still so big? Are even my two apprentices going to make things difficult?"

"Apprentice?" Su Lan was stunned for a moment, then looked at Wiliam and Bai Fengxue.

"Old Qingfeng, your apprentice skills have declined? Not everyone can become your apprentice." Su Lan said with a smile.

The old man Qingfeng still maintained a kind smile, "I accept my apprentice, when will it be your turn to point fingers here?"

In the words, it is not so polite anymore.

The old man Qingfeng didn't even think that Su Lanbo's temper became bigger and bigger after ten years.

He didn't even want to sell his face.

"Su Lanbo, why don't you apologize to the old man Qingfeng?" Su Yongcun, the bearded man, stood up and said angrily to Su Lanbo.

Only then did Su Lanbo restrained a little, and said lightly: "Old Qingfeng, just now I have eyes and don't know Mount Tai, and I accidentally bumped into your beloved disciple. I am really sorry. Don't worry, you two disciples. , I will take good care of it."

There is still a gun and a stick in the words, and there is no sign of regret or apology.

After saying this, Su Lanbo turned around and left, sitting on the chair on the other side.

Su Yongcun looked at the old man Qingfeng a little embarrassedly, and whispered, "I'm sorry, old man Qingfeng, this kid is getting more and more outrageous."

The old man Qingfeng waved his hand and said, "It's okay, children are ignorant."

In his eyes, Su Lanbo is just a little kid.

"Hey, it's my fault that we have become more and more impatient in recent years." Su Yongcun said this without thinking.

Wiliam immediately asked in a low voice, "What does this mean?"

Su Yongcun glanced at Wiliam lightly, but did not answer directly.

The old man Qingfeng also took advantage of the situation and asked, "What happened in the past few years?"

Only then did Su Yongcun pull the old man Qingfeng to a place where there were few people, and whispered: "Hey, isn't it my father, he is already old, and then he has great ambitions and always wants to break the curse of our cold boaters. "

"After repeated tests in secret, Su Lanbo's bloodline talent is extremely strong, and it is very likely that Jiangshan will pray to seal the recognition of the Lord, and then break the curse."

"So my father has been nurturing him carefully, even to a level of connivance, which makes this kid more and more disrespectful."

"In general, my father wanted to leave no regrets in his lifetime, and his name would remain in history. He didn't want to be an ordinary patriarch."

Wiliam understood Su Yongcun's words.

However, Wiliam sneered inwardly at this.

Just this kind of person, no matter how high the talent is, if he has no character, he will only harm the Hanzhou people in the end.

To put it uglier, the higher the talent, the greater the damage to the cold boaters.

The patriarch was also confused.

“Okay, let’s not talk about this, the festival of sacrifice to the sky is about to start, let’s watch the show while eating.” Su Yongcun obviously didn’t want to say more on this troublesome topic, so he took the old man Qingfeng to the side. Take a seat.

When he passed by Wiliam and Feng Xue, he sincerely apologized: “Two little guys, I’m sorry, the cold boaters are not well received, more Haihan.”

Seeing that the other party apologized so calmly, Feng Xue quickly waved his hand and said, “It’s nothing, it’s just a little misunderstanding, it’s nothing to worry about.”

“That’s good, then you can eat and drink well.” Su Yongcun patted Wiliam on the shoulder and followed Old Man Qingfeng.

Wiliam also pulled Feng Xue and sat in a relatively corner position.

“Feng Xue, didn’t you hurt you just now?” Wiliam asked Feng Xue in a low voice.

Feng Xue shook his head and said, “That’s not true. But I want to talk about you. Old Man Qingfeng has always said that you should keep a low profile when doing things. You stand in front of me for such a small thing, and even become that person. It’s not worth it. If you encounter such a thing, just bear with it and let it pass.”

Wiliam’s eyes were firm, “I can bear other things, but if you are wronged, even a little bit, I can’t bear it.”

Bai Fengxue pinched Wiliam angrily and turned her head away, “I’ll ignore you, Tie Hanhan.”

Anger in the mouth, sweet in the heart.

The Celebration of Celestial Sacrifice of the Cold Boaters is actually similar to a party in reality.

A group of people were drinking wine at the wine table, and then in the center of the bonfire, a group of people were constantly performing programs in rotation.

Sing and dance, it's so hot.

After a while, after three rounds of drinking, an old man stood up and said with a smile: "Next, we will come to the most popular program of our Cold Boat Festival."

"Double dragons fight for the hero! Double dragons fight for the hero!" A group of people immediately shouted loudly, and kept slapping the table.

William looked at this group of people with a funny look. Are you so excited?

"The so-called "Double Dragons" is to choose two people to fight against each other on the field, until the point is reached, and use martial arts to add to the fun." The person beside William explained to William with a smile, but he was very enthusiastic.

When William heard this, he laughed.

It's so nice to say, the two dragons are fighting for the hegemony, that is, boxing.

At this time, William suddenly felt two gloomy eyes on his side.

With intuition, he looked in one direction.

But it happened to meet someone's eyes.

Su Lanbo.

Su Lanbo raised his chin provocatively towards William, and then patted the table.

The body suddenly lifted into the air and landed directly in the middle of the bonfire.

The old man looked at Su Lanbo in surprise, "Oh, it's Su Lanbo! I didn't think about it, I always thought that Su Lanbo was not interested in this kind of performative double-dragon rivalry, but I never thought that he would be the first to appear. This is for Double Dragons. A good start to the fight."

Su Lanbo seemed impatient and motioned the old man to finish speaking quickly.

Then the old man said quietly: "I don't know which of the heroes at the scene wants to challenge Su Lanbo, please stand up."

Many people at the scene, most of them young people, shrank their necks suddenly, as if they were afraid of being called.

Su Lanbo smiled contemptuously and said loudly, "I guess no one picked me at the scene, so I'll pick it up."

He set his eyes on Wiliam again, and then pointed at Bai Fengxue beside Wiliam.

"Just you, that sissy, come out!"
