

Dragon Husband 1836

Chapter 1836 See you again

Wiliam looked at his grandfather in amazement!

It was just an unintentional question, but it was an explosive answer without thinking about it!

Grandpa actually hid something in his head!

impossible!

There is something that can be hidden in the head!

Advertisement

At this time, Wiliam's whole body was agitated!

He did think of a possibility!

And this possibility made Wiliam shudder all over!

He looked at his grandpa in disbelief!

Advertisement

Lu Lingfeng seemed to know what Wiliam was thinking, nodded slightly, and said with a smile, "You are right, I hid a long live red flower in my head!"

boom!

Wiliam's head actually felt like it was bursting at this moment!

God's hand!

Wiliam guessed right just now!

If there is anything that can be hidden in an extremely fragile head, it can only be—

Serving soldiers!

William can hide the long live demon lotus anywhere in his body, and grandpa, as the owner of the long live red flower, should also be able to do it!

“When you were talking about those past events, I actually wanted to say it. Long live Honghua is handed over to you, my choice is extremely correct, I never thought that Long live Honghua would be able to break through again and again on your body, reaching even me again and again. Unimaginable peak!” Lu Lingfeng sighed.

Advertisement

Long live red flower evolved to long live red lotus, and then to long live demon lotus.

The evolution again and again has made the long live safflower glow with new vitality.

“It’s a pity that it was broken in the end, but this shouldn’t be the fate of Long Live Red Flower.” Lu Lingfeng said lightly.

At this moment, William was still immersed in incomparable ecstasy, and he didn’t even listen to what his grandfather said.

Until the last sentence appeared, William suddenly raised his head to look at his grandfather.

Fragmentation is not the fate that long live safflower should have!

right!

That’s it!

“Grandpa, how on earth did you do it! Did you even think that the long live red flower would be doomed!” William said, feeling goosebumps all over his body.

Otherwise, I can’t explain Grandpa’s hand at all!

Lu Lingfeng had a mysterious smile on his face, but he didn't answer Wiliam's question directly.

He said, "Do you still remember the battle between you and me in Guhuo Valley?"

Wiliam nodded.

"At that time, you put all the long live safflowers into my body, and just took this opportunity to forcibly leave a long live safflower in my head." Lu Lingfeng said lightly.

"At that time, you just fused my black flower and silver needle into the long live red flower. These two weapons were once my weapons, so I was able to keep them in my mind without hurting my head." Lu Lingfeng continued, "This is also a crucial step in my plan. Before I died, I gave the last order to that long live red flower, and let it haunt my remnant soul all the time. Don't stimulate this remnant soul, don't let it dissipate."

At this point, Wiliam felt numb all over!

"However, if you took one, I should have noticed it!" Wiliam couldn't help but ask a question.

Lu Lingfeng laughed ho-ho, "Boy, you are still too simple, since I forged the long live safflower, there are definitely more than a hundred of them. Before they are formed, there are still some imperfect products. I will not make one of them. The perfect long live safflower has replaced your one long live safflower, but the difference is very small. Besides, you have re-forged the long live safflower, which is already very different from the previous one. That imperfect long live safflower, It is completely assimilated with other Long Live Red Flowers, there is no difference."

Wiliam took a deep breath.

At that time, he and his grandfather were fighting with their lives!

Grandpa can still separate his mind to plan the future game!

Really scary!

But Wiliam immediately thought of another question, and he asked: "But don't you have that imperfect long live safflower? Why can't you just hang your remnant soul with that kind of long live safflower, and you have to use my long live safflower? . If I hadn't injected the long live safflower into your body at that time, wouldn't your plan have failed?"

Lu Lingfeng smiled confidently: "First of all, my imperfect long live red flower is not enough to hang my remnant soul, the fundamental reason is that after you fuse my black flower and silver needle, the long live red flower will be confused for the first time. The awareness of the spirit of the artifact, and the awareness of the spirit of the artifact is the key to hanging my remnant soul."

"Then, even if you didn't put the long live safflower into my body, I would have other ways. You believe I can do it."

Wiliam couldn't come back to his senses for a long time.

Grandpa even counted the ignorant awareness of artifact spirits produced by the evolution of the long live safflower...

In other words, grandpa deliberately let the long live red flower devour his black flower and silver needle...

It's all in his plan...

At that time, Wiliam was indeed in a daze, and heard the very unwilling voice of Wanzai Honghua.

In fact, Wiliam still has some questions. For example, after the long-lived safflower was replaced, it means that one of his million long-lived safflowers is different from before. That one can also be integrated into your body.

But after thinking about it carefully, Wiliam understood.

Long live safflower has its mysterious place, even the black flower silver needle can be assimilated and swallowed, and that small imperfect silver needle that has not opened its mind can be assimilated in an instant, which is not a problem at all.

grandpa, grandpa...

For a while, Wiliam didn't know how to describe Grandpa's terrifying layout.

Many things are completely unexpected to Wiliam!

Lu Lingfeng said again at this time: "I said just now that brokenness is not the fate of Long Live Red Flower, you should understand what it means, right?"

Wiliam nodded immediately and said excitedly: "Grandpa, I understand! Since you forged the long live safflower, you are the only one who knows what material it is made of. To restore the long live safflower to its previous state, a stunner is needed Long live safflower of spiritual consciousness, it should be enough to guide!"

Wiliam actually thought about it before, even if he figured out the forging material of Wanzai Honghua, he could forge the exact same Wanzai Honghua, so what?

Similar in appearance, no god.

Let the long live safflower be reborn, the most important thing is not the material, but the spirit!

However, the previous artifact spirit has dissipated in the world, which is the most helpless.

Now, Grandpa has given him a very surprising hope!

Long live safflower, there is still a wisp of artifact spirit remaining!

Grandpa kept it for Wiliam!

Then recreate the long live safflower, and renew the leading edge with the previous artifact spirit, just around the corner!

When Wiliam was in a trance, a sad and happy voice appeared in his mind when the Long Live Demon Lotus was broken.

The unclothed child waved his hands towards Wiliam desperately.

With a very innocent smile, but also with reluctant tears.

The child bowed and looked like they didn't stick together.

"sorry....."

"Last time you guarded us, this time we guard you..."

"We can feel the master's affection for us all the time."

"I'm really happy to be a part of the master and fight side by side with the master until now. The master understands us like a father and teaches us a lot of things."

"We are still thinking that we can accompany the master more and watch the master Ling Ao Quartet."

"It seems that we can only go here..."

"Master, it is the luck of our life to meet you, we are very satisfied and happy."

"us....."

"Death without regrets..."

"Goodbye....."

William's eyes suddenly radiated light!

A beautiful emotion that was lost and recovered instantly filled his heart!

goodbye!

That's right!

Let's meet again!